LISTEN TO LUKE

There has been extensive talk this week in Sanderson about the lack of a doctor here and serious thought by many citizens has been given to the consequences of being 64 miles from the nearest doctor in case of a common sickness, and certainly the emergency type of illnesses and accidents.

We have heard from reliable sources that there is a very good opportunity for the advent of a competent doctor to this community in a very short time. This news will be greeted with thanksgiving by all those who have been asking of others: "When are you going to get a doctor?"

Much time, money and effort has been spent by no few number of people in obtaining all the facts they could on possible prospects, and then following them up on trips to Texas cities, telephone calls, and repeated telephone calls.

And already the talk is spreading that since we have the possibility of a doctor coming here, we can forget about the hospital.

We had a doctor leave Sanderson last week because he had spent 7 solid years in Sanderson caring care of all the people of the area. Had he had the facilities of a hospital, it might have lengthened his stay here by cutting down on his responsibilities and work.

Sure, you can say he asked for the job here and was reimbursed financially for his knowledge, ability and experience. And you would be absolutely right. But when the time comes for a member of your family to need the services of a physician or surgeon, then where is the compassion. Is he then a person who is making so much money per year, or is he a person who holds possibly the key to saving a life, and put a monetary valuation that convenience if you will.

Whether or not we need and can afford a hospital will be worked out in the future. Whether or not it is advantageous to a community to have a hospital is undenied. Whether or not we can afford it is undecided; but can we afford to have a hospital.

You know there is a little black dog that we are having to finance the way of buying her food and the periodical remedies for worms, and that are necessary in keeping the account dog healthy and happy. That dog is overhead, any way you look at it, strictly overhead. It yields, so far just "dogs," are worthless as she is, or more-so, because they are also a liability, financially and no one usually, is big a darn fool about a "dog" I am and will not take them off my hands.

But I find that the satisfaction of having that dog around is worth the financial expenditures I make for her, because when there is no other friend to turn to and no other door open to me for the relief of my troubles, I can always go into the dog house and receive comforting and relieving attention of the ever-affectionate and compassionate friend: the dog. And I know that I can pour out my troubles to hearing ears.

J. I. McIntire of Odessa received a fractured skull and lacerations on the face and body in a car accident about 29 miles north of Sanderson Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntire and children had been visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Ivy and the two men went to a conference of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. construction employees in Ft. School Annuals To Be Issued Saturday

The 1953 "El Aguila", school annual, has arrived and will be handed out Saturday, August 8, at the high school building.

Students should bring their receipts for payment in full or deposit with them and if they made a deposit, they should bring the balance due, so that the least possible confusion will result in handing out the annuals and the balance of the afternoon can be used in looking over the book and swapping autographs.

"This year's annual," said Rodney Cathey, annual supervisor, "has been an experiment to see how the students like a fall-delivery book. By making the annual as was done this year, the annual staff was able to include many of the school events that could not otherwise have been included. New ideas have been put into this year's annual and the staff believes that it is one of the best and most complete annuals ever to be issued to Sanderson school students."

Distribution of the annuals will begin promptly at 1 p. m. and all students are urged to be on hand to receive their books. Students who are out of town or unable to come to the school will be advised of a later date when their books will be available.

RANCH CLUB HAS PICNIC AT AUBREY HARRELL RANCH

The Ranch Home Demonstration Club members had their annual picnic Tuesday evening at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Harrell. Husbands and families of members were invited guests and twenty-five were present.

Picnic lunches were taken by the members and spread on tables in the back yard with conversation furnishing the diversion until a late hour.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Satterwhite and children left Saturday on their vacation trip.

financed by the Pecos County precinct commissioner, F. B. Pyle.

Work is expected to be completed by the middle of September on the reconstruction job that will extend from US 285 to near Herman Couch's gate.

This is the first project on this branch of the road and it is expected and hoped that Terrell County will be allocated funds for a continuation of the surfacing of this highway sometime in the near future, linking Sanderson with a paved inlet from the northeast, which is lacking at this time.

Such a paved road would greatly benefit ranchers who are living between Sanderson and Sheffield as well as make a convenient route to and from that section of the state for travelers, and also putting San Angelo as the closest city accessible over paved roads.

