DEEP CREEK DOTS.

August 6.—The Baptist protracted meeting at the Spring Gap school house was opened last Friday by Elder Carter, of Cottonwood. Saturday night and Sunday Rev. Covington, of Clyde, was assisting and Monday Rev. Mayo, of Baird, arrived to help in the glorious work in the vineyard of the Lord. Profound interest is manifested and daily increasing.

Married.—Last Sunday at the residence of the bride's parents, John E. Tatum and Miss May Lou Stallings, Elder Carter officiating. No cards. The dry and extremely hot spell of weather continues. More and more tanks are going dry and the few keeping a scant supply of water are looked up against the free and unlimited use of the neighbors. Several succeeded in renting pastures with stock water, while others have to drive their stock every day for several miles. The present season has shown it again that most of our tanks are not deep and not large enough for an emergency or even for those shorter or longer dry spells which are a regular feature of this Western country. Everybody is building a new tank or deepening and enlarging the old one.

Mrs. W. K. Davis is walling up and cementing his cistern. The job is let to my friend Geo. Smartt, who handles the basajo with the same dexterity and skill as the roughest rock in Sleepy Hollow. The Work he has done already in this neighborhood in the line of chimney and cistern building is a high recommendation for his ability, but between you and me friend George there is one thing you have not yet the right touch with and that is—the sweet girls.

John Wright's well on his new place in the mountains is over 40 feet deep already and the signs for water are good.

Prof. Abe Martin was in a bad run away last Sunday. He had just entered his cart and opened the umbrella when the little animal—a so-called gentle family horse and really a pretty piece of horse flesh—was frightened and dashed away in a mad run. Mr. M. was jerked from the seat to the lower part of the cart with his legs dangling over the dash board. As the horse was giving a lively exhibition in high and easy kicking it was a wonder that Mr. M.'s legs were only considerably bruised and not broken and mashed to jelly. Finally the harness broke and the cart was turned over and its occupant freed from his dangerous position. When the horse came to a stand still on a fence the cart and harness were badly wrecked. We are glad to learn that Grandma Hadley is this week in better health. The esteemed lady wore herself out in nursing her sick children and grand children last winter, and since that time her health is sadly impaired. As Rev. Carr of Linestone county returned to his home last Saturday, but not before he had rented for the next season the old Mitchell place, belonging to Mr. Dawkins and tenanted by Mr. Sikke Sr.

The drought, the rough roads and the usual carelessness of the owners contribute to fill and keep filled the repairing shops of our blacksmith with all kind of broken down vehicles, and Mr. Brantley's genial face is lightened up by the most winning and grinting smile. H. B.

The Democratic state convention will be held at Ft. Worth Aug. 18.

Hon. H. A. Tillett of Abilene was nominated for the State Senate at Cleco on the 4th.

The populist state convention is in session at Galveston. The attendance is not as large as was expected.

The merchants have made arrangements to sprinkle Market Street. The sprinkler went to work Friday.

W. L. Gilliland was up from the Bayon yesterday.

A. L. Biggerstaff of Putnam was in town Thursday.

BASE BALL NOTES.

That was a great game of ball between the merchants and professional men last Friday. A large and enthusiastic crowd witnessed the game and it was interesting throughout and highly enjoyed by the spectators who came for pleasure and were not disappointed.

There were some fine plays mixed up with the many blunders on both sides. Doc Phillips and "Doc" Ramsey both got a tumble at the home plate that laid them horse do combat for the rest of the game. Ramsey was hurt pretty bad and is still going on crutches. Phillips repaired the damages by buying a new pair of pants and nether garments.

St. John played like a professional as did county Clerk Dunson. Otis Bowler is an old time ball player and had the advantage of most of the boys. F. S. Bell's playing was a dead give away. He could not pick up the ball off the ground after it stopped without great difficulty and a useless expenditure of energy. Dr. Wilson showed that he knew how to play ball, but was not so supple as in yore olden time when he could knock a ball farther and run faster than any one on the diamond.

Clarence Boyles and Tom Powell were old time players. It was a sight to see Julius Norton catch a "hot ball" and a greater sight to see him run. He and Phillips were short stops (in stature we mean). If Phillips had not bursted his pants he certainly would have smashed the record as a racer.

Dr. Powell and Sortar both had a way of slashing the air after the ball had passed them. The spectators enjoyed this but we don't think the M. Ds. mentioned did because they both looked powerful serious all the time were at the bat.

It was a great game and all hope to see it repeated when it is hoped the Lawyers and Doctors will have better luck.

IN MEMORIAM.

The impalpable footstep of death has crossed the threshold of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lane, and robbed the inmates of one of its sweetest lives. Yes, in that calm silent and unbroken rest lies the form of little Marie, awaiting the arrival of her parents to give them once more a look upon that face which has smiled upon earth its last time, and which this day will be lowered into the silent grave, the last resting place for the things of clay.

What anguish fills the souls of the parents, none, but those who have bowed beneath the same crushing blow, can understand. But blessed assurance! the frail bud that has drooped and died here, will bloom with the immortal flowers that grow in the Paradise of God.

A hope in this shall never die. It is the resurrection and the life—He that believeth in me shall never die. A hope in that blessed Gospel softens death, and sheds the light of immortality on the gloom of the grave. Above the noise of the trumpet of pain and anguish, may there be heard the music of the mighty throng which had come out of great tribulation, and the darkest days bring out the stars of the promise in the richest glow of a dawning.

