Ratio of Veterans Unemployed Here Are Two to One

Unemployed veterans outnumber unemployed civilian workers by eight to one in Sanderson, Wayne A. Grant, District Supervisor for the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, reported today, comparing veteran unemployment with individuals receiving civilian unemployment insurance. He said that the veterans were searching for jobs themselves and that the employment service was aiding but that churches, civic clubs, and merchants associations were needed to help solve this major reconversion problem—the re-employment of war veterans.

In Sanderson there are two unemployed civilian workers and sixteen unemployed veterans. The latter are receiving readjustment allowances under the G. I. Bill of Rights, which is administered by the TUCC in Texas through agreement with the Veterans Administration. Payments under the G. I. Bill come from monies supplied by the VA out of congressional appropriations for that purpose.

Our economy will be unbalanced until these veterans find jobs, Grant declared, explaining that this was not only a local problem but nationwide. Everyone has got to help because our post-war economy is not absorbing them fast enough. These young veterans want the kind of jobs on which they can build a future, get married, raise a family.

Grant said that in the few instances where the veterans have refused suitable jobs, their allowances have been stopped as provided in the G. I. Bill.

HEALTH NOTES—

AUSTIN, Texas, July 4. Because of the economic losses they cause to industry and the annoyance they create in homes, rats have been considered a serious menace to mankind since long before their role as vectors of disease was understood. Today at least six diseases which are transmitted to man from the rat known to medical science, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. These diseases include the dread plague, typhus, trichinosis, a form of jaundice, tapeworm, and food poisoning.

The whole history of the role rats play in the transmission of disease remains as yet unknown. "It is necessary to public health," Dr. Cox said, "that a continuous rat control program be maintained in every urban and rural area throughout Texas. This is of especial importance on farms where rats may flourish by feeding on grain and other farm products."

The doctor pointed out that rats, like other living things, require food and shelter if they are to propagate and increase in number. Destroying their shelter and breeding places includes the employing of ratproof design in buildings, the use of ratproof materials in construction, employing ratproof methods of construction and installation, and providing for periodic inspection of buildings to insure permanent safety. This program will force the rat out into the open where its destruction may be accomplished.

Of equal importance as a control measure is the elimination of all food supplies. This consists of storing all foods in ratproof buildings or in ratproof storage and disposal of garbage, and careful feeding of stock to prevent waste feed from being picked up by the rats.

By observing these measures, the community will benefit not only in the eradication of a menace, but in improved health conditions and the prevention of rat-borne diseases.

Stockton. His many friends here will be glad to know that he is making satisfactory recovery from his injuries, and hope that soon he will be well.

Dreams are the nucleus forming the plans Of the greatest accomplishments of man; Those that have faith and a will. Struggle on against disappointment and scorn; Believing in their ideals, will carry on Unmindful of the skeptic's scorn.

OCCUPATION

Within our occupation we should find The richness with which life abounds; Contentment, happiness, peace in mind. Ye are known by your deeds. As ye sow, so shall ye reap. For idleness, evil and mischief breeds.

IGNORANCE

Ignorance, a blight we must erase. In our world it has not place; 'Twas spawned by unwholesome evil Emanating from the deepest pit in hell. Educate and enlighten all. And that sinister darkness we will dispell.

KNOWLEDGE

Knowledge, we strive to attain; But without wisdom to apply it. Nothing in life will we gain. Fools it may and can destroy; Its fruits, wise men will enjoy And go into everlasting fame.

RELIGION

Religion is an experience, a thought; Manifesting itself in human hearts. By faith, by hope or deeds. True religion is what you believe; It may be the golden rule or any creed; Lifting our hearts, our inner thoughts.

TRADITIONS

Traditions are the warp and woof Forming the patterns of our lives; To ignore it men have often tried, But it has availed him naught; For the influence that tradition wields over man's destiny. We cannot escape or deny.

TEMPTATIONS

Temptations are ever by our side. Stirring our lust, jealousy, and pride; Blinding us to right or wrong. To its lures we will fall If our wills are not strong; To resist temptations all living call.

War Department Names Honor List Of Dead and Missing

The first consolidated listing of Army dead and missing in World War II—a compilation of the names of nearly 310,000 men and women who gave their lives in the Nation's service—was released by the War Department on Thursday, June 27, 1946. The list, made up in booklet form, was received by the Times office on last Saturday. The figures are for the Army only.

Texas Army men dead and missing totaled 15,764, making the Lone Star State standing the sixth greatest loss of life in the Nation. Total Army dead and missing for the nation is 308,978.

The list was made up of fifty booklets, one for each state, one for the District of Columbia, and one for the Territories and Possessions of the United States. Each booklet contained a foreword, explanatory of the methods of listing, a breakdown by counties and types of casualty, and an alphabetical listing by county of the name, serial number and grade of each individual and the manner in which he met his death.

In releasing the booklets, the War Department pointed out that the listing was a preliminary one, and might, because of its scope contain errors which would be corrected when determined. In addition to possibility of error in preparation, it was emphasized that misinformation often is given unintentionally by an individual when he enters the service such as a mistaken identification of his home county, and other inaccuracies are from time to time apt to be introduced into the individual's record.