The Dryden-Sheffield FM1217, an alternate route toward the northeast provides a route that will soon be paved for traffic to use in travelling a southeasterly or northwesterly direction. Only 20 miles is unpaved or committed for resurfacing and it is expected that funds will be made available soon to finish all or a greater portion of this road.

With the completion of these two paved routes to points on US 90, the towns along this border scenic route are expected to benefit greatly by tourist trade which will probably also seek a shorter and more scenic route in traveling along the border of Texas or for those who are interested in seeing the many points of interest to be found on US 90.

PMA Election Date Set For August 17

Monday, August 17, has been set for the PMA rancher committee election for Terrell County. It was announced this week by Joe Kerr, Jr., chairman of the committee.

Polling place will be at the PMA offices in the Terrell County courthouse and voting places will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

All ranch-owners, operators or leaseholders who are participating in or carrying out practices in accordance with programs administered by the county PMA committee are eligible to vote in PMA committee elections.

Voting will be for a county committee of three and two delegates to the county committee. A list of eligible voters will be available at the voting place, and ranchers who come in to vote will be checked off as they cast their ballot.

Names listed on the ballots for the various committee posts are: chairman, Joe Kerr, Jr.; vice chairman, N. D. Blackstone, Herbert Brown; Regular member, Lee Dudley, Clarence Jessup; first alternate, A. A. Shelton, Austin Nance; second alternate, W. A. Banner, Jerry Hayes.

To date there have been 32 cars of feed received by the local PMA for distribution to the ranchers. Of the 32 cars, 6 were corn; 8 were cotton seed meal pellets; 17 meal and 1 oats. There have been 172 applications filed for feed and of this number, some have been re-orders and increased orders, according to Miss Rosannah Green, local PMA administrator.

Applications are now being received for a car of wheat, according to Miss Green. She stated that she had received word that the 1953 mixed feed program is out and that holders of the certificates may redeem them if they can make a deal with the mills for delivery. The cancellation of the program was necessary because the railroads refused to haul the feed under that program at half-price, she said.

Mrs. B. F. Dawson returned home Tuesday night from Sabinal where she had spent several days with her mother, Mrs. Mary J. Wolff, who is in a rest home in that city.

Jim Bob Altizer 2nd High Money Winner in Rodeos

Word was received here last week that Jim Bob Altizer, Del Rio and Terrell County, was second high-money winner in the nation, being only $50 behind the top man and fast gaining in current shows over the nation.

In the Cheyenne Frontier Days Show, Altizer was calf roping champion and participated in rodeos at Ogden, Utah, and Salt Lake City, Utah, at the same time, by flying to and from the cities. He won first day money and second average at the Salt Lake City rodeo and won second day money in the Ogden event, all of which brought his total earnings to $6,000 since he left this area for the rodeo circuit this summer.

Also included in his prizes at these rodeos were a saddle, a $500 belt buckle, $75 boots, $75 hat and some jeans.

Altizer, 21-year-old roper, is gunning for national recognition this year after gaining a matched victory over Toots Mansfield in Fort Stockton recently and winning top honors at the Cheyenne show. He wrote relatives that much of his success was due to the ability of his horses and that he had a lot of luck with the calves which he had drawn in recent shows.

Cathey Resigns As Principal Here To Accept Winters Post

Rodney D. Cathey, high school principal here for the past two years, this week announced his resignation to the local school board. He stated that he had accepted a position as principal of the Winters High School, a Class A school slated for AA next year, and felt the promotion offered him warranted the move.

Cathey's job in Winters will be administrative only, with no class room subjects to teach.

Mr. Cathey, his wife and two children plan to leave about August 15 for their new home in Winters.

Mr. Cathey expressed regret at leaving Sanderson because of the very satisfactory relations he had with the school board, patrons, and students in Sanderson, but stated that the Winters position was an elevation in his profession as well as his salary and considered it to be the best interests of himself and his family to make the change. He taught social science in the local high school and was advisor to the student staff for "El Aguila", the school annual.

A team from Sanderson also won second place in a team-matched event.

Attending the show from Sanderson were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brotherton, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Powers, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Riggs and Charles Baker.

Plans are being made for a return invitation to a roping to be staged here on Sunday, August 16. Barbecue will be served following the rodeo events.

