LISTEN TO LUKE

By Albert---

This week, we are doing something that we have never done before: fuss at someone by name, and not offer them any rebuttal.

At the election of the water board members last week, which had only 31 voters, we - BW and I - both forgot to vote!

There has not been an election during the past 24 years in Sanderson that we have not urged, pleaded, insisted, and otherwise tried to get all of the qualified voters to step out for the few minutes necessary to cast their ballot and give a vote of confidence to the candidate of their choice, even if unopposed. We have also intimated rather strongly the lack of civic responsibility in those who fail to vote in every election.

And Tuesday of last week found us guilty of doing what we have fussed at others about for so long!

It is nothing but right that we point out our own guilt and fuss at ourselves.

We read an editorial one time about an editor who was guilty of a similar, but in our opinion, worse action. He had fussed about drunk drivers and wound up with a charge of the same violation, to which he pleaded guilty in his column as well as in court and took the consequences. We have not read of a second accusation and hope that his own public revelation of his offense caused him to not be guilty of a second offense of this nature.

We also hope that our admission of our guilt at not voting will help us to remember our civic responsibilities at the next and all future elections.

The directors of the water district who control the operation of our utility are doing a fine job in our opinion and their action warrants our support, even when they are unopposed. We apologize to Edward Kerr and Weldon Cox for neglecting to support them and assure them that we do appreciate what they are doing and have done!

The pleas for pictures last week brought two jewels, both made in 1914 and very interesting to us and we hope to you. There will come a time when we no longer have available any old pictures to run and we will have to stop this series which has been very, very interesting, according to the expressions of so many readers. The quitting time will depend to a great degree on the cooperation of those who have any old pictures that we may borrow. If you have anything taken that shows a familiar landmark or person of this area, or just a gathering of people of years past to have their picture made, please let us use it. We will appreciate it very much and we know that our readers will.

In the mail Tuesday morning we got some pictures from Mrs. Earl Stirman of Midland and they will be among those cherished and also used for the benefit of our readers.

The picture this week and the one to be used next week are the result of our plea for old pictures recently. The two pictures were made at the same time and would go together if our paper was large enough, so we have split the pictures so they may be enlarged for interest. Below is R.N. Allen, his mother, Mrs. S.N. Allen, Herman, J. Sam, and Bess Allen, who is now Mrs. G.A. Scruggs, Nellie Allen, now Mrs. E.W. Hardgrave, and three of her girl friends. This was the Allens' first trip to Terrell County and Sanderson for the weekend. The picture was made in 1914 and the road down the north side of Big Hill, where the picture was made, was the first road down the hill, the highest one in elevation on the side of the hill. The wheels of the wagons were chained for the descent. David Hardgrave got the picture from his grandmother, Mrs. E.W. Hardgrave, of Abilene.

Local SCD Essay Contest Open to Students

The Rio Grande-Pecos River Soil Conservation District is sponsoring a local conservation essay contest. Awards will be presented to three students writing the best essay on the subject: "Our Natural Environment - Preserve and Protect It".

The essay contest is part of a statewide conservation awards program which is sponsored by the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce.

Local district officials will review the essays during their next regular meeting February 11. Three essays will be selected as most-outstanding and awards will be presented.

Essays selected as most outstanding will be submitted to the regional contests. Selection will be made at the regional level for state contest entries.

A $200 cash award and a trophy will be awarded to the state champion. The top essays in each region, selected in Fort Worth from the district winners, will be honored with trophies at regional awards dinners.

The essay contest is one of the 25 conservation awards contests held state-wide.

Presbyterian Circles Have Joint Meet

There was a combined meeting of Circles I and II of the Presbyterian Women of the Church in the sanctuary last Tuesday morning to hear Rev. Ben Bateman, a missionary in Korea, tell of his work there. He also showed slides and displayed a large selection of articles from Korea.

The group then went to the fellowship hall where cranberry coffee cake, doughnuts and sweet rolls were served with tea and coffee. Hostesses were Mrs. E. F. Pierson and Mrs. J. N. Brown. There were fifteen members present.

The Bonhomie Club met in the home of Mrs. O. J. Cresswell last Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. S. C. Harrell, president, presided at the meeting.

In a beautiful lazy sun on a table were several varieties of home-made candy, chocolate covered pretzels, nuts and other "goodies" made available to the guests during the party hours, also tea, coffee and cold drinks.

Names were drawn for Secret Pals for this year after those of last year had been revealed at the December party.

Refreshments of chicken salad, party crackers and cookies were served.

Those attending were Meses Alfred Bendele, H.P. Boyd, F. G. Grigsby, Ray Caldwell, T. W. McKenzie, Harrell, Carlton White, J. W. Carruthers, Jr., and Harvey Rogers, a new member, also Mrs. L. R. Hall, a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McComb and daughters, Ann, Candy, and Missy, and a friend, Dana Campbell all of Lubbock were weekend visitors on the ranch with her sister, Mrs. N.M. Mitchell and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Ayers and baby of Alpine were weekend visitors with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sanders returned home last week from El Paso and she is making satisfactory recovery from major surgery on her throat. They were in El Paso for several weeks visiting relatives and friends and having medical attention.

 Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boykin of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Thompson hosted an informal "open house" Saturday afternoon from 5:00 to 7:00 o'clock in the home of the ladies' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Caldwell, to honor the couple on their 23th wedding anniversary.

Arrangements of pink and white flowers decorated the house for the occasion. Raylene Thompson, granddaughter of the honored couple, was at the guest book and Miss Ed Boykin of Houston, another granddaughter, assisted in serving.

The serving table was covered in an ecru linen cutwork cloth. On the buffet behind it, was an arrangement of pink and white flowers flanked by pink candles, the candleholders and the bowl being of crystal trimmed in silver.

Mrs. Carlton White was at the silver tea and coffee service, Miss Boykin ladled the lime frosted punch, and Mrs. Ervin Robbins served the beautifully decorated three-tiered cake. "Ray and Ollie" was imprinted in silver on white napkins.

A silver money tree and the other gifts and cards which the Caldwell's had received were displayed in a bedroom. On the coffee table in the living room was a large assortment of photos of the family that were made prior to the festivities.

Ninety-five called during the hours of the open house.

Stutes - Bruno Rites Dec. 26 in El Paso

St. Pius X Church in El Paso was the setting for the marriage of Miss Barbara Ellen Bruno to Kenneth H. Stutes Jr. on Saturday, December 26. Rev. John Anderson performed the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Gori P. Bruno of Ciudad Juarez, Mex. Mr. Bruno is consul assigned to the American Consulate in Juarez. Mr. Stutes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Stutes of Sanderson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of oyster white silk accented with trellis embroidery on the bodice and sleeves. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and carnations.

Mrs. Barbara Williams of El Paso, matron of honor, wore a gown of royal blue satin with velvet ribbon.

Loren Melhart was best man. Usher was Efen Teran of Ciudad Juarez.

A reception followed the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents.

Out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's parents and brother, John, and the bride's brother, Peter Bruno of Sewanoe, Tenn.

Following a wedding trip to New Orleans, the couple will be at home in El Paso where Mr. Stutes is an instructor and coach at Ross Intermediate School. He received a B. A. degree in mathematics from the University of Texas at El Paso where he was a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity.

The bride received a B. A. degree in elementary education from St. Mary's College in Newburgh, N. Y. She is a teacher in the Head Start program.
