It Depends on How You Look At It!

After a session of the commissioners' court like last week, we would not blame the members of that august body for voting themselves a raise. With that many things to listen to, that many decisions to make, and that much action, they ought to get a little more money, maybe. The seats just are not very soft - for them or for spectators, either!

One of the items tabled, and one which they are considering possible action on, is the invitation to hire a tax attorney to sue for delinquent taxes, and the attorney's fee would be a percentage of the taxes collected because of his action.

There are many advantages to this possibility, in a manner of speaking. Many of the items listed on the delinquent tax roll are very small amounts, but their time of delinquency stretches back a long number of years. It could also be a means of finding a responsible owner of that and other property that may exist, but is not currently taxed, and let them all know that the county expects payment of taxes or else!

There are some disadvantages, too, in that suit for taxes never makes friends, and there are always chances that one thing will lead to the other and a complete revision of the tax structure will result.

The state's school tax plan is still hanging in the balance, and now the teachers of the state are the ones who are being bad-mouthed as culprits. There is no telling where it will all wind up or how.

And for that matter, the statement also includes the invitation mentioned above, which is also in the balance.

It would seem to us that more people should attend the commissioners' court sessions if they have something on the agenda that is of particular interest to anyone.

One of those items, and we for the life of us - cannot see why there is not more interest expressed in the local dog situation. The dogs are about to take over the town and nothing good can come of an increase in the dog population.

If, one of these days, we have a rabies scare or outbreak, or if some child gets mauled by a dog or a pack of dogs, or something bad like that happens, then there will be lots of excitement.

Speedy Montalvo is building a body shop in the 200 block of East Oak St. on the site of a lot recently cleared of debris and old adobe. Certainly, the new building will be an improvement in appearance of the neighborhood and we are proud of the improvement and glad that the new building is going up.

Another recent improvement was the painting of the front of the bank building.

Revenue Sharing Funds Received

County Judge Charles Staley revealed last week that Terrell County had received $9,821.00 in revenue sharing funds. The money is a rebate to counties and municipalities for use in a public purpose.

As revealed in the county's financial statement published last week, this is the total amount now in that fund of a figure near $100,000.00 that has been received by Terrell County. The commissioners' court has sole responsibility for expenditures for the money, most of which has been spent for machinery of the type for moving and hauling dirt, since the inception of the program.

The money is received quarterly by the county, and this year's total is expected to be near $40,000.00.

Wool Incentive Checks Received

Fifty-three ranchers in Terrell County were mailed their incentive payments last week, according to Dudley Harrison, chairman of the ASC County committee. The $102,418 received by sheep producers is 21.8% of their net proceeds for shorn wool in 1974. The rate is based on the difference between the national average price of 59.1 cents a pound received by producers during 1974 and the previously announced incentive price of 72 cents a pound. Ranchmen have received about one-fifth the amount received in 1972 marketings. No payments were made on 1973 sales.

Of the 53 applicants, 50 sold their lambs in the wool and, therefore, also received incentive payment at the rate of 52¢ per cwt. for the wool left on the lambs. Applicants covered 43,362 head and these payments totaled $14,280.

Deductions of 1-1 2¢ per pound from 1974 shorn wool payments and 7-1 2¢ per cwt. of liveweight from 1974 lamb payments were made to finance advertising, sales promotion, and related market development activities. These deductions were approved by 85.5 percent of sheepmen voting in a referendum last November. The promotion fund is managed by the American Sheep Producers Council. Terrell County producers contributed $11,883 to the self-help program this year.

The average of $1.37 a pound received by growers who sold mohair in 1974 was 56.8 cents above the announced support level of 80.2 cents a pound; therefore, no incentive payments are needed for mohair. The applicants this year number about half the persons who filed the first year payments were made in 1955.

Funds Available For Housing Aid

Approximately $4,000 is available to put low income and elderly people into "decent safe and sanitary housing", according to officials of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. All counties have had money earmarked for use in new Housing Assistance Payments Program established by section 8 of the Federal Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.

It was stated by Jack Stark, HUD attorney, that it will take time for the HUD staff to make contact with all the less-populated counties to see whether they are interested in becoming involved.

The Section 8 program allows eligible tenants to rent houses or apartments from private owners or from public housing agencies at "fair market rents" with subsidy assistance from HUD. Eligible tenants will be people who earn a maximum of 80% of the median income for their local community.

