AUSTIN—That "safe driver insurance plan" with its penalty points for traffic law violations and accidents goes out the window August 1.

State Board of Insurance bowed to legislators' demands that it be greatly modified. But Board members felt it would be better to scrap the whole thing, and try to work out some other plan for a later adoption.

Most Texans will find that the abandonment of the merit rating plan will cost them money. This despite the fact that insured Texas car owners taken as a whole will pay $10,000,000 less for car insurance in the coming year than they did this year.

However, two-thirds of the car owners, those who have been getting 20 per cent discounts because they have had no accidents or reported traffic convictions, will pay the full rates in the year ahead. The other one-third, those who have been paying as much as 100 per cent extra because of bad driving records, will save substantially. They will pay the same rates as everyone else.

One factor in the decision to drop the plan was concern by members of the Board, and the insurance industry, over the increasing number of car owners who just were doing without insurance. Board members felt that to increase the penalties, which would have been necessary to maintain the 20 per cent discount for the "safe drivers", would drive even more people into insurance. This would have made the safe driving insurance plan even more out of balance statistically.

Because auto insurance rates are set by counties, and by types of cars and the age group of drivers, it is not possible to say just what effect the rates will have. Local insurance agents soon will have the information.

Schools' Allotment Cut State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert advised the Texas Board of Education that the Available School Fund's income for the 1962-63 school year should be $197,058,604. The revenue is reaped from ad valorem taxes, poll taxes, interest on securities the school fund owns, motor fuel taxes, omnibus taxes and other revenue.

Board deducted $8,737,536 to finance cost of purchasing and handling textbooks, and divided the balance between Texas' 2,387,234 children of school age.

So, the public schools will get $78.50 per child next year; $2.00 less for each than they were allotted in 1961.

While the 21-member board was on the subject of money, it passed a $459,877,843 education budget for 1963, and offered State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar a $4,000.00 annual raise through federal funds.

Edgar "declined the honor," saying he felt his three assistants are more entitled to supplements since they are directly concerned with administering federal programs.

So, raises from $11,000 to $13,500 were voted for L. R. Graham, assistant commissioner of administration; Lee J. Wilborn, assistant commissioner for instruction, and M. A. Browning, assistant commissioner for vocational education.

Then the board agreed to ask the 58th Legislature to raise Edgar's salary of $18,500 a year to $24,000 when it convenes in January.

Cream of the Crop A preliminary glance at the Texas Education Agency's survey of 80,000 teachers revealed that the state's public schools system is getting the "cream of the crop" of high school graduates. Study chairman R. W. Byram of Austin said that new teachers came from the top 25 per cent of their graduating classes.

But the distribution of education specialists seems to be uneven: All teaching colleges in the state graduated a total of only 80 language teachers last year, and only 12 per cent of those who took mathematics education degrees plan to teach, so schools will suffer shortages in those areas.

On the other hand, there's an estimated surfeit of English and history teachers... almost all the college graduates who majored in those two subjects plan to teach.

'Expatriots' On Way to Dakotas Spindletop V. Spindletops V and their children, Paysand and Gushie—a quartet of "geologist" prairie dogs—took a long trip to Bismarck, N. D., where they'll take up residence at the Dakotas Zoo.

The prairie dogs were a gift of Acting Governor Culp Krueger, who decided "to uphold the honor of Texas prairie dogs" by sending four of the best he could find, after the zoo's president, Chris Dahl, asked for some.

Krueger assured the zoo that "these prize prairie dogs will feel at home and will dig right in and endeavor to be worthy of their Texas heritage," in a letter claiming the animals have built-in advanced seismographic training which should help in North Dakota oilfield explorations.

Junior College Cost Jumps Texas taxpayers are having to pay more and more to educate youngsters who attend the state's 32 public junior colleges, according to a report from State Auditor C. H. Cavness. In the year ending August 1961, they spent $223.67 apiece on 23,150 full-time student equivalents, but the per capita cost leaped $42.91 to an average of $266.58 for each of 26,075 student equivalents—a total of $6,951,000.

Although 37,175 full and part-time students are actually enrolled in the state schools, the legislature bases its appropriations on the total number of semester hours taken, divided by 15 (a full time course load).

Biggest share of the current appropriation of almost $7,000,000 went to San Antonio Junior College, which got $775,750 for its 3,323 student equivalents. Clarendon Junior College, which has 113 student equivalents, was 32nd on the list with 58 per cent share of $40,600.

"Tain't True" Railroad Commission Chairman William J. Murray, Jr., surprised Capitol newsmen this week by issuing a denial of rumors about the East Texas Oil Field scandal before he even was asked about them.

He introduced, and then denied a rumor that the Railroad Commission has provided the major oil companies with damageable evidence against independent operators through inclination tests but said Attorney General Will Wilson has "changed the rules" by accepting contributions for directional tests from the big oil firms, and providing information for them.

Murray also refuted rumors that some crooked-hole operators were under his protection. He admitted that he has friends among those under investigation, but stated he'd granted no favors: "I swear that I have treated them alike— independents and majors—and will continue to do so," he added. He further stated that he has not accepted money for campaign expenses in any of the political races he's run since his 1947 appointment to the commission.

Regarding a year-long delay in investigating illegal well deviation in East Texas, Murray moaned, "Why didn't I suspect it earlier? I had too much faith in my fellow man."

