Coach Etheridge will depend on the same group to stop their attack, as in the Ozona game, and with the same backs to move the team up the field.

"Bad Lands" Into Good Meat

Vision and resourcefulness in the rebuilding of various kinds of abandoned and unproductive lands may pay dividends. The return of such "bad lands" to profitable use is equally important to producers and to us at Swift & Company. Because "what helps agriculture helps all of us." Here is a story of such vision. Here is an example of one man's initiative.

Like a farm torn up by a giant's plow, 600 acres of Illinois strip mine land stood bare. It was apparently worthless. That was in 1938. Today those once-bare ridges are knee-deep in grass and clover. Each rugged acre makes more than enough grass for one steer. And it's getting better each year.

The year after the land was mined for coal, a few volunteer sweet clover plants took root. They flourished in the lime-rich soil: Byron Somers of Canton, Illinois, who farmed adjacent land, noticed them. He bought the "bad land" for $5 an acre. With a hand seeder, he walked the ridges and sowed sweet clover. The next year he had a good stand. This added some nitrogen and humus to soil already rich in phosphorus and potash. Further seeding of a grass legume mixture is done each year by airplane. Brome grass has got a start, and now his pastures will be even more productive. In addition to grass, plenty of drinking water for the cattle is held in the little valleys.

Since being returned to usefulness, this land has averaged a net profit of $7 an acre each year. Similar Illinois land has recently sold for $25 an acre.

This is only one example. Every state has unproductive lands. Many other men have returned them to use—and profited. Huge areas still offer a challenge and an opportunity to American producers everywhere. Your opportunity, too, may be indicated by such a little thing as sweet clover growing on abandoned land.

It's extra care that cuts shipping fever losses among feeders. Vaccination also will produce a measure of immunity. Cattle reach the feed lots, provide them with shelter from winds and rain. Give them light, bulky feeds such as whole and roughage. Cattle fall easy prey to shipping fever when they are run down, due to fatigue, exposure, or irregular feeding. animals do fall sick, isolate them promptly and call a veterinarian.

District Governor Visits Rotary Club September 4

Tom Shelby, District Governor of District 129, made his official visit to the Sanderson Rotary Club last week. He spoke to the club at the noon meeting and conducted the club assembly in the evening.

Governor Tom is Dean of the Division of Extension and Professor of Educational Administration in the University of Texas, in which position he has served for a quarter of a century. He has also been a Rotarian for that long and is a Past President of the Tyler Club which he organized in 1920, and Past President of the Austin Club.

In speaking about Rotary and its program, Governor Tom said that Rotary began as an idea in the mind of Paul Harris of Chicago forty-one years ago and has spread to seventy-two counties of the world with more than fifty-eight hundred clubs and 280,000 Rotarians. The Rotary ideal and motto, "Service Above Self" is, in the opinion of Governor Tom, no theoretical motto. Rotary International and Rotary clubs everywhere are attempting to exemplify this ideal, which is another expression of the principle of the Golden Rule, in all relationships of life.

Rotary attempts to implement its program through its local clubs by means of four lanes of Rotary: Club Service, Community Service, Vocational Service and International Service.

The emphasis of Rotary International this year is, among other things, on clarifying our thinking and our practice in Vocational Service. Through this channel the individual member is encouraged to carry his Rotary ideals into his business and professional life and to attempt to improve practices in his own business and in other businesses of his classifications. In business dealings Rotary has a Four-Way Test. The questions of this test are simple and yet profound. These tests are: (1) Is it true? (2) Is it fair to all concerned? (3) Does it develop friendliness and good will? (4) Is it of maximum service to all concerned?

Under Community Service the emphasis is on Youth Service. In a period when crime among youth (those under twenty-five years of age) is on the increase and in too many cases moral standards are being thrown to the wind, the local Rotary Club and the local Rotarian is concerned about how the energy and enthusiasm of youth can be directed into wholesome character-developing channels.

