Hiway 51 Ass'n To Work For Sanderson-Sheffield Paving

A delegation of members of the International Parks Highway Association and local citizens who are interested in the proposal met at the Community House Thursday night of last week to discuss plans for bringing about the paving of the Sanderson-Sheffield highway and to obtain both state and federal designation for the road. Among the delegation was Paul Counts, 3rd vice president of the International Parks Highway Association and President of the Pecos County Chamber of Commerce; Fred Farmer, George Reynolds, Albie Garland and Clarence Wood, all of Iran.

The Texas branch of the association was formed several years ago with the plan to obtain a crossing on the Canadian River near Vega, Texas, and seek federal designation of the route from the northern part of Texas to McCamey. Terrell County was later added and their aid was sought toward the final goal and the proposed designation extended to Sanderson on U. S. Highway 90.

Braceros Contracts Renewed By Area Ranchmen This Week

Ranchmen of this area were given opportunity to renew contracts for braceros employed through the Mexican government when Thomas T. Boone, representative from the Texas Employment Commission of San Angelo was in Sanderson Monday and Tuesday. Mr. Boone with temporary offices in the courthouse, filed in renewal applications for 58 ranchers of this area while here.

According to Boone chances are likely that a team from the consul's office will be brought here to process all Mexican laborers who are under contract and will be considered for renewal contract.

If this move is carried out it will not be necessary for the employer to take the Mexicans to the original processing station. Mr. Boone explained, the Eagle Pass processing station would be open until Wednesday, April 20.

It was learned Wednesday that

EAGLES BLOW LEAD TO LOSE 11-7

Leading 4 to 0 after three innings of play, the Eagles blew sky high in the top half of the fourth and handed Alpine 6 runs and a ball game Tuesday. The final score was 11 to 7.

Five hits in a row in the second inning netted the Eagles 4 runs and it looked like they were off to a win, but pitcher Hernandez for Alpine settled down and allowed one hit after that, a home run by Zepeda in the last of the seventh.

Olivares pitched a creditable game for Sanderson until the 4th when errors, two hits and two walks allowed six runs to cross the platter. He was derrickled for Vasquez, who allowed six hits during the balance of the game.

Score by innings:
Alpine	0 0 0 6 0 2 3 11 9 5
Sanderson	0 4 0 0 1 0 2 7 6 7

Rotary, Lions Clubs To Pay Off Debt On Community House

After an appeal by the Sanderson Garden Club to the local Rotary and Lions Clubs for them to take over the management of the Community House in an effort to promote the benefits and use of the civic and social center, those two organizations agreed to pay off the current indebtedness on the house and assume joint responsibility toward the monthly utilities bills. The two sponsoring organizations will assume their responsibility immediately.

Officers of the Garden Club stated that it was their belief that the facilities offered at the Community House, including the rental library, social entertaining room and complete facilities for the cooking and serving of meals, were not being used to the best advantage by the social and church groups of the town. They stated that they felt that the two civic clubs would be able to work out plans for the use of the center and to put it on a self-maintaining level rather than being a liability to any one club.

Members of the two mens' clubs agreed to turn over the Community House to a committee composed of members of each of the womens' clubs of the town to formulate the plans and policies for the successful operation of the center. It was thought that this would put the Community House more in the hands of the ladies of the town who would be the most frequent users of the house. The Rotary and Lions Clubs under this plan would assume only the utilities bills. If the use of the center would not pay enough to stand this expenditure, on a trial basis.

The members of both fraternal groups expressed themselves to be anxious to see the Community House remain open for the benefit of the public on appointment basis and at a nominal fee. It was brought out at the meetings that there were numerous benefits available at the Community House and the two groups were glad to be able to aid in the promotion of the project for the good of the community.

Moving Terminal Denied By T&NO Officials

General Rain Over County Wednesday

A rain that showed 51 on the local official gauge Wednesday night was fairly general over the county in varying amounts, according to reports received early Thursday morning. Half an inch was recorded at Dryden and small quantities on the surrounding ranches. Heaviest rains reported were from ranches to the north. Cloudy skies prevail as we go to press. Cloudy skies Tuesday netted little moisture and Tuesday night a light shower fell. Heavy skies early Wednesday morning produced just enough moisture to wet the pavement.

Some reports have come in of early shears among the ranchers that their flocks are shearing out heavy fleeces and most of the wool has been contracted, according to reports. Prices over the area have been noted at 65c per pound for reported 8-months wool, but it was reported that these were exceptional fleeces and the price was not market for an average fleece.

