LISTEN TO LUKE

book recommended for reading is J. Everts Haley's "A Texan at Lyndon".

The book not only quotes incidents, but gives footnotes quoting source of information so that they may be verified by the reader who wants to go to as much effort as did the author.

The book is also an insight into higher political circles in this nation of ours and an X-ray to one of the causes of moral decay because of the corruption in national figures.

The reader doesn't have to believe all that he reads in the book, but his thoughts will be changed, to say the least!

There are those, always, who wonder what they want to believe, with or without foundation. And there are those who sometimes in the search of a belief.

Regardless of whether you agree with Mr. Haley's political philosophies, you must admit after reading the book, that what he has authored is not truth, then he is subject to the best cinches in a libel that can be imagined.

Don't believe Mr. Haley did mind our attaching the designation "extremist" on him for our efforts to describe how he has gone in revealing certain things in the political life of president.

We feel that your consideration should be given to the study of the proposed amendments to the state's constitution.

When people will be against amendment for the sake of wanting a change. And of people say they are against all amendments to the constitution because none of them are any use to ourselves, are inclined to believe that most of them lack the completeness of thought and timing we think they should have.

Of the three proposals we will faced with in November, we along with the first two without a doubt, but have some reservations about the third. There have to be a little more.

Suit Involves West-Pyle Ranch

A suit involving ownership interests in the 200,000-acre West-Pyle ranch of Pecos and Brewster counties, valued at many millions of dollars, is on file in the 112th district court of Pecos County. Plaintiffs in the suit are Wesley W. West and wife, Neva Watkins West, of Houston, owners of a minority stock interest in the corporation which holds title to the ranch lands. Their petition lists as attorneys Bullock Kerr, and Scott of Fort Stockton, and Moursund and Ferguson of Johnson City. Judge A. W. Moursund recently has received national attention as the personal attorney of President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and as trustee of their properties.

Defendants in the suit are Longfellow Ranch Corp., chartered in Delaware in April of 1962, West Cattle Co., chartered in Texas in 1933, and T. H. Monroe of Houston.

Presidents of the corporations are listed as William R. Lloyd of Harris County for the Longfellow Ranch Corp. and William B. Blakemore II of Midland for the West Cattle Co.

The petition alleges that through control of a majority of stock of the West Cattle Co., the Longfellow Ranch Corp. is dominating its affairs and conducting them in such a manner as to damage the position and interest of the minority stockholders.

August 19 has been set by Judge Charles Sherrill of the 112th District Court for hearing on the application for a temporary injunction to prevent alleged dissipation of assets pending permanent settlement of the claims, and dissolution of the control of West Cattle Co. by Longfellow Ranch Corp., and election of A. W. Moursund and Wesley West to the board of directors of West Cattle Co.

The plaintiff's petition recites that the West Cattle Co. was formed in 1933 with J. M. West, late lumber, oil and ranch magnate, holding 750 shares, F. B. (Buck) Pyle Jr., of Pecos County holding 250 shares, and Wesley West, son of J. M. West and present plaintiff in the suit holding 1 share.

Following death of J. M. West in 1962 and distribution of shares to other heirs, the petition alleges that Wesley West has found himself in the position of minority interest holder, and that the later creation of the Longfellow Ranch Corp., which owns 624.5 shares of West Cattle Co. stock formerly held by Pyle, other West heirs, and other individuals has created a control of the affairs of West Cattle Co. injurious to his interest as a minority stockholder.

Directors of the West Cattle Co. now are Blakemore, Edwin A. Dwyer, Pyle, Robert H. Presley, James A. Reichert, and Harold Conklin. One of the actions of the board complained of by Wesley West in the petition is the voting of a dividend of a 1-16th non-participating royalty interest in the lands to stockholders earlier in 1964. West alleges a discriminatory tax position is being thus created against him.

Switching Crew Pulled Off Duty Last Friday

The switch engine crew was pulled off duty last Friday as the result of tests held for 10 consecutive days last month. The crew consists of G. E. Rosenquist, W. F. Frazor, H. M. Beckett, Jess Fisher, and Richard Jones.

The tests were a part of an agreement in which the switch engine crew would be discontinued if tests proved that the crew was not busy for as much as four hours a day in ten days. The tests proved this contention and resulted in the abolishment of those jobs.

Similar tests in Del Rio failed to prove basis for abolishing the switching crew jobs, but the engine in Valentine was also pulled off.

