FROM TEXAS TO TOKIO

First Class Teodoro F. Garcia, 407th Infantry, serving in the European Theater, received the Bronze Star for heroic achievement in Germany on 30 November in connection with military operations against the enemy. His platoon sergeant became a casualty Private First Class Garcia left the comparative safety of his foxhole and to his assistance to render aid after crossing open shelled fields to get assistance so that the wounded man could be evacuated. He returned to his position and took part in the final assault on the objective. The loyalty and devotion shown by Private First Class Garcia reflect great credit on himself and the military command of the 407th Infantry. On February 23 of this year Teodoro Garcia gave himself to enemy fire to give first aid to a wounded man and dug him a trench. For this act he was awarded a Certificate signed by Phillip R. Colonel, Infantry.

Harold O. Haynes, Infantryman, writes to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Haynes, from the Philippines: "I know you haven't heard from me in a long time. I am on a ship where at sea. I can't tell you where I am now, but I may be able to tell you as soon as I will let us. On the ship I have a PX and we have all the candy we want and the ship shows . . . When I got aboard the ship the Cross gave us tablets, a kit, shoe strings, soap, cigarettes, and books. I will be glad to hear from you. I am still to . . . On the same day the ship received this letter from another one from dated April 28: "We had hot trip and we finally got up here in the Philippines. We live in twelve man and sleep on canvas cots. It is hot in the day and it is cold enough to sleep under blanket before daylight. . . . I'll write soon."

Bill Davis, Infantryman, in a letter received Tuesday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, that he is now in the Philippines, and still with Harold Haynes. He likes it and is amazed and amused at the high esteem in which the boys hold the American G.

R. E. Thomason Back from Tour Of Prison Camps

Congressman R. E. Thomason of this district has returned from Germany where he went as a member of the Congressional Committee appointed to investigate atrocity camps. Six Senators and six Congressmen made the trip at the invitation of General Eisenhower and General Marshall.

Mr. Thomason said that the reports and pictures had not been exaggerated and that it was hard to believe that civilized people would resort to such brutality. The Committee will make a report to Congress this week.

Mr. Thomason favors strong support of the United Nations Crime Commission now being set up in London in order that the guilty may be brought to early trial. He wants to see law and justice prevail and no resort to totalitarian methods. He does not contend, however that membership in the S.S. or the Gestapo is prima facie evidence of guilt. He said this is no time for a soft peace.

RECOGNITION

Gratitude has been defined bitterly as a lively anticipation of future favors. Gratitude is a great deal more than that, but it's a fact that people do much more, also much better, when they know their efforts are appreciated. Genuine appreciation goes unexpressed sometimes, but people who don't express their gratitude are sure to miss some desirable future favors.

Unselfish things people do for their country, for their home community, family or church are not rightly done for praise. In fact, people who do noble things with glory as the primary aim quite often miss the target. Shouts of hurrah for a hero help other people more than him. The effect is to inspire everybody to public service.

The Danville Idea

Danville, Ill., cashes-in on this powerful influence. The Commercial-News, a Danville daily newspaper, keeps the idea alive. Every Monday morning the paper carries a story about some citizen who has performed a noteworthy public service. He is designated the "Man of the Week," and the article tells why. It tells what the man did and other interesting things about him.

Selections are always on a basis of public service, not personal achievement. Some ambitious young underwriter who sells his first million-dollar insurance policy is not necessarily a Man of the Week, although he probably feels pretty successful. Danville's Man of the Week must have done something big for Danville and, like as not received a hommission on it.

A One-Man Program

The weekly selection, the biographical sketch of some good citizen every Monday, the repeated reminder of what a fine thing it is to be unselfish and thoughtful, keeps Danville's wide awake citizens "on their toes." They never let a good man down. The newspaper learns of praiseworthy achievements because somebody always writes to the editor and tells him.

