LISTEN TO LUKE

Last week we had quite a lengthy story in explanation of proposed amendment 14. We tried to present both sides of the question, and write it in an unbiased manner, so that the readers would have an opportunity to better understand the proposal. There are some things which were not said in the story that we would like to pass on in editorial comment which happens to be our opinion and observations from what we have read.

A vote for the proposed 14th amendment would be a vote against the continuation of such bodies as the school board, the commissioners' court, the water board, and all other such subdivisions in Texas. There would be little use for them anymore.

There would be a necessity for additional courts at law, since there would be many more cases to be decided on what is now a crowded docket in most areas.

There would be added expenses of these political subdivisions in all cases which were contested.

There would be a necessity for additional jury duty in the cases resulting.

Each and every decision, no matter how seemingly small or important, COULD be contested in court by any person so inclined, thus holding up action in litigation for indefinite periods.

There are certain areas of decision of political subdivisions in which a person may appeal to the courts for relief. These cases are settled by the courts, like all other cases, both civil and criminal, by the use of appellate decisions on similar cases, thus giving some basis for decision and action by the courts. They furnish the "rules" to go by, so to speak.

In the "de novo" situation — it is our understanding — and it is expressed by the term — that each case brought to court would be a new trial. So what would be decided on an issue in one place, might have no parallel in any other place in the state. And there would be a mumbo jumbo of decisions under this "law by men."

Know Your Teachers

Miss Nancy Joyce Freeman

Miss Nancy Joyce Freeman is a native of Whitesboro, Texas. She received her high school diploma at Southmayde High School in 1958 and graduated from Texas Women's University in Denton last May.

Her major was in Child Development with a minor in Sociology. She is teaching in the third grade in the Sanderson Elementary School.

"Meet Your Teachers" will be a feature of this newspaper to acquaint the citizens of the county with the personnel of our school. The faculty of our school is one of the most vital factors in the community. The teachers are not only entrusted with the academic training of the youth, but also in teaching by precept and example the fundamental principles of citizenship, character, and high moral standards.

Supt. H. L. Richardson had the following comment on the role of teachers: "They should not only be an instructor, but an example, a nurse, counselor, janitor, parent, and recreation supervisor. The day begins early in the morning and usually ends late at night. The classroom duties, paper grading, lesson preparation, tests, instructional material preparation, professional meetings, extra curricular duties, all make for a long day. Then there is the little matter of housekeeping, care and preparation of clothing as well as personal appearance."

"But just think of those three months during the summer when they don't have to teach, but draw pay. Yes, they do draw pay, but it is pay that was earned during the nine months of school which has been divided into 12 payments. Then of course, there is a matter of attending summer school, workshops, preparing materials, and lesson plans that time does not permit during the actual school year. These are so-called vacation months."

"Get to know your teacher. They need your help, your support, and encouragement, and whether you realize it or not, you need them."

TB Skin Test To Be Given School Pupils

Plans are underway for the Tuberculin Skin Test to be given to the pupils in the first and second grades. On Monday, October 29, Mrs. P. G. Harris, Jr., and Mrs. Troy Druse will be at the schools to give the tests. The project is being sponsored by the Terrell County Tuberculosis and Health Association and will be free of charge. Forms will be given to each child next week to get their parents' consent for the test to be given. The test consists of a patch placed on the skin and is painless.

If a child has been in contact with an adult having tuberculosis germs may have invaded his body and the skin test will make it possible for a physician to make an early discovery of the presence of the germs and proceed with further diagnosis and also to endeavor to try to find the source of the germs.

Neal-Robbins Vows Solemnized At Methodist Church Saturday

In a candlelight setting at the First Methodist Church Saturday evening at 6:00, Miss Betty Jane Robbins became the bride of James H. Neal with the pastor, Rev. F. E. Curry, officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Robbins. Mr. and Mrs. James A. Neal of Van Horn are parents of the bridegroom.

White candles in silver holders on the chancel and an open Bible with the altar set on a table formed the background at the altar. White wicker floor baskets filled with white mums, chrysanthemums, fern and loops and streamers of white satin ribbons were in the foreground. The lighted cross above the altar shed a soft glow over the scene.

Mrs. Paul Hatem sang "O, Perfect Love" accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Troy Edwards of El Paso who also played the traditional wedding marches.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white brocade satin street-length dress with molded bodice, boat-shaped neckline, bracelet-length sleeves, and a full skirt with unpressed pleats. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion attached to a pearl tiara was "something old and borrowed", belonging to her cousin, Mrs. Scott Stegall of Alexander, Ill. She wore white satin pumps and a pearl pendant on a gold chain. Her bridal bouquet of white rosebuds was centered with a white orchid. The traditional "something blue" was a garter made by Mrs. Weldon Cox, and she had a new penny in her shoe.

Miss Shella Lynn Cox, maid of honor, wore a green satin dress styled similar to the bride's, and her hat was a large white tulle rose pillbox with a white starched veil. She carried a bouquet of gold chrysanthemums tied with gold and green ribbons.