There has been no decision on the job fate of the men involved in the cut.

School Ends For Teaching English To Pre-1st Graders

Friday was the last day of the school to teach English to the children who will start in the first grade this year and who do not understand English. Mrs. Mary Riggs was the instructor for the school.

Classes were held in the elementary school five mornings each week with an enrollment of 22 to begin. Two of the children dropped out when their families moved from Sanderson and another only attended for a few days.

The purpose of the school is to familiarize the children with some common English words that they will need in the first grade to be able to take part in classroom activities. It is also a beginning of the long road of learning to converse, and write and read the language of their country.

The disadvantage of these students' not understanding the English language causes them to have to overcome a hardship in their first year of school which has its effect on the capabilities and the foundations for learning. It was pointed out.

Three Fractures Over Weekend

Three local citizens received fractured arms over the weekend.

Allan Baker received a fracture of both arms while at play; Jose Flores received a fracture of the lower arm when he was thrown from a truck early Tuesday morning, and Mrs. H. L. Surratt received a fracture of the upper arm when she fell at her home Monday night. She was given treatment locally and sent to Fort Stockton to be hospitalized.

County Gets Nice Lease On School Land

At the regular term of the commissioners court Monday of this week, bids were received on 1,026.75 acres of school land in Gaines County. The only bidder was Standard Oil Co. of Texas and their bid was accepted.

The check for $65,010.33 accompanied the bid and goes to the permanent school fund and will be invested by the commissioners within the near future.

The bid was for approximately $62.00 per acre.

Another lease expires on the school land in Gaines County about the middle of the month.

Scattered Rains Hit Over County

Up to two inches of rainfall was reported from some parts of Terrell County last weekend. The rains were scattered and spotted.

Some good and beneficial rain was reported Saturday morning to the north of Sanderson and north of Dryden rainfall came in quantities up to one and one-half inches.

South of Dryden good rains were reported to have fallen slowly and in good quantity.

There were several cases of people being stuck in their pickups on ranches following the rain Saturday.

Sunday afternoon, some rainfall was reported between Sanderson and Dryden.

Some frequent rainfall has added considerably to the outlook for this fall on some ranches, but a general rain of sizeable proportions is still needed to be beneficial to the entire area.

Gene Hibbard, 29, Former Resident, Dies of Cancer

Eugene A. (Gene) Hibbard, 29, died in Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital on Tuesday, August 4. He had been in the hospital for two months and was a victim of cancer, according to reports.

Harry Harkins Is Victim Of Accidental Gunshot

Harry Harkins, the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Harkins Jr., was the victim of an accidental gunshot wound about 2:00 p.m. Thursday. He had removed a 22-calibre automatic pistol from a jeep at the David Mitchell ranch, about 35 miles northeast of Sanderson, when the accident occurred.

Dr. W. R. McWilliams, who went to the scene of the accident with Deputy Sheriff Dalton Hogg, both surmised that the youth had dropped the pistol and it discharged, the bullet striking him in the breast and traveling upward toward the shoulder.

The youth's twin brother, Travis, was with him just prior to the accident. Both were working on the Mitchell ranch.

Harry was a football and basketball starter last year and he and his twin brother had reached the regional play-offs in tennis doubles competition last spring.

He had been active in sports during all of school career and was slated to retain his end slot on the Sanderson High School football team which begins practicing next week. He would have been a junior this year.

He was named favorite of the sophomore class at the high school last year.

Services were held in the First Presbyterian Church Friday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock and burial was in the Cedar Grove Cemetery. The funeral service was held by Rev. Bob R. Moon, pastor of the local Presbyterian Church, and Rev. T. O. Perrin, pastor of the Fort Stockton Presbyterian Church. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Janes Funeral Home of Ozona.

Survivors, besides the twin brother and the parents, include a sister, Nancy Harkins; grandparents, Mrs. E. E. Harkins of Austin, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cochran of Fort Stockton; and five uncles: Bill Cochran, Cuero; Doyle and Claude Harkins of Austin, and Sid and Jolly Harkins of Sanderson and several cousins.

Pallbearers at the funeral were Jay, Tim, Wayne, Ernie, Steve and Monty Harkins, all cousins; Bill Adams, John Cates, Haley Haynes, and Bobby Allen, all classmates; Woody D. Richards of El Paso, assistant high school football coach last year, was an honorary pallbearer.

