LISTEN TO LUKE

We learned this week from the other part of the staff and from talk we heard, that the commissioners' court dropped all automobiles from the tax roll at the regular monthly session Monday.

We can go along with their reasoning and accept their action with understanding. We are glad that we are taxpayers for other reasons, though, or we might be griping.

Since taxes go toward the operation of the county, school, and state government, we feel that we have a voice, though small, but a voice in the operation of those governments.

All the county officers, all the school officials, all the state officials to a degree, are working for the taxpayers of the state, school districts, and counties.

And if something doesn't go right, according to our way of thinking, we have a legitimate gripe coming. It's not always effective, but it's a gripe, anyway.

We like to say that we have a part in the operation of the government — and we are speaking primarily of our school, county, and state governments.

Without taxes, this school may have a very difficult time getting by. If each of us had to pay for our pro rata share of the cost of educating our children all through school, few children would get through high school.

But with taxes, we, each of us, share in the cost of education for the children of our county and state.

It would also be difficult for us to pay for the cost of protecting our property, if we did not all pay taxes and hire law enforcement officers for the protection of our property and the protection of persons of our county and state.

The same thing is true of all other phases, parts, and divisions of county school and state government.

The Terrell County schools offered an education for a granddaughter, and Terrell County has been good for the family and the business — all for very few dollars per year. It's worth it!

We are glad to pay taxes and have these people working for us. We are glad to have the facilities that these taxes afford.

We are glad that our tax dollars offer the same benefits and privileges to those in the county and school district and state who are not paying taxes for those privileges and benefits.

We are glad to drive down the streets of Sanderson and say that these streets are part mine, that I had a small part in their construction, and that I have a small part — by the payment of taxes — in their maintenance.

I am glad to say that my little bit of taxes goes toward affording my neighbors' children the privilege of going to school — to a free public school system. I am happy to know that there are conscientious law enforcement officials here who are willing to risk their lives for the protection of me and my neighbors and their property and that my small amount of taxes helps to pay for that protection.

If I want to praise Terrell County's officials for their conservative ways, I can do it because it's my money they are conserving!

If I am in favor of — or not — building a new school — adding to the court house, curbing and guttering the streets, forming a water district, hospital district, or anything else, I can do it because I'm a taxpayer!

How much are those privileges and benefits worth to you?

The snow which fell here Monday and Tuesday, and the rain on Monday, put about a half-inch of

$50,730 Spent By Federal Govt. On County Ranches

Clarence Jessup, chairman of the Terrell ASC County Committee, has reported final tabulations for the 1962 Agricultural Conservation program. Fifty-one applicants representing 45 ranches completed soil and water conservation practices by December 31, 1962. This is about 40 per cent of the ranches in Terrell County. Cost shares contributed to help carry out these practices amounted to about 50 per cent of the cost or $50,130.

Conservation accomplishments in 1962 include: 35,666 acres were deferred pastures on eight ranches for the natural re-establishment of vegetative cover; prickly pear and/or lechuguilla was controlled on 10,374 acres on 14 ranches; 1,010 acres of grazing land on seven ranches ripped or chiseled to improve water penetration; to permit better distribution of livestock, three wells were deepened on two ranches, three new wells were drilled on three ranches, and five water storage tanks were constructed on four ranches; 9,045 cubic yards of earthen dams were constructed on two ranches; 3,623 cubic yards of spreader terraces were on eight ranches for better distribution of livestock and seasonal use of the forage; 702 rods of pipeline were installed on 21 ranches to protect vegetative cover through better grassland management.

To date 14 ranchmen have applied for cost-shares to help carry out conservation practices in 1963. Funds allocated to Terrell County for this work during 1963 are $51,493.

Moisture Received From Snow, Rain

About 50-inch of moisture was received over most of the county this week from rainfall and snow.

A shower early Monday morning left about 40-inch of moisture in local gauges, with up to 70-inch reported in some parts of the northwestern portion of the county.

There was some snow Monday and all day Tuesday which added a little moisture to that received from the rain.

The snow covered all of the ground before noon, but by mid-afternoon, moderating temperatures melted all of the snow except that in sheltered places.

