Bobby Hunn Paul Hinkle Kendall Billings
...to Boys' State meeting in Austin

Paul Hinkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. L.G. Hinkle, Bobby Hunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunn of Dryden, and Kendall Billings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Billings Jr. left Wednesday for Austin to attend Boys' State which will be in session on the campus of the University of Texas June 11-17. Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Hunn took the young men to Austin.

The three representatives are being sent by the Clarence Hallie Mulkey Post of the American Legion. Chosen by the high school faculty from the junior class on the traits of character, citizenship, and leadership, the three boys were named by the Legion from the list for the honor.

Highlight of this year's program will be the appearance of top leaders of the Democratic and Republican parties.

The program sponsored by the American Legion, Department of Texas, is an annual event in which the organization teaches boys the responsibilities of citizenship in actual "do it yourself" type program from which comes its motto, "Learn by Doing".

On Tuesday, June 17, the citizens of Boys' State will visit the state capitol and actually sit in chairs of the office to which they were elected and run the state government for a day.

Commissioners Dedicate Funds To Recreation and Social Development

Terrell County Commissioners were petitioned by two separate groups for some recreational facilities as possible use of revenue sharing funds received by the county. Mrs. Vic Littleton, as a spokesman for the Dryden area, asked for some help in some way to assist the people of that area in securing television reception, a suggestion being assistance in the securing of a license for a translator - to direct the television beam to that area, and possible assistance in financing the purchase and installation of the translator. The second recreational request was in the form of a petition seeking a swimming pool and other recreational facilities for the young people, with Joe Causey the principal spokesman for that request.

Mrs. Littleton stated that there was no concentration of people in the Dryden area and cable transmission of a television system would be impossible, and the only other method known was by a "relay system" similar to the one installed at the El Paso Natural Gas Co. plant. Philip Hanson also had some comments for the court on some of the things necessary for the installation of a translator - or relay - unit to serve that area. It was pointed out that the area was one of the few in the state that did not have any reliable television reception and that the people in that area included many youngsters who could benefit from the educational features of television and that the entertainment feature could be shared by all the residents of the area.

Causey pointed out the fact that he personally was not able to swim and was not wanting a pool for his own pleasure, but as a means of recreation and energetic output for the young people particularly of the area. He noted that there was no public entertainment of any kind available for the younger citizens, other than "dragging

Wednesday evening, Mrs. Dalton Hogg, Legion Auxiliary and their mothers and former delegate to Girls' State, to be her guests at a

The salary for the post is $600 per month with $250 per month additional as car allowance.

Our story and specifically calling attention to the form about revenue sharing funds earned some people to sit up and take notice -- to say the least!

We strongly recommend the close attention of all of our readers to all of the things that are printed in The Times whether for interest, information, or entertainment. The form about revenue sharing funds has been regularly printed, and the appeal for public opinion for spending of the funds is not new - it just has not been so graphically and wordily pointed out before. The Times has printed, also, how the previous funds received have been spent.

The whole idea of calling attention to all of this is not something that we can claim, by any means! The brains that devised the revenue sharing reports also conceived the notion of putting those words at the top of the form.
And we believe that they had some motive in mind when they did that. That's why we called attention to the form so vividly.

Some time if you want to have some fun, try to figure out some of the kinks in the law concerning sales taxes. For example, if you go to a drive-in and order a hamburger and cold drink, you pay the sales tax because you are buying prepared food. But if you go into a store and buy a package of sweet rolls, you do not have to pay a sales tax - and don't ask why, because whatever answer you get will not make sense. If that's not prepared food, then we don't know anything about food - and there are those who will admit that we are some kind of authority on food!

And some items are exempt from the sales tax if they are used in certain industries, and then only if they are used in certain places or purposes. But the sweet rolls idea takes the cake - no pun intended. If you buy a canned drink and a package of rolls and open both there, the canned drink has the tax with it! No need to try to understand or gripe. Pay your penny and forget it!

It was a real thrill to be invited to eat lunch last Thursday with the Brownie-age group at the Day Camp. The hospitality was super, the food delicious (it always is!), and the enthusiasm of everyone was just great!

Everyone should be proud (that word, again) of the work being done by the adults to provide this summer program, and of the enthusiasm of the little girls who participate, and the middle-size girls who work as aides.

Purchased a delinquent tax record book;

The use of revenue sharing funds in legal or authorized projects was discussed, and Judge Charles Stavley pointed out the possibility of a grant to support one-half of the cost of the swimming pool.

Four Dryden residents were visitors at the meeting in support of the plea for help for getting television reception, and about 15 were on hand in support of the swimming pool along with the petitions containing about 300 names, all of which started last week-end.

A MEMORIAL TO SANDERSON FLOOD VICTIMS JUNE 11, 1965

Services Mark 10th Anniversary Of Sanderson's Flood on June 11, 1965

Services at Cedar Grove Cemetery and Memorial Park Wednesday morning marked the 10th anniversary of the flood which took the lives of 27 people in Sanderson - June 11, 1965.

The program was planned by the Young People's Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with other organizations and individuals of the county.

At 10:00 a.m. a large crowd gathered in the northeast corner of Cedar Grove Cemetery at the grave of those disinterred by the flood waters that swept across the Santa Rita and Cedar Grove Cemeteries. Identification of those cadavers was impossible and those in charge of that portion of the clean-up work dug a common grave for re-burial. County Judge Charles Stavley representing Terrell County, and Joe N. Brown representing the YPCC, unveiled the large gray granite monument set in the center over the common grave. Mrs. Dalton Hogg, representing the American Legion Auxiliary and Mrs. Eleno Marquez, representing the V.F.W. Auxiliary, placed a wreath at the foot of the monument. The flag used at the ceremony was secured by N.M. Mitchell from the House of Representatives in Washington, D.C., and the color guard was members of the Sanderson Fierro-Garza Post Veterans of Foreign Wars. Rev. David Marx gave the memorial prayer, a firing squad of the Sanderson American Legion Clarence Hallie Mulkey Post fired the salute, and Jimmy Davis played taps.

