GETS THREE MEDALS

First Lt. Harry R. Lewellyn, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lewellyn, C-47 pilot in India has been awarded the Purple Heart, Air Medal and Bronze Star Medal.

He was wounded in action, but the first his parents knew about it was when he wrote and told them he had recovered and returned to duty.

Lieutenant Lewellyn was born in Sanderson, and spent the greater part of his life here. He was a student in the Sanderson High School at the time his parents moved to San Antonio, where his father, R. H. (Dick) Lewellyn was connected with the S. P. Railway Co. He finished high school in that city. Mr. and Mrs. Lewellyn recently received the following communication from Headquarters, India China Division, Air Transport Command:

First Lt. Harry R. Lewellyn has been awarded the Air Medal. It was announced by Brig Gen. William H. Turner, commanding general of the India China Division, Air Transport Command.

The award was made upon completion of 150 hours of operational flight in transport aircraft over the dangerous and difficult India-China air routes where enemy interception and attack was probable and expected.

The air trail over the Hump, famed route through the towering peaks of the Himalaya Mountains, blazed by the Air Transport Command, is recognized by air men as the world's toughest. Today the Hump route is the main lifeline of vital military supplies for the Allied forces fighting the Japanese in China.

The citation accompanying the award reads:

"Flying at night as well as by day, at high altitudes over impassable, mountainous terrain through areas characterized by extremely treacherous weather conditions necessitating long periods of operation on instruments requiring courage and superior performance of his duties to overcome, he accomplished his mission with distinction."

The award was made for the period of service Dec. 23, 1944 to Feb. 9, 1945.

These cards will be good only for the open night requested, and the applicant must enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope in order to receive his cards. Dr. Struve should be addressed care McDonald Observatory, Fort Davis, Texas.

Miss Betty Jo Kerr left last week for San Antonio, where she will enter Incarnate Word college as a freshman.

Capt. Tom Slovell Is Awarded D F C For Heroic Achievement

The following story was taken from the Alpine Avalanche of September 14. It is of interest to local people, who remember the Stovells as having lived in Sanderson for several years. Mr. Stovell was resident engineer for the State Highway Department at the time of his residence here.

Capt. Tom H. Stovell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stovell, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for heroic achievement while participating in aerial flights in the Netherlands East Indies, May 8, July 19 and Dec. 20, 1944, his parents have been advised.

"On May 8 Capt. Stovell flew in a formation of six unescorted B-24 aircraft on a photographic reconnaissance over Dutch New Guinea," the citation reads. "On the run over Efanman airfield, enemy fighters intercepted the formation and knocked out two of the engines of the lead plane which immediately began to lose altitude. Capt. Stovell, voluntarily protected the crippled bomber from further attacks until it crashed into the sea. Circling above the position of the survivors he radioed their location to base."

Leads Raid on Airdromes "On July 19 he was flight leader in a formation of six Liberators on a strike against Old Namlea airdromes, Boeroe Island After flying through difficult weather all the way to the target he came through a break in the clouds and, in spite of enemy interception and intense anti-aircraft fire, led his flight into the bombing run. The B-24 crews destroyed one airplane on the ground and damaged another and caused extensive destruction to enemy installations."

"On December 20 he led a formation of 18 unescorted B-24 aircraft dispatched to Java to render Malang airdrome unserviceable and divert enemy fighters from a squadron of Liberators attacking nearby enemy power stations. Flying through adverse weather he led the formation over the target and the B-24's dropped bombs on two of the runways, destroying eight grounded airplanes and inflicting damage in the hangar area."

Courage Praised "The outstanding courage and devotion to duty displayed by Capt. Stovell during these flights are in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Army Air Forces."

Capt. Stovell was returned to the States a short time ago after completing 40 missions. He had previously been awarded the Air Medal with three clusters. He is now stationed at the Carlsbad N. M. army air field as commandant of bombardiers.

Condition of sheep ranges was six points below the 86 per cent reported one month ago, but the BAE report said that grass was sufficient for animals to hold good flesh in most counties. Reflecting this, the condition of sheep on September 1 was 84 per cent, or two points lower than a month ago. In contrast, the condition one year ago was 80 per cent. During August, rain benefited ranges and increased stock water supplies in the eastern and northern parts of the Edwards Plateau, but much of the southern portion of this region remained dry, the BAE report said.