Temperatures dropped to below freezing Monday morning and Tuesday night, but indications were for a warming trend with Wednesday dawning clear and remaining clear and warmer all day.

Charged Forger Caught In Abilene

A man charge with forging and passing a forged instrument has been apprehended in Abilene, according to Sheriff Bill C. Cooksey, and will be returned to Sanderson to face the charge as soon as possible.

The man bought some merchandise at the James Word Station last Friday afternoon late. The merchandise was two tires with a value of about $40 each, according to James Word.

Word stated that he learned of the sale soon after the man left and suspicioned the transaction, and upon checking, learned that all the information given by the purchaser was incorrect. He then alerted local officers who tried to apprehend the man, but he was not seen nor heard from until Tuesday, when it was learned that he had been picked up in Abilene on other charges and was being held there.

Sheriff Cooksey called the police department in Abilene and placed a "hold" on the suspect.

The food for the banquet was prepared by the wives of Lion Club members and was served by the members of the Womens Society of Christian Service of the El Buen Pastor Church.

The Valentine motif was used in the decorations. Red hearts were on the streamer down the center of the white linen-covered tables. A large white styrofoam heart on a white base centered the speaker's table. Gold footballs were around the edge of the heart, pierced by a gilded dart, and decorated with red roses and red satin ribbons.

The all-sports banquet takes the place of the annual football banquet and the first venture has been proclaimed as very successful by the members of the club.

The Eagles will play the Owls in Big Lake Tuesday night and will play Eldorado at Iraan on Friday night of next week to wind up the current cage season.

The Roadrunners will play Eldorado in Ozona next Tuesday night for their final game.

Commissioners Drop Cars From Tax Rolls

Terrell County Commissioners dropped automobiles from the tax rolls of the county in action Monday at the regular meeting.

The action was the result of a review of the delinquent tax rolls and the number of automobiles listed on the delinquent list and the cost of collection compared with the net returns of the possible collectable taxes on automobiles.

Vehicles not affected by the action of the commissioners included all vehicles other than passenger cars.

The cars were added to the tax rolls about eight years ago by the tax assessor because many people in the county were rendering their automobiles for taxation purposes and paying on them and many were not. The automobiles were placed on the tax rolls in an effort to equalize assessments and because of the need for additional funds.

Due to vast differences in the prices of the various automobiles and their equipment, an arbitrary valuation of $400 was placed on all cars up to three years old, regardless of make and extras; $200 on all cars over three years old, up to seven years old; and $100 on all cars over seven years old.

Thus, at the tax rate of the county and state, this would be $4.76 in taxes due the county and state on a car up to three years old, $2.38 due on a car over three and up to seven years old, and $1.19 on all cars over seven years old.

The commissioners stated that they knew that this valuation was not accurate and equal, but the administrative cost of looking up an accurate valuation on each individual car, taking into consideration all, if any extras, the condition of the tires, etc., would far outweigh the little tax differential that would result. It was also felt that taxpayers would be willing to accept the arbitrary valuation since so little money was involved with each taxpayer, and since so many residents of the county were asked to pay only the taxes that were placed on their automobiles since they owned no other taxable property.

The tax received by the county on automobiles is divided as follows: 3c for the jury fund; 25c for the road and bridge fund; 37c for the general fund; and 12c for the courthouse and jail fund, totaling 77c for each $100 valuation that is taxed.

Of the 42c that goes to the state, it is also allocated among various funds, of which the highway department derives some of its operational costs, and the minimum foundation fund, from which all schools of the state benefit, etc.

The delinquent tax rolls of the county on personal property, have increased over the years to the point where it was deemed advisable to drop the automobiles, due to the administrative expense involved, including the cost of mailing tax statements, tax rolls, delinquent statements, delinquent rolls, etc.

