LISTEN TO LUKE

We once heard someone say: "You know, nothing's like it used to be!"

With the fact of our becoming great-grandparents last week and finally a beginning of the realization of it, we are beginning to realize that nothing is like it used to be.

But being great-grandparents is an extension of the pride of being parents, and grandparents and we are anxious to see Shaun.

The local Explorer Post 160 and their leaders are to be commended for their fine work in beginning of the Terrell County Museum. We hope that the effort will catch the interest of many more people and can grow into a fine thing for the county.

Travelers through Sanderson visitors here, and residents of the county should all be interested in the growth of the idea and its perpetuation.

We are not going to try to encourage anyone to take anything away from the Explorer Scouts, but we think that they should get the encouragement and help of all local organizations in the progress of their project.

We see no reason why the museum couldn't grow into one of the focal points of interest in the county. We know there are many things that could be added to the displays there. We have seen a bunch of them together at our 30th anniversary celebration.

Leaders give their assurance of the proper cataloging and care of all items, plus issuing a receipt to the owner of each item accepted to assure its recovery at any time he chooses.

If you haven't visited the museum, go to the house next door to the water district office and go through and see what they have and think of what you may have that others would be interested in seeing.

The Joe Kerr Estate has made the property available for the displays and Mrs. Jim Kerr has worked hard and offered liberally of items of interest she may have for the museum.

Other donors or lenders have things in their closets and trunks to come up with some very interesting items to add to those of the Kerr families.

Go by and see the display.

One thing we often hear discussed is concern over a continually decreasing economic picture in Sanderson. This decrease is laid to many causes, some of which are the decrease in population caused by the slow-up of oil and gas exploration work by the decrease in drilling operations near Sanderson, and other things such as section gangs.

With the business changes of a normal nature, there is no longer the need or demand of a bakery in Sanderson, and competition has made dress shops, furniture store, and other related retail business unprofitable in Sanderson. These things are the normal course of events and are inevitable, regardless of the plans of business people, the Chamber of Commerce, and any one else.

Wind Un-Roots V.F.W. Hall Here Last Thursday Night

Strong winds Thursday night of last week did considerable damage locally, most severe of which was the unroofing of the V.F.W. Hall. The corrugated iron roofing was literally torn from the rafters in the high winds that struck early Thursday night.

There was some rain about 40-inch locally — and hail on the west edge of town and on westward to the county line.

Water blowing into the V.F.W. Hall also did extensive damage to the floor.

Limbs were torn from some trees over town and there were also reports of fruit being knocked from fruit trees.

There were no reports coming in of damage by the hail, which was said to be soft but heavy.

What seemed to be as heavy a display of lightning as is possible preceded the rain.

A washout on the SP tracks about five miles west of town delayed the east-bound passenger train which went on a siding at Longfellow for several hours. Repairs crews made the necessary repairs with ballast.

Lightning struck the bluff just under the "SHS" south of town and knocked large boulders loose from the bluff, some of which rolled into the canyon below.

Lightning also struck the top of the hill above the water tank, dislodging one large boulder that rolled about half way down the hill.

Over two inches of rain were reported in about 30 minutes south and east of town and about 1 1/2-inches was reported just west of town on Thursday night.

The downpour was not big in its scope, running easterly, but playing out before going very far.

There have been several thunderstorms fall in the county in recent days, scattered, but leaving a beneficial amount of moisture in many areas of the county.

Cloudy weather continues and intermittent and scattered showers continue to dot the area.

Freshman Ball Team Beats Alpine 7-5

The Sanderson freshman baseball team played their first game of the year against the Alpine Yanks and beat the host team by a 7-5 score. All of the games with Alpine will be played there due to the lack of suitable playing field here, according to the coaches.

The lineup is as follows: Joe Mendez, center field; Carlos Garza, third base; Tommy Weigand, pitcher; Frank Garcia, short stop; Andrew Riess, 1st base; Steve Turner, 2nd base; Lupe Cerda, catcher; Tommy Gray, right field; Jimmy Rodriguez, right field; Pablo Ochoa, right field; Steve Cerda, left field; Alejandro Escamilla, left field; Ray Marquez, 2nd base; Eric Cooksey, 2nd base.

Weigand pitched a two-hitter and had three for four at bat, hitting a home run in the first inning with two on and scored twice.

Lupe Cerda drove in the two winning runs in the seventh inning with a squeeze bunt with runners on second and third.

The local boys will go to Alpine Friday night and Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hodgkins went to Kingsville Saturday to take their daughter, Miss Terry Jean Hodgkins, who will attend the summer session at A&I College. From Kingsville they went to Abilene where he is attending the annual convention of Texas postmasters.

Terrell County Museum Opened By Explorers

Boy Scout Explorer Post No. 160 has instituted the Terrell County Museum in the house next door to the Water District office. The Scouts and their leadership that the project will be self-perpetuating and that it will receive the support of the citizenry of the county.

The museum was opened to the public for the first time Sunday afternoon and will be open daily from 2:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.

In the southeast front room is a display of general items of historic interest to this area and of a general historic interest. The display includes some old furniture, some old books, Bibles, papers, pictures, etc.

The southwest front room is the "Joe Kerr and Jim Kerr Memorial room." It now contains an old pharmaceutical counter, an old stove, and will later contain items in keeping with the designation.

One of the back rooms has the designation of "Cowboy Room" and will contain memorabilia of that type.

Station-to-Station Phone Rates Lower After June 15th

Cuts in the cost of station-to-station long-distance phone calls within Texas between 9:00 p.m. and 4:30 a.m. will go into effect June 15.

Tom Potter, manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. announced the rate reductions this week, along with a slight increase in person-to-person calls.