SOCIAL SECURITY BOARD NOW SCHEDULED FOR FIVE-DAY WORK WEEK Elliott W. Adams, manager of the San Angelo field office of the Social Security Board, located at San Angelo, announced today that his office is now operating on a five-day week, Monday through Friday. Hours will be from 8:30 to 5:00 p.m. The new work week has been adopted by the Federal Security Agency of which the Social Security Board is a part. This schedule is in line with the general policy of government departments and agencies to return to the normal number of working hours during a week which prevailed before the war.

The field office will continue to provide its regular services to the public, Mr. Adams stated. The office accepts claims for monthly retirement and survivors insurance benefits under the Social Security Act, issues social security account numbers and furnishes information to the public.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Bendie returned Wednesday from San Marcos where they had gone to take their daughter, Ruth, who is enrolled in San Marcos Academy for the 1945-1946 term.

Two Sanderson Girls Pledge Alpha Phi At Texas University

AUSTIN, Sept. 20.—More than 500 girls at the University of Texas pledged sororities at the close of the fall rush week, Miss Margaret Peck, assistant dean of women, announced today.

The new "Greeks" include the following: Mickie Corder, Alpha Phi; Billie Corder, Alpha Phi.

Range Conditions Better on Average Than Last Year

COLLEGE STATION, September 20.—All Texas ranges were in better condition at the beginning of September than at the corresponding time one year ago, and also superior to the average for the 1924-1934 period. A condition of 81 per cent of normal reported by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Austin, although four points lower than on August 1, compared with 77 per cent on September 1, 1944, and 78 per cent for the 20-year average.

Range feeds were ample for livestock to maintain flesh in all districts, excepting southern counties and parts of the western and northwestern districts, which received little or no rainfall during August, the BAE report said. Currently, prospects are good for winter wheat pasture in the Panhandle, but supplemental feeding will be necessary in some areas unless the dry weather is broken soon.

Cattle held up remarkably well during August, with the condition dropping only one point below the 86 per cent on the first of the month. This compared with 81 per cent a year ago, and 83 per cent for the 20-year average. The report attributes the increasing movement of cattle in some areas to range feed shortages, but elsewhere producers were selling cattle which had reached top condition, and were culling cows rather closely. At the same time, many of the best heifers were being kept for breeding stock. The report predicts that unless supplemental feeds become available in quantity for winter feeding, fall marketing may be heavier than is expected at this time.

Condition of sheep ranges was six points below the 86 per cent reported one month ago, but the BAE report said that grass was sufficient for animals to hold good flesh in most counties. Reflecting this, the condition of sheep on September 1 was 84 per cent, or two points lower than a month ago. In contrast, the condition one year ago was 80 per cent. During August, rain benefited ranges and increased stock water supplies in the eastern and northern parts of the Edwards Plateau, but much of the southern portion of this region remained dry, the BAE report said.

Business men of Dallas are ready to bid up the prices on these choice heaves to a level which it is believed will exceed the highest ever attained at Houston and Fort Worth or at auctions elsewhere to make the first venture of these youngsters in the cattle business highly profitable.

"The future of the cattle industry," said Mickle, executive director of the exposition, "one of Texas' greatest and most stable sources of revenue, is in the hands of these younger cattlemen and cattle women. We want to convince them that Dallas realizes the importance of their efforts in an enterprise upon which the economic stability of this state, to a large degree, is dependent."

Through the decorated streets of Dallas a huge parade will mark the opening of the exposition. Delmo Johnson, parade chairman, expects to have at least 500 horsemen from over the state in addition to the rodeo performers and their animals.

Ample entertainment will be provided for the cattlemen and their wives. This will include a chuck wagon feed in old west style, a stag party and various Dallas stores are planning style shows and luncheons.

With the State Department co-operating in the Latin-American participation, it is intended to make the exposition a big step toward reconversion and the resumption of peace-time prosperity.

Great Pan-American Hereford Exposition At Dallas Nov. 9-18

DALLAS, Sept. 20. The finest purebred Herefords from all over America will compete for a $20,000 premium fund in what is expected to be the biggest postwar event of its kind at the State Fair Grounds Nov. 9-18. Fred F. Florence, chairman of the board of directors, announces.