Even without the benefit of rains to make them more active, the flies have been bad, according to most ranchmen and many cases of worms reported among the lambs. Dogged lambs are not as numerous as they have been in past years even with the percentage of twin lambs much higher as well as the percentage of singles being way up.

ROSA LOPEZ BORN HERE ON APRIL 6

A baby girl, Rosa, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Romeo Lopes on Thursday, April 6. She weighed six pounds and was the couple's first child.

Headlines of an El Paso daily paper last Thursday caused much anxiety among local citizens and business men when that paper published a story(?) concerning the possibility(?) of moving the railroad terminal from Sanderson to Alpine. The story was unfounded, denied and unauthoritative.

There has been much talk going around lately of the possibility of such a move, and that Alpine had sold a large plot of ground to the Southern Pacific to place the shops and yards on the eastern outskirts of that city and that surveying had been under progress for many months laying out the plans for the construction. In the story appearing in the El Paso paper it stated that the railroad officials had made no confirmation concerning the correctness of the story.

Railroad officials in Sanderson last week stated that they had heard of the proposed move — in 1902; and that all the latest talk was "sandhouse gossip".

Your editor last week wrote a letter to A. T. Mercer, president of the Southern Pacific Railroads.

A telegram received Wednesday from E. A. Craft, executive vice-president T & N O, Houston, stated:

Because of profound effect of diesel locomotives on train operations also substantial improvements in roadway resulting from grade changes and realignments during past several years, the conditions so brought about make it desirable to bring up to date studies which have been made at various times during past 30 years to determine benefits which might be gained by establishing two operating subdivisions instead of present three on line between Del Rio and El Paso. Obviously if this ever done it would result in locating new subdivision terminal somewhere between Sanderson and Valentine with discontinuance present subdivision operating activities at those two places. Options taken on property near Alpine involve only nominal outlay and are for protective purposes only pending completion surveys and estimates for comparison of benefits with many other projects of all kinds under consideration at various locations on SP system. It can be said positively at this time that no decisions have been made regarding abandonment of present subdivision terminal at Sanderson and there is no basis to support any rumors as to when this project may be undertaken. Our present interest is only in developing up to date facts and figures for new study of what actually is an old problem and which may remain a problem for considerable time to come. Signed E. A. Craft.

enclosing a clipping of the story as it appeared and asked for a direct statement concerning the feasibility and plausibility of such a move and the correctness of the story as it appeared. There has been no answer come to this office from Mr. Mercer as yet, but a definite answer is expected in the very near future. Any confirmation or denial on his part will be published in the next following issue of the Times.

VOLUME XLIII

LISTEN TO LUKE

Since this column's source has been "restricted to quarters" for so long there may have been a great many interesting topics for discussion that have been allowed to pass unnoticed. From our bedroom, however, we have heard the sound of saw and hammer and have seen the progress, step by step, as the addition has been added to the James Word Service Station.

