

City Building Permits Double 1961 Figures

Building permits issued by the city of Friona during the first three and one-half months represent a total of $262,700 in construction this year.

The estimated cost of buildings and additions or alterations within the city limits more than doubled the construction represented by the $113,150 in permits issued prior to April 16 in 1961.

Only three permits were issued in January for a total of $1,280 but business picked up in February when a total of $46,300 in permits, March was the biggest month with a total of permits issued for $143,300 estimated cost of construction of additions and alterations. April is off to a good start with $60,300 issued during the first 15 days.

In comparison, permits were issued in 1961 for construction estimated at $56,350 in January, $9,000 in February, $14,300 in March and $13,300 in the first half of April.

A breakdown of permits issued this year shows that all permits issued during January and February were for residential purposes, including the construction of three new homes. One permit was issued for the construction of a $10,000 apartment house but work has not yet begun on the project.

During March, permits were issued for the construction of $60,000 addition to the Sixth Street Church of Christ, a $5,000 dry cleaning plant, and a $15,000 drive-in restaurant. New brick facing was applied to Rushing Insurance Office.

During the first half of April, permits have been issued for a $500 hospital storage shed, $15,000 field house on Chieftain Field, and a $25,000 Girl Scout Hut.

A considerable number of permits were issued for residential construction in addition to the permits mentioned above.

A total of 31 permits were issued during the period.

It strikes me as a little strange when citizens will call the law officers and ask them if they may have permission to break the law.

In reality, that is exactly what happened here in Friona before the eighth grade banquet Saturday, according to the city police.

A few parents were reported as having called the police and asked if it would be all right if their son drove the car to the banquet even though the boy did not have a driver's license. It seems that a rumor had been circulated that such illegal operation of an automobile would be overlooked for the event.

Ben Moorman, police chief, said that he could not give any body permission to drive a car without a license. But several boys did manage to gain control of a car.

Consequently, one youngster was ticketed for excessive speed and driving without a driver's license and another flipped a new car between Friona and Bovina before the night was over.

Everyone of the young drivers might have been as good a driver as any person in this town. But, the fact remains that they did not have a license and were violating the law when they drove the car out on a public road. I am not saying that I think that everyone should obey the law right down to the letter. In the first place, it wouldn't do any good and in the second place, it is almost impossible.

But, no matter how good a driver anyone is, a parent is taking a large and unnecessary risk when the unlicensed son is allowed to take the car and be away for several hours.

The whole problem stems from the pleas raised by the entire group if it becomes known that one boy will be allowed to use the car for the all-important event. Every boy wants to feel that he is allowed the same privileges as the other boys in his class. Besides, he wants to arrive at the banquet with his date in a car.

The only apparent solution to the situation is for the parents of the group to get their heads together and work out some arrangement so that all the boys will be treated equally. Admittedly, this is not in accordance with the free-enterprise system. But, why should anyone risk losing a son, having their insurance rates increased because of a traffic violation, or creating havoc in neighboring families in order to break the laws set up for their protection.

I would say that everyone is very lucky that nothing more serious occurred Saturday. wonder what will happen in the future.

According to my information, a good number of the baseball fans and parents are mixed up in their interpretation of the $5 entry fee asked for by the commission for the summer baseball program.

I have been informed that even some of the usual sponsors have declared that if the fee is not rejected, they will not sponsor a team this year. For purposes of general enlightenment, I would like to discuss the subject a little.

It appears that in the past, organizations such as the Lions Club, Chamber of Commerce, American Legion and others have been donating several hundred dollars for the purpose of paying for electricity, park upkeep, league equipment, a coordinator's salary and other

Bands Present Spring Concert

The school music department, consisting of some 329 students, will present their annual spring concert Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Under the direction of Lowell Bynum, band director, the fifth grade band will play "Scout Parade March", "Waltz Legato" and "Chromatic Jump."

The sixth grade band will play "Motion March," "Green Sleeves," "The Ivory Towers of Xanadu," and "Beginners Tango." Junior high band will present "Port 25 March,"

"Creole Lullaby," "Starlit Overture," and "Baroque Suite."

The high school choir will sing "As From The Earth A Flower Grows," "Set Down Servant," "Cherry Pink and Apple Blossom White," and "76 Trombones."

The high school band will play "Elmira March," "Two Moods Overture," "Beguine Festival," "The Bells of Saint Marys," and "Dixie."

Admission for the concert will be $1 for adults and $.50 for students.

State Candidates Appear In Friona

Candidates for state Senate and Representative offices will meet in Friona April 26 for a "Meet the Candidates" program sponsored by the Farmer County Farm Bureau.

Senate candidates Andy Rogers (D), John Zahn (R), and representative candidates W. B. "Bill" Miller (D), Bill Clayton (D), Bascomb Nelson (D), and J. Frank Ford Jr. (R), have agreed to participate in the program in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m.

Each candidate will be given two minutes to state his views on questions submitted by Farm Bureau.

Questions will deal with such subjects as states' rights, minimum wages and hours for farm laborers, state tax structure including the sales tax, Federal aid to education, teacher proficiency in relation to teacher pay, and similar topics. Similar programs have been conducted in surrounding areas but this is the first to be scheduled in Friona.

"Everyone is asked to take time to attend and hear the candidates so that they will be able to use their vote more wisely," Harry Hamilton, Farm Bureau president, said.

Cotton John from KGNC-TV will moderate the program.

Club Sponsors Easter Shoot

Friona Gun Club is sponsoring a Ham and Merchandise shoot at the trap house east of town Saturday at 1 p.m.

Guns will be available free and shells may be purchased at the range. All shooters, regardless of place of residence, will be admitted to the shoot.

The club has ordered 20 hams and a number of grocery certificates from Friona grocery stores. Winners may take a ham, certificate or cash. Entry fee will be one and two dollars.

A five man squad team shoot will be conducted by the club on April 29. Teams from Dimmitt, Larisa, Oklahoma Lane, Bovina, Fairwell and Clovis are invited.

P.T.A. Elects New Officers

Election and installation of new officers will highlight the final 1962 meeting of the Friona Parent-Teachers Association Thursday night at the high school.

Mrs. Doyle Cummings, incumbent president, asks that all members be present for the change of officers.

Absentee Ballots Now Available For Primaries

Absentee voting in the most important election of the year began this week.

Ballots for the Republican and Democratic primary are available in the County Clerk's office in Farwell. Persons who will not be in the county on May 5 may obtain and complete a ballot for the election before midnight May 1.

Registered voters of Farmer County who are presently situated at another location may write to the county clerk for an absentee ballot and return the completed form by mail. Such ballots must be post-marked by or before midnight,

May 1. All residents will be required to present a valid poll tax receipt when appearing at the polls. The receipts must be stamped Democratic or Republican, according to the primary in which the voter desires to vote.

The stamping of the poll tax receipt was begun as a means of preventing one person from voting in both Republican and Democratic primary. However, the party affiliation stamped on the receipt does not in any way prevent the voter from voting as he chooses in the general election.

Easter Signs

Young girls in clean, fresh dressed, Easter bunnies, Easter egg baskets and plum blossoms are sure evidence that Easter is near. Shown here in rapt study of the wonders of spring

Summer Baseball Program Planned

Plans for the summer baseball program will be discussed at a meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in the American Legion Building.

Main topic for discussion is the controversial $5 entry fee which the baseball commission is asking of each boy, with a maximum of $10 per family.

"The $5 will not act as a barrier to keep any boy from playing ball," Vernon Scott, baseball coordinator, said, "if any parent feels that he can't pay the fee, his boys will still be allowed to play on the team," he added.

Scott explained that the commission decided to ask the fee only as a means of financing the program. In the past, civic organizations and local businesses have been bearing the full cost of the program.

Sponsors have been buying uniforms for the team, paying the team entry fee, furnishing insurance for the players of the team during the season and usually financing a party for the team at the end of the summer.

Civic organizations have been donating hundreds of dollars to pay for lighting, park upkeep, league equipment and salary for a coordinator.

The $5 is asked in the hope that it will furnish the needed funds for upkeep of the parks, electrical needs, coordinator's salary and league equipment such as umpire's uniform, hoe, rake, shovel, and line marker. With the acceptance of the $5 fee, no collection at the game would be required and the persons receiving the most benefit from the program would be bearing a major part of the expense. In this manner, the parents would be financing the program directly instead of indirectly through the local organizations, Scott explained. The 15 teams in the three leagues are scheduled to begin practice during the first part of May and start play on May 21.

Boys who were members of a team last year and are still in that age group will remain on the same team. New boys entering a league will be divided among the teams until the maximum of 15 boys are placed on each team.

School Salutatorian, Valedictorian Named

Valedictorian and salutatorian for both high school and junior high school were announced during the past week at Friona High School.

James Perkins earned the valedictorian spot in the high school with a 95 average for the four years of high school. He was also valedictorian of his junior high class. Brenda Collier's four year average of 93.51 won the salutatorian spot for her.

Tommy Sherley and Sandra Beene were named valedictorian and salutatorian of junior high at the eighth grade banquet Saturday night. Sherley had a 95.29 average and Miss Beene boasted a 94.96.

Perkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Perkins, has announced plans to enter the School of Engineering at Texas Tech next fall with hopes of majoring in electrical engineering.

During his four years in Friona High School, Perkins compiled a long list of honors and activities participated in. He was voted most studious as a freshman and has received a scholarship award for the past three years. He is a member of the National Honor Society and vice president of the science club. He received the science award last year and was elected vice president of his class this year.

Board Awards Contract For Country Club House

Contract for the construction of the country club house was awarded to Raymond Fleming at Board of Directors meeting Tuesday night at the Friona State Bank.

The board received six bids for the project and contract went to Fleming with a low bid of $13,685. High bid was $18,440.

The structure is planned for 30 feet wide and 64 feet long with pro-shop-locker room, social room, kitchen, and two rest rooms.

Construction is scheduled to begin in the near future and completion is anticipated within 120 days, according to Andy Hurst, president.

The social room will be 30 by 36 feet. The building will be constructed so as to allow adding of a wing to the south and to the west when the need arises.

"The building is not quite as elaborate as originally planned but I think it will serve our present needs," Charles Allen, secretary, said.

The estimates for cost of constructing a clubhouse according to the original plans were approximately $27,000.

City Golf Tournament Scheduled

The first city golf tournament will begin at the Friona Country Club Friday and continue through Monday, Joe Coronada, course golf pro, announced this week.

