It Depends on

How You Look At It!

Regardless of how you look at it, there is a lot of water in Lake Amistad -- and all you can see is what's on top! We made our second trip to the lake last week and it was most enjoyable. We hesitated to say much about the first trip because it had been 28 years since we had been on a fishing trip and we were fearful of being thought wacky for talking about pretty blue water, completely calm lake - mirror-smooth, no wind, very little direct sunlight all day, good fishing, beautiful scenery of bluebonnets in bloom, pitaya and ocotilla blooming all over the place, a recollection of the ability to throw a fishing lure in the general direction desired, and also a recollection of some real fishing language like: hook, line, sinker, pole, rod, reel, treble hook, lunger, minnow, troll, boat, motor, swivel, and lots more fishing words like heck, shucks, darn it, fiddle-sticks, etc. We even recognized a catfish, were able to distinguish between a black bass and white bass, and identified a crappie. We remembered lots of fishing words, too, like popper, hell-bender, plastic worms, spinner reel, plane-out, and some other words that we never did find out what they meant: *Gc", and $#@, and *$%# $+, and ?/*&%.

The second trip - Friday of last week - was different in that the lake was not quite so calm, but not at all rough, at least not for the boat, motor, and host that we had. The pretty blue-bonnets and ocotilla blooms were gone, too, but in their place were many many columbine blooms on the walls of the canyons, and small purple flowers very heavily covering the ground in so many places. We continued to use many of the fishing words we recalled from previous years and some of the new ones we learned on the earlier trip so that we could be classified some kind of a fisherman when the conversation turned in that direction after we got back to town. We also recalled the use of a bait-casting reel, the conventional old-style kind to you non-fishermen, but we honestly did not have to recall the use of certain words most applicable and appropriate when you get a back-lash. Not one in an all-day fishing effort!

One thing we learned on this trip that you can catch sun perch on plastic worms, and we also learned that it takes a lot of skill to do it. Not just anybody can! If you want to try and prove your fishing ability, set that as your goal!

Isaac Newton knew what he was talking about when he said: "Any novice can catch a fish if you use the proper bait, but it takes a real craftsman and artist to catch a sun perch on a plastic worm!" We uphold Isaac Newton's evaluation of a fisherman and will defend his opinion and the

Hanson, H.A. Couch, W.W. Sudduth, F.M. Wood, and A.H. Zuberbueler. Lunch was served in the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church to the doctor and all of the workers with Mrs. Weldon Cox in charge of that part of the project. Scholarship Fund Begun In Name of Mrs. Louise Causey

A scholarship fund was begun after the death recently of Mrs. Louise Causey in her name. It was announced that the fund was under the supervision of Mrs. Irvin Robbins and School Superintendent Carroll B. Card. To date approximately $240.00 has been contributed to the fund. The administrators of the fund decided to try to build up the fund so that the interest could be used for the scholarships and would be a perpetual fund-producing endeavor in memory of Mrs. Causey rather than an effort to perpetuate the scholarship by asking for donations each year and spending those donations that year to assist some worthy student; deducing that the fund and the effort would both be short-lived due to circumstances of raising the money and spending it. Proposals for administering the fund have been submitted to Mrs. Causey's family, accord to Mr. Card, for their expressed desires which will be a strong determination in the final action of the use of the fund whether a large sum or a year-to-year effort. Mr. Card stated that if the fund were to be a perpetual source for aid to students through a scholarship, that it would be a decision of residents of the area who were friends of Mrs. Causey and de-

An interesting old picture of Sanderson taken about 1918 from atop the depot looking northeast. The car in the left foreground is behind the drug store building, and further back from the car across the street is a house about where The Sanderson Times Building now is. The former J.D. Nichols' home, W.J. Ferguson home and courthouse extend toward the back center, with the jail and old red school building, Jack Laughlin home following the street toward town. The white building behind the McClymont Building housed The Sanderson Times, and west of the McClymont Building (the red brick building north of Kerr's) was a jewelry store, and then the Jim Kerr home. At the extreme right is the Cottage Bar with posters on the fence behind it, and the white building on Oak St. behind the bar is about where the Peavy Building now is. The picture was loaned by W.C. Cargile of El Paso, a former resident.

truth of it the rest of our life.

Another thing that we learned last weekend: in reading the report of the Soil Conservation Service in preparation for the implementation of the Sanderson Canyon Watershed Flood Control Project, it was estimated that Sanderson Canyon is now approximately 250 feet more shallow than it was at one time. The washing in of silt, gravel, etc., from the mountains and slopes on the watershed have filled in that much of the canyon and its slopes. This was determined by the deposits found in the canyon.

Since there has been this much deposited in the canyon and on its slopes, this means that there has been an erosion of this much gravel, soil, and silt from the mountains and slopes in the watershed. All of which means that the canyons used to be much deeper and the mountains much higher than they presently are!

This is interesting to us, since it means that there has been a drastic change in the appearance of the topography in this area, much of which is due to soil erosion, winds, rains, etc.