NO WONDER THE HOUSE ISN'T READY

State Capitol NEWS

By Vern Sanford
 Texas Press Association

Lawyers are wondering if the Texas Senate really passed a constitutional amendment resolution proposing that the voters give women equal rights. Records show that this resolution passed the Senate 26-5. But it also shows that the Senate voted down an amendment that would have made it clear that the purpose of the proposal was to repeal all laws on the statute books which treat women differently from men. When courts interpret the laws and the constitution, legislative intent is what they must determine. Records now show that the legislative intent of the Senate was not to repeal all the discriminatory laws about women. This proposal, by Sen. William T. Moore of Bryan, has been defeated in the Senate many times. It now goes to the House of Representatives, which has passed it many times before. Texas Sells Itself Legislators' proposals to add such slogans as "Lone Star State" and "Texas Has Everything" to auto license plates haven't found favor with Dewitt Greer, chief engineer for the State Highway Department. "T-E-X-A-S is the only slogan this state needs," Greer told the House Appropriations Committee.

He added that more wording on car tags just means additional expense. "All law enforcement officers will tell you," Greer explained, "that the readability of the rest of the plate is lessened if you crowd it with slogans." Parks-Highway Tie-In Greer testified before the same committee during hearings on a bill by Rep. David Haines of Bryan to put state parks under the Highway Commission's jurisdiction. Greer made it clear that his commission is not seeking an extra job. But he stated, "If you gave us the parks to administer, we would do an outstanding job of it." Haines' proposal is an alternative to Gov. John Connally's suggestion that the Parks Board be combined with the Game and Fish Commission. Rep. Haines said he thought Greer's agency could and should take over the parks, and make each highway district responsible for the parks in its district. "If the parks were improved," Haines stated, "it would increase highway travel which would increase gas consumption. And that would increase the gas taxes to the highway commission, so they would have a high stake in doing a good job." Death of Poll Tax? If the rest of the Senate feels like the Senate committee on constitutional amendments, the poll tax may be on its way to extinction. Committee gave a nine-to-two approval of Laredo Senator Abraham Kazen's bill to submit to the people a constitutional amendment that would kill the poll tax as of February 1, 1963. The two "no" votes in committee came from Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas and Sen. Gallo-way Calhoun Jr. of Tyler. "Ayes" came from Sens. Kazen, Charles Herring of Austin, Roy Harrington of Port Arthur, Don Kennard of Fort Worth, Culp Krueger of El Campo, Walter Richter of Gonzales, Aaron Schwartz of Galveston, Franklin Spears of San Antonio and Jack Strong of Langview. If Kazen's bill passes the full legislature, voters would make the final decision in the 1964 general election. So far, every state that has voted on the federal constitutional amendment to do away with poll taxes, except Mississippi, has voted to drop it. "Color-Blind" Tax Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth introduced a bill to make the poll tax "color blind." Green called the race notation on voter registration forms useless and outmoded. Furthermore "It is an additional bar to full citizenship." He believes his bill will pass with little opposition, but there are many who consider the race notation a necessary aid to voter identification. Anti-Pollution Bill A bill to give a county health officer the power to enter and check business establishments and manufacturing plants "to discover threats to the public health" from air or water pollution was revived by Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston. He failed to get it passed in previous sessions. Gov. Connally is supporting the new bill. Attorney General Donations Are Opposed Contributions from oil companies to finance investigations by the attorney general to see if competitor's oil wells are slanted would be outlawed under a bill introduced by Rep. Ben Barnes of DeLeon. Nearly $300,000 in contributions from major — and some minor — oil companies was used by former Atty. Gen. Will Wilson to make such surveys in East Texas. Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr told Rep. Barnes that the $80,000 recently appropriated by the legislature will be sufficient for his investigations. So Barnes filed a proposal to make it illegal for the attorney general to accept money from anyone to investigate or prosecute anything. Parental Pay Plan Fifty per cent of a man's weekly wages could be attached to pay child support if Tyler Rep. Ben Jarvis' bill becomes a constitutional amendment. County Unit Change Proposed Rep. George T. Hinson of Mineola thinks it's time someone began doing something about "modernizing county government." So he has introduced a bill to require county commissioners to be elected by the county at large. Each county precinct would have to put up resident candidates, which, Hinson explained, would assure continued local representation through pooled knowledge of each precinct's problems, and prevent the largest community from filling a commissioners court with its own residents. Hinson believes his county-at-large election plan would get commissioners from all precincts to work at all times for the best interests of the entire county. If his bill becomes law, Hinson sees it as a forerunner of eventual, economical pool of resources — capital, road machinery, manpower, and equipment — of all a county's precincts into one central unit. H. E. Fletcher left Tuesday night for a business trip to San Antonio.