The tournament will be 54 hole medal play with a $5 entry fee. Players must play their qualifying round Friday or Saturday. Flights will then be arranged according to qualifying scores. Three winners will be named from each flight.

Prizes will consist of either trophies or merchandise, according to the winner's choice. The size of the prize will depend upon the number in the flight.

Players from Bovina are also invited to enter the tournament, according to Coronada.

Churches Plan Easter Service

Five Friona Churches are planning a Sunrise Service Sunday morning at 5:45 in the Canyon area south of Buck Fallwell's 12 miles south of town. Signs will show the way to the service area.

The First Baptist, Methodist, Congregational, Assembly of God and Calvary Baptist churches are cooperating in the service.

The program will consist of four scenes portraying Christ. The young people of the participating churches are in charge of the program which will include a number of special songs including numbers by the Treble-Aires.

Refreshments will be served in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church following the conclusion of the service.

Baseball Team Starts Practice

Response at the baseball meeting last Friday night assured Friona's entry into the Irrigation Belt League. Some 15 local residents have begun working out in anticipation of the first game with Silverton at Reeve Field April 29 at 2:30 p.m.

Other members of the league are Plainview, Nazareth, Muleshoe, Amherst, Springlake, Umbarger and two teams from Tulsa.

The Friona enthusiasts have been working out each evening at 5:30. They will continue to practice each day at that time and will begin work out at about 1:30 Sunday.

Additional baseball players may still make the team if they wish to join. The teams are composed of non-professionals who play without pay.

Funds Needed For Exchange Student Goal

Friona's exchange student program still needs approximately $1,400 to fulfill its goal of obtaining two foreign students for the coming year. Alton Farr, superintendent, reported this week.

"Containers will be placed in several local businesses to receive any donations which residents may wish to make toward the program," Farr stated.

The fund now stands at $585. The present balance was raised by the high school students' volleyball tournament recently.

Other projects are being planned as a means of raising a part of the needed funds but, although no direct solicitation is planned, any contribution will be accepted.

High school students are preparing posters to place in strategic locations around town. Containers will be placed in the Friona State Bank, Bi-Wise Drug, Foster's, Piggly Wiggly and others, according to Farr.

WHY TEACH

JOHN H. FISCHER, dean and president-elect, Teachers College, Columbia University; chairman, Educational Policies Commission of the NEA and the American Association of School Administrators.)

Let's face it, Teaching is frustrating, nerve-racking, demanding, tiring work. Do what he may, the teacher remains the butt of poor jokes, the object of endless criticism, and the scapegoat for many of society's most widely shared shortcomings.

But it is the teacher to whom parents and politicians, businessmen and clergymen turn, time after time, to set straight whatever is wrong with youth or the world. Are children unmindful of their elders' unrealized ambitions? Are the national goals neglected? Is free enterprise endangered? Do we lack the moral strength we ought to have? See the teacher!

Any teacher can find dozens of reasons, many of them plausible, to feel sorry for himself. But there are more convincing reasons for teachers to feel quite differently about their work and about themselves. For when due allowance has been made for the irresponsible criticism, the foolish expectations, the fuzzy thinking and the exaggerated claims, the truth comes through, clear and unassailable: The teacher is a most important person.

This new appreciation of the teacher reflects one of the more curious -- and welcome -- paradoxes of our time. It has taken the enormous increase in the quantity of physical energy within man's reach to remind us that the central element in all our power, in all our plans for using power, is the educated man. We have had to be reminded, for many had forgotten, that technical proficiency, although it is essential, is insufficient, either to build this world nearer to our dreams or to carry us to other regions of the universe.

Fortunately for all of us, the value of education and the urgent need for good teaching are being recognized not only by those who write statements of national policy on education but by growing numbers of able and discerning young people. Wanting most of all to spend their lives in worthy causes, thousands of our best young men and women are choosing to teach. Improved salaries and working conditions are helping to attract new teachers and to retain experienced people, and continued progress along these tangible lines is highly necessary. But these are at best secondary matters; the more significant change is not in the salaries but in the attention teachers are receiving.

The change is not, however, without its unpleasant side, for while the glare of the spotlight may lend the teacher something of a halo, it also reveals his flaws with a minimum of mercy. No longer can teaching be a sinecure for those who want a job with long vacations or a monthly check to tide them over until something better comes along. Nor is there room in modern schools for teachers who lack the capacity for self-criticism or the willingness to work at a task that is endless and ever-changing.

Why teach? Whether the question is asked by a college student on the threshold of a career or by a forty-year veteran with chalk dust in his blood, the answer can be given many ways. Twenty years ago Lyman Bryson put it gracefully and well when he called the teacher "the friend who makes men free."

Running through all the answers, if they are honest and wise, will be a thread of commitment -- a note of faith. To find success or satisfaction in his work, a teacher must begin and end with faith -- in the worth of all men and especially in his students; in all learning and particularly in what he teaches. But most of all, the teacher must believe in himself and in the value of what he is attempting to accomplish.

In the days in which we live and teach, it should not be difficult to sustain that faith. Wherever man have believed that the human mind and spirit should be illuminated, the good teacher has been held in esteem and respect. It is so here and now, as it always will be where freedom, opportunity, and excellence are valued. In twenty centuries, no one has been able to answer Cicero's question: "What greater or better gift can we offer the republic than to teach and instruct our youth?"

expenses necessary for the operation of the leagues.

The $5 is expected to take a good bit of this burden off the organizations and place it equally on the persons benefiting most from the program.

But, if any parent feels that they can not afford to pay the fee, their son will not be turned out of the league. There will still be assistance from the organizations. This has been one point which has raised the hottest objections to the fee. Several individuals thought that the boys were being charged to play. This is not true. The program must be financed. How it is done is the question. It seems that fans do not like to have a collection taken at the games and the program is taking a bigger bite out of the organizations' pocket each year. In addition, the sponsors have a good financial load when they meet all the requirements of the team.

When it all boils down, most of the parents will pay their share of the program as a result of stepped up fund raising drives by the organizations.

It might be more appropriate to look at the $5 as a contribution to the program rather than a fee. It is not mandatory. It is merely asked. Personally, I can't think of any other recreation which would be so cheap in relation to time consumed.

A meeting of interested parties is planned for Thursday night in the American Legion Building to discuss this and other subjects. From all indications, the fee will be removed if enough parents and sponsors squawk.

Of course, I suppose I would squawk too if I didn't help support any of the organizations and could get someone else to pay the expenses of keeping my children entertained for an hour each day during the summer. (If I had any children, that is.)

Miss Jensen Tells Lions Of Denmark

Miss Anni Jensen, exchange student from Denmark, discussed her country and some of her experiences since arriving in the United States last fall at the Lions Club Meeting last Thursday.

Miss Jensen described her country as about 60,000 sq. miles in size which is 4,46 times smaller than Texas' 267,339 sq. miles. But, the little republic has about half as many people as does Texas.

Schools in Denmark do not provide the outside interests found in American schools and conduct classes six days each week.

The club elected to forego their regular meal at the clubhouse and patronize the Boy Scout Pancake supper at the next meeting on April 26. The scouts are sponsoring the pancake supper prior to the beginning of the "Meet the Candidates" program sponsored by the Farmer County Farm Bureau that night at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium. The pancake supper will be in the school cafeteria.

The $345 which the club will receive as its commission from the Lighthouse For The Blind broom sale was approved for use in the purchase of a new stove for the clubhouse. The money will be given to the Federated Womens' Club for the purpose.

Bovina Crime Active

Two Bovina drive-ins were broken into Monday night and a car was stolen.

The car, a '59 Ford convertible, belonged to Doyle Wassom and was parked east of Super Saweway. Keys were not in the car, Deputy Henry Minter reports.

Nine cartons of cigarettes and some $40 in cash were stolen from Bovina Dairy Freeze on Highway 60. The Mustang Drive-In on Third Street has six cartons of cigarettes and a small amount of change stolen.

Entrance to both buildings was made by breaking front windows.

Minter suspects there is a connection between the stolen car and the break-ins.

Tuesday afternoon Minter and Sheriff Chas. Lovelace apprehended three Negroes, two men and a woman, who had earlier participated in an armed robbery at Clovis, three miles west of Bovina on FM Road west.

Those caught by Farmer County officers were part of a group which had robbed two Clovis grocery stores.

They were taken to Farwell and released to Curry County authorities. The three gave their home address as Taylor.

Demand for electric power in the U.S. in 1980 will be more than three times the amount used today, predicts the Federal Power Commission. The commission estimates that over the next 20 years power requirements will rise to 3 trillion kilowatt-hours annually, compared with 849 billion used in 1960. . . . Walls of the Atlas rocket, workhorse of America's space program, are made little thicker than ordinary kitchen foil, in order to save weight. When the rocket isn't fueled, it cannot remain upright unless it is filled with a gas such as nitrogen to make it rigid. . . . Acrophobia -- fear of high places -- prevents some motorists from crossing the Delaware Memorial Bridge, the link with New Jersey which is 187 feet above the Delaware River at its highest point. Bridge policemen, who chauffeur the reticent drivers across, say they get an average of one a week, men as well as women.

What makes a new soldier gripe? Poor food, hard training, lack of sleep? None of these, suggests Prof. Alvin F. Zander, director of the University of Michigan Research Center for Group Dynamics. The true reason, Zander says, is that the newly uniformed man doesn't like other soldiers. The usual rigors of military life are difficult to bear, says Zander, but adjustment to various personalities encountered is toughest of all. A step in the right direction, he adds, would be to place together recruits with similar backgrounds and intelligence.

A portable oxygen tent for pets has been developed. Small animals that have breathing difficulties or are suffering from shock or heat prostration can be treated in the NCG "pet tent". It is expected to be especially helpful for newborn litters. . . . Sad people take longer to get over the flu than happy people. This information comes from the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine where a study of 600 Asian flu victims showed that sufferers with depressed natures were sick for three weeks or longer, whereas happy-type folk recovered in 3 to 14 days.

TRIBUTE TO F. W. REEVE

by Mrs. Hudson Phillips Sr.
It was a hazy day in the fall of the year,
The leaves were turning brown,
When I drove through Indiana
And came to a little town.
I was moving along the wide main street,
Where there just to my right
A group of buildings amidst tall trees
Came directly upon my sight.
I stopped my car to admire the view,
When much to my surprise,
I saw on the lonely football field,
An interesting vision arise.

There was a youth so slim and straight,
A football in his hands,
He was tossing it to another lad,
Pretty girls were in the stands.