The articles are written by a modest scribe who signs his name Bob Poissall; no title after it. Incidentally, Bob picks the Man of the Week every time. He does it without help or advice from staff or board. Usually he selects a man of Danville, Vermillion County, but there is no rule. If the town's benefactor lives somewhere else he's not barred.

An Annual Banquet

Every year Mr. Poissall plans and organizes a dinner with all trimmings and invites his 57 selected men to eat with him. The Man of the Week Banquet has become quite an institution in Danville since April 1940. There are not always just 52 men present. Once in a while Bob has a hard time deciding which of two good men to choose and ends by naming both of them.

The moral of the story is so perfectly obvious that I am going to surprise you and not mention it. Once I attended Bob's banquet — a completely American function. I met 52 good men and true, most of whom were still surprised that what they did should be considered great. Maybe every town can't have one but it's a constructive project for any community where there is a man who has the knack.

Mrs. Nettie Gross of San Antonio returned to her home Monday after spending last week visiting here with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Burt Gross, and granddaughter, Jean,

DEL RIO SCENE OF TRAFFIC SAFETY ASSN. MEETING IN JUNE

A determined drive to erase the "I was robbed" feeling of offending motorists often is being launched in May and June.

Representatives from the Supreme Court, the Attorney General's Department, and the Department of Public Safety will meet in meetings in every county of the state during these months in an effort to increase efficiency, decorum, and procedure of the state's justice and traffic courts. This national program is being sponsored in Texas by the Texas Safety Association.

The meeting for this district will be held at Del Rio, on Friday, June 1, 2:00 P. M. in the District Court Room, Val Verde County courthouse.

The situation as it often exists was explained by Chief Justice of the Supreme Court James Alexander, who will take part in the discussions in many of the meetings.

"A motorist who breaks a traffic law should be punished, but he should be punished in a way that impresses upon him the fact that he has done wrong, and that he has been given a fair trial in a court of dignity and justice. Too often he is hauled into a dingy office, arbitrarily fined without regard to his side of the story, and hurriedly dismissed so the next case may be taken up."

"This citizen can hardly be expected to have much respect for our court system, and therefore has little respect for our laws. This is an attitude we must erase if we hope to keep the casualties on Texas highways down."

Especially urged to attend the nearest regional meetings are all justices of the peace, county attorneys and county judges, district attorneys and district judges, police officers, sheriffs and their deputies, constables.

The project has the support and cooperation of the Junior Chamber Conference of the American Association and the National Safety Council.

Souvenirs of Iwo Campaign

Marine Corporal John J. Sydlowski of Plymouth, Pa., wears a Jap cap and works the bolt of his captured Jap rifle, but it's all a matter of indifference to "Iwo" and "Jima," his two buddies. The Leatherneck poked up these souvenirs, including the twin piglets, during fighting on the Iwo Jima battlefield. Also indifferent is Sydlowski's tentmate, whose foot is visible at the left. (U. S. Marine Corps Photo)

MARINE FINDS PIGLETS IN FOXHOLE DURING HEIGHT OF BITTER BATTLE

IWO JIMA (Delayed) — If Marine Corp. John J. Sydlowski has anything to say about it, both Iwo and Jima are going with him back home to Plymouth, Pa., according to Technical Sgt. Edward L. Volk, Marine Corps combat correspondent.

A strong bond of understanding has grown between these twins and Sydlowski. They have battled it out with the Japs here for 24 days. At first, the problem was for the Marine to keep the youngsters alive. They were mighty scared when he found them and they had been without food for days.

They first met on D-plus-four during the height of the battle for Hill 362. The Jap defenders were laying down heavy mortar and artillery fire as Marines inched toward their cave installations. Corp. Sydlowski made a desperate lunge for a fox-hole. Then and there he met the pair whom he later christened Iwo and Jima. It was the last place in the world you'd expect to find twins like that. "I was just as surprised—and scared—as they were," says Sydlowski.