Out-of-town relatives and friends here for the funeral services were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cochran of Fort Stockton, and Mrs. E. E. Harkins of Austin, grandparents; Miss Ruby Cochran, a great-aunt, and Miss Thelma Randle and Miss Opal Walters, San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cochran and daughters, Susan and Avis Ann, Cuero; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Harkins and children, Ernie, Claudia, Sam, Randall, and Mary Lou of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Harkins and sons, Wayne and Tim, of Austin, all uncles of the deceased; and the following cousins: Mr. and Mrs. Jay Harkins; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Choice of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dickson and sons, Cotton and Linc, of Atlanta; and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Leatherwood, Pecos; Mr. and Mrs. Al Dishman and children, Steve and Mike, of Uvalde; Mr. and Mrs. Woody Richards, El Paso; Mrs. A. Claude Garner, Odessa; G. W. Cunningham, and Rev. and Mrs. T. O. Perrin, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Whittacre, Mrs. Sims Reeves Sr., Mrs. Ben Peeler, George Reeves, Fort Stockton; Mrs. Lawrence Jones and children, Sharon Lane, Georganne, and Janice, of Ozona.

Wetback Hiring Hit By Federal Judge Suttle

Lee Dudley and David Mitchell were among four West Texas ranchmen that were subpoenaed to appear as witnesses in U.S. District Court "wetback" trials in El Paso Tuesday. Albert Appel, also of Sanderson, was unable to appear because of being hospitalized, although he was subpoenaed.

Ranchers Norman Powell 'Bud' Thompson of Vanderpool, David Mitchell and Lee Dudley of Sanderson, and Caven Woodard of Alpine took the stand under oath to testify in the trials of five Mexican nationals charged with illegally entering the U.S.

Thompson, foreman of a 2,700-acre farm owned by Paul L. Davis of Midland, recognized the defendant in custody, recalled he was arrested in April with "three or four" other aliens on his ranch

Grid Players Asked To Meet Friday at 2:30

Ms. J. D. McDaniel To H.E. Conference

Mrs. J. D. McDaniel, home making teacher in the Sanderson High School, participated in the State In-Service Education Conference for Homemaking Teachers held in San Antonio last week.

During the five-day conference emphasis was given to provisions of the Vocational Act of 1963, and to the contributions of homemaking education in the preparation of youth and adults for the occupation of homemaking and for occupatinos involving home economics knowledge and skills.

Mr. McDaniel accompanied his wife to San Antonio for the meeting.

Two Fires Sunday Are Extinguished

Two fires Sunday were extinguished with fire extinguishers before serious damage could result, and before the arrival of volunteer firemen.

At the Sanderson Gulf Station a 5-gallon can of gasoline in the rear of a car caught fire and fast work by the extinguisher put out the blaze.

Almost immediately afterward, grease at Harvey's Restaurant caught fire and again was extinguished by quick action.

Damage in both fires was considered only slight.

by immigration officers and said he knew he had been arrested before.

He said defendant Raul Aviles-Villanueva had worked for him six months prior to the "last time he was caught" and 22 days in April, that the Immigration and Naturalization Service had been to his ranch three or four times to pick up aliens and that he knew that Villanueva was "wet" at the time he hired him for $3 a day and board.

Thompson said he made no inquiry as to his employee's immigration status, criminal record, or health. He said the defendant lived in the hills two miles from ranch headquarters and that he had four illegal aliens working at the time of the officers' visit. He said he had hired the aliens of his own volition and on his own authority.

Judge D. W. Suttle informed the witnesses of their right not to testify against themselves and warned they were "skating on thin ice."

"When you hire an alien and tell him work is waiting if he returns, you are in danger of aiding, abetting and encouraging his illegal entry."

"The purpose of this court in bringing you here is to make you aware of the problems of cost in running these aliens down, of prosecuting them and of transporting them back to their homes. If you all do not give them employment they won't return. The court is interested in letting you know the seriousness of your acts. Among these workers are many with long criminal records, those with TB and other communicable diseases, thieves.

Dr. and Mrs. McWilliams will move their home furnishings here as soon as a house is located and his office furniture and equipment as soon as the building is completed.

rapists, forgers, and murderers. It is for this reason the government goes to great expense to screen those it legally permits to cross its borders - for your protection and that of other taxpayers. All I ask is assurance of your future cooperation as an American citizen that you will not give them employment," Judge Suttle said.