They were laughing and cheering and spurring him on,
They well knew what was in store,
Their hero must practice with all his might,

Notre Dame meant to even the score.
I watched for three-quarters of an hour or more,
Then felt I must take my leave.
When suddenly a light shone on one of the boys,
And I beheld there my friend,
Floyd Reeve.
I sat there quite stunned by the image I saw,
I opened at once my car door,
I must go talk to him, shake his hand,
But the vision left, and I saw it no more.

Of course I was foolish, that couldn't be Floyd Reeve,
That lad was hardly nineteen,
And Floyd must be all of a young eighty-three.
But I was sure it was he I had seen.

Thus did I begin to remember this man,
To visit his life through the years,
To just touch the high lights of his long career;
So filled with laughter and tears.

I knew when he went from those staid college halls
Leaving football days behind,
He took up with many young men of his day,
The most strenuous game one can find.

His football field would from now on be,
The great Texas Plains of the west,
Those far off lands were calling to him,
And he would go along with the rest.

In the year 1909 Floyd and Ethel depart
Taking baby Ester along,
And soon they are working their miles of good land,
Thru their tears, sweat, and often a song.

More children were given to bless their home,
There were Mary and Hadley and Glenn,
Charles and Ruth soon appeared to join the brood,
A family complete by then.

And today they are taking their places in life,
Altho' God called the young Hadley home,
A promising youth with four tots and a wife,
Fay, a teacher, proud to support them alone.

There were five young men on the Plains with Floyd,
Who worked hard to build up a town.
Each had his place in the scheme of things,
And not one let the other man down.

There was John White, the teacher and printer so wise;
T. J. Crawford, Frank Truitt and Mr. John Guyer,
Ortho Whitefield, a youngster who tended his sheep,
Charles Schlenker, Rube Kinsley and Mr. George Maurer.

There were the young cowboys who rode the Plains,
Roped and branded and tended the steer,
George Trieder, Lawrence Lillard and Jack Anderson,
Far too many to be mentioned here.

They all took positions in their game of life,
And their captain was in the sky,
Giving signals and calling the plays,
Any mistakes were judged from on high.

Each did his own part to establish the town,
For those who would pass their way,
Good government, fair play, a chance for all,
Would henceforth be the rule of the day.

Floyd wrote a column to be called "Farmer John",
He was Mayor of Friona for years,
He believed that a church should be started here,
For where one is, sin disappears.

There is a Psalm you may read, says it better than I,
It describes Floyd Reeve to a "T."
"He will delight in God's word, and not wither away,"
And he shall be like a tree."

There's a song too, I sing, always brings him to mind,
It tells of the coming of the Glory of God,
The Law and Truth will never grow dim.

Floyd is still making plays on the field of life,
And some fumbles as all of us do,
But he ever goes forward to reach the goal line
To cross over and find the "Bright Blue."

Teens Seek Glamor In Good Grooming

You'll often see two teenagers who are the same age, height, weight. They have the same allowance to the penny, parents in a similar income bracket, wearing sweaters and skirts, thick socks and sneakers. One looks prettier than the other, although at first glance you might have thought them twins.
One's hair is hauled into a ponytail clip that holds only half the captured strands in place, the rest trailing Medusa-like across her cheeks and the back of her neck. She has a smudge on her jaw, a blemish on her chin, and her lipstick is only a faint rim at the edges of her lips.

Well-Groomed Girl

The other girl whom you might have thought to be her twin has her ponytail firmly anchored. The only loose strand is a tiny contrived curl at the back of her neck. Her face is clean, her skin is clear and her lipstick has been freshly applied. The color and condition of her slip are a secret. Her socks look new and while her sneakers are as dingy as her friend's at least the toes are intact.
The second girl seems much prettier than the first one. If the untidy one were a raving beauty, you probably wouldn't notice it because you'd be more aware of the snarled hairdo, careless clothes and complexion faults than her natural assets.

Steps for Teens

It takes only a few weeks to turn a routine into a habit. Here's a good grooming habit that can be added to any young life without much of a struggle, and that any girl can follow with her eyes closed.
Take a bath, shower and apply an underarm deodorant. Deep-cleanse with cold cream to help avoid blackheads and blemishes.
Dig out clean underwear and socks. Check for tears and holes and mend them, don't pin.
One application of lipstick was never meant to last the whole day. Check its condition and replenish, if necessary, after every meal, every hamburger, apple, cup of tea, glass of milk or coffee.

Travel Topics: Allow Time for Travel Papers

By RALPH VILLERS
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Going places this summer? If so, it would be a great idea to get your travel documents in order weeks before departure.
The really vital one is a U.S. passport, unless your travels will be confined to Canada, Mexico and the Caribbean area, where none is required.
Unless you live in a big city where there is a Passport Agency office and consequent fast service by teletype, it may take several days to process the application through the designated office in your community and get the passport back in the mail.
More time probably is lost by people who don't have their birth certificate to accompany the application than in the actual processing by the federal government. For example, one Michigan native living in New York had to exchange letters three times with officials in her home state, with a delay of several days each time, before tracing down her birth certificate.
People headed for Europe will find that for the most part, a U.S. citizen does not need a visa. The exceptions are Iceland, Yugoslavia, Russia and the Soviet bloc countries of Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and Romania.
The visa situation can get much more complicated for someone heading toward Latin America, Asia or Africa. While many of our Central and South American neighbors do not require visas, practically all require tourist cards.
A few even require a police certificate of good conduct. It can easily be obtained in smaller cities, where a resident usually is well known to officials, but can get tricky in some larger cities. In New York, it requires a fingerprinting session and a wait of several days while the prints are checked against the criminal file.
Best idea when planning a trip into an area where a visa, tourist card or other documents might be required is to work through a travel agent, or the airline or shipping company which will take you abroad.
Sometimes required to get into a country is the International Vaccination Certificate. This is the official record of immunizations you have received, and officials here and abroad can be very touchy if you don't have the required shots.
The basic required immunization is smallpox. With that one you can go just about anywhere in Europe and many other countries and have no trouble getting back into this country. Wander off the more popularly traveled trails and you may need yellow fever or cholera shots. These can require from six to nine days to become valid, so should be taken well in advance of a trip.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority
Safe Driving in Winter
Women who drive their husbands to work or the railroad station and the children to school must drive regardless of weather. They can use these tips on winter driving:

Be sure the car has chains for snow-packed or icy roads. On packed snow, it takes 60 feet to stop without chains; with chains, 28 feet. On glare ice, the figures are 160 and 65. The difference could be vital.

To start on a slippery surface, use second gear and start slowly. This gives the car more traction and it will be less likely to slide sideways.

When making a curve on an icy road, turn the wheel slowly. If you go into a skid when braking the car, turn the steering wheel in the direction the rear wheels slide. Pump the brakes gently. This is especially important if you have power brakes.

With power brakes and power steering, you'll need a most careful touch. It's easy to lock the brakes and over-steer. Never start, stop or change directions suddenly. And keep a good distance behind the car in front.
But before you even start the motor—be smart. Have the radiator checked and good anti-freeze put in. Don't let the weather stop you cold.

"The Norman Rockwell Album"

For those who love the arts, Doubleday & Company has just published a book named the "Norman Rockwell Album", which contains some 200 pages of prints of Rockwell's paintings in full color, as well as black and white sketches. The book includes many of the cover illustrations from the Saturday Evening Post depicting classic examples of the warm and human side of the American scene. Perhaps most of us are more familiar with the artist as a Post illustrator, but the "Rockwell Album" gives a more comprehensive view of the scope and variety of his work. Mr. Rockwell has earned an enviable place in the roster of recognized and accomplished American artists by his presentation of the characteristics, the fads and the fancies of our conglomerate society. The "Album" itself is a work of art, and will be prized in homes and libraries the world over. The paintings and sketches are thought provoking, and many will bring a chuckle or a tear, depending on the memories of the viewers.

Powering Progress

The theme for the seventh annual observance of National Electrical Week is "Electricity Powers Progress". It occurs during the week of February 11, birthday of Thomas Alva Edison. And these three words add up to much more than just an attractive slogan. They constitute a fact. The life of the nation—in industry, on the farm, in the home—depends on an abundant supply of electrical energy. So, in large measure, does the national defense. The push of a switch can produce miracles.

No one denies such facts as these. But there is a vast area of disagreement as to the proper source of our electrical power. There are those who believe that it should be a function of government—preferably the federal government. They would socialize the industry, at a staggering cost to the taxpayers, and create a government monopoly with life and death power over the resources of this nation and the directions its enterprises and individuals are to take.

In the light of that, consider a few facts. Despite the inroads of tax-exempt socialized power, the business-managed, investor-owned, taxpaying utilities of this country produce about 80 per cent of all our electricity. Today, with only one-sixteenth of the world's population, we have one-third of the world's electric power-producing capacity. We have more capacity than the next five leading power-producing countries in the world combined. We have a huge lead on Russia, our cold war enemy, and it is a lead that will be maintained. Specifically, Soviet goals aim at a per capita production of 3,000 kilowatt hours in 1970. We expect to reach a per capita production of 7,500 in that year.

These are matters of record. How can it be rationally argued that government—and, especially, at a time when government has its hands full and then some with problems that only government can deal with—should be dominant factor, much less a monopolistic factor, in supplying electric power. Private enterprise brought it to record-breaking size, before government ever got into the picture.

Bowling Association Installs Officers

New officers were elected and installed at the third annual meeting of the Friona Women's Bowling Assoc. in the Golden Spread Restaurant Monday.

the Summer Leagues now being formed and announced that there were still quite a few openings. Tentative plans are to have a Trio team league on Monday night beginning at 7 p. m., a Thursday night Pro-Am Mixed League (man and woman) that would distribute part of the money taken in each Thursday to those winning on that night and then to put part of the fees toward the purchase of trophies at the end of the season. Anyone interested in bowling in a league this summer may sign at the bowling alley.

President, Chris Ivy. There was a lengthy discussion on the method of entering teams in the annual city tournament each year. It was decided that in the future all teams must have their entries and fees in by the deadline. Refreshments were served to the 36 members and 5 young guests.

PLAYMATE

The traveling salesman just returned from a convention in Miami. His wife met him at the door. "Don't you lie to me," she screamed. "Alice wrote me that she saw you playing around with a blonde on the beach." "Well, what do you expect me to play with at my age?" he retorted. "A pall and shovel?"