The strange meeting somehow appealed to Sydlowski. He decided the Japs couldn't have possibly left better souvenirs and that Iwo and Jima would stay with him. It must have looked strange to other Marines to see

But the battle is over now and the three have come through front line action without a scratch. For Iwo and Jima life seems to have just begun. They are the center of attraction of Marines on the beach awaiting orders for tomorrow's battleground. And Corp. Sydlowski is mighty proud.

"Shucks," he says, "not every Marine can brag about finding spotted, twin piglets in a fox-hole."

"That Grass is our Living, Son!"

WHAT THIS RANCHER SAYS to his son is very true. Grass does provide their living... and a good part of the living for all of us here in America. More than half a billion acres of the United States—roughly, 50% of all our farm and ranch lands—is in grass. "Should its harvest fail for a single year," said John James Ingalls, "famine would depopulate the world."

Grass is the preserver of much of our agricultural wealth and the basic raw material of many of our necessities. It is a major crop. And more than that, it's nature's way of transferring health-building materials... vitamins, minerals, and other essential elements... from the soil into the foods that nourish the nation. Grass must pass through livestock to be converted into products useful to man.

So let's give our pastures, meadows and range lands the care they deserve. Grass on your steeper slopes should never be broken. In the long run, it is your most profitable crop on hillsides because it controls erosion by tying down your top soil and reduces evaporation of essential moisture. Your State Agricultural Experiment Station will tell you of new and improved varieties of grass you might try to your profit, and they will also advise you about reseeding, lime, and fertilizer. And never overlook this important rule of grass care—don't overgraze!

We at Swift & Company are marketing the products of your grass, and so we say with you, "Grass is our living, too!"

There's a Black Sheep in almost every band. But he's not as bad as his reputation paints him. Permanently dyed black by nature, his fleece cannot be bleached. The uses for black wool are limited so care must be exercised to keep it properly sorted in the wool clip. However, manufacturers do weave it into broadcloth. And—believe it or not—the wool from the black sheep in the flock becomes clothing for the clergy.

IT'S 2,049 MILES FROM HEREFORD, TEXAS, TO HARTFORD, CONN.

To the west of the Mississippi is produced two-thirds of the nation's meat. To the east live more than two-thirds of all Americans.

Under these conditions either livestock or fresh meat must be transported from the West to the East, and as we know, it has been found to be more economical to slaughter the animals in central plants in surplus producing sections, save the by-products, then transport the meat in refrigerator cars to the consuming sections, than to ship the live animals.

To have a market for livestock, we must find a market for meat. The job of nation-wide meat packers is to bridge the gap, an average of more than a thousand miles, made up in part from such trips as Boise, Idaho, to Boston; from Denver to Detroit; from Paducah to Pittsburgh; and from Hereford, Texas, to Hartford, Connecticut. It is necessary to have a large organization with proper facilities to handle efficiently nationwide distribution to the thousands of consuming centers of America.

This is the last page of information that we will issue until September. But please don't let the recess keep you from writing us when we can be of help to you. Better still, come and see us in Swift & Company's office building at the Union Stock Yards, in Chicago.

THE ALPINE AVALANCHE - The Fort Davis one-act play, "On Vengeance Height," which won first place in the district interscholastic meet in El Paso, went to Austin to compete in the state meet, May 3 and 4, and again placed first. Floydada was second; Lamar school of Houston, third, and Wichita Falls fourth. Eight plays were presented at the state meet, representing the eight regions of Texas.

THE BIG BEND SENTINEL, Marfa - Half a century of spiritual service in the Marfa community was marked yesterday by St. Mary's Catholic Church one of the earliest religious organizations in the town that was destined to be the hub of the great tri-county Highland section.

Distinguished visitors from three other cities were guests of the Rev. Henry Zaranton, priest here for several years, and of other members of the church.

FORT STOCKTON PIONEER - The vast ranch operations of White-Baker & Co. in Pecos County have been finally liquidated in one of the most extensive real estate transactions in the history of the county, and in one of the major liquidations of West Texas in recent years.

