Mr. Creigh: I received your most welcome letter and I'm answering it just as you asked.

I've already written you and told you the details of what happened on that night of December 22. I'm sure that the night was the 23 and not the 22. Mr. Creigh, I know I should tell you more about your buddies, but I'll leave that to you.

We were all together and when we went to sleep it was always him and me. We slept together in mud and snow, we cooked our meals together. Al even let me to eat onions. For days our supply lines were off and we had nothing to eat. Al said let's eat onions. He tried to bring me onions every day, but we stopped. Sir, the battle was miserable and cold, and I guess you know I mean if you saw pictures of winter in Belgium. Half of the time we had nothing to eat, we kept getting out from under the blankets.

We walked mile after mile and we seemed to be going in circles. Everything was all mixed up, no one knew where the Germans were going to attack. Sometimes they would attack from the rear or right of us. Al and I were like brothers cause in the night when two Joes Buddie up for good until something happened between and separates me. I feel alone and I can't forget him and I say Sir, cause I really mean it never one of us ran out of food we would always borrow from one another. The last time we were in France we both sent home and I'm sure you remember this if you read it.

Mr. Creigh, I was with your up to the last minute when we were attacked. Sir, we were posted as guards, cause we were left behind after everyone got back so that we could

Sanderson Eagles Are Defeated In First District Game

Coach Paul Counts and his Sanderson High School Eagles journeyed to Iraan last Friday for their first game of the 1945-46 season. Score: Iraan 39, Sanderson 0.

This one sided score by no means tells the entire story. A story of intestinal fortitude against overwhelming odds.

Brother when we say odds we mean just that! The Eagles put up a game battle from start to finish, but the fact they had donated a weight advantage of about 20 to 25 pound per man was the thing that made the difference in the score.

We think taking everything into consideration the score was very close. Give the Eagles a little time to develop some more plays and wisen up just a little under Coach Counts, the Eagles will give a different account of themselves.

Anyhow we're going to stick our long skinny neck out, and predict a win in the Midgents next engagement. We haven't talked to Coach Counts since the Iraan game, but have managed to watch a little practice this week and have arrived at the conclusion that if work has anything to do with winning a ball game we've got the next one in the bag.

We're not going to try and pick any standouts in the Iraan game, but we firmly believe with boys like Harrell, Yeates, Goode, Edwards, Olivarez, Davis and Cardenas we're bound to give the opposing squads something to worry about.

OIL AND MOLD
Apostles of government ownership of business agree sometimes that private management can do better with little things. When it comes to filling prescriptions, mending shoes or making clothespins, they admit, private operators may be more efficient. Not so with the big stuff, they argue; coal, iron, oil, railroads are different. These just beg for bureaucratic bossing.

Of course big industries are more interesting to politicians because they employ large numbers of people and affect the daily lives of millions more. The fact remains however, that government can and does make mistakes in the operation of big industries. Moreover, appropriate encouragement from government in relatively small enterprises has been known to result in much good.

Significant Decisions
Since government enterprises tend ultimately to become monopolistic, mistakes in them can be far more fateful than private blunders. Our government made two important decisions in 1942 which illustrate the case perfectly. One, to take a speculative flyer in Arctic oil, has cost American tax-payers 300 million "goodbye" dollars already. The other decision had to do with penicillin.

Penicillin is a drug, a mold extract that most people know less about than they do about gasoline. Some perfectly astounding cures are being worked with it, including a cure of meningitis. It was discovered by an English scientist, Sir Alexander Fleming, in 1929 but production was tedious, slow and costly and consequently few sufferers were helped by it for 13 years.

In Mass Production
By 1942, our first war year, some American capitalists had taken a hand with marked success. The product was costing $20 a bottle then, and the average patient required three bottles. Government authorities realized that war would create a need for it so they guaranteed a large market and provided for mass production. History will record the splendid results.

With the government's big purchase of this successful item, volume production started. Now there are 20 factories. The low-dollar cost more than 3 1/2 million dollars but penicillin is costing less than $1 a bottle, $3 per treatment. Many lives have been saved and more will be. Mankind will be healthier and happier. Government encouragement of this business proved wise and beneficial.