Elsewhere on this page will be found the honor list of dead from Terrell County as reported by the War Department. There are two from here, who were killed in action that were not included in the list, namely, Hugh Stapp of the Marine Corp and Elton H. Stirman who was with the Infantry of the 90th Division. There may be others unknown to the Times and we would appreciate it if our Readers, who know of others that were killed or missing, and not mentioned in the list, will give us the names.

A revised and final list is expected to be published at a later date by the War Department.

LIONS ROAR—

With the regular meeting day, Thursday, falling on Independence Day, July 4th, the Lions club held their regular meeting on Tuesday of this week. The Methodist Ladies again served the club a delicious as well as appetizing luncheon.

At the business meeting held, a financial report was given by the treasurer on the receipts and disbursements for the newly built field and showed the balance left in the treasury.

As it was time for the election of officers to serve for the next six months, members present re-elected the present officers to serve. They are President, W. W. Sudduth; 1st vice-president, Robert Kerr; 2nd vice-president, Ray Turner; 3rd vice-president, O. J. Cresswell; secretary-treasurer, Ruel Adams; Lion tamer, Leslie McDonald; Tail twister, John L. Newton.

Directors to serve for the next six months include Carlton White, Greene Cooke, J. Riley Dunman, and Johnnie Dyche.

It was brought up before the Club and voted to issue a challenge to the Rotary Club for a softball game to be played at Lions Field, Saturday night, July 13, at 8 o'clock. It was suggested that the uniform to be worn by both clubs should be dresses.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM SHOULD SERVE COMMUNITY
AUSTIN, TEX., July 5—A modern educational program should serve all the people of a community and not only the scholastics, Dr. Walter D. Cocking, executive editor of School Executive Magazines, New York, told the School Plant Conference and Suppliers Exhibition at its opening session at the University of Texas last week.

Dr. Cocking, formerly assistant superintendent of schools in San Antonio, said an up-to-date educational program should include both instructional and service activities. "A school has to be more than a temple of learning these days," he said. "A real school serves all the people of a community."

Timely Suggestions On Combatting Termites Menace

COLLEGE STATION, July 5—Termites are found in every section of Texas and do as much damage in this state as elsewhere in the nation, according to Charles A. King, Jr., entomologist for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, who is recommending a vigorous war against these under-cover agents.

It is especially important now to conserve lumber and other cellulose building materials necessary for repairs, remodeling, and essential construction, he points out. Termite damage in the nation is estimated at 37 million dollars every year.

The next few weeks termites still will be swarming, which makes them easy to discover. Termites are what is known as white ants and can fly during the swarming season. Later they lose their wings. The pests form concealed canals in which they travel and can eat away wood until "you'll step through the dining room floor before you know they're around," King warns.

If infestation is discovered consult local county Extension Service agents on control, King advises. Measures also are listed in Farmers Bulletin 1911 issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Where new construction is planned, King recommends these precautions: Remove all wood or cellulose materials from the building site. Don't place any untreated timber in contact with the ground. Make sure there is at least 18 inches of clearance under buildings which don't have cellars, basements, or concrete slab foundations. Provide good drainage and cross ventilation under buildings of frame construction. Allow at least two feet of screened opening for every 25 lineal feet of wall. Seal spaces around pipes and other floor or wall openings with coal tar pitch. Inspect for termites at least twice a year.

Flying Farmers Of Texas Plan Meet at Sweetwater

COLLEGE STATION, July 5—Texas Flying Farmers will gather Saturday, July 20, at Sweetwater to select delegates to the National Flying Farmer Association meeting at Stillwater, Oklahoma. The national meeting is scheduled for August 1-2.

The Army Air Force will stage an air show at Sweetwater, according to Clayton Beard, Tahoka, president of the Texas Flying Farmers.

The program will be devoted to a discussion of use of airplanes in agriculture. Dr. Howard W. Barlow, dean of the School of Engineering, Texas A. and M. College, will discuss flight training under the GI Bill of Rights. The first lessons for veterans are now underway at A. & M. with an enrollment of 63 students.

Study Made On Veteran Adjustment To Campus Life

AUSTIN, Tex., July 5—Eight University of Texas sociology students completed a survey on how the veteran has adjusted himself to the campus life. The work was carried on under the direction of Dr. Harry E. Moore, associate professor of sociology.

Some of the facts and conclusions determined by the survey have been announced. Thirty per cent of the veterans are from 21-22 years of age. Chances are 72 out of a 100 that the veterans' education was interrupted by his service. One-third of the veterans are married and of these, two-thirds married during the war. Only 16 per cent live on their government allotments; the majority of those who do not do so supplement their allotment from savings.

The veteran, according to the survey, wants people to cease thinking of him as a problem child, wants to be a civilian and treated like one, wants to get an education, a job, marry and live a normal life. He is remarkably free from "the world owes me a living for what I have done" attitude. Yet at the same time he wishes the government would see fit to be more generous in allotments.
