HOW TO BRING A SON DOWN

- 1. Provide him with plenty of free spending money.
- 2. Permit him to choose his own companions without restraint or direction
- 3. Give him a latch-key and allow him to return home at any hour of the night.
- Make no inquiry as to where and with whom he spends his leisure hours.
- 5. Give him to understand that manners make a good substitute for morals.
- 6. Let him expect pay for every act of helpfulness.
- 7. Let him spend his Sunday hours on the street instead of in the church with you.
- Be careful to never let him hear you pray for him.
- 9. Let him know how you feel about any man becoming a Christian; that this is only for women, children, sissies and preachers.

HOW TO BRING UP A SON

- 1. Make home the brightest and most attractive place on earth.
- 2. Make him responsible for the performance of a limited number of daily duties.
- 3. Never punish him in anger.

God and our nation.

- 4. Do not ridicule his conceits, remember yours, but rather talk frankly on matters in which he is interested.
- 5. Let him invite friends to your home and table. You need to know his friends.
- Be careful to impress upon his mind that making character is more important than making money.
- 7. Live uprightly before him at all times; then you will be able to talk to him with power and influence.

8. Be much in prayer for his salvation and for his spiritual growth.

9. Show him by your own example that you are "seeking first the task of growing the right kind of Christian men and women for our Kingdom of God and His righteousness". Don't try to send him to Sunday School and church; take him with you every Sunday.

SS Law Changes Ups Allowed Wage

Starting with this year, a person can earn more money and still be paid some social security benefits, according to H. P. Thomas, district manager of the Odessa Social Security Office.

There is no change in the part of the law allowing a person to receive all 12 of his monthly benefits if he earns $1200 or less during that year. The change in the law has to do with earnings over $1200 a year. For the first $300 of earnings over $1200 the total family benefits for the year are reduced by $1 for each $2 of earnings. For every $1 of earnings over $1500 for the year, the total family benefits for the year are reduced by $1. However, regardless of the total earnings during the year, benefits are payable for any month in which the earnings are no more than $100 in wages or salary or in which the person does not render substantial services as a self-employed person. Also, the full monthly benefits are payable starting with the month in which the wage earner or self-employed person is age 72, regardless of earnings.

An example might illustrate the new provision. A man under 72 and his wife are eligible for $165 per month old-age insurance benefits or a yearly total of $1980. The man works 8 months during 1961 for $250 per month. for total earnings during the year of $2000. For the first $300 of earnings over $1200, benefits to the man and wife of $150 would not be payable. For the earnings over $1500, another $500 in benefits would not be payable. Therefore, even though the man earned $2000 during the year, he and his wife would still be eligible for $1330 in social security benefits. Under the law in effect before $1961, only $660 in benefits would have been payable in this case.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy McDonald and sons of Clinton, Okla., were Mother's Day visitors in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McDonald, and her parents. Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Robinson, and their families.