When Thompson said he could not promise, Judge Suttle warned that the Immigration Service would keep an eye on his ranch and admonished him to stay "within the law as it is written". He said it was a paradox that the law required the ranchers to be paid 10 cents mileage and $8 a day for their appearance as witnesses.

The ranchers were present in court when Ezequiel Roman-Anaya was sentenced to one year in La Tuna Prison. The defendant, 31, had eight voluntary returns to Mexico, two deportations and previously was sentenced in January to three months for illegal entry. He was convicted of murder in Presidio, Texas, on February 17, 1958, and served two years in Huntsville State Prison.

Another defendant, Martin-Lujan-Arrieta, arrested on the O-2 Ranch near Alpine, has a long criminal record dating back to 1943, including an assault with intent to murder the mayor of his native village in the interior of Mexico.

Woodward, foreman of the 273,000-acre ranch owned by the Likes Bros., Inc., of Houston, said the defendant had worked for him on and off since 1940. He said the ranch is in a good pass from Mexico and quite a few wetbacks stopped there on their way into the U.S. He said the I&N officers had checked the ranch "pretty regularly, every two or three weeks" since 1952.

Dudley said defendant Othon Rodriguez-Morena had never worked for him before although he had so testified. He said he was "pretty sure" he was an illegal alien but had not asked and never inquired if a man "had a record." He said three aliens had been arrested on his "small ranch" of 12 sections this year and that immigration officers had been there "lots of times".

He voiced an apparent general rancher opinion in saying he did not know what cooperation he could give.

"They'll steal us out of house and home if it gets known we are involved in their deportation," Dudley told the court.

He was assured the ranchers would not be involved in deporting proceedings and that all the ranchers were asked to do was tell the aliens they had no work to offer.

"You comprehend the problem and we can lick it only with your cooperation," Judge Suttle said. Dudley said he would rather not give an answer.

"We live on the border. They're hungry over there and will steal if they can't get work," he said.

Judge Suttle acknowledged that there were thousands of others hungry and in need of work throughout the world who would come from Asia, Africa and other depressed areas if the U.S. let down the bars.

"We have a program of admitting desirable labor. We must screen the Communists and other undesirables and the right of the individual must be secondary to the rights of the majority. This is a government of laws and each citizen has an obligation through the enjoyment of its benefits and privileges to observe not only the letter but the spirit of the law," Judge Suttle said.

Ed. Note: The details of the testimony above were taken from the El Paso Times Wednesday.

Cattlemen Laud Senate Action On Beef Imports

The president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, speakink at the East Texas Farm and Ranch Club meeting in Tyler last week, applauded the passage of a bill imposing reasonable restrictions on beef imports by the Senate. Fred Wulff of Brady said the passage of this bill is a step toward stabilizing the U.S. beef cattle industry and voiced the hope that it would be followed by prompt and favorable action in the House of Representatives.

The bill passed the Senate by a vote of 72 to 15. Senator Ralph Yarborough and Senator John Tower were among those voting for the bill. "Our senators are to be commended for this action," Wulff stated. "Presuming this bill becomes law, it means that the beef producer of the future will have little hope knowing that each time he tries to solve his own beef supply problems his action will result in a larger share of the U.S. beef market," he declared.

The bill passed by the Senate would restrict imports of beef, veal, lamb, and mutton and canned meats to a five-year average based on the years 1959-63. Beef imports during this period were the highest five years in history.

thinking done before we can go along with this proposal.
 If there are those who have some good views to pass on to our readers, we would welcome your thoughts on them.

Let some people get to thinking the wrong thing about the $65,000.00 received in the sale of the oil and gas lease of the school's land in Gaines County, none of that money is going to be spent in affording any of the requirements or desires of our school.

All of that money is a part of the permanent school fund and will remain so until the law is changed.

The money in the permanent school fund may be invested in ways also limited by law and the revenue from that investment may be used in the local maintenance.

The returns on the investment vary, of course, with the type of securities, or bonds purchased, but about four per cent, probably is a good return. Anyway we will use that figure to show that of a $65,000.00 investment the local maintenance will have $2,600, which also affects the amount of state aid that is received, all of which is a long story and needs a lot of explanation, so if you are interested, you may find out.

But while the school is some $65,000.00 richer, it does not have that much money to spend.

The tragedy of last week saw another example of the neighborliness of people here and their concern for each other in such times. We wish that it did not take a tragedy for such to be the case all the time.

Friends and neighbors did all they could do in that situation. What they did was not much, but it was all they could do and what was done was done because of a desire to be of service.