U. S. 90 Association To Meet Sunday Afternoon in Alpine

Directors and interested members of the Border Trails Division of the US 90 Association are invited to attend a meeting of that group in Alpine Sunday afternoon in the auditorium of the Fine Arts building at 1:30 p. m.

"Welcome the Visitor" placards, which outline a suggested procedure to follow in advising tourists on the scenic and historic places of interest along the route, will be discussed and handed out to members to take back to their respective towns for distribution to employees of cafes, motels, hotels, service stations, and other businesses most frequented by tourists.

The placards show a distinct and accurate map of US 90 from Del Rio to Van Horn, with its tributary highways, the points of interest along the highway as well as places of interest along the route, such as the scenic loop north of Alpine and Marfa which offers to the tourists: old Fort Davis, McDonald Observatory, Mt. Livermore, freak rock formations and oddities; also indicated is the highway to Shafter, ghost mining town, Presidio and its Mexican neighbor town of Ojinaga where the tourist can see cockfights and find plenty of curios; Marathon and Alpine are indicated as the two entrances to the Big Bend National Park and tourists are advised to enter by one route and exit the other to enjoy the different scenery; Judge Roy Bean's Jersey Lilly is shown at Langtry, with the Pecos River, Pecos Highway and Pecos Canyon; Lake Walk and Devil's River and Del Rio, as the port of entry into Ciudad Acuna, the largest port of entry along the route where bull fights every first Sunday throughout the fighting season are featured as well as plenty of interesting sights for the tourists.

Every effort will be made to interest the employers in the diligent use of every available facility to accommodate the tourists in every way possible so that the border scenic route of US 90 will be well known as a friendly route as well as an interesting one.

Sanderson is in the Midland division and the telephone bills for the next billing period will be mailed out of Fort Worth and payment will be made in the local office, as has been customary.

Bill Yeatts, district manager of Southwestern Bell, under whose supervision the local office has been placed, will have the exchanges in Alpine, Sanderson and Marathon added to his district which already includes 17 West Texas towns.

"We welcome the local exchange into the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company organization," Yeatts stated. "We are confident that telephone users here will like the service we will furnish and we are going to make sure it is good service. We are looking forward to our association with the people here and the opportunity to serve them," the district manager said.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company assumed operations of some 21 South and West Texas towns in the transfer from the Del Rio and Winter Garden Company. Yeatts said, with a total of more than 6,000 telephones.

The local teams will play a return bill in Alpine this week and will go to Fort Stockton next week for a double-header there which will be returned to Sanderson in the very near future. Local softball enthusiasts are urged to watch for announcements of local games and come out to see a good brand of softball.

The veterans' few scattered hits failed to follow any sequence of regularity which resulted in a blank score for the local team.

A NATIONAL SERVICE

In recent years thousands of our businesses, industries and organizations have devoted considerable time and thought to bringing about a better understanding of the difference between private enterprise and Socialism.

The Warner & Swasey ads use a few simple words and examples to get across vitally important comparisons between our private enterprise system and various forms of Socialism.

Teacher Shortage Still Acute, Says Association Head

Austin, July 29 - A survey just completed by the Texas State Teachers Association indicates that there will be only 2,550 new teachers available for approximately 8,000 vacant teaching jobs in Texas next September.

The 8,000 figure is an estimate based on previous records, Galyean explained. The survey showed that there were 3,508 vacant teaching jobs - almost 1,000 more than the supply of new teachers - as of June 1.

There are usually more than twice as many teaching jobs vacant on September 1 as on June 1, Galyean said, "because so many of the teachers find new jobs, outside the teaching profession, during the summer."

The survey showed that the annual turnover in teaching personnel is nearing 25 per cent. Records of the Texas Education Agency show that schools made 12,754 replacements during the 1952-1953 school year.

Answers to the survey questions were received from 944 cities and county superintendents. Practically all of the larger school districts reported, producing information from schools representing more than 88 per cent of the total professional personnel in Texas public schools.

The fifty-one senior colleges and universities were surveyed on the supply of new teachers that will be available. Forty-nine of these reported, reporting that 3,660 graduating seniors were eligible for teaching certificates.

The survey of superintendents showed that the teacher shortage is less critical in large cities that pay salaries considerably higher than the minimums required by state law.

Approximately 2,100 of the new teachers to be in demand next fall are needed to take care of an anticipated increase of 60,000 in the state's scholastic population.