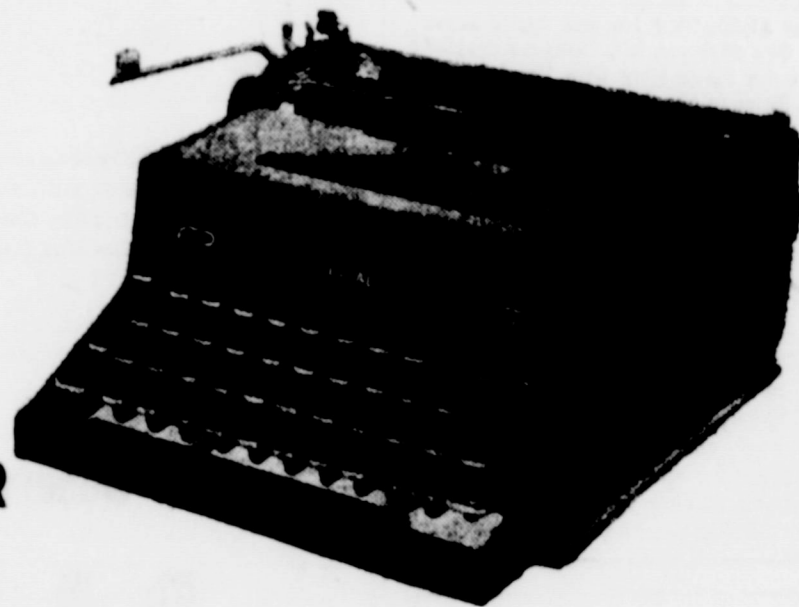

We note this to say that construction in Sanderson is not at a standstill, notwithstanding the unorthodox manner of publicity that was put out by a neighboring town in recent weeks. The plan referred to has, in the past few months, undergone many setbacks because of the cheap, narrow, unqualified publicity that has been put out by someone who certainly isn't qualified to represent town with so many potential assets. There are some newspapers in the country who are glad to grab any sort of "sensational" story, without caring whether it is any semblance of authenticity, that it will attract attention. The above reference is made to recent "story" about the moving of the railroad terminal from Sanderson to Alpine and going away from the terminal at Valentine.

The head was most misleading, for readers would notice that after the head was a question mark, nowhere did the writer of this propaganda state anything for a fact, he merely suggested that all was possible. Since he had no authority for the assertion, as a fact, he only presumed that his idea was, at least, possible. There is no date line nor by-line to the newspaper in the clear as the origin of the publicity stunt. Sanderson will continue in the same pattern as before with every day doing all in their power to make this a better town. This newspaper has not and will not use any of the undermining tactics as were used in this profitable nature. The passenger and freight terminal is still in Sanderson and far as this writer knows — and far as the railroad officials have been able to advise us — it will remain here for some time to come. If you are planning any building don't let such publicity stunts stop you at least for the present. We feel sure that the railroad officials will know of any anticipated move before the Alpine Chamber of Commerce ever gets the word.

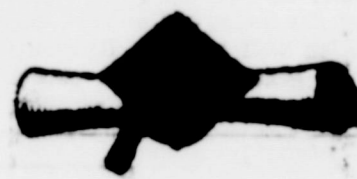

Speaking of improvements, have you seen the beautiful concrete and steel construction placed on the lot west of the postoffice? When we heard of the new construction there we were anxious to see it, so last Monday when we were driven down to get a much-needed haircut, we were given an opportunity to see what had been built there to end cars from going over the top of the street to make a turn. One of our many readers, in fact both of them, ask us why we were always pointing out the unsightly places. "Why can't you have more to say about the beauties around town?" they asked. Well, there is very little to say for my "agin it" stand except that the beauties speak for themselves while the unsightly places detract so much from the otherwise beautiful places. If a man fixes up his own property to make it more appealing and to add its value he is merely doing his duty as a citizen.

My theory of civic enterprise is correct the unsightly places that get the public face to face, rather than extoll the beauty of the places which need no comment. This time of year, when all the beauties of nature abound on every hand, particular pride should manifest in the work of every citizen to make this a more appealing town. Tourists see the beauties in us before they have time to see the better side. For some reason it is so easy to see all the things in our fellow-man with stopping to credit him with good qualities. When this color strikes out at the ugly, unwholesome, unkept condition of town it is done with a civic hope, hoping that it will cause someone to try harder to make Sanderson a better town.

Eight camp periods of one week each will be held June 11 through August 5. All of the periods will be for Brownies and Intermediates with the exception of the June 25-July 1 period, which is for senior scouts.

The camp is located in Fern Canyon near Alpine. Mrs. L. A. Teplick of Alpine is to serve as camp chairman and Mrs. J. J. Black of Midland is camp director.

Any active Girl Scout is eligible to attend the camp for as long as two weeks. Preference will be given in order of applications received, with the first consideration going to the girls of the Permian Basin Area. No place will be reserved until complete application including the enrollment fee of $5, is received in the Girl Scout Area Office at 117 W. Second St., Pecos.

Each girl is required to have a health examination prior to admittance to the camp.

Forty registrations were reported from Girl Scouts and Brownies in the area at the regular Permian Basin Council meeting held Sunday afternoon in Pecos at the Community Center.

Movement, Feeding Habits of Deer Found By Trappers

Austin, April 13 — Some popular theories about movement and feeding habits of deer have been challenged in findings by Game, Fish and Oyster Commission trapping crews.

For example, the old deer hunters' observations that deer feed during certain positions of the moon were not borne out by the studies, according to Director of Wildlife Restoration, if weather conditions were to their liking, the deer fed regardless of the moon.