Lands owned and leased by the firm and operated as a ranch unit for many years today are in the hands of ten or more different owners and operators under lease, with the White & Baker partnership retaining undivided title to only 6,000 acres.

BRACKETT NEWS - MAIL, Brackettville - Brackettville and immediate vicinity were visited briefly Thursday night by a severe hail and windstorm which fortunately did not do much damage to property in town. Some rural areas were not so fortunate and sustained damage. The Will Dooley ranch near Las Moras mountain being hardest hit and in most hail battered area near here, a considerable amount of property loss being sustained.

WINK BULLETIN - About eighteen hundred gallons worth of gasoline ration stamps of nearly all types were taken Tuesday night, when thieves broke the lock on the door and entered the Gulf Wholesale Agency of L. M. Prater, here.

Other than a .22 calibre target pistol, this was all that was taken, officers said, in spite of the fact that much valuable property could have been stolen, but was left untouched.

YOUNGEST ELEPHANT TRAINER

At 14, pretty Norma Davenport is acknowledged the world's youngest elephant trainer. Twice daily she directs a herd of 10 huge elephants in an intricate routine as a feature of Dailey Bros. Three-Ring Railroad Circus. The circus, one of America's few large shows traveling aboard its own railroad train, presents performances at 3 and 8 P. M. at the Ball Park on Highway 90 in Sanderson, Friday May 18.

RAILROAD CIRCUS TO PRESENT TWO PERFORMANCES HERE TODAY

One of America's largest circuses traveling by railroad this season will present performances in Sanderson Friday, May 18.

Not a truck show but a modern three-ring railroad circus, Dailey Bros. Circus will present performances at 3 and 8 p. m. at the Ball Park on Highway 90.

There are some 20 circuses on tour in the United States this season but few travel by railroad, the remainder using truck transportation. Traveling aboard its own special railroad train, the Dailey Bros. Circus will arrive in the Southern Pacific railroad yards during the early morning hours of show day and spectators are invited to witness unloading of the many animals, the heavy wagons and other equipment carried by a large circus.

The circus carries a herd of 10 elephants trained for an intricate routine performed by no other herd. Directed by pretty Norma Davenport, at 14 the world's youngest elephant trainer, the huge two-ton beasts present an entertaining performance climaxed by a realistic baseball game with the gigantic pachyderms themselves as the players.

A sensational wild animal act in which lions, tigers, bears and leopards appear in the same arena is another of the two-hour performance. Beautiful pinto and palomino horses directed by Miss Hazel King, present interesting and entertaining routines.

Si Kitchie, famed Filipino head balancer, presents a sensational head balancing act on the bar of a trapeze high in the big top, and a group of beautiful girls join in a daring and beautiful aerial ballet.

The circus carries a large menagerie of animals from the far corners of the earth. Doors will open an hour before performance time to allow ample time for inspection of the menagerie and horse fair.

Tighter Rationing Gives New Incentive To Used Fat Saving

Now that practically all meats are back on the ration list, and red points mean more than ever before, housewives find an extra incentive for saving all used fat.

Two-thirds of a pound of sausage—a casserole dinner for four people—can be purchased for four red ration points. Lamb shanks, beef briskets for stews are low point meats. Tongue sweetbreads, liver, frankfurters, short ribs, hamburger are other meats usually available.

The red points that used cooking fat brings often can buy the dinner meat for four people, can always increase a family's meat and fat ration.

Housewives who scrape, skin, and scoop every drop of used cooking fat, who conscientiously render raw fat and scraps turned from the table, find two points per pound make available many low point meals.

What used cooking fat for housewives is important stretches her ration budget puts more meat and fat on family's menu.

What used cooking fat for our national economy is more important. It helps place industrial fats and that can no longer be imported. A continual flow of used cooking fat keeps the wheels of industry turning out synthetic rubbers, soap, paints and varnishes, dyes, medicines, fabrics, and supplies for war.

Will you hold a FAT-SALVAGE BEE for your country?

