LISTEN TO LUKE

The Terrell County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 bond issue for $200,000 carried by a large majority, indicating that there are those who have faith in the future of this town and community.

With a public utility at stake, and an issue that will affect the entire population, there is no justification for such a small turnout and such lack of interest. It is regrettable that such lack of interest was shown.

There seems to be a tendency of apathy on the part of voters when any project is presented for their consideration. Is it that there are so many who have had things forced on them for so long that they feel that they just have to take what comes? For many years now that has been the rule. Politics has been such that our lawmakers are willing to sell the country down the river for a block of votes and the public has had to accept what is dished out to them. The evaluation of a project seems to be based on the fact that all sides are wrong but which is more wrong.

It is the opinion of this columnist that the bond issue which was carried was a forward step for Sanderson. It is a shame, however, that we have to tally such a small vote which indicates so little interest.

There are those who have been looking forward to this column's expostulation of our usual subject about this time of the year. Many have asked us if we didn't know that it was already spring. Well, we haven't seen the usual signs of spring yet. There were a few days which would indicate that spring had sprung, but next day would bring out heavy clothing. Until we begin to see some of the 200-pounders in short shorts we will keep quiet about spring. Just keep a sharp lookout for those sure signs and you will know that spring is here.

Being a good and true baseball fan and being in sympathy with the efforts to keep baseball alive, we are doing all we can to help the Alpine Cowboys in their attendance efforts. We are happy that we have such a good league so near us and we hope that local fans will find time to attend some of the games.

We have tickets for the opening game and the money-saving books of general admission tickets. Get a book and use them.

There was an important meeting at the courthouse Thursday morning of this week and another with the school board on Thursday afternoon. Too late to get all of the details, but they will be published in next week's paper.

The meetings were with the tax representatives of oil companies with holdings in the county and the county commissioners and school board members.

The purpose of the meetings was to discuss tax valuations of oil company holdings in the county and presentation of a proposed budget of the school district.

The influx of more and more equipment has boosted the tax rolls of the county and school district, and producing wells and drilling activity has added to the valuations and will cause a considerable increase in taxes in the future.

The county and school tax consultant was on hand for both the meetings to assist the two bodies in setting tax rates which would be fair and equitable for the two taxing bodies and also in line with assessed valuations on similar holdings and equipment that are prevalent in other counties.

It would seem a gigantic task to us to work toward such a goal but thank goodness, we don't have that responsibility. We are sure that the information and decisions will be for the best interest of all parties concerned.

Water Bond Carries 117-32 In Light Balloting Tuesday

An extremely light vote was cast here Tuesday in the balloting for approval or disapproval of a bond issue for the Terrell County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1.

The purpose of the bond issue was to purchase the local water utility from the Community Public Service Co.

The bond issue carried by a 117 to 32 margin, denoting distinct favoring of the bond issue even though a light vote.

Water Board President Greene Cooke stated Wednesday morning that the attorneys, engineering company, and others interested in the issue would be notified immediately so that work could begin on the transfer of ownership of the utility.

There is a 45-day waiting period necessary, he said, to offer an opportunity for anyone who might have reason to contest the election or otherwise take legal steps to halt the proposition. He stated that he expected no such moves, and had no reason to assume that such things might occur, but it was still a requirement of the law.

The bonding company and engineers and attorneys are expected to have all information current and complete at the end of the 45-day period so that the attorney general may act immediately on approving the purchase and approving the buying and selling of the bonds.

Mr. Cooke reaffirmed his stand that the board would work in every way for the conservative and economic government of the district for the best interest of all people concerned.

He also expressed gratitude to the supporters of the proposal and assured all property owners that no effort would be spared in the economy, efficiency and effectiveness of the board's operation.

CO2 Plant, Pipeline Said Slated for Summer

According to reliable, but unofficial sources, a $9.5-million carbon-dioxide extraction plant will be built this summer in the eastern part of Terrell County.

It is said that Transwestern Pipeline Co. will build the extraction plant.

The plant is said to be capable of furnishing 120,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily for pipelines and otherwise treat the gas for marketing.

Unofficial estimates are that the gas in the well already completed in the Brown-Basset Field has from 40 to 55 per cent carbon dioxide content.

Each well in the field will be allowed to produce only one-fourth of its rated total output.

Work is also slated to begin in the summer on a pipeline by Transwestern, according to the information received. Total cost of the pipe system from this area to California will be $189 million.

Location of the carbon dioxide extraction plant is not known, but it is presumed that it will be in the immediate area of the gas field.

The pipeline route has been surveyed, according to ranchmen, but no easement has been acquired for the laying of the pipeline, they say.

Up To 1-Inch Rain Falls In County

Up to 1 inch of rain was reported in the county during last week, according to ranchmen of this area. Rains were heaviest to the north, west and east.

Dog Registration Is Due Again Here

It is again time to pay for the dog registration fee, according to an announcement made this week by Mrs. Theresa Dawson, county treasurer.

The fiscal year for the registration of dogs, required by law ends April 30, 1959.

All dogs not tagged by May 1 will be destroyed, according to local officers.

The recent re-enactment of the law by local officers was for the purpose of dog registration during the current fiscal year and applied to all dogs in the county at that time.

Enforcement of the law had been relaxed during recent years but continued losses of sheep and lambs by ranchers surrounding Sanderson caused immediate enforcement of the law requiring the dogs be tagged immediately so that untagged dogs could be destroyed.

Tags bought for dogs between now and April 30 will be good until April 20, 1960.

The tags are available for $1.90 at the county treasurer's office in the court house.