We received word Monday that the little advertisement-like things we use for the Cancer Drive, Heart Fund, March of Dimes, etc., are considered advertising by the Postal Department and even though they are published "as a public service", we have to pay an additional amount in postage because we have printed them.

We get pretty upset sometimes about some of the laws we have - and yet we advocate very strongly the need for people to try to abide by the laws. We are paying for a lot of government, and it seems that we are coming pretty close to getting all the government that we are paying for!

And that's more than we can say about lots of other things! But that, too, depends on how you look at it.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Attending the Veterans of Foreign Wars Convention in Alpine Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Marquez and Mr. and Mrs. S.M. Chalambaga. Marquez is commander of the local post.

All were elected to offices in District 27, with Mr. Marquez to serve as junior vice-commander, and Mr. Chalambaga as judge advocate; Mrs. Marquez is Auxiliary secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Chalambaga is Auxiliary president.

sired to be a part of the scholarship through the memorial to her. Persons interested in contributing to the scholarship fund are asked to contact Mr. Card or Mrs. Robbins if they want information, or to send their check to either of the two and it would be placed with the balance.

The decision to make a perpetual scholarship or a one-shot aid effort would depend solely upon the desires of the friends of Mrs. Causey and determined by their contributions. Mr. Card stated that they felt that at least $1,000 was needed to set up a perpetual fund and any contributions received would be acknowledged by the family.

Blain Chriesman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Chriesman, is at home for the summer, but will report back to Angelo State University for football training as he is a member of the Ram squad. He will be a senior.

High winds which hit the Sanderson area Saturday night did some damage around town. The telephone booth on the corner of Oak St. and Persimmon was blown over by the high winds, and there was considerable damage to trees in Memorial Park. Other residents reported some wind damage to trees, but not as severe as to those in the park.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hardgrave attended the graduation program at Abilene Christian College and spent last weekend with their daughter, Miss Gina Hardgrave, who was among the graduates. She received her Bachelor of Science Degree with emphasis on medical technology and will serve for seven more weeks as an intern at Hendricks Hospital in Abilene.

Deer Season To Begin Nov. 29

Deer season in the Trans-Pecos has been set for November 29 to December 14, both days included, according to information received last weekend.

Other details of deer hunting are expected to be the same as for last year, the news release stated.

Many inquiries have been received about deer hunting and hunting leases from sportsmen interested in bagging the animals.

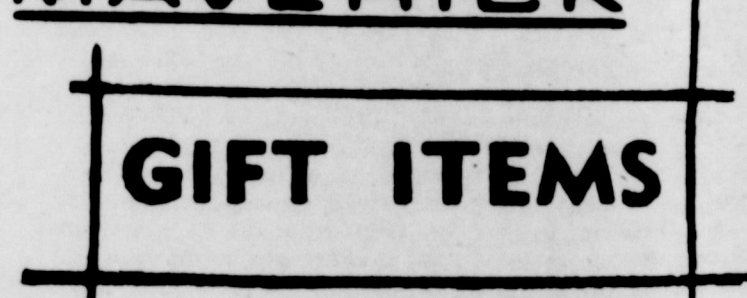

Mrs. Josefa Flores was brought home Monday from an Alpine hospital where she had been a medical patient in recent weeks.

Mrs. Tom Lowrance, who attended Sul Ross State University for her sophomore year, plans to attend summer school there.

Culture Club Meets Last Week in Massey Home

"Texas Heritage Day" was observed for the last meeting of the club year, 1974-75, when the Culture Club met last Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Barton Massey with Mrs. C.B. Card as co-hostess.

Mrs. N.M. Mitchell Jr. opened the meeting by reading Psalms 139 and presided during the business meeting when monthly and yearly reports of the officers and department chairmen were given.

Not having received the current issue of the GFWC magazine, Mrs. G.K. Mitchell gave a report on some national and state legislation now pending and of interest.

Mrs. W.H. Grigsby, chairman of the Terrell County Historical Survey Commission, had prepared a paper on "Preservation of Local History" which was given by Mrs. E.E. Farley since Mrs. Grigsby, the guest speaker, was unable to attend. The commission is interested in having a museum here and is going to make a poll in an attempt to ascertain the interest of Terrell County citizens in the project before making further plans.

Mrs. Graham Childress is going to make the first embroidered brand on the tablecloth which the club is going to have for a bicentennial project, each member to be responsible for an embroidered brand.

Mrs. Grigsby and Mrs. Savage returned from a bicentennial workshop in Marfa before the club adjourned and gave some highlights of the meeting.

An arrangement of red carnations and white chrysanthemums centered the lace-covered table where the refreshments continued the club's colors - red and white. A stuffed tomato salad, relishes, cookies, nuts, coffee, and red punch were served.

Other members present were Mmes. Mary Cox, H.E. Ezelle, A.D. Brown, L.H. Gilbreath, J.N. Brown, N.M. Mitchell, W.W. Sudduth, and A.H. Zuberbuehler; also Miss Wynne Massey and Mrs. Leola Hill, guests.