The new rates will provide a maximum charge of 80 cents for the "after 9" three-minute calls anywhere within the state, he said. Reductions up to 50 cents on the longest such calls within Texas will result from the new rates.

Potter said that over time rates after three minutes will still apply, although overtime rates for station-to-station calls between 9:00 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. have been reduced.

Along with this reduction there will be a slight increase in most person-to-person calls within the state, Potter announced. This will amount to five cents in most person-to-person rates on both day and evening calls.

The new "after 9" station-to-station rates for three-minute calls will fall into three brackets, according to Potter.

Calls of 83 to 202 miles will cost 50 cents, a reduction ranging from five to 25 cents under present rates.

Calls 203 to 360 miles will cost 60 cents, a reduction of 20 to 40 cents.

Calls of 361 miles or more will cost 80 cents, a reduction of 20 to 50 cents.

Station-to-station rates remain the same on calls of less than 83 miles, and on calls made between 4:30 a.m. and 9:00 p.m. There will be no reductions for collect calls or calls charged to a third telephone.

Calendar of Events

Sunday — Quarterly conference Methodist Church and covered-dish dinner.

Monday — Presbyterian Women, C of C directors, B. of R.T. Auxiliary

Tuesday — Masons, Legion Auxiliary

Wednesday — Rotary Club

Thursday — Lions Club, Legion, Duplicate Club

Many items are already on display in all three rooms, and there are items on hand that will be catalogued and displayed as time and space permit.

The leaders of the movement to give impetus to the museum for the county have asked The Times for cooperation in seeking items for display in the museum. All items will be catalogued and the lender given a receipt for each item so that it may be reclaimed at any time the owner wishes. The windows have been barred and every effort will be made to insure the safekeeping of each and every item.

It has been stressed that anyone having any items for display in the museum are asked to contact the Scout leaders and come by and visit the museum to see the displays on hand now and the care that is being taken to restore and preserve the items that are displayed.

There is no charge for admission to the museum, but an old strongbox receives contributions of visitors. The Scout leaders say that all contributions received will go to perpetuate the museum, and that none of the donations would go for any Boy Scout or Explorer expenditure.

The Scout leaders stated they also hoped to get the cooperation of some organization in the county to see that the museum is continued even in case of the discontinuance of the Explorer or Boy Scout movements locally or the moving of the leaders who now are working with the project and their replacement by others not willing to carry on. "In this way, we feel that the museum for and of Terrell County will go on, regardless of whether or not we as Scout leaders are able to continue our work," they said.

Classes Begin At St. James Church Last Monday

At the request of the pastor, Rev. Nicholas Femenia, three missionary sisters arrived in Sanderson last weekend to prepare for the opening of the Religion Vacation School on Monday, June 3.

Sister Sophia, Superior, from Fort Stockton, Sister Mary Gerard from El Paso, and Sister Eloise from Midland, comprise the teaching personnel. Capable lay assistants have been recruited to complete the staff.

Enrollment the first day: elementary grades 1 through 6: 164; junior high, 7 and 8: 22; high school, 30; adult classes, 14; a total of 230.

Classes are conducted for the elementary and junior high students from 9:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. High school students and adults attending classes from 7:00 to 8:00 8:00 p.m.

The missionary sisters said they were grateful to Fr. Femenia and his parishioners for the preliminary planning and work done to produce such splendid results the first day of school.

The aim of the religion school is to form the mind and hearts of the students to live a vitalized Christ-life based on the "Good News of Our Salvation" in the sacred gospels.

The high school groups are following a course entitled "Fulfillment in Christ" which explores the Old and New Testament challenging the student to become more Christ-like. "The Old Testament is a time of expectation and preparation for Christ, while the New Testament is the fulfillment of God's promise in the gift of His son Christ, showing us how we can fulfill our responsibilities toward God and gain true and eternal happiness in God forever," the lesson says.

upon the water. And we are glad we have found it that way. There are things we have to buy out of town, the same as any one else. But we have discovered that very little money that we spend out of town comes back.

Local businesses are asked to support this project and that organization or movement, and it is only hard feelings that results from their refusal because of the inability to do so. And their inability to do so usually is the result of people - and usually of those who ask for help - not patronizing local businesses.

Local businesses make payrolls, offer services and items you need, are available handily in an emergency or to gripe at because of breakdowns, inferior merchandise or workmanship; they pay taxes, support local institutions, make possible all our being able to live here, and are more interested in the well-being of Sanderson and Terrell County than any one else.

Your consideration of these facts will be appreciated. We join the other Christian people of the world in the mourning of the loss of Pope John 23d.

He was a man who was loved and honored by people of all denominations. His influence for good has been felt in every part of the world and his efforts toward the unification of all Christianity will surely be carried on.

Brush Control And Re-Seeding Said 'Profitable'

Weather has been very favorable this spring for ranchers in the Rio Grande-Pecos River Soil Conservation District, and good results have been obtained from brush control and reseeded practices, according to W. O. Ray, soil conservation technician for the district.

Overflow sites have been reseeded at the Joe Brown, Sid Harkins, and Herbert Brown ranches and spring rains have brought up the seed in abundance. It is hoped that follow-up moisture continues to come and these areas will then provide several months of grazing and allow other rangeland to make good growth for winter.

Pastures that have been previously established have made a rapid growth from the first rains received and are now ready for grazing. Roger Rose, whose pasture was planted several years ago, plans to let the Johnsons go to seed to improve the vigor and establish new seedlings.

Over 11,000 acres of brush have been controlled this past year in the district. This includes grubbing pear and lechuguilla and rootplowing. Pear and lechuguilla cuts should also be very successful in having grasses re-established after resting through the growing season.

Cost share for the control of competitive brush was paid to 18 operators this past year by the Terrell County ASC office.