HERE IN AMERICA, when a neighbor needs help, it has always been the custom for all the folks to pitch in and give him a hand. Many a harvest would have been lost without the help of a husking bee.

YOUR COUNTRY NEEDS a fat-salvage bee right now! Millions of tons of fat have been used up to supply the thousands of battlefield and home-front needs in this war. And there's still a lot of war ahead!

A PLEA TO EVERY WOMAN! Our country is calling on you, the women in small cities and towns and on the farms, to save every drop of used fat. Your used fats are desperately needed to meet our country's requirements.

So scrape all pans and roasters. Skim soups and gravies. Keep your used fats in a tin can—any kind will do. Save meat trimmings and plate scrapings in a bowl; melt them down and add the liquid fat to your can.

When the salvage can is full, take it to your butcher. He'll give you 2 red points and up to four cents for every pound. If you have any difficulty turning in your used fats, call your Home Demonstration or County Agent.

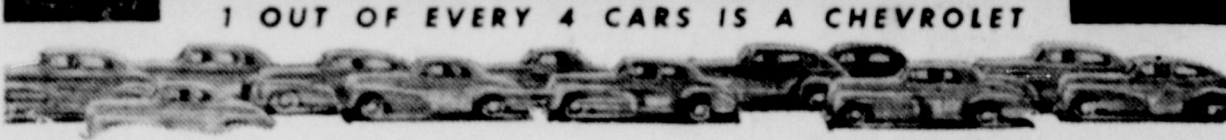

Needed this year: 100,000,000 more pounds of used fats

"HERE COME THE WAVES" BIDS FOR MUSICAL HONORS

A delightful mixture of romance, songs and comedy plays a screen tribute to the gallant Waves in "Here Come the Waves," a production which plays in gala fashion at the Princess Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Sparking this hit motion picture are three of Hollywood's finest—Bing Crosby, Betty Hutton and Sonny Tufts. With Betty Hutton playing twins in a dual role and Sonny Tufts lifting his voice in song for the first time, "Here Come the Waves" takes on a variety aspect which may outspangle "Star Spangled Rythm."

There's plenty of meat to this picture's story, though with the emphasis on complications. First of all, Betty's twins in the film, playing a dual role as Susie and Rosemary Miller. The twins join the Waves and meet Bing, singing idol of the nation. Both Bing and his buddy, Tufts, fall for Rosemary and their efforts to win her hand result in some real belly-laughs by the audience. Susie, too, wears her heart on her sleeve for Crosby and arranges to put "the groaner" in hot water, with the Navy from the Admiral down.

Sonny is not lax, either in double-crossing his pal in order to impress Rosemary. These two conspirators finally have Bing assigned to Wave recruiting although Crosby is itching to get active combat duty. Rosemary accuses him of being a quitter looking for a soft berth and the air practically sizzles with hot words. However, Bing does his job by putting on a mammoth entertainment show which wins him acclamation from all sides.

In the final show-down, Sonny and Susie confess their crime and Bing wins Rosemary with Tufts finding his true love in Susie. The show presents the finest routines seen in a long time with a Crosby-Tufts black-face act which brings down the house. Betty takes off with the inimitable Hutton gyrations for which she's duly famous while even Sonny breaks into song, his first attempt of his picture career, incidentally.

Yes, the Seventh War Loan is on right now!

There are new planes to be built... new tanks... new ships. All to bring the war to an earlier close.

Our fighting men will do their job. But we must do ours!

And right now, the most important job we have is to meet our personal quotas in the Seventh War Loan drive!

Those quotas are big. Uncle Sam needs $7,000,000,000 from individuals. For this loan is really 2 in 1—there had been 2 drives in 1944, by this time. So now—we've got to do a two-loan job in one.

But Americans have never failed to meet a War Bond quota yet—and we won't fail now! So find out what your quota is—and meet it!

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

GEORGE: "Yes, I certainly would like to hear why you call that an old fashioned idea, Judge."

