LISTEN TO LUKE

By Albert:--
 One of the things that the people of America are learning, and they have previously learned lessons from other administrations: we can get along without some men in national politics! Something we have not learned: Why do we have a vice-president?
 And another thing that people should have learned from the Watergate mess: it doesn't do any good to try to cover up something that has started out as a mess. The more you put over it, in an effort to hide it, the larger the heap!
 And another thing that people should have learned: a wrong is a wrong, regardless of how high up the ladder the wrongdoer is, and no amount of justification can make a wrong right. Rules of behavior, moral conduct, and activity in politics, society, business, and in sports were not made to be broken, unless someone expects some sort of penalty. And in order for there to be some sort of orderliness to things, there has to be rules and regulations for behavior and consequences for the violators!
 Quod erat demonstrandum!

 Somewhere down the line there has to be some reckoning! We feel that is inevitable. The senseless things that lead up to the senseless slaughter of countless hundreds of thousands of baby chicks over the nation will be thrown back into the laps of someone some of these days! And who will pay? You and I know!
 To freeze the price of chickens and not freeze the price of feed has been placed as the cause of the killing of the chicks. There was no way the producer could raise the chicks and break even.
 And the same thing applies to pigs, cows, sheep, etc. The only difference is that up to now the producers haven't figured how they can slaughter the animals, even though they may not have figured out how they can keep them!
 What is this going to do to other things? Do you feel that anyone really knows? Since chickens are one of the main source of eggs, there must be some connection, and since turkeys, cattle, pigs, etc., are also subject to the same curtailment, there is also the possible shortage of meat, but also leather, feather dusters, and all of the many things that are by-products of these animals.
 We have never worn plastic shoes, or eaten - that we know - ersatz meat, but we all may have done lots of things we had not thought we would do before this is over.
 With the announced shortage of gasoline, the looming shortage of shoe leather possibly doesn't sound like a real good circumstance to anticipate!

 And with the expenditure of the millions on space adventure, there is an admonition of the need of spending much money in undersea exploration and experimentation, and the announcement continued to second page

Gas Well Outpost Staked in County

 The open house is slated for Sunday, July 1, from 2:00 to 6:00 p.m. at 64 Salcido Circle in Lomita Terrace Addition to Sanderson, and everyone is invited to come out to the addition west of Sanderson on US 90 and visit the home.
 Features of the home and other details of construction are given in advertisements in The Times this week.

School District's Tax Rate Is Lowered By Big Increase of Oil and Gas Properties

The addition of certain oil and gas properties to the tax roll of the Terrell County Independent School District and the lowering of the total tax rate of the district spells "good news" for the taxpayers of the county.
 A.H. Zuberbueler, tax assessor-collector for the school district, reported that the total valuation of property within the county or school district for the purposes of taxation is about $21,500,000 following the addition of about $2-million in valuation. Practically every penny of increase in valuation was from the oil and gas industry and could be accounted for principally in the new compression plant at the gas plant in the eastern part of the county, pipe lines, and increase production by additional oil and gas wells in the county. It was pointed out that there was a decrease in live-stock valuations in the county since the sale of some rather large ranches in the county had occurred and all the live-stock had been taken off those ranches; and there was a decrease in some local property due to depreciation, etc.
 There was no increase in the value of any property in the county for tax purposes, according to the tax assessor.
 The tax rate was lowered from $1.78 to $1.65 per $100 valuation placed on property, according to Mr. Zuberbueler. This amount includes $1.35 per $100 valuation for local maintenance, and 30¢ for interest and sinking fund.
 Mr. Zuberbueler explained that it was necessary to raise the budget for the school district by approximately $28,000.00 for the coming year. The salary increase for teachers, as demanded by legislative action recently, accounts for approximately $16,000.00, and the board has allocated $10,000.00 for building repair and remodeling for the coming year, and the balance is to take care of increase in costs of such items as are used regularly throughout the year.

Library Move Begins This Week

Books are to be moved to the new library building this weekend and the facility will be open for use in the near future, according to Mrs. Irvin Robbins, president of the Terrell County Friends of the Library.
 Mrs. Robbins also stated that the new library would be open on the afternoon of the Fourth from 2:00 to 6:00 o'clock in order for out-of-town visitors to be able to view the new facility which has been given to the residents of the area by an anonymous donor.

Mrs. Joe Eckert's Father Dies in Junction

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Eckert and children returned home last week after attending funeral services in Junction for her father, Howard Wright, on Monday, June 18. Mr. Wright had suffered a heart attack several days prior to his death and Mrs. Eckert was at his bedside for several days after he was hospitalized.
 He is also survived by two sons, James Wright of Lamesa and David Wright, who is in military service overseas; also five grandchildren.

County Valuations Increased by Million

The increase in total valuation of taxable property on the rolls of Terrell County for the purposes of taxation amounted to about one million dollars, according to Mrs. A.J. Hahn Jr., deputy tax assessor-collector and County Judge R.S. Wilkinson. The total increase, like that of the schools' roll of taxable property, was due to the increase in oil and gas facilities and production.
 The difference between the total value of the county's and the school district's taxable property increase is due to the difference in assessing the values used by the two taxing subdivisions. Each uses a different percentage of the value of the property as the basis for their separate valuations.
 The county commissioners will set the tax rate for the roll of taxable property on the county's rolls in August.

Mr. and Mrs. L.G. Hinkle Took Their Son, Paul, to Fort Stockton Monday to Have His Eyes Checked

Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Harkins took her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cochran, of Fort Stockton to San Angelo and Odessa last week for them to complete plans for moving to San Angelo next month.

One of the oldest pictures we have published is the one below of Longino, Willie, and Eddie Ochoa, taken about 1900. The original picture is very dim. The clothes worn by the boys is very interesting. Mrs. Rosa Ochoa loaned us the picture.

that the State of Texas is going to spend $95,000.00 in restoring Sam Rayburn's home. Maybe they should just re-build it!

There is a popular move on over the nation to preserve this and that, including the wilderness area of Texas in the Guadalupe Mountains and along the Rio Grande. We can think of several things that should be restored or preserved, and old buildings or sites are a part of that group, but one of the things that we think is pretty important to preserve or restore is the availability of some things at a price that more of us can afford.

Our list of importance of things of value would vary widely, probably, with each individual making the list. But it seems that the welfare of people down in the pennies bracket is not so important as the welfare of people up in the many-dollars bracket.

For example, could the state not spend $95,000 to benefit more people than by restoring the Sam Rayburn home?

Maybe it depends on how you look at it!

In order to try to squelch the unwarranted rumors: High School Principal Wayne Mitchell stated Monday at noon that there had been no hearing and no ruling, nor did he know that there would be either, concerning alleged violations of University Interscholastic League rules. The status of all phases of high school athletic events are now the same as they have been.

Reworking Of US285 Preparations Made

Preparation for the reworking of US 285 for several miles north of Sanderson are under way and work is expected to start in the actual reconstruction very soon.

Rock is being crushed on the Goldwire ranch north of Sanderson where water wells are also being dug to furnish the basic elements necessary for the reconstruction of the highway. The contractor for the work has also set up temporary offices in "dog houses" on the west side of the highway near the Goldwire ranch turn-off.

Plans include the reconstruction of the highway to the Pecos County line with the exception of a portion of highway on "Big Hill", and the raising of the Downie Draw bridge by about four feet, according to information received.

Rev. and Mrs. Paul Tatum and daughters, Jan and Jill, attended the West Texas Youth Congress at the Paisano Encampment last week. There was an attendance of 221 youths, 14 years of age and up, at the Congress.
