LISTEN TO LUKE

By Albert---

It seems that the television news programs and the press news pictures of late have gone overboard in showing some of the tragedies of life, even to the showing of death, even in its occurrence, and usually by violence. Recently we - and all other television viewers who watch the news, have seen men shot, bludgeoned, and stabbed to death.

We thought that such things portrayed in stories, even with the dramatics, were bad enough, but in reality, death is - in our opinion, no occurrence to be viewed, in our humble opinion, by the millions on TV.

Then, while we have our gripe going, we have to say something about the tax money that was spent recently to rent a tux so that some students could go to the junior-senior prom 'in style'.

This was done under some one of the Title I "gimmicks" in the federal aid to education program to raise the social standards and "gild the lilly" so to speak.

We would venture a guess that more than 95% of the men of the county have not worn a tux, nor have very many of them had to stay home from some occasion because they did not have the money to rent or buy one.

And we feel, furthermore, that a high school function that demands a tux is a little out of its class in the second place.

We don't have anything at all against finery of any sort --- in fact, we are all for it. But we still think that you can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear.

The nation is full of people who have never been to an opera. But most of those people don't care that "we" haven't been to an opera. Should tax money be used to take us to an opera? We hope not, because then we would have two gripes!

Yes, a multitude of uses can be made of federal money if one is busy enough looking for them, but it takes a wise man to have those funds available and spend them wisely.

A doctor will be in Sanderson for several days within the next week or two to look things over in consideration of moving here. It is hoped that every effort will be made to meet him forthrightly and courteously.

It will be a great advantage to our town to have a doctor, a medical center, and the satisfaction of knowing that we have those things because we worked for them.

We couldn't begin to give a proper amount of praise to some of our citizens who have worked so hard to get this medical center project off the ground and in proper orbit.

We hope that all of the people of the county are appreciative of such efforts as we are.

We do not intend to state or imply that others could not have done the same thing, and as well or better. It just happens that those who did accomplish the project did what we think is a bang-up job and we are grateful to them for doing so.

The regular meeting of the Sanderson Masonic Lodge on June 14 will include the election of officers for the new year, according to R. D. Treloar, master of the lodge.

All local Masons are urged to attend the meeting.

The picture of the lobby of the Kerr Hotel shows the appearance of that establishment until it was converted into a grocery store by the present owner of the building, George Turner. The view is looking from the south end of the building or the entrance from the front of the building. The two small lamps seen on the left wall are over writing desks, for the convenience of patrons, and ample seating is available in the lobby. The double doors, back center of the picture, led into the dining room, and the stairs at the right led upstairs. The two people seated in the lobby and the two behind the desk are unidentified. The poster on the post at the stairs announces the San Antonio Fair. The post office and barber shop occupied the rest of the building and both were on the south side. There was also a hotel office, private dining room, rest rooms, and kitchen as a part of the hotel on the lower floor. Picture courtesy of Edward Kerr.

Both Fire Trucks Back In Order

Both of the fire trucks are back in order after the Dodge truck had the motor repaired last week. The motor's bearings had been burned out, probably as a result of high water during the flood of last June.

There was no need of either of the units during the time that one of them was out of order.

Some Repairs Made To Streets

Some repairs have become necessary to local streets as a result of hot summer weather.

Last fall, when repairs were made to the streets following the flood, the weather did not warm up sufficiently to cause the tar to bleed through the gravel that had been applied. Much of the gravel has since been washed or rolled off the black surface, leaving nothing to absorb the tar that now is pouring through.

Some gravel has been spread on the streets to absorb the tar and more repairs are yet needed to put the streets in good order.

Some holes also are appearing on some of the new topping.

Miss M. Pena Weds Ruben Flores Here Saturday

A double-ring marriage ceremony was used Saturday morning when Miss Marselina Pena became the bride of Ruben Flores. Rev. N. Femenia was the officiant for the rites in St. James Catholic Church.

Arrangements of white gladiolus decorated the altar. Miss Jodie Tronson was organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her oldest brother, Ascension Pena of El Paso. She wore a floor-length gown of white lace over satin, with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. A circlet of pearlized orange blossoms held her shoulder-length veil of illusion. She carried her prayer book and rosary.

For "something old" the bride wore her pearl necklace; for "something blue" a garter; her "something borrowed", the circlet and veil belonging to her cousin, Clotilde P. Hernandez, and there was also a six-pence in her shoe.

Mrs. Manuela Escamilla was the matron of honor and Miss Barbara Brown was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Rita Silvas, Candy Rodriguez, and Anna Rios, all cousins of the bride, and Amanda Benavides.

Manuel Escamilla was the best man. Groomsmen were Rudy Perez, Manuel Flores, Mike Leyva, Ruperto Perez, Silvestre Silvas, Urbano Martinez, nephew of the bridegroom.

Elaine Brown was the flower girl and Sandy Silvas the ring-bearer.