Prayer by Mrs. Susie Montgomery opened the meeting and members answered roll call with Bible verses.

"The Promotion of Wool and Achievements" was again chosen as the theme of the project for the year and members voted that each choose her own hand-work project and exhibit what she had made at the end of the year. The Club Prayer was recited for dismissal after a short business session.

The members present explained the making of the wool dress which she modelled. Mrs. Montgomery modelled a red jacket; Mrs. Newman Billings, a black sheath dress; Mrs. Hall, a three-piece suit; Mrs. Pavlica, a black wool sheath; Mrs. Andy White, a brown tweed sheath; Mrs. T. H. Eastman, a blue tweed sheath; Mrs. E. B. Renfro, a jacket of wool felt. Mrs. Billings also displayed the dresses which she had made for her granddaughters, Rosellen and Vonda G. Maness — wool jumpers of orange and green wool with blouses.

Handwork consisting of wool articles, crochet, art, needlework and other achievements were arranged on tables for exhibit. A quilt made from men's ties drew much comment.

Members are requested to bring some kind of handwork to the next meeting which will be in the home of Mrs. E. P. Bradford.

moisture in the ground over most of the county, with some areas getting more.

The snow covered the ground Tuesday morning, but had melted before mid-afternoon and left traces only in sheltered places.

This moisture, like most all other precipitation ever received in Terrell County, was good, but it's going to take some more!

One of the greatest benefits of the cold snap is that it kept fruit trees and shrubs in town, and the brush in the country from putting out buds which probably would have been frozen by a later cold spell.

We have not heard of any loss to livestock, even though there were some ranchmen who sheared last week.

Letters from Readers

I read with interest your story on the eagle meeting, but was disappointed that apparently no one pointed out that our own great U. S. Senator from Texas, Ralph Yarborough, was the author of this asinine bill.

Apparently the federal men conducting these meetings throughout the sheep and goat country are trying to "cover up" for Yarborough now by putting the blame on "Nature Boy" Udall.

The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association just last fall had several men in Washington testifying against the proposal in public hearings. The Association's magazine had several editorials in it last summer and fall, trying to alert sheep and goat raisers to the stab-in-the-back they were getting from their own Senator.

But apparently good old Ralph had accurate information that there are more "bird watchers" or Audubon Society members in the state than there are sheep and goat raisers. So our men were wasting their time and money going to Washington.

One thing is certain - all sheep or goat men (or anyone who sells to or does business with sheep and goat people) should have their heads examined if they ever vote again for Ralph Yarborough, the author of the hated bill, or for "big brother", the president, who signed the bill into law after its passage by Congress.

And the only way to get rid of Mr Udall is to vote "big brother" and the rest of the family out of office just a little less than two years from now: These "New Frontiersmen" have decided that sheep and goat raisers are "surplus property" and are determined to put them all out of business. Next thing you know they'll have inspectors down from the "United Nations" checking on our eagle population.

I hope you have space to print my letter but am asking that you keep my name locked in the safe. If Ralph and Udall find out my name they'll probably decide that my rocky old sheep and goat land would make a good "national seashore" or bird sanctuary.

Sincerely,
(Ed. Note: Name is withheld at the request of the author. We refuse to print or acknowledge receipt of letters that are unsigned.)

Four different ways to make going more fun than getting there

You can see why one of America's favorite outdoor sports is driving Chevrolets, with four entirely different kinds of cars to choose from. There's the Jet-smooth Chevrolet, about as luxurious as you can go without going overboard in price; the low-cost Chevy II, a good-looking car that would send any family packing; another family favorite, the sporty Corvair, whose rear-engine traction will make you think that ice and snow are kid stuff; and for pure adventure, America's only sports car, Corvette—now in two all-new versions with looks that can stop traffic like a rush-hour blizzard. Picked your favorite already? The next thing is to take the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's. If that doesn't have you thinking of places to go, maybe you'd rather just have a ball around town!