F.N.A. Officers For New Year Installed

The annual installation of officers for the Sanderson Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America was Tuesday evening in the homemaking cottage.

Nancy Shoemaker, outgoing president of the chapter, presided and led the group in singing the national FHA song. As each outgoing officer lighted a candle, they explained the duties of their office to the incoming officers who would be taking their places after the ceremony. Miss Judy Justus, sponsor, led the girls in some "fun" games to welcome the eighth grade girls who will be in FHA next term. Punch, cake and cookies were served following the activities.

Martin Petty, who attended TSTI in Waco, has been employed in South Carolina for the past three months. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H.M. Petty.

L.L. Brown was in a Fort Stockton hospital several days last week for a medical check-up.

Junior-Senior Banquet Friday Honors 24 S.H.S. Graduates

The annual junior-senior banquet was Friday evening in St. James Hall. Besides the members of the senior class, other invited guests were the members of the board of trustees and their wives, the high school faculty and their spouses.

"Spirit of America" was the theme of the banquet and the patriotic emblems and colors of red, white, and blue used in the decorations made the hall very attractive. A large red eagle was on a star-studded background of red, white, and blue striped crepe paper on the east wall and bore the inscription "Spirit of America".

At the entrance, "Stars of '75" was on a background of red, white, and blue crepe paper, also a picture of each senior mounted on a large silver star decorated in red glitter.

Panels of red, white, and blue paper covered the walls and emblems of the liberty bell, U.S. eagle, and other patriotic motifs were also on the walls. Uncle Sam hats were hung at the top of a large red, white, and blue paper-covered screen in the north end of the hall. In the background of the stage in the south end was a large U.S. shield in patriotic colors.

Red, white, and blue streamers were down the center of the white-linen covered tables in U-shape with red carnations and greenery in milk glass vases placed at intervals. A Bicentennial pin was attached to the place cards and the red and white nut cups were tied with red ribbons.

The welcome from the members of the junior class was given by Bobby Hunn with Ricky Marquez responding for the seniors. The invocation was given by Patti Hope. Bryanann Stavley read the class prophecy, and Elaine Brown read the class will. Mary Escudero gave the benediction. The programs drawn up and printed similar to a resolution were tied with red ribbons after being rolled and were placed at each plate.

The mothers of the junior class members assisted Mrs. Pat Harris in preparing the food for the dinner. Steak, baked potatoes, green beans, tossed salad, apple pie a la mode, and iced tea were served.

For entertainment there were several satirical skits presented by the juniors depicting American theatricals and music and representing well-known characters such as Will Rogers, John Wayne, Shirley Temple, Miss America, etc. The new spotlight was used as the actors appeared on the stage and added much to the presentation.

Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN — Legislators are moving slowly toward adoption of a scaled-to-income school finance bill, their No. 1 priority item in closing weeks of their 1975 session.

The House, on the third day of trying, finally reached narrow agreement on a $721 million version of education finance overhaul.

Under terms of the bill, now before the Senate, school teachers would draw a starting pay of $8,000 a year.

House Speaker Bill Clayton, who engineered the House bill after representatives seemed bent on running the cost up to nearly $2 billion, termed the product a "responsible compromise."

However, it far exceeded the $500 million to $600 million then expected to be available for additional school spending.

Comptroller Bob Bullock was expected to send in a revised revenue forecast any day which could make it possible to spend as much on schools as contemplated by the House without additional taxation.

Test votes in both the House and in Senate subcommittee have gone against Gov. Dolph Briscoe's so-called weighted-pupil approach to distributing state school aid.

Indications are the bill finally agreed on in conference committee will follow pretty closely present formulas for state education spending, and critics claim there isn't enough money to do an adequate job of equalizing opportunities.

When You Buy... Check Your E.E.R!

When buying air conditioning for your home . . . it's important to check the Energy Efficiency Ratio. The information needed to figure the E.E.R. is on a metal plate which is attached to every air conditioning unit. Simply divide the BTU's by the watts. The recommended E.E.R. for an air conditioner is 7.0 or more. A low efficiency unit has an E.E.R. of about 5 or 6. It will probably cost a little more to buy the more efficient air conditioner . . . but in the long run it will save you money, as it operates more efficiently. You can help keep it operating efficiently by cleaning filters and having it serviced regularly.

CARD OF THANKS

The condolences and neighborliness expressed in so many ways by you dear friends at the time of our deep sorrow, is truly appreciated and we are unable to express our deep gratitude sufficiently. But we do say "thank you" as sincerely as we know how.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Riggs and the family of Mrs. O.A. Altizer.

CARD OF THANKS

I cannot express the full gratitude I feel for the kindness and thoughtfulness shown during my hospitalization by friends who called, visited, wrote cards and letters, and sent flowers, and expressed their concern for me in so many ways. Thank you, so very much.
Willis Harrell.