The feminine members of the wedding party wore street-length dresses of pale yellow whipped cream, matching circlets to which were attached short starched veils, and each carried a single long-stemmed white carnation.

The bride, the daughter of Mrs. Carlos Pena and the late Mr. Pena, is a life-long resident of Sanderson.

The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jose Angel Flores.

A reception and dinner in St. James Hall followed the wedding ceremony. Miss Elizabeth Turner registered the guests in the bride's book.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Del Rio and Ciudad Acuna. They will reside here where the bridegroom is in the employ of the Globe Exploration Company.

The bride-to-be was named honoree for several showers prior to her wedding.

On Thursday, June 19th, the bridesmaids were hostesses for a miscellaneous shower in St. James Hall where yellow roses were used for decorations.

The gifts were on display on tables arranged in the halls.

Several games were played before refreshments, consisting of chicken sandwiches, cake, cookies, and punch were served. About 30 attended the shower.

On Saturday evening, Miss Ernestina Ochoa was the hostess when the young ladies of the choir gave her a personal shower which was a surprise. Twenty guests were in attendance.

The gifts were displayed after Miss Pena had opened them. The guests were their favorite recipe for her to put in her file.

Punch, cake, and cookies were served.

Sunday evening, the Children of Mary Sodality entertained with a pantry shower in St. James Hall with the food items being attractively wrapped for the bride to open and display.

Punch and cookies were served to about 25 guests.

EMBLEM OF DIGNITY AND JUSTICE

FLAG DAY

Speaking at the Flag Day celebration, Washington, D.C., on June 14, 1914, President Woodrow Wilson said,

"This flag for the future is meant to stand for the just use of undisputed national power. No nation is ever going to doubt our power to assert its rights, and we should lay it to heart that no nation shall henceforth doubt our purpose to put it to the highest uses to which a great emblem of justice and government can be put.

"It is henceforth to stand for self possession, for dignity, for the assertion of the right one nation to serve the other nations of the world—an emblem that will not condescend to be used for purposes of aggression and self-aggrandizement; that it is too great to be debased by selfishness; that has vindicated its right to be honored by all nations of the world and feared by none who do righteousness."

TOMBSTONE TERRITORY

Before World War I Fairy Soap was the largest seller on the American market. Mother used it as a beauty aid. Junior used it in the bath tub. Sister used it to shampoo her hair. And father used it to wash that portion of his face which wasn't covered with mustache and mutton chops. In magazines, on bill boards and in newspapers, you would see advertisements of Fairy Soap.

During the first great war the demand for Fairy Soap was so great that the manufacturers dropped their huge advertising program with an eye to making a bigger profit. They figured Fairy Soap was so well known it would carry itself. They were wrong. Other far sighted soap manufacturers stepped in with appealing advertising campaigns and took over the market. Fairy Soap was never able to come back and today lies in the graveyard alongside the Gold Dust Twins, Saint Jacobs Oil, Melon's Baby Food, Dolly Varden Chocolates, Omar cigarettes, Maxwell automobiles and many other products that died a natural economic death due to lack of advertising.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

For several months now, the U.S. State Department has been quite upset. It seems among the officials an anti-communist was found, and since this most unwelcome discovery, every effort has been exerted to remove this blot on the escutcheon.

C. W. Harder

In fact, by the time this is printed, it is possible that Miss Francis G. Knight may no longer be the State Department head of the passport division. At last reports she has been stripped of some authority in this area. Miss Knight has been accused of very unorthodox beliefs. She just does not believe that an American passport should be issued to a known communist.

Her refusal on occasions to do so, even despite a Supreme Court ruling to the contrary, has made her quite unpopular with many of her superiors.

Now of course, her refusal on occasions to issue a passport to a known communist has caused some to say she is a reactionary. Apparently she is an American, and perhaps the nation has now reached a stage where the appellations of American and reactionary are synonymous, especially if the American also happens to be anti-communist.

This whole weak kneed attitude of the State Department is perplexing to most citizens.

Printed on any American passport issued is the information that the document is no good for travel into several communist areas, including Red China, the communist controlled portions of Vietnam and Korea, Cuba and Albania. Incidentally, this fetish the State Dept. has about tiny Albania is a curious one.

In addition, it is clearly stated that if an American does go into these areas he will be prosecuted.

So college students have flocked to Cuba with the expenses picked up by the Castro government. Three men, one of them a Yale professor, in the past few months, went to North Vietnam, and according to all reports even made anti-American speeches over radio Hanoi.

Now, of course, on their return, it could have perhaps been expected that a U.S. marshal or two would be down at the port to greet them.

But at the last report, they are still walking around free as birds, and presumably echoing the communist line as they learned it in Hanoi.

It perhaps should be in order at this point to comment extensively on these most peculiar situations.

On the other hand, further discussion is perhaps redundant, although it might be asked if the State Dept. is so sensitive to the feelings of communists, why are American boys dying in Vietnam?