WANTED BY THE FBI

Eugene Francis Newman

Newman is the alleged machine gun-carrying leader of a gang that attempted the robbery of an armored car carrying $498,500 in American and Canadian currency in Buffalo, New York, on August 3, 1955. He and his associates, wearing silk stocking masks, engaged in a running gun battle with the truck's guards and Buffalo Police, and a machine gun bullet, allegedly fired by Newman, seriously wounded a guard. Two bondits were quickly apprehended but Newman remains at large.

A complaint filed before a U.S. Commissioner at Buffalo, New York, on August 5, 1955, charges Newman with fleeing the State of New York to avoid prosecution for robbery.

Heavily armed with a violent temper, Newman has previously been convicted for theft of Government property, interstate transportation of a stolen motor vehicle, petty larceny, and burglary.

He is a white American, reportedly born on October 2, 1928, in Brooklyn, New York, who is 5'8" tall, weighs 170 to 180 pounds, has blond hair, blue eyes, a medium build, and medium complexion.

ENCHANTING—The prettiest little girl in the Easter parade might well wear this cotton organza dress tiered with tulle and tucks from collar to hemline. Pink sash and a separate pink, polished cotton slip add a delicate gleam of color to this festive design.

He has scars near his right eye, on the back of his right hand and on the center of his left cheek. A birthmark appears on his upper left arm and a mole on his left index finger. Tattoos include the name "Danny" and a heart on the outside of his right forearm, and the number "13" within a dotted circle on the back of his left hand. He has worked as a bricklayer, clerk, construction worker, counterman, and laborer.

Consider extremely dangerous. Please immediately notify the nearest FBI Office of any information concerning his whereabouts.

My Neighbors

"All that fuss over a run in her stocking!"

"I wasn't doing forty miles an hour," protested the motorist. "Nor thirty, nor even twenty."

"Here, steady now," interrupted the magistrate, "or you'll be backing into something!"

Brenda Collier and James Perkins, salutatorian and valedictorian of 1961-62 graduating class, study bulletins from schools which they plan to attend after graduation.

Sandra Beene and Tommy Sherley concentrate on the speeches which they will give at the junior high school graduation this year. They were named salutatorian and valedictorian respectively at the eighth grade banquet Saturday night.

Valedictorians--

In addition, he was named most dependable by the senior class this year. He lettered in football two years and lists playing the guitar and hunting as hobbies.

Miss Collier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Collier, has been a member of the Future Homemakers of America for four years and is a member of the band. She has served a year each as secretary, vice president and is now president of the Future Nurses.

She has been a majorette for the past three years and has won first division solo and ensemble twirling competition this year. She lettered in basketball as a freshman and served as manager for the team for the past three seasons. She plans to enter Amarillo

College in June and begin nurses training at Saint Anthony's after completing one year of work at the college.

She has been a member of the National Honor Society for the last two years.

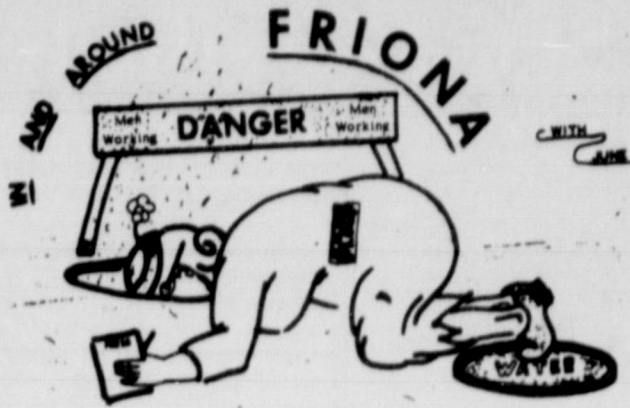

Miss Collier won the honored position by the narrow margin of .07 points on the four year average. Linda Castleberry emerged with a 93.44 average for the four years.

Perkins is the third student to gain the valedictorian position with an average of 95 or better since 1955. Judy Smith averaged 95.93 in 1959-60 and Kay Struve emerged with 95.73 in 1960-61.

Sherley, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Sherley, is a member of the band and a letterman in football. He is also junior high reporter for the ARROW.

Miss Beene, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Beene is a member of the Music and Pep Clubs. She moved to Friona two years ago from Paducah.

All four students are now faced with the task of preparing and delivering a graduation speech.

Plans are being made for a pancake supper to be sponsored by Boy Scout Troop 56. Supper will be served in the school cafeteria Thursday evening of next week. Proceeds from the sale will be used to buy much needed equipment.

This troop is sponsored by Friona Lions Club and Hayden Cason and Preach Collier are scoutmaster and assistant.

Lowell Bynum and his sixth grade band students are to be congratulated upon the showing they made at Abernathy last weekend. There will be no need to worry about Friona's high school band as long as we have such an excellent director and youngsters willing to put forth time and effort to develop musical talent.

Another group of Friona students who made a fine showing last weekend was the land judging team. Think that Friona boys rated three of the top four places.

Little League ball activities haven't really started yet, but there are already rumblings of disagreement about policy where parents and sponsors are concerned.

In any group activity you can expect some disagreement and discord, but it does seem that if there is an area where everyone should put welfare of participants first, it is a project such as this.

Perhaps each adult should study the aims and purposes of little league efforts thoroughly before taking sides in any controversial issue concerning the way the project is being conducted.

Since none of the Floyd children are involved, I really know very little about it, but any straight thinking adult knows that if we fail to teach our children and other youngsters by the examples we have set before them, we've missed the boat.

Surely the past few days have been warm enough to spark cotton seed sales for local concerns. Steve Hargus of Friona Country Club Gin was about ready to take down his "Cottonseed For Sale" sign recently because as he put it, "Nobody is going to buy cottonseed when the temperature is this low."

Some brave farmers will probably plant some maize and cotton within the next few days. Just about every year we have a few farmers who are fortunate enough to get these two crops up early in May.

Then the more conservative group will not begin putting seed in the ground until after the first of the month.

E. C. Chitwood, who grows more vegetables and flowers on less space than anyone in town, has his plot worked up and some things already growing.

Our congratulations this week go to James Perkins and Brenda Collier, honor students of the senior class, and Tommy Sherley and Sandra Beene, top ranking students in the eighth grade class.

All of these students are to be commended upon the accomplishments they have achieved.

Seems that the Star has had a lull in wedding announcements during the past few weeks. We're hoping that we haven't overlooked someone who is planning a wedding soon.

If we have, just remember that we don't make the news (except in rare instances, such as the Sunday wedding of Gaye Rosson of Roswell and Editor Travis Harrell), we just report it.

Any bride-elect who needs assistance with her announcement story is asked to contact Mrs. Ella Faye Holcomb at 2291.

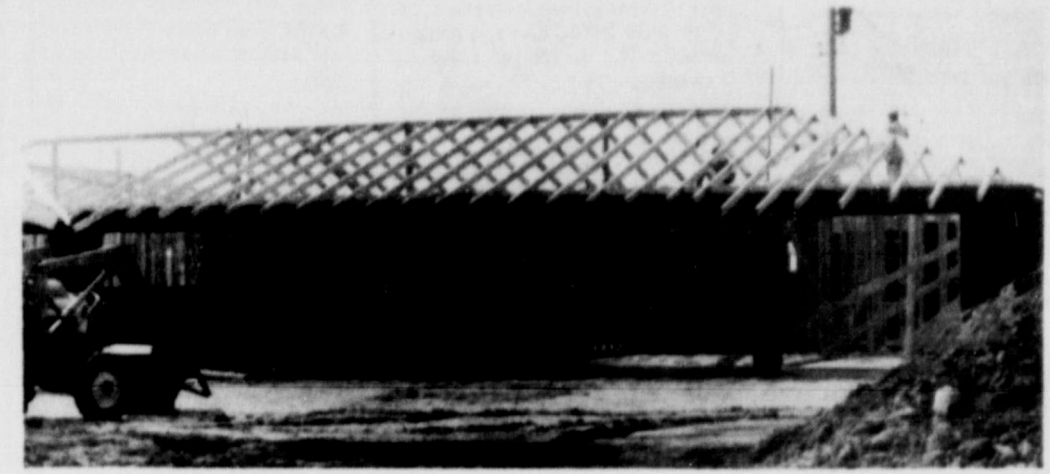

Geneva Floyd Wins Diploma

Geneva Floyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Floyd of Box 757, Friona, is one of 77 students scheduled to receive a diploma certifying two years of satisfactory college work at Lubbock Christian College, Lubbock, Texas.

Geneva entered the junior college in the fall of 1960. This year she is editor of the annual, a Senator in the student government her freshman and sophomore years, and a member of the Christliche Damen Social Club.

Eddie Barker, (left) Gary Shirley and Eddie Wood start one of the several posters prepared by the scouts Monday night to advertise their pancake supper April 26. The scouts will place the posters in windows of local businesses.

Workmen are busy fitting the rafters on one of the new residences being constructed in the city. Per capita cost of construction in Friona during the first two months this year equalled $26.22.

Something To Think About

6th. Street Church of Christ
Box 515 -- Friona, Texas

Most religionists of our day have come to accept the idea that worshipping God is synonymous with being a Christian. If for no other reason, this idea is popular because it offers so much latitude. In fact it offers so much freedom that it becomes evident that one important factor has been overlooked. Christianity is far more than merely a way of doing certain things, it is a certain way of doing everything. To worship God is one thing, but to worship him acceptably is something else. To claim Christ as one's personal saviour is one thing - to call him Lord, Lord is still another, but to be an acceptable child of God is set apart from all this by one essential word, "Obedience." One may worship God, and do it sincerely, but that worship may very well be in vain if it is not according to the divine pattern. We may call him Lord, Lord, and still miss heaven, if we fall in that category referred to by the Saviour when he said, "Why call ye me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?" (Luke 6:46) It is a very easy matter for us to become confused concerning the matter of "Christian liberty, or freedom." The true Christian is indeed liberated from sin - he is set free from that bondage, but he is not set free, or liberated from the law of Christ. We do not have the liberty to worship him as we please, but must worship Him in spirit and in truth. Perhaps it would be a very good idea for us to reconsider our profession and our manner of worship in the light of these truths.

THE EASTER FAITH

The Easter Faith is the faith in the living Christ. We cannot set forth its meaning in a few words, for it is the heart of all Christian believing. It means, first of all, that Jesus was the One sent of God. It is God saying to me, "This is my beloved Son, hear ye Him."

The Easter Faith gives to the Cross its real meaning. Without the Resurrection the Cross would have been a tragedy for our day - a long forgotten one. At most, men might have said, "How wonderfully this Jesus of Nazareth loved, and with what courage He died." Now, though the blackness of man's sin remains in that awful deed, the Cross itself has become the center of light.