Smell of the Yukon
How different was the Canol oil venture. The Army drilled wells on the Mackenzie river, built a 27 million-dollar refinery at White Horse and tied into Fairbanks, Alaska, with 1,000 miles of pipeline. Nothing was gained. Gasoline from the white elephant plant at White Horse costs 26c a gallon. Oil companies can ship a better product there from the states for 18c. The venture has been abandoned.

The Canol experiment failed. Very apparent obstacles made the operation too costly. Known sources of supply are better and 300 million dollars of taxpayers' money is gone. Government's support of one beneficial drug can't justify its management of big business. What official spending public money, is cautious and thorough like a private investor with his own money? Never has government management achieved the efficiency of American private management.

Billie Louise Smith of Colorado City, Texas, was a guest in the home of R. M. Allen the past week. Billie became acquainted with the Allen's when Don was attending the Abilene Christian College. At the present she is employed at Midland, Texas.

Mrs. Brite said this week that the fire was confined to the top of the mountain portion of the pasture. Men of the Marfa volunteer fire department and neighbors and friends fought the fire. The fact that it was bright moonlight Monday night was of aid in the work. There was little wind and this also was advantageous.

The prize crack of the week comes from an Arkansas farmer who has been fighting crab grass all of his life. He declares that when crab grass is pulled up by the roots, piled on top of a flat stone and dried for weeks and then burned, it will take root and flourish wherever its smoke touches the ground.

Movement of Cattle Good On Los Angeles Market This Week

LOS ANGELES UNION STOCK YARDS, Sept. 27.—With the movement of cattle assuming seasonally liberal volume, reports from Washington that utility beef is to be made point free October 1st is good news to cattle interests. Many had hoped that rationing of all beef would be ended by that time but OPA is not disposed to remove point values on the better grades of beef for the present.

The past week brought out the largest cattle run of the season, both at the Los Angeles Union Stock Yards and at the 12 major markets. Trade got off to a poor start Monday when Jewish holidays kept quite a few buyers out of the competition, slowing down demand and giving prices on other than good to choice steers a downward slant.

These latter classes were firmly held but common to medium steers and good cows and heifers were inclined to drag at weak to 25c lower levels, while medium and common cows and all bulls finished the period 25c to 50c under the previous week. While a relatively large volume of trading in stockers and feeders developed, it was barely steady to 25c to 50c lower deal on such cattle. A fewhead of choice 1007 lb. New Mexico steers topped at $18 and other good to choice grainfeds brought $16.65 to $17.10. Medium to good steers cleared at $14 to $16.25. Common to medium Mexicans and mixed breeds sold at $11 to $13.75. A load of good heifers sold at $15 and odd head touched $16. Bulk medium to good heifers $12 to $14.50, some lower grades down to $11 and below. A few strictly good young northern cows sold at $13.75 to $14.25 but sales above $13.25 were not numerous. Quite a few cutter to common cows $8 to $10.50 and canners 6 to $7.50. Most bulls $11 to $12.50, a few beef bulls up to $13 to $14. A few vealers hit 15 but $13.50 to $14.50 took most of the medium

TIME CHANGES SUNDAY MORNING

Remember folks, just before going to bed Saturday night, to change your clock from war time, back to Central Standard Time. Sunday morning at 2 o'clock, has been set as the time for a complete change from war time, back to pre-war time. In case you forget, you may be an hour early Sunday for any thing you might have in mind doing.

On display recently in the Texas Memorial Museum on the University of Texas campus was a beautiful rust-colored taffeta and satin gown, worn by Empress Carlotta of Mexico. The dress was loaned to the Museum by Senorita Dolores Altamira y Bandera of Mexico, whose great-aunt received the dress from Empress Carlotta as a token of her affection.

and better grade slaughter calves. Medium to good feeder steers $13 to $14.50, a few to $14-50. Plainer grades down to $10.50 including a string of nine loads of 805-lb. Mexicans out of Utah at $11, with a light sort-off at $10.