The further emphasis of Rotary International for the year is International Service. This is based on the fourth object of Rotary: the advancement of international understanding, good will, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

Governor Tom emphasized the fact that in our community relations our public schools should be our greatest center of interest at this time. Statistics indicate that we are losing many of our very best teachers because of low salaries, and we must bestir ourselves to see to it that children of this generation have the kinds of teachers that are essential to stimulate in them a desire for the good life.

HEALTH NOTES—

Austin, Teas, Sept. 9—Discussing the food requirements of a child enjoying maximum health, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has stressed the importance of a well-rounded diet and stated that a healthy and well-nourished child enjoys life and does well in school because he is physically fit.

Dr. Cox stated further that when a child is in good health, his appetite is good, elimination is regular and sleep is sound and untroubled, all of which contributes to his progress in school.

"A child's appearance can usually help parents to judge the state of his nutrition. A well-nourished child has good skin color and there is a moderate padding of fat over the bones and muscles of the arms, legs and body. Muscles are well de-

Veterans' News

Q. In event a veteran is employed, can he meet all requirements for a degree by attending late afternoon and evening classes?

A. Some colleges and universities have served the needs of employed workers for many years by offering a complete program of instruction in the late afternoon and during the evening. With the exception of medicine, the requirements for a degree in any curriculum may be met while the student is employed full-time during the day. Since it takes proportionately longer to complete the college work on a part-time basis, approximately 60 per cent of the veterans in the past two years have preferred to obtain subsistence benefits from Veterans Administration and attend college full-time.

Q. May I transfer from one college to another under the provisions of the Service-man's Readjustment Act or the Rehabilitation Act?

A. Yes—Under the regulations of the Veterans Administration, the veteran may change his school, but he must have the approval of Veterans Administration in advance.

Q. If I get out of service just before school opens and do not have time to make formal application and wait for official determination of my eligibility and entitlement before the beginning of the term, may I attend classes?

A. Yes. You may make application, formal or informal, directly to the approved school that you desire to attend. You should, however, make a formal application on Form 1950 at the earliest possible time. This formal application may be submitted to Veterans Administration through the approved school.

veloped and strong. Teeth are good and the gums are firm and light pink," Dr. Cox said.

The State Health Officer stated that a delicate, hard-to-please appetite or a tired feeling after a little exertion indicates possible malnutrition or the beginning of an illness, and the child should be seen by the family physician.

Required as a diet for the preschool child and those of school age, Dr. Cox listed milk, fruit, vegetables, eggs, meat, fish or cheese and bread and added that cod liver oil and other vitamin preparations may be useful in winter and early spring, but they should always be prescribed by the family physician.

Recent Survey Shows Large Increase in Crime

J. Edgar Hoover, Federal Bureau of Investigation, announced today that crime increased 13 per cent in the first 6 months of this year as against the same period last year, according to a survey made by the FBI. "This is the highest rate of increase of crime in the United States since 1930 when national figures on the extent of crime were first compiled," stated Mr. Hoover.

The survey reflects increases in robberies of 31.8 per cent, murders 28.5 per cent, manslaughter by negligence 19.2 per cent, burglary 17 per cent, auto theft 15.5 per cent, aggravated assault 10 per cent, larceny 9.8 per cent, and rape 1.6 per cent.

While a 13 per cent increase in crime was recorded on a nationwide basis, crime in rural areas increased 19.6 per cent. Rural crime increased 48.4 per cent for robbery, 34.3 per cent for auto theft, 23.8 per cent for aggravated assault, 22.9 per cent for negligent manslaughter, 20.9 per cent for murder, 17.9 per cent for burglary, 13 per cent for larceny, and 8.3 per cent for rape.

In the first 6 months of 1945 crime increased 8.4 per cent over the same period in 1944 and the increase in the first part of 1945 gathered momentum until the end of last year crime had increased 12.4 per cent over 1944.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Dye arrived last Thursday from San Antonio and will make Sanderson their home in the future. Mr. Dye will be associated with his brother-in-law, O. T. Sudduth, and will be employed in the store.