Councils of government are being urged to operate programs for counties that do not have the resources to set up the required public housing authorities needed to oversee the projects.

Robert Haynes SRSU Science Fair

The Sanderson High School newspaper "The Claw" reported in the last issue that Robert Haynes, assisted by Clay Mitchell, presented a project in the annual Regional Science Fair at Sul Ross State University. Mrs. R.C. Holcombe accompanied the two young men on the trip to Sul Ross for the fair.

The project of Haynes' dealt with wildlife watering and proved that rainwater was a cheaper way to water livestock. It also proved that the water beneath the ground does not evaporate as fast and saves energy.

The project was the first entry for Sanderson and it is hoped that others will become interested in the fair which is open to students in all levels of public schools.

cided to play hookey. They went to Kerr Mercantile and bought provisions for the lunch, and walked south from there to the creek bed and followed the creek west to the pump house and trestle near the rock crusher. Punishment for the offense was the necessity of memorizing the Texas Constitution, Mrs. Savage stated. Carl Cochran and Cargile, and another man were not students, but joined the group for the "outing". A picture next week will show the group eating their meal.

Electricity... Still a good bargain

Sure, your total electric service bill may be higher today than it was in 1944, 1954 or 1964, but that's because you probably use electricity to operate many more household appliances than you did in those years. Actually the average annual residential rate per kilowatt hour has decreased. Just compare that to price increases of other items and you'll see electricity is a tremendous bargain today. With other household prices rapidly rising, you can quickly recognize electricity as one of the best buys in your budget. Wouldn't you like to be buying round steak, sugar, bread, coffee, eggs, milk, butter, U. S. Postage stamps and gasoline at 1944, 1954 or 1964 prices?

LET YOUR VOICE BE HEARD!

CONGRESS NEEDS YOUR VIEWS

The new 94th Congress represents a different breed of "political animal." An extraordinary number of its members—92 in the House, and 11 in the Senate—are new to Capitol Hill. Many have little or no prior political experience. Most have no business background. Already, these lawmakers' desks are piled high with legislation on the action list for 1975. Among these are bills of crucial importance—national health insurance, welfare reform, tax reform to assist industry in acquiring needed capital for reinvestment, reform of Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) standards, standby authority for wage/price controls, regulatory reform measures and many more. The outcome of these major issues must also be of immediate and deep concern to every American interested in the survival of our free enterprise system. With so many new faces on both sides of the aisle this year, the American voter has a rare opportunity to let his voice be heard in the halls of Congress. The inexperienced legislator particularly needs your views on these and other problems facing our nation. His attitudes—and votes—will be determined by what he hears from you. Don't miss your chance to speak out! A healthy national economy is everybody's business!

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK
State Comptroller

It comes as a surprise to most people that the State of California has fulltime state tax auditors stationed in Houston and Dallas to audit Texas companies which do business in California.

It should be just as surprising to find out that Texas has never had any regular program of auditing companies from California -- or any other state -- who do business here.

We're about to change that. In the Comptroller's budget request to the Legislature we are asking for funds to hire 50 auditors to work on out-of-state tax accounts. We could probably use more than that and here's an example of why: Counting Texas businesses and out-of-state companies both, there are 225,000 concerns collecting our sales taxes. Of these 225,000, a mere 1,100 account for more than 50 per cent of all sales tax revenue. Of those, 1,100 big accounts, more than a third are headquartered out of Texas and have never been subject to regular audits.

I think there's gold in them thar hills. California has 200 out-of-state auditors on the road. A little state like Virginia in 1973 picked up an additional $1 million from just 54 out-of-state audits. Michigan, with auditors stationed in six other states, recovered $11 million last year. Indiana uncovered $5 million in out-of-state audits in a year.

Hiring auditors doesn't cost -- it pays. Auditors whether in-state or out-of-state, easily can produce from $10 to $15 in new revenue for every tax dollar spent on them. It is not unusual for audits, especially of larger companies, to produce an average of $5,000 for each audit conducted -- and that works out to be between $90 and $500 for each hour the auditor works.

Bring in more money is the major thing we think of in talking about auditing programs, but there is also a case of justice involved which is just as important.