Business Better Than Ever The seasonally-adjusted index of Texas business activity rose to a new all-time high of 137.1% in May, reported Dr. Francis B. May, statistician for the University of Texas' Bureau of Business Research.

High score reflects a seven per cent increase over May, 1961, ac-ording to Dr. May. He considers the sharp rise a potent reminder that the recovery from the 1960 recession has not yet spent its force.

Daniel Names Appointees Gov. Price Daniel has made the following appointments to state boards: Kenneth Nelson of Diboll to the Board of Registration; Mrs. Mary Moody Northen of Galveston to the State Historical Survey Committee; L. E. Tension of Clifton, Walter Flack of San Antonio, and R. H. Taylor of Houston, to the Accountancy Board; Wayne Thode of Austin, Talbot Rain of Dallas, Zeb Rike of McAllen and Crawford Kerr and Edwin Carroll of El Paso to the Commission on Uniform State Laws.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ed Martin of Marathon were weekend visitors here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Martin. Their sons, Bobby and Russell, remained for a longer visit.

Mrs. Herbert Brown took her mother, Mrs. Bustin Canon, to Alpine Monday for a medical check-up.

The Old Timer

"Maybe I'm old-fashioned, but I still think a spanking is administered at one end to impress the other."

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862... the same year that

IN TEXAS... a new governor, Francis Richard Lubbock, guided a bankrupt state through that bitter Civil War year. Cotton, exported through Mexico, brought desperately needed foreign gold. Homefront industries were established. Comforts were few, but morale stayed high... and there was good Texas beer, enjoyed then as now.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation—light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Southwestern hospitality to any occasion. Texans have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

WHY WORSHIP GOD?

There is something seriously WRONG with any person who does NOT WANT to worship God, ON His Day, In His House, WITH His People, and FOR His Glory.

We were MADE for FELLOWSHIP with God. No one can LIVE effectively and happily and REFUSE to TRUST IN, RELY ON, OBEY and HONOR the Father of Jesus Christ. "Thou shalt have NO OTHER gods BEFORE Me," is the commandment of the God who created us, sustains us, and yearns to redeem us thru FAITH and TRUST IN His Son.

Some EXCUSES offered for staying away from worship:

- 1. It rains. (You go to work in the rain, children go to school)
2. It is so hot. (So is the fishing hole. And there's a hotter place.)
3. It is cold. (It's warm and friendly inside, best friends in town)
4. I am poor. (No admission charge, but why are you so poor?)
5. I am rich. (Be grateful to God, but be wise in its use.)
6. No one invited me. (Who invites you to movies and clubs?)
7. Hypocrites in church. (You associate with them daily)
8. Have the children. (You get a baby sitter, don't you?)
9. Have company. (Bring them or ask them to wait)
10. Clothes. (Church is no fashion show. Don't be naive.)
11. Don't like the preacher. (He is human like you. He tries to like you.)
12. Wants money. (So does your club, your grocer, and Uncle Sam.)
13. Plenty of time to go later. (Are you really sure?)
Perhaps one can have Christ yet not go to church and worship. But WHY would anyone who HAS Him, and LOVES Him, WANT to stay away?

Sterile Flies Now Produced At Mission Plant

The first box of sterile screw-worm flies from the new production plant at Mission came off the assembly line Wednesday of last week and were released over Southern Texas last Friday.

"This is a great day in the short history of the Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program."

Sexual sterility of screwworm flies is accomplished by subjecting pupae to radiation from cobalt-60, which emits gamma rays. Pupae are then packaged in cartons, held until they emerge as flies, and then dropped by airplane. About 3 to 5 per cent of the total fly production is not sterilized and provides brood stock for continued production. The fly colony was established on Sunday, June 17, the day after formal dedication of the plant. All operations of the plant are timed to coincide with the normal life cycle of the screwworm.

"We now have a plant to produce from 50 up to 75 million sterile flies per week, the volume needed for eradication of this costly livestock pest in the Southwest," Marvin J. Bridges, executive director of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, commented.

"The increased supply of sterile flies from this plant will not only greatly strengthen the eradication effort, but also will provide flies for future tests on establishing and maintaining a barrier zone to be formed by continuously releasing sterile flies along portions of the U.S.-Mexican border," Dr. S. C. Gartman, assistant veterinarian in charge of Animal Disease Eradication Division, U.S. Department of Agriculture, added.

Program officials outlined the plans for months ahead. The temporary facilities at Kerrville will continue to produce about 23 million flies per week as production at the Mission plant is increased. The Kerrville unit will be gradually closed and personnel and equipment transferred to Mission.

Plans are for the Mission plant to build up to around 50 million flies per week within the next 2 to 3 months, the average production called for in the program budget. This will then be increased for a short period to the 75-million capacity.

This production will provide for release of sterile flies in those areas where overwintering populations must be eliminated where outlying outbreaks threaten to spill over into an area already free of screwworms, and to maintain the artificial barrier. Flies will not be used in areas where cold weather can be expected to eliminate in a short time any threat to a screwworm-free overwintering area.

Flies are now being released in Texas over a 60,000-square-mile area below a line that runs from Del Rio northeast to Coleman, east to Comanche, and southeast to Port O'Connor, plus 7,000 square miles in southern New Mexico.

However, fly release will remain flexible because of unpredictable circumstances. For example, the size of the screwworm overwintering area varies with the severity of the winters. Also shipments of infested livestock could also cause premature spring outbreaks in northern portions and require concentrated fly release for quick control.