Sandy Neal served his brother as best man. Ushers were Charles Stavley and J. B. Ratliff III of Lubbock. The candles were lighted by Mike Robbins, brother of the bride, and Steve Hope.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church.

Miss Gail Rowe presided at the guest register.

The bride's table, covered in a white cloth, had a centerpiece of an arrangement of white spider mums, fern and white wedding bells, flanked by white tapers in silver holders. A silver punch bowl was at one extremity of the table and the bride's cake at the other. The three-tiered cake iced in white and encircled by a white net ruffle, was topped with a bouquet of lilies of the valley and wedding bells in a fluff of net.

The bridegroom's table, covered in a gold damask cloth, had a centerpiece of gold mums and chrysanthemums flanked by yellow candles in copper holders. A copper coffee service was used and the bridegroom's cake, iced in yellow, was decorated in sugar spun bronze mums and lacy satin ribbons.

For her going-away costume the bride wore a charcoal two-piece grey suit with black accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet completing the ensemble.

The couple's wedding trip will be to Las Vegas, Nev., Seattle, Wash., to visit with an uncle of the bridegroom and the brother of the bride, Sp4 and Mrs. Irvin Robbins Jr. in Tacoma. Upon their return they will be at home on the ranch north of Sanderson.

The bride, a life-long resident of Sanderson, is a May graduate of the Sanderson High School.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Van Horn High School.

The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. (Buddy) Neal were hosts for the rehearsal dinner served in the dining room at the Oasis Restaurant Thursday evening. The centerpiece on the table was of white mums, fern and wedding bells. Those present were Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Curry, Mrs. Irvin Robbins, Mike, and Suzi Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Weigand and Tommy, the bride and bridegroom-elect.

Among out-of-town relatives and friends here for the wedding were Misses Ruthie Allen, Diane Brown, Beth Clark, and Barbara Sudduth, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862... the same year that

IN TEXAS... a new governor, Francis Richard Lubbock, guided a bankrupt state through that bitter Civil War year, Cotton, exported through Mexico, brought desperately needed foreign gold. Homefront industries were established. Comforts were few, but morale stayed high... and there was good Texas beer, enjoyed then as now.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation—light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Southwestern hospitality to any occasion. Texans have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

RECEIVING CHRIST

There is no doubt that a man must receive Christ to have his sins forgiven. The only provision God made for forgiveness is in Christ. His death is for our atonement. Yet what does it mean to "receive Christ?" It is important to know. Our eternal destiny depends on it.

In order to receive Christ, man must receive the words of Christ and his apostles. "He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him . . . (Jno. 12:48). 'Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me. . . (Jno. 13:20). So we must receive the apostles' doctrine to receive Christ, BUT how do you receive the apostles? There can be no other way than to believe the facts they preach and obey the commands they give.

Note the example of the Samaritans who "received the word of God." (Acts 8:14) Look at the verses before and see what is meant "But they believed Phillip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women." (Acts 8:12) Then receiving the word — and Christ — is to believe in the name of Jesus, his kingdom, and be baptized.

This definition conforms to the commission of Christ. "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; he that believeth not shall be damned." (Mk 16:15,16) In Acts the commission is carried out, and every account shows that the people believed and were baptized. Faith plus baptism is what Jesus authorized; it was the doctrine and practice of the first century. Can there be any doubt this is what is involved in "receiving Christ?"

Many scriptures are quoted and distorted in an attempt to invalidate baptism. It is a command of God to the penitent believer in order to the forgiveness of his past sins. Who can believe that man receives Christ without receiving one of his commands? Baptism is as much a command as faith. An infidel is anyone who refuses ANY PART of the doctrine of Christ.

Ask your preacher to sign the following proposition for public discussion (or private). I affirm that man receives Christ and forgiveness of sins by faith without baptism in water.

A jury would decide on each case presented. This is, in effect, the same as a board's decision. The board or commissioners court is elected by men and always subject to re-election. A jury is not chosen in that manner.

And just because it is a jury of one's peers, doesn't mean that any or all decisions would be given in favor of a plaintiff.

We still have faith in the ability of the commissioners, the school board, and the water board to govern those bodies. When we cease to have faith in their ability, we will vote against those whom we can when we can, after we are convinced that we can have more faith in the ability of the opponent.

We feel about the same way in the coming general election.

We know that no candidate or incumbent is going to do everything to please us, or anybody else. But as long as we know the direction of his travels and agree with that and have faith in his ability and willingness to do the thing that is right for all of the people, then we are going to support him.

When a candidate's travels are in what we think is the wrong direction, and we no longer have any faith in his ability as an office holder or in him or his integrity, then we sever all support for him in his politics.

The rains which fell Tuesday night and Wednesday morning were most welcome. We sincerely hope that they were general and that everybody that needed rain got some of the moisture.

The rain was badly needed to provide some feed with which ranchmen could go into the winter. Many of them have been selling or planning to sell livestock because of the grim outlook for rain.
