By Albert---

Announcement

Public hearing on proposed dams will be next Wednesday, March 23, at the Court House. Time is 3:00 p.m.

There have been several who have asked about when the date will be set for the hearing on the dams on the Sanderson Canyon watershed.

There is much interest about the dams in all local organizations and individuals.

The meeting for the general committee of the medical center has been called for Monday night of next week.

At this meeting, the various committees will be named by those on the general committee and work can begin immediately on the details connected with the initiation of the project.

This is another project that is being anticipated by a large number of the county's population.

We have heard that there is some pessimism about the possibility of the success of the project, but we don't think there is much of this attitude.

Certainly, we hope not!

When the committees named at the meeting Monday night begin their work and we all can see the progress that is being made, surely then all pessimism will have disappeared.

Work is nearing completion at the cemetery on the fence that is being installed around that plot. The dirt dump on the north side of the cemetery has been removed and things are looking real nice again.

There has been much work done by many individuals, both families and friends, trying to get things back in shape, and a "job well done" plaudit is due and is given.

Some of the ranchmen near town continue to voice complaints of having severe losses to livestock due to dogs from town.

There is a big bunch of dogs in town that apparently belong to no one, since they are seen in many places and under all kinds of circumstances, but seldom with anyone or staying near or at anyone's house.

These dogs, these strays, are a menace to the town, a nuisance to the citizens and ranchmen, and are absolutely good for nothing.

There has been very little interest on the part of many residents of this county who had not paid their poll tax to take advantage of the free registration, and the subsequent free vote.

We noticed that in one town there was a large group of citizens herded up to the courthouse to vote and the registrar refused to register them for the free vote. We don't know what will be the outcome of this, but we imagine that there will be some sort of furor.

We cannot believe that it is the intent of the law to cause people to register under such peculiar circumstances as this. If a person goes up and registers, that is one thing, but if he is "herded" up to register, that is something else.

Airman Freddie E. Townsend ... completes basic training

Airman Freddie E. Townsend, son of Mrs. K. H. Epperson of Sanderson, has been assigned to Pope AFB, N. C., after completing Air Force basic training.

Townsend is a graduate of a Houston high school and will be trained on the job as an air policeman with the Tactical Air Command.

Absentee Voting Began Monday

Absentee voting in the election for county trustees and the trustees for the Terrell County Independent School District began Monday of this week and Tuesday, March 29, is the last day for voting absentee. Votes for the county trustees will be cast in the office of Ruel Adams and for the school district trustees in the office of A. H. Zuberbueler.

The day for the election of county and school district trustees is April 2.

There is no contest in the race for school district trustee with Carlos Dunn and W. E. TenEyck running for the two posts to be filled, and no candidates have announced for the county trustee posts in precincts one and three now held by G. E. Babb and G. K. Mitchell.

Dunn is seeking re-election and TenEyck is seeking the post vacated by L. W. Welch, who did not seek re-election.

Medicare Blanks Are At Local PO

Postmaster Ray Hodgkins announced this week that application blanks for supplemental Medicare benefits are available at the counter of the local office.

The application blanks are being made available as the Social Security Administration seeks to contact 3.1 million senior citizens to cooperate in enrolling before the March 31 deadline.

The supplemental program costs $3 a month and provides doctor bill and other benefits. Everyone 65 and over is eligible for the basic hospital benefits under Medicare.

A copy of the blank is displayed in the lobby of the post office on the bulletin board.

Senior citizens who reached 65 before 1966 face a two-year delay if they do not sign up before March 31. The application form is pre-addressed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jolly Harkins and son, Barton, were in Fort Stockton Wednesday for medical treatment.

Eight Register For Free Vote

Only eight people in Terrell County have registered for voting under the free registration law, recently declared by the Supreme Court of the United States.

Thursday, March 17, is the deadline for the registrations for the free vote.

Persons who have purchased a poll tax or who have attained the age of 60 automatically are registered for all up-coming elections in Terrell County.