The Easter Faith means that Christ, through the Holy Spirit, is a power in this world today; a living presence and not a mere memory. It was this thought that stirred Luther in one of the darkest hours of the reformation when he seized a crayon and wrote all over the floor and wainscoting of that room which is shown still today, "Dominus vivit Dominus vivit" (The Lord liveth! The Lord liveth!)

The Easter Faith is the assurance of the triumph of Christ. That was the conviction that filled with joy the hearts of those first disciples. The heart of our faith is this: "Christ is the revelation of God's purpose for the world, and some time the spirit of Christ shall rule all the life of men".

THE EASTER FAITH
The Easter Faith is the faith in the living Christ. We cannot set forth its meaning in a few words, for it is the heart of all Christian believing. It means, first of all, that Jesus was the One sent of God. It is God saying to me, "This is my beloved Son, hear ye Him."
The Easter Faith gives to the Cross its real meaning. Without the Resurrection the Cross would have been a tragedy for our day - a long forgotten one. At most, men might have said, "How wonderfully this Jesus of Nazareth loved, and with what courage He died." Now, though the blackness of man's sin remains in that awful deed, the Cross itself has become the center of light.
The Easter Faith means that Christ, through the Holy Spirit, is a power in this world today; a living presence and not a mere memory. It was this thought that stirred Luther in one of the darkest hours of the reformation when he seized a crayon and wrote all over the floor and wainscoting of that room which is shown still today, "Dominus vivit Dominus vivit" (The Lord liveth! The Lord liveth!)
The Easter Faith is the assurance of the triumph of Christ. That was the conviction that filled with joy the hearts of those first disciples. The heart of our faith is this: "Christ is the revelation of God's purpose for the world, and some time the spirit of Christ shall rule all the life of men".

Brenda Collier and James Perkins, salutatorian and valedictorian of 1961-62 graduating class, study bulletins from schools which they plan to attend after graduation.

Plans are being made for a pancake supper to be sponsored by Boy Scout Troop 56. Supper will be served in the school cafeteria Thursday evening of next week. Proceeds from the sale will be used to buy much needed equipment.

This troop is sponsored by Friona Lions Club and Hayden Cason and Preach Collier are scoutmaster and assistant.

Lowell Bynum and his sixth grade band students are to be congratulated upon the showing they made at Abernathy last weekend. There will be no need to worry about Friona's high school band as long as we have such an excellent director and youngsters willing to put forth time and effort to develop musical talent.

Another group of Friona students who made a fine showing last weekend was the land judging team. Think that Friona boys rated three of the top four places.

Little League ball activities haven't really started yet, but there are already rumblings of disagreement about policy where parents and sponsors are concerned.

In any group activity you can expect some disagreement and discord, but it does seem that if there is an area where everyone should put welfare of participants first, it is a project such as this.

Perhaps each adult should study the aims and purposes of little league efforts thoroughly before taking sides in any controversial issue concerning the way the project is being conducted.

Since none of the Floyd children are involved, I really know very little about it, but any straight thinking adult knows that if we fail to teach our children and other youngsters by the examples we have set before them, we've missed the boat.

Surely the past few days have been warm enough to spark cotton seed sales for local concerns. Steve Hargus of Friona Country Club Gin was about ready to take down his "Cottonseed For Sale" sign recently because as he put it, "Nobody is going to buy cottonseed when the temperature is this low."

Some brave farmers will probably plant some maize and cotton within the next few days. Just about every year we have a few farmers who are fortunate enough to get these two crops up early in May.

Then the more conservative group will not begin putting seed in the ground until after the first of the month.

E. C. Chitwood, who grows more vegetables and flowers on less space than anyone in town, has his plot worked up and some things already growing.

Our congratulations this week go to James Perkins and Brenda Collier, honor students of the senior class, and Tommy Shirley and Sandra Beene, top ranking students in the eighth grade class.

All of these students are to be commended upon the accomplishments they have achieved.

Seems that the Star has had a lull in wedding announcements during the past few weeks. We're hoping that we haven't overlooked someone who is planning a wedding soon.

If we have, just remember that we don't make the news (except in rare instances, such as the Sunday wedding of Gaye Rosson of Roswell and Editor Travis Harrell), we just report it.

Any bride-elect who needs assistance with her announcement story is asked to contact Mrs. Ella Faye Holcomb at 2291.

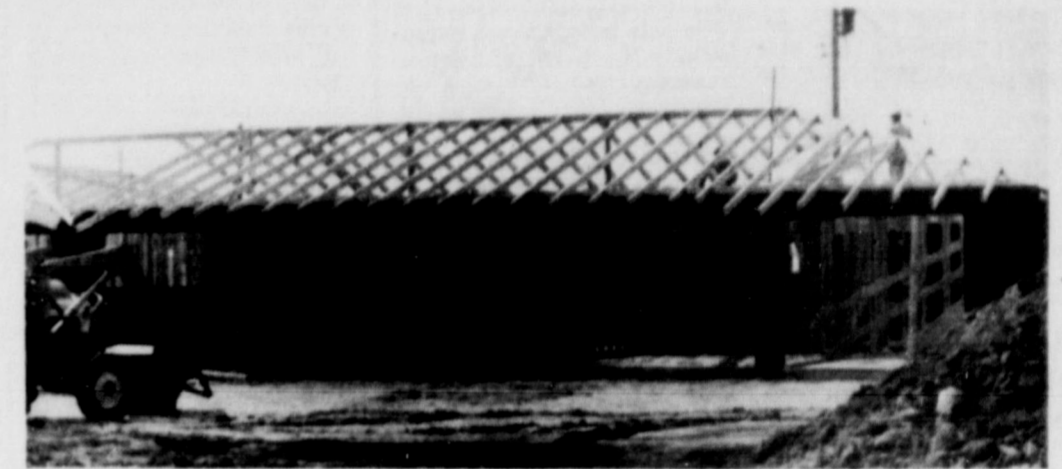

Geneva Floyd Wins Diploma

Geneva Floyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Floyd of Box 757, Friona, is one of 77 students scheduled to receive a diploma certifying two years of satisfactory college work at Lubbock Christian College, Lubbock, Texas.

Geneva entered the junior college in the fall of 1960. This year she is editor of the annual, a Senator in the student government her freshman and sophomore years, and a member of the Christliche Damen Social Club.

Eddie Barker, (left) Gary Shirley and Eddie Wood start one of the several posters prepared by the scouts Monday night to advertise their pancake supper April 26. The scouts will place the posters in windows of local businesses.

Workmen are busy fitting the rafters on one of the new residences being constructed in the city. Per capita cost of construction in Friona during the first two months this year equalled $26.22.

Sandra Beene and Tommy Shirley concentrate on the speeches which they will give at the junior high school graduation this year. They were named salutatorian and valedictorian respectively at the eighth grade banquet Saturday night.

Valedictorians--

In addition, he was named most dependable by the senior class this year. He lettered in football two years and lists playing the guitar and hunting as hobbies.

Miss Collier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Collier, has been a member of the Future Homemakers of America for four years and is a member of the band. She has served a year each as secretary, vice president and is now president of the Future Nurses.

She has been a majorette for the past three years and has won first division solo and ensemble twirling competition this year. She lettered in basketball as a freshman and served as manager for the team for the past three seasons. She plans to enter Amarillo

College in June and begin nurses training at Saint Anthony's after completing one year of work at the college.

She has been a member of the National Honor Society for the last two years.

Miss Collier won the honored position by the narrow margin of .07 points on the four year average. Linda Castleberry emerged with a 93.44 average for the four years.

Perkins is the third student to gain the valedictorian position with an average of 95 or better since 1955. Judy Smith averaged 95.93 in 1959-60 and Kay Struve emerged with 95.73 in 1960-61.

Sherley, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Sherley, is a member of the band and a letterman in football. He is also junior high reporter for the ARROW.

Miss Beene, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Beene is a member of the Music and Pop Clubs. She moved to Friona two years ago from Paducah.

All four students are now faced with the task of preparing and delivering a graduation speech.

Something To Think About

6th. Street Church of Christ
Box 515 -- Friona, Texas

Most religionists of our day have come to accept the idea that worshipping God is synonymous with being a Christian. If for no other reason, this idea is popular because it offers so much latitude. In fact it offers so much freedom that it becomes evident that one important factor has been overlooked. Christianity is far more than merely a way of doing certain things, it is a certain way of doing everything. To worship God is one thing, but to worship him acceptably is something else. To claim Christ as one's personal saviour is one thing - to call him Lord, Lord is still another, but to be an acceptable child of God is set apart from all this by one essential word, "Obedience." One may worship God, and do it sincerely, but that worship may very well be in vain if it is not according to the divine pattern. We may call him Lord, Lord, and still miss heaven, if we fall in that category referred to by the Saviour when he said, "Why call ye me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?" (Luke 6:46) It is a very easy matter for us to become confused concerning the matter of "Christian liberty, or freedom." The true Christian is indeed liberated from sin - he is set free from that bondage, but he is not set free, or liberated from the law of Christ. We do not have the liberty to worship Him as we please, but must worship Him in spirit and in truth. Perhaps it would be a very good idea for us to reconsider our profession and our manner of worship in the light of these truths.

THE EASTER FAITH

The Easter Faith is the faith in the living Christ. We cannot set forth its meaning in a few words, for it is the heart of all Christian believing. It means, first of all, that Jesus was the One sent of God. It is God saying to me, "This is my beloved Son, hear ye Him."

The Easter Faith gives to the Cross its real meaning. Without the Resurrection the Cross would have been a tragedy for our day - a long forgotten one. At most, men might have said, "How wonderfully this Jesus of Nazareth loved, and with what courage He died." Now, though the blackness of man's sin remains in that awful deed, the Cross itself has become the center of light.

The Easter Faith means that Christ, through the Holy Spirit, is a power in this world today; a living presence and not a mere memory. It was this thought that stirred Luther in one of the darkest hours of the reformation when he seized a crayon and wrote all over the floor and wainscoting of that room which is shown still today, "Dominus vivit Dominus vivit" (The Lord liveth! The Lord liveth!)

The Easter Faith is the assurance of the triumph of Christ. That was the conviction that filled with joy the hearts of those first disciples. The heart of our faith is this: "Christ is the revelation of God's purpose for the world, and some time the spirit of Christ shall rule all the life of men".