No marked change in the hog situation was noted with ceiling prices taking most commercial hogs, butchers holding at $15.75 and sows at $15. Feeder pigs ranged $18 to $22, on the weak side.

Despite light receipts the market for lambs was easier, prices being nominally 25c off for the week. A few medium to good lambs brought $12.50 to $13 with choice descriptions quotable to around $13.75. Medium to good shorn ewes are now quotable around $4.50 to $6.

SOCIAL SECURITY FORMS WILL BE FEW DAYS LATE

AUSTIN, Sept. 27.—Frank Scofield, Collector of Internal Revenue for the First Internal Revenue Collection District of Texas, stated today that blank forms for use of employers of one or more individuals in filing their Social Security returns for the quarter year period ending Sept. 30, 1945, will probably reach the taxpayers a few days late.

"The delay," Mr. Scofield stated, "occurred in the printing offices and we hope to have these blanks in the hands of the taxpayers within the next five days. The employers may file their returns at any time within the month of October without penalty. It is hoped that the employers of this District will not become impatient as the blank forms will reach them in ample time to file their returns on or before October 31st."

Requests from taxpayers for these forms are unnecessary since they will be addressed and mailed out to each employer appearing on the Collector's rolls within a very short time after the blanks reach the Austin office.

AT THE PRINCESS

SUNDAY-MONDAY

When George Murphy and Carole Landis decide to go on their honeymoon, Pat O'Brien decides to go with them in RKO Radio's comedy-mystery picture "Having Wonderful Crime." The honeymoon is partly an excuse to get away from the bothersome police who fall to appreciate the efforts of the three amateur sleuths in solving crime.

The honeymoon, in itself, proves a fizzle. Immediately upon the trio's arrival at a resort things begin to happen and never let up until O'Brien, "assisted" by the two somewhat screwball newly-weds, succeeds in clearing up two murder mysteries and several other remarkable occurrences.

Lighting Tips

For the Longer Evenings Ahead

Keep bulbs, bowls and enclosing globes clean. You'd be surprised how much dust and dirt hold back light from your portable lamps and fixtures. Just by washing bulbs, bowls and enclosing globes you can get up to 30% more useable light. Disconnect portable lamps before washing and be sure bulbs and bowls are dry before reconnecting.

Brush or clean lamp shades regularly. If lamp shades are dirty or turning yellow inside, you may be losing as much as 50% of the light you're paying for. Clean or brush lamp shades regularly. If they are too dark or discolored, relime them or replace them with fresh shades with white or very light linings.

Fill empty sockets and replace blackened bulbs. Bulbs that have turned black with age rob you of light. Replace them with bright, new bulbs of right size and you'll get a lot more light at little or no increase in cost. Fill empty sockets, too. They're eyestrain breeders!

WAR PRICE AND RATIONING BOARDS IN SAN ANTONIO OPA DISTRICT TO BE REDUCED IN NUMBER SOON

A program of consolidation which will reduce the number of War Price and Rationing Boards in the San Antonio OPA district was announced today by C. T. Giesen, district director of the Office of Price Administration.

Giesen said that the program now in prospect will result in centralized board offices serving larger areas, instead of the present system of maintaining a board office in each county of the district. There now are 67 War Price and Rationing Boards in as many counties, located usually in the county seat. This consolidation is part of the Government's economy program of readjustment to post-war conditions.

However, the district director made it clear that each county will have full representation on the remaining boards, through appointment of former members of local boards to the centralized board. Thus, each county's needs and problems will be taken care of by a local representative. Price panels henceforth will be citizens' committees representing all the counties in the area served by the board.

The consolidation process will start the latter part of October Giesen said, and will be "wound up" by the end of December.

"Locations of board offices will not follow the set geographical pattern maintained during the war years," Giesen explained. "However, those board offices which absorb the duties of other boards will be placed in centrally located areas, so that all the people of the district may be served most conveniently."

Employees of boards to be closed will be notified in ample time to find other employment, Giesen said.

He added that as soon as the plan of consolidation has been worked out, announcement will be made of impending changes.

Giesen praised the "tremendous contribution" of board members and volunteer board workers, who are giving their time to the rationing and price control programs in their respective communities, and asked that they "stay on the job" until their services no longer are needed.