So much of the money we are talking about is money which the public has already handed over to these businesses in the form of sales taxes. It is not money coming out of the pockets or profits of these businesses.

FOOD MARKETING ALERT

USDA
Agricultural Marketing Service

As of mid-April, the supply situation in May is expected to look like this . . .

RED MEATS —

Beef . . . plentiful, with output about the same as last May's record and 5% above the 1972-74 average for May. Leaner beef — from cattle fed largely on forage — will account for all the increase. Pork . . . light. Production will be down 15-18% from last year, well under most recent 3-year average, but relatively large beef supplies will take up slack.

POULTRY & EGGS —

Turkey . . . adequate, with seasonally light new-crop marketings 20% under May 1974 and about equal to 1972-74 average. Cold storage holdings May 1 should be below high level of year earlier, but up nearly one-half from 1972-74 average.

Broiler-fryers . . . adequate. May production 7% less than year earlier and 4% under 1972-74 average.

Eggs . . . adequate, with output about 6% under year earlier and 8% less than May 1972-74.

MILK & DAIRY PRODUCTS —

Fluid milk, dairy products . . . plentiful. Milk production is rising seasonally, and supplies of most dairy products should be near seasonal peaks. Feb. butter production rose 31% from a year earlier, and about 7% more than the Feb. average for 1972-74.

Dry milk production in Feb. was 46% greater than in Feb. 1974 and almost 8% above most recent 3-year average for the month. Commercial stocks on hand March 1: dry milk 126% more than the March average for 1972-74; American cheese 43% higher, and butter almost 36% greater.

FRUITS, VEGETABLES, NUTS

Pears . . . plentiful. Feb. 28 cold storage stocks, mostly D'Anjous, were 78% above year earlier and 71% more than 1972-74 average.

Apples . . . plentiful. Cold storage holdings Feb. 28 were 6% larger than year earlier and 11% greater than most recent 3-year average.

Citrus fruits, juices . . . plentiful. Early, midseason, Navel, and Valencia orange output is estimated at 10% above last season, 13% greater than past 3 seasons' average. U.S. grapefruit output is down 7% from both last season and past 3 seasons' average. End-of-Mar. stocks of Florida frozen concentrated orange juice were 4% under record holdings of year earlier, but 27% ahead of most recent 3 seasons' average. Florida canned single-strength grapefruit juice stocks were 19% larger than low level of year earlier.

Canned non-citrus fruits

. . . plentiful, because of 1974's larger production. Examples: Jan. 1 stocks of canned peaches were 59% larger than a year earlier, 18% above January 1972-74 average. Canned pear stocks topped year earlier by 29%; 4% larger than latest 3-year average. Mar. 1 applesauce supplies 55% more than earlier. Stocks of canned apples Mar. 1 were up 20% from year earlier.

Dried prunes . . . plentiful, due to big carryover from record 1973 crop which topped 1974 output by about one-half.

Raisins . . . plentiful, with 1974 crop exceeding large 1973 crop by about 9%.

Storage potatoes . . . plentiful. Apr. 1 stocks 30% above year earlier, 25% ahead of Apr. 1, 1973 stocks.

Frozen potatoes . . . plentiful, with Feb. 28 holdings 13% more than year earlier and 11% above 1972-74 average.

Frozen vegetables . . . plentiful, overall. End-of-Feb. stocks were 16% greater than year earlier and 29% heavier than 1972-74 average. Frozen sweet corn was especially plentiful with holdings 27% above average. Also relatively heavy were green peas, snap beans, and carrots.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN — Statistics and common sense indicate the 64th Legislature is heading for a wild and crowded finale, and that more bills will die than survive.

This is inevitable with more than 2,200 House bills and joint resolutions and nearly 1,100 Senate bills and joint resolutions introduced.

The system is overloaded, and the tabulations of unfinished business on legislative computers effectively turn on the warning lights.

Of about 2,400 House and Senate bills referred to House committees, fewer than 500 have emerged.

About 900 bills and important resolutions have been referred to Senate standing committees, and some 500 have come out.

With the exception of constitutional revision, which was effectively and promptly disposed of, most of the session's key business remains unfinished.

Budget bills are still in the Senate Finance and House Appropriations committees.

School finance reform measures are in sub-committees, and seem likely to stay there awhile. Agreement is far from reached on public utility regulatory legislation.