Bands Place In Contests

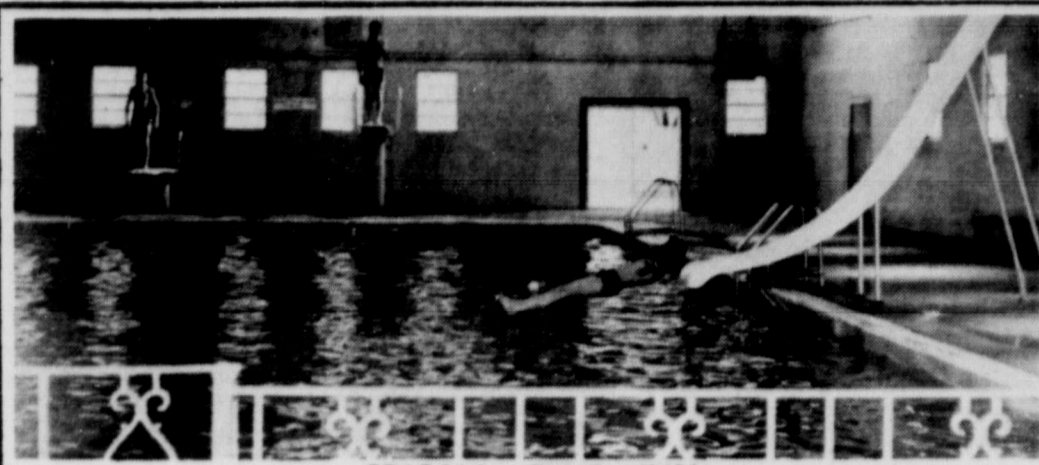

Three Friona bands participated in area contests last week. The high school and junior high bands entered the interscholastic regional meet in Canyon Tuesday and Thursday.

The junior high school band entered the contest Tuesday and emerged with a rating of three in concert and sight reading. The high school band participated Thursday and won a three in concert and a two in sight reading. A rating of five is the lowest rating given in the band contests.

Ten bands were competing in the class AA events.

The sixth grade band won a two in concert and a two in sight reading at the area elementary band contest at Abernathy last week. In addition, Linda Stone won the first in Clarinet solo, Randy Ellis won a two on the cornet, and Ann Ayers and Veronica Deaton both received ratings of two in clarinet solos.

Kathy Renner, Linda Stone, Karene Milner and Diana Wilson teamed up to win a first in the clarinet quartet events. Belinda Mabry, Kara Beth Sides and Terri Sue Cummings won a first rating in the flute trio division, Veronica Deaton, Karen Maynard and Ann Ayers received a three rating in the clarinet trio competition.

CONGRESSMAN SAYS

Local Exports Exceed Imports

April 15, 1962
FOREIGN TRADE

In a recent release, Secretary of Commerce, Luther H. Hodges, made the following statement: "Today the Soviet Union and members of the Communist Bloc are engaged in a campaign to 'bury us' through economic warfare. They are increasing their trade throughout the world. They feel that through trade they can generate alliances and allegiances. Our country must counterattack with a trade offensive of its own, and exports must be our weapon."

Everyone can appreciate the many complexities of this problem and the many, many facets of each problem involved, each of which could require many pages to discuss. It occurred to me that many might want some of the facts and figures with relation to our own 18th Congressional District of Texas. This Congressional District includes 28 counties in the Panhandle of Texas. During the 1960-61 crop year the United States exported $4.9 billion of agricultural products; $66.4 million of these products came from the 18th District of Texas. Included were $62.1 million for field crops, $4 million in livestock and livestock products, $241 thousand for vegetables, and $5 thousand for fruits and nuts.

The Panhandle also exported some manufactured goods to the tune of $28 million in 1960. There were eleven establishments exporting more than $25,000 each. These establishments employed 3,737 workers out of a total number of manufacturing workers of approximately 12,000. The major exporting industries in the 18th District are chemicals and allied products, petroleum, primary metals, food and kindred products, and non-electrical machinery. The exports of these manufacturers represented over 16% of their total value of shipments.

The equivalent share of agriculture exports from the 18th District is more than three times as large as the equivalent share of competing imports. The imported agriculture products to our District are largely tropical or semi-tropical products such as coffee, tea, spices, bananas, rubber, etc.

These figures will afford you some idea of the overall problems faced by bringing into focus the effect of foreign trade on our own District. The problem that will be faced by the Congress is to create a proper balance between imports and exports to meet the needs of the American consumer at a cost he can afford to pay without impairing the particular industry or segment of the economy in which the consumer makes his living. This problem is made more difficult because of the emerging European Common Market and the greater industrialization of Japan. Our world markets in agriculture, manufactured products, and raw materials will be vigorously challenged by this new economic community and Japan. We will also be measurably challenged in these markets by the Soviet Union and the Communist Bloc countries. However, this latter challenge will not be as serious now as it is expected to become later on. This is due to the fact that the Soviet Union cannot equal the quality of goods produced in this country, nor the amount. The satellite countries do have abilities in quality products, but the limited production facilities create a situation where most of these are absorbed within the Soviet orbit. This can be expected to change in the future. Hence, we must not only gird ourselves for the challenge to be mounted by the Common Market countries and Japan, but we must lay the predicate to meet the additional future challenge of the Soviet.

There are about 10 thousand and small - town newspapers across the country, and they get into way over 27 million homes. Candidates' Problems Now Just Beginning

AUSTIN, Tex.—The hundreds of candidates who are running for places in the Texas House of Representatives and the Texas Senate have plenty of problems. But when the victors get to Austin they'll have a new one. Big question will be "where to park their cars?" Lack of parking facilities on the Capitol grounds causes a maddening game of musical chairs -- or musical cars -- at each legislative session. Speaker of the House James A. Turman says the problem is "growing more acute each day." So, Turman appointed a committee which may have the longest title in the history of the statehouse: The Interim Committee To Study State Owned Lands Around the Capitol Concerning the Possibility of Converting Such Into Parking Lots. Rep. Obie Jones of Austin was named Chairman. Two other Austin members, Reps. Wilson Foreman and Charles Sandahl, will serve on the interim study committee.

CUT THE PROPERTY TAX? --For three years now a legislator-citizen study committee--the Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy -- has been mulling the possibility of state abandonment of the property tax. Texas Research League has helped with the study.

The committee should have recommendations ready for legislative action in the January session. Outcome may rest on voter pressure between now and the November general election.

Under the current system, schools get 42 per cent of the property tax dollar; cities take 29 per cent; counties, 18 per cent; and the state government and special districts only get five per cent each.

Texas Municipal League has urged the state to abandon the ad valorem tax and let the cities increase their property taxes.

Hale-Atkin committee asked the state to abandon the tax and let the schools levy it. Tax experts often have declared that county assessors might place higher values on property, if they felt more of the ad valorem tax dollar would stay in the county.

COLLEGE FUNDS SHORT -- Presidents and business managers of Texas' 19 state-supported colleges and universities were stunned this week when Texas Commission on Higher Education reported they will get only 54 per cent of the funds they requested to meet increased enrollment in 1963.

Administrators had set their future needs at $2,770,951. But the Legislature only appropriated $1,500,000 to supplement teaching salaries for enrollment increases. So the commission's staff prorated the fund among the 19 schools.

Dr. F. L. McDonald, president of Lamar State College of Technology in Beaumont didn't take the news quietly. "This is one of the reasons why we are never able to raise salaries," he protested. He said the colleges are never allotted enough money and "have to dig it up."

While the 19 presidents are trying to balance their budgets, Commission on Higher Education will be studying requests from three more colleges which want to join the state system; Odessa, San Antonio and Laredo junior colleges.

Recommendations will be made when the 58th Legislature convenes.

NEW SHELL GAME -- Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler predicts that Texas never will yield control over any part of Padre Island to the federal government. He charged that some Texans have been "deceived" by talk of an 88-mile-long national park there.

He said the U. S. Senate did not approve a park, but a "National Seashore Area."

"This status," says Sadler, "would keep Padre Island and Laguna Madre in an undeveloped state."

Sadler urged Attorney General Will Wilson to push recovery of Laguna Madre acreage from private owners before they convey their rights to the U. S. Department of the Interior.

Meanwhile, U. S. Congressman Joe Kilgore of McAllen said the House National Parks Subcommittee will make an on-the-ground survey of the island from May 11 through May 13. They will return to Washington, D. C., to consider legislation on May 14.

READING PUBLIC GROWS -- Dr. Dorman H. Winfrey, State librarian, announced an increase of 13 public libraries in Texas and more than a quarter of a million books on library shelves through the state.

He said library service has improved to the point where there are now 106 branch libraries, in comparison to 97 in 1960. More than $4,400,000 was spent for library construction last year, "possibly the biggest library-building year in more than three decades."

Dr. Winfrey gave much of the credit for library development to the Rural Library Service Division of the Texas State Library. It operates bookmobile services through out the state; furnishes books for libraries in cities and communities of less than 10,000 population; and provides consultants without charge.

But many of the achievements can be claimed by communities -- like Taylor, Rockdale, Navasota and Alvin -- where citizens get out and raise the money for library building funds.

HIGHEST HIGHWAY LETTING SET -- State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer said the highway department's April bid letting will be the biggest this year. Low bids are expected to total some $28,600,000.

The April 24-25 letting will involve 952 miles of Texas highways and cover contracts for 422 miles of U. S. and State highways; 148 miles of farm-to-market roads and 382 miles of seal-coat work.

"We are leading the nation in miles of interstate, primary and secondary highways," Greer stated, "and we want to keep that lead."

Kenneth Livingston, junior high school teacher, holds the audience spellbound with his interpretation of one of Al Jolson's famous songs at the Junior Variety show Friday. Mrs. Troy Ray is playing the piano.

Do you have difficulty keeping trash from accumulating in your attic?

One family has developed a plan that keeps attic trash at a minimum, the National Board of Fire Underwriters reports.

Here is how it works: Whenever an old rocking chair, a stack of magazines, newspapers, discarded clothing or similar items are taken to the attic, a tag is attached showing the date.

Once a year, during Spring Clean-Up Week, the contents of the attic are checked. Any item which has been there over a year and has no worth is thrown out.

DENDROCHRONOLOGY, the study of tree rings, is poised for a great leap forward, according to Prof. Harold C. Fritts of the University of Arizona. Fritts says tree rings hold accurate records of climate conditions that governed the tree's growth and that new statistical concepts make it possible to determine rainfall, temperatures, evaporation and other factors that occurred in any given year during the tree's span of life.

Land Judging Team Wins Area Contest

Friona's land judging team won first place in the second annual county Soil Conservation District contest Friday. Local boys also won second, third and fourth individual trophies.