By subjects, the shortage of primary teachers is the most critical with 354 schools reporting a shortage. Mathematics teachers are needed by 290 schools, science teachers by 287, English teachers by 166, physical education teachers by 156, music teachers by 150, and home economics teachers by 148.

"A great many schools will be forced to go on half-day schedules next fall," Galyean said, "because of the critical teacher shortage. Most of these half-day schedules will involve pupils in the first two grades."

McIntyre Named SP Advertising Manager

The appointment of Robert D. McIntyre as advertising manager for Southern Pacific's Lines in Texas and Louisiana, has been announced by H. H. Gray, the railroad's passenger traffic manager in Houston.

Breaking the TB Barrier

1 The "white plague" is one of history's greatest killers. Even today, TB claims a victim every 17 1/2 minutes.

2 TB is tough to fight, partly because the TB germ is protected by a hard coating.

3 Until recently only hope for TB patients was rest and lung collapse.

4 Then, in 1946, a drug was found that could break TB barrier. Now others are joining the fight.

by Science Features

No drug today is 100% effective against tuberculosis. But encouraging reports of newly-discovered drugs indicate progress against the white plague has been steady and promising. The U. S. death rate, which was 202 per 100,000 persons in 1900, dwindled to about 20 in 1951.

One reason why the dread disease has been so difficult to conquer is that the TB germ does its deadly work inside an almost impenetrable barrier—a hard protective coating that until 1946 resisted all efforts to break through it.

The first drug to challenge TB with any measure of success was the antibiotic streptomycin. Today, seven years after it was first used, it is still a major weapon in the fight, but now it has many allies.

One of these is PAS which strengthens the power while decreasing the ill effects of streptomycin when both are given together.

Another antibiotic, viomycin, has recently come on the scene, and when used with streptomycin shows promise of knocking out TB in cases where the germs have become resistant to attacks by other drugs.

The most recent dramatic discovery in the fight against TB has been isoniazid. But while it is an important new weapon, perhaps the greatest yet discovered, it is not the final answer.

Again it was found that drug teamwork might do the job where a single drug could not. Isoniazid was given with streptomycin, achieving excellent results. This prompted scientists to unite the two drugs into one chemical—streptohydrazid—which can be given in a single injection.

TB still claims over 5 million lives a year throughout the world but the laboratories are relentlessly advancing on the white plague.

Crosby County Editor Voices Views on the Irregularities of Ranchers Feed Aid Program

By ERNEST JOINER in the RALLS BANNER

"Them who has, gets."
"The drouth aid program, at least in Crosby County, has proved a bonanza to certain cattle raisers, particularly those best able to finance feeding of their own cattle Ranchers or "tax write-off business men" engaged in farming and cattle need no pauper's oath. Under the administration's program an applicant does not even have to show any hardship case whatever in order to avail himself of feed which taxpayers have furnished at terrific prices.
Let's just take the cottonseed meal situation as relates to those in Crosby County who are getting it under the aid program. The taxpayer bought the stuff from indigent farmers and it is valued at about $70 a ton. Mr. Ezra Benson's department is doling it out at $35 a ton to feed cattle and sheep. The taxpayer, then, has taxed himself to buy feed for ranchers so beef prices can be hiked so the taxpayer can pay double what he would otherwise pay for meat for his table.
Only the folks who desperately need the cottonseed meal are not getting it. J. S. Bridwell of Wichita County, who owns about as many oil wells as he does cattle, received 420 sacks of cottonseed meal for his cattle. A Lubbock doctor who yields over a $100,000-a-year knife over some loyal patients, received 222 sacks of meal for some 370 cattle he keeps in Crosby County, and wouldn't it be nice if he would raise his own cock-eyed feed? In the fall we'll be paying support prices for his cotton that he should have planted to feed his 370 cows which he keeps as a sideline to his physician's practice. One fur-lined gobboon will be awarded to the person who first discovers that the doctor looks with favor upon government subsidization of the cost of operations for patients unable to pay for them.
In all 121 applications for emergency feed have been processed by the Crosby County drouth aid committee. Not one application has been denied the owners of 13,022 cattle now registered in the county. This does not include those cattle driven across the line into Dickens County each January 1 to escape taxes.
Fully half of the aid given here has gone into the hands of wealthy men fully capable of financing the feeding of their own livestock. Certainly these wealthy men are not to be blamed for getting a lion's share of one of the biggest give-away programs to come out of the Eisenhower administration. The writer has personally examined the instructions contained in letters and telegrams to PMA administrator James E. Winter of Crosby County and in none of them is there any restrictions as to whom shall receive aid. There is a hint contained in a telegram signed by J. Earl Cocke denying that a pauper's oath is necessary for aid. It says in effect that it is presumed that those financially able to buy feed will not seek drouth aid feed.
Small wonder, indeed, that the county aid committee does not seek to ascertain the need before issuing a feed supply. In the absence of any program of any basis for allotment; in the absence of a semblance of sensible administrative procedure from Washington, the committee has no alternative but to ladle out costly feed to the deserving and undeserving alike.
Here is tangible evidence that the present administration plans to out-spend the previous administration, and that the preservation of foundation herds is not the only consideration in heaping additional coals of taxation upon the heads of hapless taxpayers who have spent some 20 years pulling farmers ranchers and big business out of the hole through tax money.
It is argued with some intelligence that to discriminate between needy and wealthy ranchers is unfair; that the wealthy man stands to lose a proportionate amount on his beef, and should not do so. However, the same discrimination exists in income tax returns—the wealthy man is penalized because he can best afford it. If the aid program is designed to dump billions of dollars worth of feed helter-skelter over the land in an unprecedented burst of benevolence, that is one thing. If the aid program was instituted at great cost as a means of saving the hides of those unable to weather the high feed cost as compared with low beef prices, that is another, and quite admirable thing.