"Shall we meet again?" By the death devoted Greek, the same question was answered. "I have asked that question of the hills which look eternal of the clear streams that flow forever of the stars, among whose fields of azure my raised spirits have walked in glory. All are dumb. But as I gaze upon thy face, I feel that there is something in love that mantles through its beauty that cannot wholly perish. WE SHALL MEET AGAIN."

Farewell, dear little Marie! "May the night doves fall gently upon thy silent resting place. May the flowers that lie upon thy infant grave be the sacred emblems of thy immortal life, and may the light of the stars form a bright aureole around thy lowly dead form." A. PARSON. Baird, Tex. Aug. 6th, 1896.

DIED.

Little Marie, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lane, died very suddenly Tuesday morning with cholera infantum. The little child was taken sick about 9 o'clock Monday night and physicians were summoned at once, but the little spirit in the space of a few short hours took its flight to the eternal world. Mr. and Mrs. Lane were both absent, they with Capt. Trent, grandfather of the little child, had gone on an excursion to Galveston. They were summoned by telegram and returned on the train Wednesday evening. What a sad home coming for them! The bright little child they left so full of life only a few short days before they found on their hurried return cold in death. The remains were interred in the Baird cemetery Wednesday evening. THE STAR extends sympathy to the bereaved parents and relatives in their hour of affliction.

An Awful Execution.

Waco, Tex., Aug. 4.—The city was treated to another execution yesterday by the shooting of a convicted murderer named J. T. Gibbons, by another name, named Percy Cook. The trouble arose over the fact that the husband of the woman named Gibbons had attended to his wife. He and his wife attended a camp-meeting Sunday night.

The preacher called at Percy's house at 10 o'clock yesterday morning and found some one there. Percy says that he thought he was in a stable, and, seeing the preacher's key in the door, he went in. He found the preacher at the head of the bed, and he saw the preacher's key in the door. He saw the preacher's key in the door. He saw the preacher's key in the door.

After the first shot the preacher started from the front door and reached the gallery before he fell, and there died in a few minutes. The woman in the case, when her husband came to the gall, said the only cause he had for suspicion was that the doors were closed.

She also says that she told the preacher to go before Percy came, and warned him that Percy might come at any moment, but the preacher refused to do so. He was killed at night with Percy. He failed to make it at night with Percy when he arrived at the house, and he was killed. He is a corpse and Percy is in jail, pending an examination.

The affair has occasioned considerable excitement and a number of the women, in most cases, being with the preacher and the woman named Gibbons, the preacher, has long enjoyed prominence among the negroes of the town, and was highly respected. He was a well-known man and favorably known to colored circles.

RAILROAD WRECK.

An Express Train Runs Into an Excursion Train.

The Excursion Train was Loaded With Passengers and was Struck by the Express Train.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 31.—A railroad wreck occurred here yesterday afternoon when an express train ran into an excursion train.

The Pennsylvania train, which was a party of excursionists from 30, Philadelphia and neighboring towns, was struck by the express train.

The Reading train was the signal, but it either failed to stop or the speed of the express was too great to be checked in time. It struck the excursion train head-on and plowed through, literally cutting it in two.

It is hoped that this is an exaggeration, but the number is undoubtedly more than fifty.

Girls, do you realize that leaf year is half gone, with no remarkable increase in the number of weddings. So as to women, they are not so virtuous, but can be done for her.

It looks like a waste of good hard cash to spend $200,000 on a manseum, yet that is what he gets of the late Perry Pratt are the late Perry Pratt. The marble workers will be the real benefit, and looking at the vast expenditure in this light, of course it is all right.

The bicycle trains on the New York roads are a huge success. Every one of them is crowded and the wheeling folk are delighted with this means of transport in company with their beloved machines. It is planned now to buy many large eastern cities to run bicycle trains on the regular routes.

Yonkers, N. Y., has a little girl 11 years old who seems to have absolutely no moral sense. She is already an accomplished adept at all her games. Moreover she exhibits as much versatility and originality in her methods as if she had been trained and drilled in thievery. She has been repeatedly arrested but seems to always hypnotize the police justices by her charmingly childish manners, as she is always allowed to go free.

Mrs. Fleming, the woman recently acquitted of poisoning her mother in New York, announces that she is going to marry Ferdinand Wilkes, the man who gained such unpleasant notoriety during the trial. It is the publicity that he is the father of the child, and that while the "mistake" which he made in getting her pregnant might have cost her dear, that nevertheless she is "port of good" him.

Concerning the recent shooting of Private Weaver by Port Moresby is the order of the officer of the guard to prevent him in his insanity from killing more of his men. It is a pity that no comment has been created in army circles over what is claimed to be now the proven inefficiency of the new rifle. Although Weaver received what was a mortal wound, and which, from this view, should have stopped him short, he nevertheless succeeded in firing three more shots at the other soldiers before succumbing. This fact is considered as very disconcerting to those who have heretofore praised the new weapon unwisely.

A constable in Hackensack, N. J., has finally succeeded in serving a warrant on a man who has been evading him for a year. The person against whom the warrant was issued has exhibited such astounding ingenuity in avoiding arrest that all the constables most carefully planned schemes have failed. The man did not actually flee, but he evaded from his customary surroundings, but he simply showed wonderful cleverness in leaving tracks and signs which pointed the latter showed little, or none, while watching his intended victim. It would seem an excellent plan, after the man has served out his time, to put a man on the detective force, where his talents might produce extraordinary results.

It is stated that Count von Bredin, the new minister of the German empire, is a blind fool of the second order. While he was serving as secretary of the state, he was known for his majestic composure, over which his majesty was a "prompter," being thoroughly familiar with all the ins and outs of imperial politics, and recently being the emperor out of difficulties by quietly giving him the "tip" as to what he should say.