Legislators have their hands full in the next six weeks, and the facts are stacked against any easy way out.

STANDARDS COSTLY

Federal water quality standards may cost Texas cities, towns and industries more than $6 billion before 1983, according to a Texas Water Quality Board inventory.

Federal requirements call for complete elimination of pollutional discharges into waters by that date.

The Federal Water Quality Act specifies that every river, stream, creek, lake and coastal area is to be fit for swimming, boating and fishing in eight years.

Texas Water Quality Board estimates the cleanup of city wastewater discharges would cost cities $400 million a year if their part of the deadline is met. Industries would have to come up with another $3 billion, TWQB estimated.

CONSTITUTION SUBMITTED

Final concurrence by the Senate in House amendments to a proposed constitutional revision resolution sent the issue of a new constitution for Texas to a November 4 statewide ballot.

Campaigns already are shaping up for the eight-section article-by-article rewrite proposals, which are virtually identical to the final recommendation before the 1974 Constitutional Convention. Funds will be provided by the legislature for advertising the document and "educating" voters on its provisions.

ALLOWABLE WIDE OPEN

The Railroad Commission again set the oil allowable at 100 per cent for May in spite of a minor decline in crude requests from national buyers.

Next month will be the 38th of wide-open production. East Texas Field, restricted to 86 per cent, is an exception.

COURTS SPEAK

The Court of Criminal Appeals, by a 3-2 vote, upheld the 1973 Texas death penalty law which permits execution for several categories of murder. Thirteen men are on death row at Huntsville prison.

Texas Supreme Court held that a man who lost an eye in an oilfield accident can collect disability insurance only for that specific injury unless he can prove that other physical problems (including traumatic neurosis) are direct results of the eye loss.

AG OPINIONS

A county clerk has authority to issue a marriage license even though it appears applicants have been divorced less than 30 days, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

A bill permitting veterans to defer paying tuitions and fees at colleges while awaiting federal benefits is constitutional.

A county can spend money to maintain and operate parks without holding an election to levy a park tax.

An investigative report of the Texas Real Estate Commission is public information and must be disclosed.

The College Coordinating Board and Vocational Education Board may refuse to renew approval of out-of-district junior college course offerings.

A statute which bans bringing a child into the state for purpose of placing him for adoption is an unconstitutional infringement on right to travel.

APPOINTMENTS

Gov. Dolph Briscoe appointed Tolbert Thurman Crowder of Port Arthur to the board of regents of Lamar University to succeed William Samuel Monroe of Port Arthur who resigned.

Briscoe named Durwood A. Sutton of Grand Prairie to the Texas Turnpike Authority board of directors.

Truett Smith of Wylie was elected chairman of the Texas Industrial Commission and John Turner of Houston vice-chairman.

Briscoe reappointed Houston H. Harte of San Antonio, Raymond M. Holliday of Houston and Joseph Zeppa of Tyler to the East Texas State University board of regents.

Nelson A. Clare is a new assistant attorney general in Attorney General Hill's San Antonio regional office, and John H. Richards is assistant chief of the AG anti-trust consumer protection division.

SHORT SNORTS

The Senate again passed a bill calling for a study to determine if state agencies are doing adequate jobs and if they should be continued.

A multi-million-dollar alcoholic treatment and rehabilitation program also received Senate approval.

A $150,000 rural development loan went to Corsicana Industrial Foundation to help finance a tool and rubber company expansion.

Fifteen model programs for handicapped children will be developed by school districts under a $1.3 million federal grant.

Comptroller Bob Bullock asked the attorney general to shut down 21 Houston businesses which owe $118,000 in city and state sales taxes.

SOCIAL SECURITY REPRESENTATIVES COMING

The Social Security representatives from the Odessa office will be here Monday at the courthouse in the office of the county judge from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration may meet with them.

NEWS OF SAFETY

Every year a startling number of children—some 23 million—are injured in household accidents. Often, it's a result of not thinking ahead. Here are some safety tips which should help to keep your child safer.

Don't store household utility products in the compartment under the kitchen sink unless the compartment can be locked securely. Some of these products can be poisonous or abrasive to a child's skin.

Teach your children now to use cooking utensils. At first, give them tasks that don't require sharp tools.