The four teams were required to judge several spots on permeability, soil depth, slope and erosion tendencies and then recommend treatment to aid in the conservation and productivity of the land.

Results were then scored and team and individual winners named.

The winning team members were Gary Renner, Greg Jarrell, Mickey Wilson and Eric Rushing. Individual winners were Jarrell, second; Rushing, third; and Renner, fourth. First place individual judging was won by a Farwell entrant.

The team will participate in the land judging events at Texas Tech College in Lubbock April 28.

PIONEER TEXANS AND FRENCHMEN

In Castroville, 25 miles west of San Antonio, the spire of Saint Louis Church is a symbol of Frenchmen in Texas during the pioneer days of the Texas Republic. Appropriately located, the French colonial edifice stands at Paris and Angelo streets.

Saint Louis Church was begun in 1847 by Abbe Domenach, and completed in 1850. Mesquite and local oak timber were used to frame stained glass windows brought from Galveston.

In early Spring, links between Texas and France will be renewed once more in a very special way when Air France 707 jetliners open direct service between Houston and Paris. On board "The Parisian" service, travelers will be whisked over the 5,037-mile route in 9 hours and 20 minutes. Today, as before, the ties between Texas and France are founded on hospitality, mutual interests, and friendship.

In many places, Frenchmen marked their role in the Texas Republic's history. General Sam Houston was received in Austin at the French Embassy, then presided over by Count Dubois de Saligny. In the 1850's, 2,134 French pioneers established farms on the Rio Grande River and founded such towns as D'Hanis, and Quihi which still dot the map of Texas. French settlers also founded in 1859 the colony of "La Reunion" on the Trinity River across from what is today the City of Dallas.

Now, Air France jets will bridge the distance between Texas and France three times weekly, a further impetus to traditional understanding through travel of Europeans and Americans.

Water Table Drops Nearly Four Feet

Running at full speed, one of the many irrigation wells in the county dumps a steady stream of life-giving water into the ditch. Many of the farmers in the county are still using the open ditch to carry the water to the row and then depending on the county to provide a ditch to carry "waste water" away at the low end of the field. Because of the rapid reduction in the quantity of water remaining in the underground formation and the lack of recharge, more economical and efficient use of water must be initiated if the county is to continue to prosper and enjoy the wealth brought on through irrigation, officials of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District warn.

According to records recently published by the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, the groundwater level continues to decline in Parmer County.

W. L. (Bill) Broadhurst, Chief Hydrologist for the Water District, states that water levels in more than 50 observation wells that are measured annually by the Texas Water Commission and the High Plains Water District indicate that ground water beneath the County is gradually being depleted.

"To illustrate what is occurring throughout Parmer County, we have picked at random four observation wells that have been measured since January 1956. Each of the wells selected is from a different part of the County," Broadhurst said.

He continued, "for purposes of illustration, we picked observation well #387, 3 miles southwest of Friona, on land owned by C. W. Dixon; well #390, about 6 miles east of Bovina on land owned by W. H. Long; well #398, 2 miles northwest of Lazbuddie, on land owned by W. M. (Bill) Sherley, a former member of the Board of Directors of the High Plains Water District; and well #401, about 4 miles east of Farwell on land owned by J. W. Billingsley."

According to Broadhurst, the four selected wells are typical of irrigation wells used throughout Parmer County to water agricultural crops.

Broadhurst did some figuring and came up with the following

Well No.	1956-62	1961-62
387 (Dixon)	29.87	6.04
390 (Long)	24.87	3.51
398 (Sherley)	16.57	2.61
401 (Billingsley)	28.76	6.25

"The declines shown for the four observation wells indicate that we have a problem that needs to be faced up to and recognized. It is a problem that can be partially, but not completely, alleviated by individuals making more efficient use of both rainwater and ground water. All waste of water should definitely be minimized," he concluded.

Broadhurst continued, "Parmer County has a great deal of ground water in storage beneath its surface; however, with an average water-level decline of near 4 feet per year, the fact is evident that ground water is being depleted and the situation calls for wise use, both now and in the future, to maintain an excellent and high-level irrigated agricultural economy."

24 Accidents Kill 2 In County This Year

The Highway Patrol investigated 4 rural accidents in Parmer County during the month of March according to Sergeant W. E. Wells Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for one person killed, two persons injured and an estimated property damage of $815.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for Parmer County from January through March of 1962 shows a total of 24 crashes. As a result of these crashes there were 2 persons killed and 12 persons injured. The estimated property damage amounted to $13,290.00.

With the coming of April, motorists will be getting back out on the highway to enjoy the invigorating atmosphere and colorful country side. The patrol supervisor pointed out that this will cause highway travel to be multiplying by leaps and bounds. He urges motorists, pedestrians and all street and highway users to know and obey traffic laws, regulations, ordinances and their application, and pledge their continuous vigorous support of these laws, so that accidents may be prevented and safety universally promoted.

A new self-feeding combine attachment for sesame. Texas Sesame Growers Inc. fieldman, Ray Hodges at the controls.

Sesame Combine Makes Successful Trial Run

The Houston Hart Farm 4 miles West and 1 South of Muleshoe was the proving ground last week for a machine that will go a long way toward mechanizing the harvest of Sesame crops for Plains farmers.

The machine is a self-feeding combine attachment that picks up a dry Sesame shock and flips it onto a slowly moving conveyor chain. The conveyor chain feeds the Sesame bundles into a vicious looking string cutter that reduces the bundles into nice bites for the combine.

Roy Winkles Welding Shop in Muleshoe is building the self-feeding unit for Texas Sesame Growers, Inc. of Muleshoe and Paris. It is designed to operate on any standard self-propelled combine, and makes Sesame harvesting a one-man operation. Present harvest methods require a four-man labor crew, plus the combine operator.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

It seems a little strange to us, in a way, that when a hearing is held to determine how agricultural producers feel about National Marketing Orders, and other items being vigorously promoted by the Administration, there are more employees of USDA and State Agricultural Agencies on the stage than producers of the commodity in question.

If they appeared as observers, it would seem a little different. The fact is, however, according to our observation, that these Federal Employees do as much, if not more testifying (always in favor of the federal regulation) than the producers for and against the proposal.

We are making particular reference to the recent hearings on the National Marketing Order proposal for potatoes. We have also noticed the same situation in other meetings of this nature, regarding feed grains and wheat, for instance.

It is rather hard to get a true picture of the situation under these circumstances. Next Monday night at eight, in the Community Room of the Frona State Bank, a noxious weed eradication and control meeting will be held. The public is invited, and a good attendance is anticipated. A history of the Farm Bureau Weed Committee activities in this county will be given briefly along with other important phases of the program. Railroad representatives, highway personnel, ASC, SCS, extension service and experiment station personnel will have parts in the program, which is designed to encourage active interest in noxious weed eradication. We believe you will profit by attending.

County Agent Deryl Coker and Bovina's FFA Instructor, Roy Crawford are among those working to help the committee formulate an interesting and informative program for you. "Measure the Candidates" is the title of a county wide meeting to be held under the sponsorship of Farmer County Farm Bureau on Thursday night, April 26 at eight. The meeting place will be the Frona School Auditorium.

Your membership chairman, Calvin Meissner and all the other officers and workers appreciate your favorable response in the membership drive. If you were not contacted and wish to become a member, please send or bring in your check for $10.00 for year.

CONSIDER THIS: There is treasure to be desired and oil in the dwelling of the wise; but a foolish man spendeth it up. Proverbs 21:20.

Area men who have watched the machine in operation speculate that with some modifications, it can be used to harvest other important seed crops from the shock, such as millet, sudan, or sorghum alnum.

Texas Sesame is making color movies of the combine attachment in operation to show to interested farmers. Plans are also under way to build more of the attachments, to be ready for the 1962 harvest.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

Easter Sunday is a big day for everyone, especially for the little tots who enjoy an Easter Egg hunt. It's just as much fun for the rest of us watching the little ones as they walk by a great, big, yellow or red egg.

Oh, and how much fun the toddlers have painting the hard-cooked eggs! You can help them and yourself by padding the work area with layers of newspaper to absorb the accidents of spilled dye. Then it's up to them to make designs and color the eggs, as you watch. They have so much imagination of their own in coloring.

One of the simplest ways to color the hard-cooked eggs is to use wax crayons. Commercial egg dye is easy to use if you mix the color for them. Stripes are eye-catching and are easily made by drawing the stripes on with a white wax crayon before dyeing.

You may want to show the excited young ones how they can use bits and pieces of colored modeling clay to make funny faces on the eggs. It's fun to write names on the eggs with the white wax crayon before dyeing for the personalized egg. This always thrills the little children to have an egg dyed especially for them.

Of course, if good eggs were used the hard-cooked eggs may be used for future menus. Creamed eggs on toast, in salads, sandwiches, or as garnishes are always good to eat. Fresh eggs prepared in any menu are of high nutritive value which is needed for growth and repair of body tissues such as muscle, organs, blood, skin, and hair.

With the Easter holidays from school you probably will be believing for Grandma and Granddad's. Or maybe your relatives and friends are coming to see you. Here's a safety hint for you if toddlers and pre-school children will be visiting in your home.

Remember to rearrange your household products and place them safely out of reach of the children. Remember that the youngsters can't read the warning labels. So many accidents are caused from lye, ammonia, and strong acids that are found by the adventurous children. Usually these products are grouped together out of the reach of children, but sometimes we have some in more convenient shelves that we overlook.

If you will be having a visitor who is under five, it is a good idea to put away such products as drugs, kerosene, household disinfectants, garden insecticides and fungicides, moth balls, furniture polishes and waxes, laundry bleaches, turpentine and cosmetics.

While you are cleaning house for the weekend company you may do well to check your kitchen, bathroom, garage, attic, yard, and basement for these household products. You will be so happy that you did in the interest of safety for toddlers.

Baked ham is always a favorite with everyone visiting you during the holidays. Have you wondered how long a ham should be baked and at what temperature? For a smoked half ham weighing 6-8 lbs, bake it 2 and a half hours or 25 minutes per pound. Bake hams in a slow oven at 325 degrees F.

For a whole smoked ham weighing 8-12 lbs, bake it 3 and one-fourth hours, or 20 minutes per pound. A 12-14 lb. ham should be baked 3 and one-half hours, and a 16 lb. or over ham for 4 hours. For smoked picnic hams 4-6 lbs, bake 2 and a half to 3 hours, or 30 minutes per pound. However, for a larger picnic allow 4 hours baking time for a 8-10 lb. ham.