"Price and rent controls must be maintained, and we still have some rationing problems," Giesen pointed out. "Our paid personnel can't accomplish the big job ahead without the help of local board members and other volunteers who, since 1942, have administered these emergency programs in each community. Price control wouldn't have been as effective as it is today without the constant surveys made by volunteer price panel assistants who actually visit the grocery stores, the eating places, the laundries, and other establishments serving their county, and check prices and offer valuable assistance to businessmen."

Giesen stressed that this type of work will continue on a much larger scale because of the danger of inflation. The only difference, he explained, will be that each county which loses a board office will send its representative to the centralized board.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith daughter, and grandchild, Mrs. J. T. Moses and Jimmie, and son Douglas spent Saturday in Fort Stockton. They were accompanied by Margaret Pierson.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dawson visited Sunday in Marathon with Mr. and Mrs. Marion Batson.

Fat Salvage Still Necessary Although War Has Come to End

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 29.—Homemakers are getting more meat now than during the war months, but it still is necessary to continue to save every drop of used fat for salvage.

Maurine Hearn of the A. and M. College Extension Service urges farm women and home demonstration club groups not to let down in this patriotic program. Right now fats and oils are in shorter supply than they have been at any time since the war began, she explained following a conference with C. B. Hodges, Austin, state marketing officer for the Production and Marketing Administration, and other state and national salvage program leaders.

The shortage of fats and oils is expected to continue into the spring of 1946, since some time will elapse before importations from the South Pacific can be resumed. Butchers will continue to pay points and cash for salvaged fat.

Leaders in the collection have praised Extension workers for their cooperation in the program, Miss Hearn says. She reminds that as cold weather arrives and home butchering begins, farm families will have large amounts of non-edible fat which can be contributed.

Roberta Lochausen who returned recently from a year in Boston, where she attended Leland Power, left Friday for El Paso, where she will enter the College of Mines as a senior.

Mrs. L. D. Hasty left for Houston Monday, where she will be with her husband who is undergoing an operation in the Southern Pacific Hospital in that city.

J. W. Downum returned Sunday from San Antonio, where he has been several days for medical treatment.

United War Chest Victory Campaign To Start October 1

Judge Ben H. Powell of Austin, president of the United War Chest of Texas, announced the official opening date of the victory campaign of the National War Fund as October 1, with a statewide radio hookup carrying the opening ceremony, October 1 from 9:30 to 10 p. m.

"At this time when services of the agencies of the National War Fund are at their peak," Judge Powell said, "I have found that Texans are enthusiastically endorsing the campaign, and ready to give as generously in victory as they were in war, to speed the day of actual peace throughout the war devastated world."

Featured speaker on the radio broadcast will be Dr. James L. McConaughy, president of United China relief, an agency of the National War Fund, who is on tour of Texas. McConaughy has recently returned from a trip to China and will report on the needs of United China Relief in that country now that the eight years of war with Japan are over.

Gov. Coke Stevenson, honorary president of the United War Chest of Texas, will also speak on the program, proclaiming October as National War Fund month.

Music for broadcast will be played by the 32-piece Eighth Service Command band of the U. S. Army.

stop the enemy tanks. Before the first bursts of bullets came at us, your son and I were talking about what each would do for the other in case one of us never came back. Al's wishes were for me to come and see you and say for your son "I did my best Dad." Those were the words he wanted me to say. Mine were the same as Al's. We shook hands and squeezed each other's hands when we ducked for cover at the first burst of bullets. After that I never saw Al anymore. I didn't know what happened to him till I heard from Mom. Sir I promise you that I will come to see you when I get back cause that was my promise to your son. I know that if I had been in your son's place he would go to see my mother. Mr. Creigh I had been carrying with me a can of peanuts that came from Alpine for your son. I was always hoping that I'd get news of Al so that I could take it to him but one of my barracks bags was lost and the can was in it. I never sent it to you because I never wanted to bring up any more memories for you. Mr. Creigh if you could send me a picture of Al I would do anything for you. I just have to have his picture.
