LISTEN TO LUKE

By Albert:

We got a couple of written bouquets on our choice of words in this column last week and we did appreciate them. We did read the words prior to the printing and were in complete harmony with the message. We would like to be able to live up to all of it.

We have had unseasonably cold weather, it seems to us, and the temperature is a little colder than we can remember it being last year. But we always notice cold much more than heat and are aware of the fact that the thermometer is below 75 when it is -- and we don't like it!

We keep wondering when the people of this nation and state are going to begin to do something about the needless loss of lives on our highways. We have heard of every kind of remedy about the necessity of courtesy, friendliness, awareness, caution, and all of them are good suggestions if they work. But they haven't worked yet!

If there was strict law enforcement all over the state in all of the traffic laws, and if there were stiff penalties applied all over the state by magistrates, it is our opinion that this would be the greatest deterrent that could be devised. There was a time when the law required -- and a few JPs went by the law -- for all persons charged with a misdemeanor in JP court, to be at the court either in person or be represented by legal counsel in that court. And this was a very great deterrent. We know this from experience. But it has to be state-wide to be really effective, and the state-wide movement had to start somewhere. It just never did spread very far!

The JP courts of the state got the disrespectful name of "Mickey Mouse" courts, but they usually earned that name because of the Mickey Mouse JPs who did not uphold the laws, who let officers dictate the punishment -- if any -- to be adjudged the defendant and there was no respect given because there was none deserved or earned.

Since the Texas Department of Public Safety has proclaimed that speed is a major factor in some large percentage of accidents -- particularly fatalities -- the awareness of inconvenience of going before a magistrate in person or hiring an attorney to do so gives a person a cautious driving nature even if the concern for other persons' or their own lives does not make them careful, defensive, considerate, friendly, or whatever the adjective.

Whatever anyone could devise that would help to cut down our needless slaughter on the highways, we will go for it.

There is going to be some disappointed people who will not get to vote if more do not get on the ball and register before the deadline January 31. There was always the old saying that the poll tax kept a lot of people from voting. This is not true, people do this themselves!

We wonder what would happen if the newspapers and television programs did not hound people about registering as they facts about deadlines for registering - both for voting and automobiles, deadlines for voting absentee, etc. The newspapers have been accused even of controlling some elections by once did about paying the poll tax. Certainly it is a duty of the news media to publish the not warning people that filing deadlines were near.

Those interested in voting register. Those interested in not paying a penalty pay their taxes on time and register their vehicles on time. Those interested in running for an office know at least the deadline for filing.

Anyway, don't forget to register for voting!

We give a written rose of commendation this week to Eulalio Rios for pride and devotion for his Friday morning act of picking up a large container full of empty beer cans from around the St. James Parish Hall left after the dance Thursday night. It was both early and cold.

There has been some publication recently about people getting lead poisoning from improperly-treated pottery from Mexico. This can be fatal and is hazardous and persons should be careful of using such pottery. There was no word of how one could know if imported pottery was safe to use or we would pass that on, too!
