LISTEN TO LUKE

By Albert ---

Thursday evening we were outside late and we heard the chimes at St. James Church begin to play, unmelodiously at first, then later tuning up to the proper speed and pitch. We wondered, at first, what was happening, then found out the next day that the chimes were being repaired or re-adjusted. Whoever was working on them did a good job.

But back to the story - the first tune that was played after the adjusting was completed was "God Bless America". And in the still and quiet of the night and in the knowledge that there were that day many crowds gathering to protest this action or that action, or something else, we were more than usually impressed with the hearing of the song. We would like such early-evening concerts of inspirational music more often.

Funny, isn't it, what some people think of how God blesses America. And their thoughts of blessings of our great nation run the spectrum from one extreme to another. We personally have always thought of the "blessing" of America - as an appeal for the future implied in the song, rather than a song of thanksgiving.

And we never hear the song but what we think of II Chronicles 7:14 - "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

Don't most people want God to go ahead and bless America without all these strings attached?

The diminishing or erasing of the dignity of any man and the failure to recognize the humanity of all men would pretty well negate any appeal for the blessings of any divine power to which any man would appeal and more especially to the Creator of all men - in our humble opinion.

We got some congratulatory remarks and some good suggestions we are not able to carry out in regard to the litter of old car bodies that may be seen around town. The suggestions were something like having the county to go in and clear those places off, make the property owners clean the places up, etc., etc., and even "You surely didn't have me in mind, because I'm driving that car every day to and from town. It's not a wreck." No, I didn't have you in mind, Mrs. Smith, I drive one that looks like that, too!

We did not have in mind to offend anyone by our saying, and hope that we didn't offend by what was said. We only had a suggestion for the improvement of the general appearance of the community.

Several houses in town have been and are being razed because they are considered to be beyond feasible repair. The removal of the building continued to back page

Drug Store Is Burglarized

Spears-Duncan Drug Co. was burglarized Tuesday night of last week and an estimated $125.00 and a small bottle of pills was taken from the prescription department, according to Mark Duncan, pharmacist. The pills were of the benedryl type, he said, and there was no evidence of any other item being taken. The money had been left in the drawers of the registers in the store, Duncan said.

Entrance into the building was through the back door which had been pried open. It is thought that the large axe from the fire truck was the instrument used to gain entrance into the building, Mr. Duncan said.

The back portion of the drug store is well-lighted, but Mr. Duncan stated that a flashlight would have to be used in the prescription department to find a particular bottle at night.

has, in most cases, frankly, been an improvement for appearance's sake, and things have been further improved by the use of the adobe dirt to make some fills in the property just east of the first bridge in the eastern part of town, the site of the old Orchid Cafe and Northcut's service station, both washed off during the flood in 1965.

It is not within the power of anyone that we know of to enforce the removal of "trash" or debris from local property and we are not advocating anything like this. Our suggestion was just that - a suggestion. In some cases, a reminder of a need is all that is necessary to get something done, and this has had some influence already. There may be more. We hope so.

Some of the young dissenters of the nation say they find no good in our system by they offer nothing better. They demonstrate a total lack of the knowledge of thrift, they show a contempt for parental honor, motherhood, marriage, and virtuosity, and offer debauchery, obscenity, homosexuality, and free love. They are finding support from the "intellectual type" who finally has a cause he can champion in which he may become "the leader for the day". And the pitiful part of this is that with this attractive prospect of power and authority he prostitutes his intellectual integrity to try to tear down the establishment that offered him such a bountiful and useful future.