Less time is required for baking fully-cooked hams in a slow oven 325 degrees for 12-

15 minutes per pound. Canned hams should also be baked for about 15 minutes per pound. Place ham fat side up on a rack in an uncovered shallow baking pan or follow directions on ham wrapper. If you wish to glaze the ham pour off the drippings 30 to 40 minutes before the ham is done. Remove the rind, if any, and score the fat in diamond design. If you desire, stud each design with cloves, cover with glaze and finish baking.

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

DERYL COKER

There have been several meetings in the county on the use of systemic insecticides, to be used in cotton.

These systemic insecticides will give four to six weeks protection from planting date on thrips, aphids, spider mites and leaf miners.

Phorate (Thrimet) applied to the seed or placed in the furrow in granulated form at planting. One-fourth to 1/2 pound of the active ingredient per acre may be applied as a seed treatment or 1/2 to one pound per acre in the furrow.

Seed may be treated at the rate of 1 to 1 1/2 pounds per 100 pounds of seed to accommodate planting rate.

One pound of actual Di-syston applied in the granular form at time of planting is also effective. Over-dosing with seed treatments may retard early growth especially under weather conditions unfavorable for emergence. Use extreme care in handling treated seed or granulars because they are toxic to man.

We should always be cautious, because all insecticides are poisonous.

Follow precautions on the labels strictly. Take special precautions in handling parathion, methyl parathion, Tri-thion, Demeton, Di-syston, Guthion and phorate (thimmet) to avoid prolonged contact with the skin or breathing the vapors or drift from either spray or dust.

Be mindful of insecticidal drift that may contaminate neighboring vegetables or forage crops at the time cotton is sprayed or dusted. Plan crop rotations in advance to eliminate this problem.

Farmers are already buying seed for this year's crop. Study tags or labels on seed, so you will know what you are buying. Be sure and notice if there is any noxious weed seed in the bag. We do not want to plant bindweed or Johnson grass. Also, it is best to plant treated seed. Good seed cost a little more, but it can pay you big dividends in the long run.

Don't try to stop a fire truck on a dime—it is so messy scraping rear step firemen of the hose bed.

Weed Control Is Target Of County Meeting Monday

Weed control will be the topic of a meeting in the Friona State Bank Monday at 8 p.m.

County Agent, Deryl Coker, is asking all farmers and landowners to make a special effort to attend. Coker will serve as master of ceremonies for the meeting.

Summaries concerning the efforts and methods being used by the county, State Highway Dept., Santa Fe Railroad, state and federal agencies will be presented at the meeting.

A. F. Weise, weed specialist, Bushland Experiment Station, will give his findings and recommendations on noxious weed control.

Coker asks that every county adhere to eight steps in an effort to keep weeds from becoming an unsurmountable problem in Farmer County.

1. Locate all patches of bindweed in your area and make sure that the weed committee, or the county agent's office know its location. This can be done by mail sent to the County Agent's Office in Farwell or to the Farm Bureau Office in Friona. If you should have any trouble in the identification of bindweed, I would be glad to try to identify it for you.

2. The use of soil sterilants is recommended as the treatment of infested areas also, regular checks should be made of the area for surviving vines.

3. Farmers are urged to cooperate with the weed committee, state highway department, railroads, county commissioners, and other organizations that are working to eliminate bindweed along right-of-ways.

4. Test labels on seed should be double checked for the presence of bindweed or other noxious weeds.

5. Out of county harvest machinery should be cleaned and the cleaning burned before the machinery is allowed to enter the field.

6. The purchase of hay or feed grown in infested fields should be avoided.

7. Any farmers who might have bindweed in his cotton field should inform the ginners to burn burrs from the field.

8. The ASC Office under the ACP Program will pay 50% of the approved herbicide cost, not to exceed $75.00 per acre.

The State Highway Department and railroads will furnish the material and will apply it, if they are told of the bindweed location. The county commissioners will furnish the herbicide for county right-of-ways, if the farmer will agree to kill the weed in the adjoining field and apply the material on the county right-of-way.

"Compared to surrounding counties, Farmer County has very little bindweed, but if we ease up or don't treat the bindweed we have, we will find ourselves in the same position as the counties around us," Coker said.

Deaf Smith Co-Op Plans Annual Meet

The annual meeting of the local rural electric to be at the Bull Barn in Hereford on April 26 according to Sloan Osborn, president of the board of directors.

There will be contests, prizes, and entertainment for the entire family. Each member will receive a gift as they register, and a drawing will be held for larger prizes.

A group of beauty queen candidates will vie for the title of "Miss Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative of 1962." These candidates are selected by the FHA Chapters of each high school in the area, the 4-H Club Councils, and the Home Demonstration Councils. The winner will represent this area in a statewide contest.

Members will want to be present at 12 Noon sharp to partake of a barbecue lunch. The lunch will be served by the Rotary Club of Hereford.

Joe Henry, President of the Young Farmers of Deaf Smith County will discuss that organization. The Young Farmers will also help with the work of the Annual Meeting.

Osborn reminds everyone who is served by the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative that he is a part owner of the rural electric system. As an owner, each member-consumer will have an opportunity to take part in the annual meeting, vote, ask questions, and have his say about the operation of the local system.

Directors to be elected by the members will be responsible for operation and management of the system during the year ahead.

While the benefits of rural electrification are most noticeable in raising the standards of rural living, city people, too have benefited greatly, says Leo Forrest, manager of the electric cooperative.

"The program nationally has generated a multi-billion dollar market for electric appliances and equipment. It has made cash registers ring and created jobs for city people everywhere," he said.

County HD Delegates Attend District Meet

Farmer County Home Demonstration Clubs were represented in Pampa April 12 for the district meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association in Pampa High School Auditorium.

Among the 326 delegates, visitors, guests, and home demonstration agents attending the all day meeting were Mrs. Ralph Price, Black, Mrs. J. D. Sanders, Friona, and Mrs. Joel White, Oklahoma Lane, as elected delegates. Also attending were Mrs. Vernon Symcox, 1962-63 county THDA chairman, and Miss Ettie Musil, County Home Demonstration Agent.

Registration began at 9 a.m. followed by the meeting at 10 a.m. with Mrs. T. J. Parsons, District I vice president of Hereford, presiding.

Short reports of the district meeting will be summarized by Mrs. Price, Mrs. White and Mrs. Sanders as part of the program during a Coffee to be May 1 at 10 a.m. in the Hub Community Center. All home demonstration clubs of Farmer County will observe National Home Demonstration Club Week with this Coffee. Special recognition will be given to certain club members. All members and visitors are invited to attend.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

by James E. Edwards

Why do we cling to the idea of supporting babies' feet and ankles?

It is a natural error. A home economist told me that more than half of the housewives who use electric dishwashers wipe the dishes before they put them away. The dishes are clean and sterile but, after years of wiping dishes, it is natural to assume that a little work on your part will make them cleaner. Actually, the dish towel is less likely to be germ-free than the washed dishes.

The extra work of lacing up high shoes gives the performer of the task a "virtuous" feeling but the exercise will benefit the wrist and the finger muscles of the lacer rather than the foot and ankle muscles of the infant.

The foregoing applies to normal feet and does not apply to the Orthopedic cases which require braces or other corrective devices.

Skip-Row Planting Counts As Diverted Grain Acres

Additional changes have been made in the rulings for allowing skip-row planting to count as diverted acres under the 1962 feed grain program, Prentice Mills, ASC office manager in Farwell, announced Tuesday.

"Information has been received which states that strips of four normal rows in skip-row planting patterns will qualify as diverted acres under the 1962 feed grain program," Mills said.

Therefore, four rows planted and four rows out would count as one-half diverted acres. If two rows were planted and four left idle, the land would count as two-thirds diverted acres, according to Mills.

"As far as we know, this applies only to acres diverted under the feed grain program and the skip row pattern must be uniform," he added.

In order to count as diverted acres, rows must be at least 36 inches wide.

Mills suggested that farmers contact his office for the answer to particular questions in connection with the change in the program.

He explained that cotton might be skip-row planted and the four skipped rows counted as diverted grain acres.

Farm Activity Slows Before Planting Rush

The lull before the storm has settled over Farmer County Farming. The single, most noticeable activity is the amount of pre-irrigating now being done.

Hardly a well was found to be idle in a circle through the county Monday. But, few people could be found working in their fields. Only the dust from an occasional tractor pulling a disk harrow and one fertilizer rig broke the clear horizon.

Many farmers were making final adjustments on their planter equipment and buying or re-buying seed for planting. Several indicated plans to begin planting by the end of the month if the weather remains favorable.

A few indicated plans to divide their allotment into strips and stagger planting by 10 to 15 days between each strip. This system was believed to reduce chances of loss from late bad weather while equally increasing chances for some early harvest.

Most of the potatoes have already been planted and farmers are about ready to start with other vegetable crops.

Before the end of the month, farmers will begin the spring planting rush in an effort to get their crops planted and have a chance for an early harvest. During the next month, farmers will keep one eye on the weather and the other on their sprouting crops.

Cotton Congress Meets June 7-9

The 23rd annual American Cotton Congress will convene June 7-9 in Harlingen, Texas, with "Cotton's International Situation" as this year's theme.

Burris C. Jackson of Hillsboro, Texas, Congress chairman and 1962 National Cotton Council of America president, said committees are now mapping final plans for the three-day event.

A session in Matamoras, Mexico, across the border from Harlingen, and a tour of a Mexican cotton area, have been arranged through the Mexican Cotton Association.

The international situation as it relates to cotton and possibilities for reducing costs will be spotlighted in speeches by some of the nation's top cotton authorities and leaders.

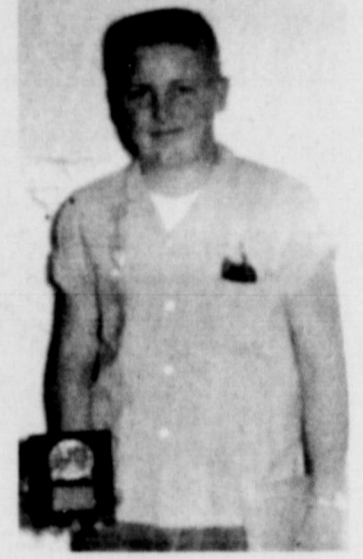

The Congress is a non-profit organization that serves as a sounding board on major issues facing the cotton industry. Members are from all phases of the industry and allied fields. Harlingen's Seville Hotel will be meeting headquarters.