The writer, for one, is tired of forced participation in a long series of give-away programs financed with his personal tax money, and even more tired of his hard-earned money going into the pockets of wealthy men who use farms and ranches as sidelines and who are capable of buying a thousand harassed taxpayers lock, stock and barrel without batting an eye. And a few undesignated men are maintaining sidelines merely as a place to write off tax money they make from operation of their legitimate businesses. He's getting tired of all these programs that make the rich richer and leaves the poor man flat. He's getting tired of paying out money for programs that are nothing but gigantic hoaxes, where he finances beef in order to enjoy higher prices for it over the counter.
I for one, don't care if a doctor ever makes any money on one of his broken down heifers or not. All I know is that the man is fully capable of standing on his own feet, and if I were a member of that committee he would furnish a financial statement before he got a sack of meal. And if his financial statement showed him able to support his own cows he would be summarily thrown out on his august eyebrows. Guys like me have been subsidizing guys like him for years, and the pinch is getting bad. For a character who frowns so hard on government in his medical business, he's fairly quick in grabbing every cock-eyed dollar some stupid administration offers him. He's got about as much business in the cow business as I've got operating on anaesthetized bodies.
Crosby County, and no other county we've heard about has any limit in the over-all amount of government-owned grain and concentrates that can be distributed to this great class of under-privileged sideliners. Just remember that the government is me and you and the guy across the street. That feed belongs to us. And at a time like this, with the cost of living at a new all-time high, a bungling Ezra Benson and company is digging into our personal reserves to serve no worthy purpose other than further increasing the cost of food.

METHODIST MEN CHANGE MEETING DATE

At the regular monthly meeting of the Methodist Men of the Sanderson Methodist Church Monday morning in Fellowship Hall, it was decided to change the regular meeting date to the first Wednesday of each month. Instead of the morning breakfast meeting, as has been the practice, the future meetings will be at 7:30 in the evenings.
It is planned to have an inspirational and devotional program at each meeting, according to Marion Batson, president of the group. All the men of the church are urged to attend these meetings. Batson said.

CAMERAMAN'S HELPERS? — Three tiny patients at the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children offer plenty of good-natured advice to cameraman Bob Alcott shooting a motion picture at the hospital in Dallas. Looking through the viewfinder of the Jamieson Film Company employe's camera is six-year-old Donald Ray Matthews of Lamesa. Chipping in with grins and comments are "Assistant Directors" (left) Linda Kay Morehead, five, of Italy, Texas, and four-year-old Deborah Jester of Dallas. These children and other patients at the Scottish Rite Hospital supported by generous Texans participated in a newly-completed film showing life at the big institution. Deborah is a cerebral palsy victim. The other children are recovering from polio.