OLD JUDGE: "Glad to tell you, George. Until recently, a person known as an alcoholic was generally treated as a social outcast. Little if anything was done to understand him or help him. But, during the past few years, medical research and study has developed that alcoholics are really sick people... that there is usually a deep-rooted physical, social or emotional reason behind their behavior. That's why today so much is being done to help them by finding out and correcting the condition that leads them to excess."

GEORGE: "How many folks are there like that, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "Well, according to scientific research, 95% of the people who drink, drink sensibly. 5% do so unwisely, at times. Included in that 5% is the small percentage of the sick people I'm talking about."

GEORGE: "That certainly gives me a clearer picture. It's the most sensible approach I've ever heard of on the subject."

SANDERSON BALL CLUB TO PLAY HIGH BRIDGE SUN.

Sander's softball club managed by W. W. (Buddy) Sudduth, will play a Pecos High Bridge team here Sunday afternoon at five o'clock at the old Legion ball park, it was announced Thursday.

The game scheduled promises to be good ball; both teams have acquitted themselves well so far this season, with low error percentages.

Interest in the local team is not at all what it should be however. Outside of the men who come out for practices, few citizens have shown themselves inclined toward taking any part in activities. If interest in the club makes any advances, plans have already been made to buy lights so night games can be scheduled in the future.

Practices are held every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. J. W. Downum accompanied her mother, Mrs. A. J. Horton, home to Quitman Monday, where she will visit for a few days.

Mrs. Jack Daton returned Saturday from several weeks' visiting with relatives and friends in Austin, Del Rio, and Abilene.

Mrs. Harry Newton arrived here last Saturday from El Paso. She is visiting with Mrs. Fred Talbot and other friends.

Junior-Senior Banquet, Prom Climax Year

Friday night, May 11, at 7:30 the junior and senior classes of Sanderson High School sat down to dinner in the banquet room of the high school. The occasion was the traditional banquet given in honor of the graduating class by the following year's candidates for graduation, followed by the Junior-Senior Prom.

The colors orchid and white were used in decorating the room, with the basic theme colonial. Tall orchid and white arrangements of flowers were used on the tables, and in one corner of the room a spinning wheel repeated the colonial motif.

Dorislee Cooke presided at the head table as toastmistress, introducing the various speakers and entertainers. J. M. Harrell gave the opening address, welcoming the faculty, to which Mrs. Tom Holley, representing the faculty, responded. Monte Goode welcomed the seniors who were spoken for by Allister Dishman. The senior will was read by Billie Babb and the prophecy given by Clyde Griffith. After a reading given by Cecilia Gode, she, Ora Mae Blackwelder and Mary Agnes Frazier presented a vocal selection. Mary Alice Allen gave a piano selection, followed by a minuet danced by Mary Lou Kargile, Carroll Lassiter, Jackie Savage and Billie Henshaw. Superintendent Tom Holley gave the concluding address, and the program ended with a group rendition of "Auld Lang Syne."

Eight sophomore girls dressed in colonial costumes served the courses, prepared by the mothers of the junior class members.

The Masonic Hall was the scene of the Prom, where high school students convened to dance in surroundings carrying out the colonial theme used in decorating the banquet hall. In the center of the dance floor white arches covered with flowers pointed up the idea of a colonial garden. In one corner of the room a miniature colonial garden with a lily pond and a small lawn containing garden furniture formed the focal point in decorations. The whole hall was overhung with moss. Dance programs of blue and gold senior class colors, were presented to each guest. At a late hour punch and cookies were served to the dancers. Mrs. Isabelle Hasty presided at the punch table.

Mrs. P. E. Gray arrived here Sunday from a visit in San Antonio to visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Underwood. A former resident of Sanderson Mrs. Gray now lives in El Paso.

Mrs. Joe Pennington arrived here last Friday from Douglas, Arizona, for a visit with friends.

Miss Eva Billings went to Langtry Sunday to visit her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Billings.