Lions Celebrate 20th Anniversary

To observe the 20th birthday of the Sanderson Lions Club, a dinner was served in the Parish Hall of St. James Church Saturday evening with about 60 attending.

Using the club's colors of gold and purple, a pyramid arrangement of gold chrysanthemums, purple iris and purple statice centered the speaker's table. The five tables arranged in fan-shape from that table had similar centerpieces and purple and gold candles were also used with English ivy entwined between them.

The dinner was catered by the Children of the Sodality of Mary. The menu consisted of tomato juice cocktail, peach and cottage cheese salad, baked chicken and dressing, green beans, candied yams, hot rolls, tea, and coffee.

Rev. J. C. Hancock was master of ceremonies. The invocation was given by Rev. M. H. Stroup with the benediction by Rev. Bob Moon.

W. W. Sudduth led a sing-song with Miss Carla Dunn at the piano.

The guest speaker was Carl Hyde of Midland, a past district governor and present international counselor of Lions International.

The welcome was given by Barton Massey, club president, and the response was by Marvin Kay of Alpine, a past district governor and international counselor.

Harry Ingle of Crane, district governor, presented awards to four charter members who received 20-year pins: Greene Cooke, Carlton White, Ruel Adams, and W. W. Sudduth; 15-year pin to C. G. Riggins; 10-year pin to Carlos Dunn.

Participating in a cake-cutting ceremony were Sudduth, the first president, and Mrs. Doris Duke Booker of Mason, the first club sweetheart; Massey and Miss Dunn, present president and club sweetheart. The cake decorated in the club colors, was served as the dessert.

The clubs represented at the dinner were: Crane, Monahans, Alpine, Fort Stockton, Del Rio, Grandfalls, Iraan, Kermit, and Sierra Blanca.

Among those receiving introductions were W. E. (Bill) Stavley, a charter member who is still active in the club at De Rio; Mrs. Diana Duke Steelmar of Houston, a past sweetheart Troy Druse, J. F. Tronson, and S. H. Underwood, former charter members.

TS&GRA Meeting To Be March 26

The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association returns to the scene of one of its earliest conventions on Saturday, March 26. The TS&GRA will have its spring membership meeting in Menard, site of a three-day session that drew 800 conventioners in 1917.

Instead of a barbecue on the banks of the San Saba River, the Association this time will have a lamb luncheon in the high school, serving three different lamb dishes: roast lamb, lamb pizza, and lamb curry.

The spring meeting is all in one day to allow ranchmen to attend and return home without the necessity of an overnight stay. It is hoped that this will encourage a large attendance.

All committee meetings will begin at 9:00 a.m.

TS&GRA is currently cooperating in a statewide lamb promotion program sponsored by the American Sheep Producers Council. A big push is planned in April when lamb will receive large scale retail promotion in stores over the state.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

There is one thing that can be said for the American bureaucrat. Regardless of oftentimes narrow lines of thinking, when he gets on a subject such as sex, he is capable of thinking very big. Of course, this is all predicated on other people's money.

So the newest wrinkle along the Potomac with some agency or agencies working on something called international cooperation is to spend $100 million in U.S. tax dollars to teach people all over the world what causes babies.

The U.S. will now cooperate with any foreign government who wishes to train their people in birth control methods. The American taxpayer will foot the bill.

This is quite an astounding expansion of American foreign policy. It is doubtful when in his farewell address George Washington warned against foreign entanglements that he had in mind foreign mattresses.

If, as some claim, the growing world population is a problem in nation's lacking sufficient food supplies, and furthermore, if birth control is the answer to those problems, it is very strange, indeed, that the governments concerned do not take steps, instead of depending on the U.S.

After all, any government should be able to determine whether or not there is sufficient food supplies to feed the population of the nation, and if birth control is the legitimate answer to a problem, that government should be able to advise the population on procedures.

After all, procreation has always been considered somewhat of a local matter.