The premium list is the largest offered for any single breed cattle show scheduled in the Western Hemisphere.

A rodeo with the finest talent available will give twelve performances during the exposition. Contestants from all over the country will go into the arena to ride wild broncos and bulls, rope calves and bulldog steers for prize money of $10,000 in addition to entry fees.

Special rodeo attractions include Calgary Ted, a spectacular performer from Canada, gauchos from South America, Mexican cowboys and mounted square dances. Clowns and trick ropers and riders will engage in the perilous ranch sports which develop wherever cowboys get together anywhere in the Americas.

Florence, president of the Republic National Bank, one of the largest institutions in the country, said the citizens of Dallas are determined that the 1945 exposition shall be put on an educational and entertainment event on a scale in keeping with the position of this city as a leading cattle center located in the greatest cattle producing state in America.

The American Hereford Association is offering full co-operation. Lloyd Wheelock of Corsicana, president of the Texas Hereford Association, will be superintendent of cattle. Jack Frost, president of the exposition, announced.

Jack B. Story and Dr. Howard K. Crutcher, co-chairmen of the Junior division, are arranging for at least 4,000 boys and girls of the Texas 4-H Clubs and the Future Farmers of America to attend the exposition as guests.

Many of these youngsters will have in the Junior show steers which were given to them as calves at the Exposition last year. With the assistance of the cattlemen they have raised and fattened these animals by scientific feeding and they will be offered at auction.

Business men of Dallas are ready to bid up the prices on these choice heaves to a level which it is believed will exceed the highest ever attained at Houston and Fort Worth or at auctions elsewhere to make the first venture of these youngsters in the cattle business highly profitable.

"The future of the cattle industry," said Mickle, executive director of the exposition, "one of Texas' greatest and most stable sources of revenue, is in the hands of these younger cattlemen and cattle women. We want to convince them that Dallas realizes the importance of their efforts in an enterprise upon which the economic stability of this state, to a large degree, is dependent."

LIBERALISM

Back in America's colonial days before the Revolutionary war when everybody was underprivileged, there were only three freedoms. Everybody had a right to work hard, save as much as he could of his earning and use his head as profitably as possible in business. If you have a taste for long words you might call the three freedoms industry, frugality and ingenuity.

Politics in those days were all full of rich-man vs. poor-man problems, same as now. They were, to be sure, better decorated with pretty English but the issues were about the same: What will we have to work with? If we do well, how much can we keep, and how much will be taken by the government? Government in those days was the far away English king, of course.

Lovers of Freedom

People who thought the king ought to show more liberality called themselves liberals. In theory the king owned the land. In reality he held a tight rein over his subjects. He taxed them plenty and his subsidized buying concern paid little enough for what they produced. A liberal in those days was a man who wanted government to loosen up a bit in favor of the individual.

Affairs of the people were not changed very much by the Revolution. Colonies changed into states and new issues arose but still there was an over-all government. In this over-all government were people who had power-lust, or else feared to trust the common people with vital decisions. Opposed to these power-hungry folks were the liberals, still plugging for personal liberty.

Liberals Won Out

The liberals were right. Time has proved beyond a doubt that people act better and live better and make more progress materially and spiritually when they have more freedom. Since the United States became a first-class power in record time, the world's wealthiest and happiest people, the word "liberal" has been popular here. A liberal to us, is one who wants the individual to be free.

Through the same historic periods America has had reactionaries. They were the people, in colonial days, who wanted the king to rule them. After the Revolution, the same element wanted an iron-rod rule in Washington — something like a dictator. Small wonder that reactionaries have always been unpopular in America, people who howl against the system and try to grab power for themselves.

Try to Swap Labels

Reactionaries in America today are smart. They have learned one lesson well. They are very sure of one thing: they have a bad name. They also know that the word "liberal" is an asset. Accordingly they have adopted the term "liberalism" and call themselves liberals. This is the same political element that supports more government rules and less liberty for individuals.

By the same strategy, this political element has begun to call people reactionaries who hold precisely to the liberal teachings of Thomas Jefferson. Don't let anybody tell you that government control of everything and the destruction of individual freedom and opportunity, is the liberalism that Americans think so highly of — nor that it is liberalism at all. It is a counterfeit road sign designed to misdirect American thinking away from the ways of freedom.