W. W. Sudduth went to Dallas Sunday where he will be a visitor for several days this week.

Texans at home, proud at the part their fighting men played in the defeat of Germany, took V-E day in their stride. Realizing the bitter months of war that lie ahead before Japan is beaten, they took no time for exuberant celebrations. They paused only for a prayerful hitch at their belts, then resumed the task of backing their fighting sons and daughters. Everywhere they realized that any slow-up in work, in giving and in bond-buying would mean many more Texas and other American lives lost.

Meanwhile, even before Texas fighters in Europe could turn their eyes to what other Texans are doing in the Pacific, French brass hats got another lesson in the value of Texas as an ally in any war.

Two battalions of the famed 36th "Texas" Division, which already had been collecting Axis generals and liberating American prisoners in first class rampage, swung into Austria to free two former French premiers Edouard Daladier and Paul Reynaud, and two French generals from an Axis prison. Gen. Maurice Gamelin, unsuccessful defender of the Maginot line and head of the French army in the early days of the war and Gen. Marime Weygand, the commander in the Near East at the time of the French collapse were the generals. A sister of Gen. Charles DeGaulle was included in the rescued group.

Texans in the air were distinguishing themselves as much as those on the ground. From a Thunderbolt base in Germany comes the story of Lt. J. W. Wainwright of Marshall, who has flown 97 missions, shot down six Messerschmitts, won the DFC and some 21 clusters on his air medal, when all catch up with him. There is also his friend, Lt. Luciano Herrera, a 1943 A & M college graduate from Brady, who holds the DFC and some 16 clusters for his air medal. Wainwright's latest exploit came when he peeled off from a flight of 12 bombers over Leipzig, got two direct hits on a German fuel storage depot and wiped it out before other pilots had a chance.

Marine Lt. W. Frank Goff of Wichita Falls didn't allow rugged business on his first combat mission to hamper him at Okinawa. As he took off, the Japs shelled the airport, two Jap planes staffed his ship and American batteries cut loose with ack-ack. Goff dodged all of these got into the air chased one of the strafing planes ten miles and shot the son of Nippon down in flames.

Maj. Leon Lowry, Plainview who completed 50 missions in the Mediterranean theater as a bomber pilot, is counting that experience simply as a warm-up. Starting anew from the mark considered good for any pilot, he went to the Pacific and, as a B-29 pilot, flew one of the huge superforts that pulverized Kobe

SANDERSON BALL CLUB TO PLAY HIGH BRIDGE SUN.

Sanderson's softball club managed by W. W. (Buddy) Sudduth, will play a Pecos High Bridge team here Sunday afternoon at five o'clock at the old Legion ball park, it was announced Thursday.

The game scheduled promises to be good ball; both teams have acquitted themselves well so far this season, with low error percentages.

Interest in the local team is not at all what it should be however. Outside of the men who come out for practices, few citizens have shown themselves inclined toward taking any part in activities. If interest in the club makes any advances, plans have already been made to buy lights so night games can be scheduled in the future.

Practices are held every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Jack Daton returned Saturday from several week's visiting with relatives and friends in Austin, Del Rio, and Abilene.

Mrs. Harry Newton arrived here last Saturday from El Paso. She is visiting with Mrs. Fred Talbot and other friends.

Junior-Senior Banquet, Prom Climax Year

Friday night, May 11, at 7:30 the junior and senior classes of Sanderson High School sat down to dinner in the banquet room of the high school. The occasion was the traditional banquet given in honor of the graduating class by the following year's candidates for graduation, followed by the Junior-Senior Prom.

The colors orchid and white were used in decorating the room, with the basic theme colonial. Tall orchid and white arrangements of flowers were used on the tables, and in one corner of the room a spinning wheel repeated the colonial motif.