The trappers reported that mule deer moved around or fed very little during short periods of wet, cold winds, high winds and during rain or snow storms. It appeared that the deer congregated in arroyos, headers or on the lee side of hills and remained there until the weather changed. Low temperatures alone did not seem to keep them from feeding. If the wind blew hot or cold for several hours and slacked up for only a short period, the deer became very active.

In the mule deer trapping routine, it was learned that deer were attracted to the traps in several types of terrain. When inclement weather prevailed, traps located near the foot hills were visited more often than those in the valleys. The deer did not object to traps out in the open but seemed to prefer those near trees. A trap near a public road was used but very little and never regularly.

Traps near watering places did not seem to have an advantage. After rains and during freezing weather the traps up near the foot hills gained in popularity and several of the traps near water were abandoned by deer after one deer was taken.

HOW DOES IT FEEL to be robbed of $1,500,000? No one knows better than Thomas B. Lloyd, Boston cashier. Dan Seymour, left, "We, the People" host (NBC and NBC-TV Fridays), gets the inside story from Lloyd for his Gulf Oil audience of how masked bandits made him the victim of the biggest cash robbery of all time.

trapping procedure. In one experiment, crews found that the deer were not attracted to the traps by mistletoe and apples. But kangaroo rats and rabbits responded quickly to the fruit diet. The curious types caused considerable annoyance. One set of traps netted a cow, two calves and several raccoons, as well as deer. Raccoons drew a general nuisance rating because four traps in one set were thrown by the pesky night prowlers. Other undesirable animals attracted by cottonseed cake bait included peccary, turkey, hogs, pack rats and even ants. As winter progressed and native food declined, the disturbance in traps became serious. On occasions, one-third to one-half of all traps set were thrown by raccoons alone. Collared peccary or javelinas became a serious pest and at times no less than one-fourth of all the traps set were thrown by these animals.

The portable traps used to catch deer for transplanting are made of aluminum with plywood doors at each end of the single compartment which slide up and down in channels like windows. When the deer step on a buried box-like device in the center of the enclosure, a spring is released pulling wires that drop the sliding doors.

All deer are tagged in the ear with a metal numbered tag. The tag bears a notation that hunters bagging the game should notify the Game Commission, Trappers cut off the bucks' horns for the dual purpose of preventing them from injuring themselves or other deer while in transit and also to spare them from becoming a target of hunters immediately after release. By the time the buck gets on legal hunting ground with a new set of antlers, the scientists will be ready to record how far he traveled from the original release place, how long he lived, and other data vital to planned wildlife management.

CON. KEN REGAN GETS BEDS FOR VETS IN HOSPITAL

Seventy beds will be reserved for veterans at the William Beaumont General Hospital in El Paso, according to word received this week from Congressman Ken Regan.

"While this is not as many as I urged the army authorities to set aside," the 16th District Representative wrote, "it will, I hope, care for the needs that are most urgent and I assure you that I will not relax my efforts to have a veterans' hospital constructed on the Ysleta site that has been acquired for that purpose."

Congressman Regan continued in his letter to the Times to state that he had had many interviews with the medical director of the Veterans' Administration and also with medical authorities of the army in pressing the cause for the veterans of this district.

Gabby Enjoys Going to The Dentist

One of my molars was giving me a bad time Tuesday afternoon, so I slipped over to Doc Jones, hoping to catch him free. When I arrived, Gabby Jackson was sitting there reading a magazine. I said hello to Gabby and he nodded.

Doc comes out and says I'm next. "Wait a minute," I says. (My tooth seemed to have stopped aching.) "How about Gabby—doesn't he have an appointment?" Doc smiles and says, "Gabby? Why, he's got the finest teeth in the county. He just comes up here and reads the magazines whenever he's in town!"

As Doc went to work he told me that he's glad to have Gabby come up and read magazines... they might not all be fresh off the newsstand, but if Gabby—or anyone wants to while away some time who is he to stand in their way? From where I sit, this "live and let live" spirit helps make America what it is. If I prefer a friendly glass of beer with my supper and you prefer milk—who's to say one's right and the other wrong?

TUBELESS TIRE CROSS-SECTION

The construction of the new puncture-sealing tubeless tire is shown in this cross-section. The special concentric ridges molded on the beads seal the tire against the rim and prevent air from getting out around the edges while rubber washers inside and outside the valve keep the air from escaping that way. The sealant on the inner side of the tread area, a thick, gummy rubber, gives the tire its puncture-sealing qualities. The B. F. Goodrich Company has announced that the tire is now available here for the first time.