Cpl. James McDonald accompanied by his cousin, Carl McDonald, left for El Paso Friday where James will report for further duty. Earl McDonald will return to Sanderson Tuesday where he will spend the rest of his furlough.

THE BIG BEND SENTINEL.—A net loss of $336.35 was reported this week by Billy Crews for the Marfa Rodeo, September 1-2-3, which Mr. Crews directed under the sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce. Receipts totaled $7,296.54, including $6,710.46 in ticket sales. Expenditures ranged from $5.46 to a lumber company to three items of more than $1,000 each for federal amusement tax, $1,107.15; for prize money, $1,875; for R. E. Sellers and J. M. Sellers, who supplied the stock and were arena directors, $1,500.

Miscellaneous labor that was required accounted for $649.45 of the expenditures, Mr. Crews' report shows. The announcer, clown, secretary, and two judges received $725 for their work during the 3-day event.

A detailed statement showing Mr. Crews' itemized report of receipts and expenditures will be published in next week's issue of the SENTINEL.

THE OZONA STOCKMAN—As a means of avoiding a possible fatal accident in the downtown section of Ozona in the post war period of increased traffic, the Commissioners Court in session this week authorized an investigation into the advisability and cost of installing traffic lights at downtown intersections.

A signal light controlling traffic will be installed at the intersection of highways 163 and 290 in the busiest section. This is considered one of the most dangerous corners in the city, through traffic speeding along highway 290, with ordinary local traffic creating a hazard.

Possible installation of other lights at intersections east and west of this corner and in the vicinity of the high school area also under consideration. Installation of the signal lights is inexpensive, members of the court pointed out, and it was decided to try the signal light system first on an experimental basis.

THE FORT STOCKTON PIONEER—Pecos County 4-H Club members are busy these days feeding calves and starting the feeding of their lambs for the fall and winter livestock shows.

Fourteen calves in feed by four boys are making excellent progress, and one or more already are in top condition for showing in November in Dallas at the Pan-American Hereford Exposition. One calf, bought by Bryan Mills last spring at the El Paso show as a junior entrant, is already in prime shape for the senior class at Dallas.

Sonny Warnock is feeding 4 calves, Mills, 4 and Billy Gene and Thomas Hill Longfellow, 6 calves.

With a few lambs already started, County Agent, W. T. Posey, is busy in schools of the county lining up club members for sheep feeding projects. Members will be enrolled in Fort Stockton, Imperial, Iraan, Sheffield and Longfellow.

The following boys already have lambs on feed. Jack and Jiggs Henly and Dippy Mitchell, 18; Dwayne and Gene Harrel, 4; Tommie Bond, 5; Smitty Smith, Longfellow, 2.

A number of sheepmen are furnishing pens of 3 to 5 lambs for 4-H feeders, including the following: J. J. Cunningham Malone Mitchell, Judge Montgomery, Sim Reeves, George Atkins, Bob Bishop, Leo Richardson, Buster Miller, George Haral, Aston Ligon, Mrs. Mary Lea McKenzie, Bob Owens, Harry Petsch, and L. D. White. Other ranchmen desiring to furnish a pen of lambs may secure a list of 4-H club members from County Agent Posey and select a feeder from the list.

Feeder calves are from the herds of West-Pyle Cattle Co., and M. C. Puckett, Fort Stockton, Guy Garren of Van Horn and Howard Hampton of Lubbock, Herefords, and Emerson

Tinkler, Fort Stockton, an Aberdeen Angus being fed by Sonny Warnock.

Registered Ramboillet ram and ewe lambs are being grown as 4-H projects by Wayne White Claudell Owens, and Bryan Mills Fort Stockton; Amos Owen, Iraan; H. M. Holmes, Jr., Sheffield; and David Mitchell, Sanderson.

STAY AT HOME—SEE HIM SOONER

The quickest way to see your son or husband being returned from overseas, to be discharged from the Navy, is to remain at home.

That was the sage advice offered today by the Navy Department to relatives who are anxious to welcome their "boys" coming back to the States for release.

In the first place, if relatives travel to debarkation ports it is highly improbable that they will even see their sailors because the Navy demobilization plans calls for returning men to separation centers in their own Naval Districts. In consequence, men will not be free to visit their families at coastal ports, but will move without delay to their own districts.