Dorislee Cooke presided at the head table as toastmistress, introducing the various speakers and entertainers. J. M. Harrell gave the opening address, welcoming the faculty, to which Mrs. Tom Holley, representing the faculty, responded. Monte Goode welcomed the seniors who were spoken for by Allister Dishman. The senior will was read by Billie Babb and the prophecy given by Clyde Griffith. After a reading given by Cecilia Gode, she, Ora Mae Blackwelder and Mary Agnes Frazier presented a vocal selection. Mary Alice Allen gave a piano selection, followed by a minuet danced by Mary Lou Cargile. Carroll Lassiter, Jackie Savage and Billie Henshaw. Superintendent Tom Holley gave the concluding address, and the program ended with a group rendition of "Auld Lang Syne."

Eight sophomore girls dressed in colonial costumes served the courses, prepared by the mothers of the junior class members.

The Masonic Hall was the scene of the Prom, where high school students convened to dance in surroundings carrying out the colonial theme used in decorating the banquet hall. In the center of the dance floor white arches covered with flowers pointed up the idea of a colonial garden. In one corner of the room a miniature colonial garden with a lily pond and a small lawn containing garden furniture formed the focal point in decorations. The whole hall was overhung with moss. Dance programs of blue and gold senior class colors, were presented to each guest. At a late hour punch and cookies were served to the dancers. Mrs. Isabelle Hasty presided at the punch table.

Mrs. P. E. Gray arrived here Sunday from a visit in San Antonio to visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Underwood. A former resident of Sanderson Mrs. Gray now lives in El Paso.

Mrs. Joe Pennington arrived here last Friday from Douglas, Arizona, for a visit with friends.

Miss Eva Billings went to Langtry Sunday to visit her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Billings.

W. W. Sudduth went to Dallas Sunday where he will be a visitor for several days this week.

Texans at home, proud at the part their fighting men played in the defeat of Germany, took V-E day in their stride. Realizing the bitter months of war that lie ahead before Japan is beaten, they took no time for exuberant celebrations. They paused only for a prayerful hitch at their belts, then resumed the task of backing their fighting sons and daughters. Everywhere they realized that any slow-up in work, in giving and in bond-buying would mean many more Texas and other American lives lost.

Meanwhile, even before Texas fighters in Europe could turn their eyes to what other Texans are doing in the Pacific, French brass hats got another lesson in the value of Texas as an ally in any war.

Two battalions of the famed 36th "Texas" Division, which already had been collecting Axis generals and liberating American prisoners in first class rampage, swung into Austria to free two former French premiers Edouard Daladier and Paul Reynaud, and two French generals from an Axis prison. Gen. Maurice Gamelin, unsuccessful defender of the Maginot line and head of the French army in the early days of the war and Gen. Marime Weygand, the commander in the Near East at the time of the French collapse were the generals. A sister of Gen. Charles DeGaulle was included in the rescued group.

Texans in the air were distinguishing themselves as much as those on the ground. From a Thunderbolt base in Germany comes the story of Lt. J. W. Wainwright of Marshall, who has flown 97 missions, shot down six Messerschmitts, won the DFC and some 21 clusters on his air medal, when all catch up with him. There is also his friend, Lt. Luciano Herrera, a 1943 A & M college graduate from Brady, who holds the DFC and some 16 clusters for his air medal. Wainwright's latest exploit came when he peeled off from a flight of 12 bombers over Leipzig, got two direct hits on a German fuel storage depot and wiped it out before other pilots had a chance.

Marine Lt. W. Frank Goff of Wichita Falls didn't allow rugged business on his first combat mission to hamper him at Okinawa. As he took off, the Japs shelled the airport, two Jap planes strafed his ship and American batteries cut loose with ack-ack. Goff dodged all of these got into the air chased one of the strafing planes ten miles and shot the son of Nippon down in flames.

Maj. Leon Lowry, Plainview who completed 50 missions in the Mediterranean theater as a bomber pilot, is counting that experience simply as a warm-up. Starting anew from the mark considered good for any pilot, he went to the Pacific and, as a B-29 pilot, flew one of the huge superforts that pulverized Kobe