As a matter of fact, once a lot of people around the world get the idea that the U.S. government is involved with heavy financial expenditures teaching them about the birds and bees, they are quite likely to resent this foreign intrusion into what is customarily considered a private matter.

And there is also to be considered the thought that perhaps a lot of people in other lands know much more about the birds and bees than American bureaucrats do.

Some 20 years ago, so-called foreign aid was started to help war torn nations get back on to their economic feet. Now, $120 billion later, and after these former war torn nations are bursting with prosperity, there is a problem finding new ways to spend American taxes.

American bureaucrats became involved in foreign steel production, auto production, food production, and in fact all phases of economic activity until there is perhaps no more room to proceed.

So perhaps it is but a logical step for the bureaucrats to now become concerned with world wide sex. After all, what other human activity offers such promise of continued bureaucratic jobs, as sex will be in the world long after the American taxpayer is bankrupt.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Duty to Get Well

Mrs. R, injured while crossing the street, had no trouble establishing a claim against the negligent motorist. However, he was willing to pay only for her original injury—not for the "permanent disability" she said she had.

In a court hearing, he explained that her disability could probably be cleared up if she would just submit to corrective surgery. But to Mrs. R, this was indeed adding insult to injury.

"Why should I risk my life in a major operation," she demanded, "just so he can pay me less damages? Not only is such an operation dangerous, but often it doesn't even do any good."

That made sense to the judge, who ordered the motorist to pay for her disability in addition to paying for her injury.

Yet, the motorist did have a point worth weighing. Is it the wrongdoer's fault if you, as the victim, don't make a reasonable effort to get well? In all fairness, the law has to draw a dividing line between harm truly caused by the wrongdoer and harm truly caused by your own neglect.

For example:

A woman's foot was injured in a railroad accident, and her doctor ordered her to use crutches during the healing process. Nevertheless, because she found the crutches awkward, she often hobbled around without them. As a result, a court ruled later that she could not collect damages for being left with a permanent limp.

If the first part of your vehicle identification number is here, you might be a winner.

Here's how it works. Look at the first symbols (the prefix) on your vehicle identification slip. Then look at the symbols listed above. If you find yours on the list, you've taken the first step toward being a winner. Now go see your Buick dealer. He has a list of 72 winners posted in his showroom. If you see your entire vehicle identification number on the poster—the symbols plus the rest of the numbers—$2332 cash is yours. (If your prefix isn't listed in this ad, don't give up. Your numbers may have been posted during the past few weeks. And every week there are 72 new winners posted on the showroom wall. So watch for next week's list of new symbols in this newspaper.) No slogan to invent, no puzzles to solve. In fact, you don't even have to own a Buick to have a winning number. While you're in the showroom, get a good look at the Buick Special. The $2332.00* happens to be its price. *Manufacturer's suggested retail price for Special V-6, 2-dr. coupe. Price includes Federal Excise Tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charge.

Contest Rules. Residents of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska may, if they prefer, send in a postcard to R. L. Poik and Co., P. O. Box 1347, Detroit, Michigan 48231 and receive the weekly list of winning numbers by mail for comparison with their own vehicle identification number. An official entry form will be included. Sweepstakes limited to persons over 21 living in the continental U.S. Not valid in Florida or states where prohibited by law.

Mr. Bell liked to make things better...

After Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone in 1876, he did not rest on his laurels. He helped form the National Geographic Society, developed the basic method of making phonograph records on wax discs and pioneered a method of locating icebergs by detecting echoes from them. He made suggestions and contributions that helped give us air conditioning and the iron lung. For 46 years after inventing the telephone, he lived a vigorous and creative life.

Southwestern Bell likes to make things better, too . . .

Six short years ago, we did not offer the Princess® telephone, Home Interphone, Wide Area Telephone Service, Centrex service, Data-Phone data communications service or Panel Phone. There was no electronic artificial larynx, no automatic dialer and no Speakerphone. Today, these new items help us provide the best telephone service in the world. But we want to make it better. That's our legacy from Mr. Bell.