Secondly, travel by dependents will only crowd the already overloaded transportation system and hamper the orderly operation of discharge.

And last, living accommodations in coastal ports are not and will not be available.

Registration for the winter semester at the University of Texas will be held one day only—October 31, the Registrar has announced. Classes will begin November 1. Convocations for new students will be held October 30.

United States Navy Recruiting Program Designed to Speed Demobilization And Reduce Calls Through Selective Service

HOUSTON, SEPT. 10.—Men to man history's mightiest fleet as it prowls the world to maintain peace will be recruited in an immediate national drive according to Lieut. Comdr. Jack Beebe, officer in charge of Navy recruiting in southern Texas.

"Texans, military and civilian, played so memorable a role for the Navy in its phase of winning the war that we are now being called upon to support another great objective, maintenance of the peace," Commander Beebe said. "So great was the response of Texans in those dark, desperate days of 1942, when our own Cruiser Houston was but one of the many victims of the treacherous enemy, that in the minds of Americans Texas almost has become a naval entity in itself.

"That tradition must be maintained by volunteers to keep the peace won at so precious a cost to fellow Texans and fellow Americans."

Commander Beebe announced that voluntary enlistments again are being received directly by the Navy, in accordance with a recent presidential decree. Enlistments are being accepted for the regular Navy from those 17 to 30 years of age for four-year terms and from those 17 to 50 1/2 for the Naval Reserve for the duration of the national emergency plus six months.

For those men who have not yet reached 18, and enlist with the consent of their parents, the term of enlistment is only until they reach majority on their twenty-first birthday.

Commander Beebe said he anticipated heavy response to the recruiting drive, since the Navy of today offers young men a career as well as the more glamorous enticement of adventurous travel, due to the highly specialized equipment developed during the war, such as expanded use of the high speed Diesel engine, radar, radio and other devices in the electronics field.

The Navy's recruiting drive is designed to speed demobilization of men with long war service, to reduce the Navy's call through Selective Service and at the same time enable the Navy to fulfill its extensive responsibilities through the transition period and beyond, the commander added.

An attractive program for men changing from the Navy Reserve to the regular Navy and men enlisting in the regular Navy has been announced, Commander Beebe said. These men retain their rights to mustering out pay, are entitled to full credit for past active duty, are given a special cash re-enlistment bonus and get up to 60 day's leave.

Applicants should inquire at the nearest Navy Recruiting Station for full information.

Ford Island, Pearl Harbor, met Woodie Leatherwood recently and they had a real home town visit.

The following letter was received recently by Mrs. Tommy Billings, from her brother, James A. Hempel, AEM 2-c, who is in the first city of Japan, Tokyo:

"Of all places to be, this is it! Tokyo! Boy, I never thought I'd end up here. People spend thousands of dollars to see this place and here we are seeing it for nothing. I can't see anything to spend that much money for. It isn't much different than the bay at San Diego. As for myself, I'd rather see San Diego than this place.

"When our planes landed on the air field, the Japs were there with a pot of tea, and said—'so sorry, no sugar.' One of the planes had a flat on landing and one Jap said—'most disgraceful for conquering hero'. What a laugh, huh?"

"Well, the peace treaty has been signed! What a day that was! I'll probably never see that many planes in the air at once again. What a sight that was! Things really looked nice, everybody in whites. Sure was a change after so long of a time.

"You remember that dinner I was promised? Best you start making plans. Can never tell expecting it any day.

repeat the roles they created in the previous success. Peter Lawford plays Joe grown up and pretty June Lochart, in her most important role to date, is the Duke's granddaughter, Priscilla played in "Lassie" as a child by Elizabeth Taylor.

"Son of Lassie" tells of Laddie, a foolish little pup who grows up to follow his daring master into many dangers and passes the true test of courage when courage means life itself. It takes us from Yorkshire, Lassie's home, to an air mission over occupied Norway, where Laddie and Joe are forced to parachute into danger and dog and master spend perilous days battling the enemy both physically and in duels of wits.

"Son of Lassie" is a fast-moving picture that will keep your eyes riveted on the screen from start to finish. All the human actors turn in fine, sympathetic roles.