The flag which has flown over the Capitol Building in Washington, D.C., and a Texas flag which has flown over the Capitol Building in Austin will be displayed at the service.

The group moved to the Memorial Park where Mrs. Barry Pendleton served as mistress of ceremonies. She is senior vice-president of the YPCC. Mary Corbett, representing the Girl Scouts, and Jose Daniel, representing the Boy Scouts, led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Judge Stavley and Mrs. Kenneth Shurley, president of Alpha Theta Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, unveiled the bronze marker commemorating the loss of the 27 lives, the names of whom are listed on the marker along with the date of the flood. State Representative Mrs. Susan Gurley McBee made a short address, followed by a report of the progress of the Sanderson Canyon Watershed Flood Control Project. Rev. Paul Tatum gave the closing prayer.

The markers were paid for by contributions received from individuals, businesses, organizations, and the Terrell County Commissioners Court. The idea of the markers and the services were conceived and carried out by the Young People's Chamber of Commerce.

"Just a line. Hope you all are doing fine. Hazel had surgery on her legs for varicose veins in March and they seem to be getting much better as of now. We have our other aches and pains. I am going to ask The Times a favor -- when someone goes out of town to the hospital, if possible, please give the name of the hospital. Lots of times, we would like to send a card to help cheer them up and I am sure others would also if they knew where to send them. I, for one, know that it means much to hear from someone if you are laid up in the hospital. Please tell everyone 'hello' for us. Give them our regards. I am enclosing a check for my subscription as we enjoy The Times, and what is happening out that way. Hope this finds you all well. Best regards. Sincerely, Horace (Fletcher) and Hazel".

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — A threatened slowdown of some doctors in major cities in protest to rising medical malpractice insurance costs was eased with signing of two new legislative acts.

Texas Medical Association's House of Delegates went on record against the work stoppage and said the short-term laws should be given a chance to work.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe urged immediate start of a study of the overall problem by a blue-ribbon panel of 18.

Former University of Texas Law School Dean W. Page Keeton was designated chairman of the Medical Professional Liability Study Commission established by one of the new acts.

The bill would also create a pool or joint underwriting association to issue policies up to $300,000.

Another would authorize the State Board of Insurance to set malpractice liability rates and cut the statute of limitation on filing of suits to two years.

Both acts will expire in 1977. A bill pushed by doctors and hospitals to place a $500,000 limit on claims in malpractice actions failed to clear the House of Representatives.

The Commission will report its findings and long range recommendations by Dec. 1, 1976.

Legislature Closes

Texas has a new $654 million public school finance act and authorization for a Public Utilities Commission to regulate telephone rates and services and to control other utilities (except gas) in rural areas.

Cities may elect to come under the Commission after two years with utilities other than telephones. Gas will be regulated by the state Railroad Commission.

Both the school finance and utilities acts were among the last major pieces of legislation approved by the 64th Legislature which ended its session at midnight June 2.

A record $12.1 billion appropriations bill passed by lawmakers on final night of the session has been certified by Comptroller Bob Bullock as within anticipated income.

Briscoe has until June 22 to decide which of the legislature's acts he will sign and which he will veto.

Hearing Recessed

A Railroad Commission hearing on phasing out natural gas as a boiler fuel has been recessed for 30 days after three days of testimony and opening statements.

Some spokesmen said converting plants to other fuels would be extremely costly.

Others urged that any phase-out should be "orderly" and with attention to what effect the changeover might have on rising consumer rates.

Courts Speak

The State Supreme Court suspended the Southwestern Bell $45 million intrastate long-distance rate increase and set a hearing June 18 on the attorney general's suit to block the increase.

The Supreme Court will hear arguments in a McAllen city and school district appeal from lower court rulings that a nursing home operated as a public charity is exempt from property taxes. The local officials disputed the home is a true charity.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the life sentence given a Dallas man in a murder case due to an inadequate definition of circumstantial evidence by the trial judge.

An Austin district court jury sentenced Robert Kleasen to death in the butcher-murder of a young Mormon missionary.

AG Opinions

Public school teachers with contracts for the following school year cannot collect special unemployment assistance benefits, after all, on signing of the new school finance bill, Atty. Gen. John Hill held. Before passage of the bill, with its prohibition on the benefits, Hill had held the teachers eligible.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

The House speaker can set reasonable and expeditious procedures for release of information concerning representatives' records.

College faculty members are entitled to information and recommendations in their personnel files on tenure and performance evaluations.

A missing page out of a budget received by the comptroller does not prevent its being certified where meaning is clear.

A Dallas college district must obtain a permit from the Antiquities Committee for demolition of three historic buildings, regardless of destruction contracts.

Assistant county purchasing agents are subject to the county civil service act, but adult probation officers and assistant county auditors are not.

Miss Michele Nations, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Nations of Ozona, received her Master's Degree in biology at the May commencement at Angelo State University. She has been teaching seventh grade science in a San Angelo junior high school. The Nations are former residents when he was manager of the C.G. Morrison store.

Views of the Day Camp sponsored by the Sanderson Neighborhood Committee last week show only a small part of the activity -- preparation and eating the noon meal. Rev. Paul Tatum, who drove the Baptist Church's bus every day to take girls to and from the day camp, and J.A. Gilbreath, publisher of The Sanderson Times, were guests of the girls at the noon meal on Thursday of last week. The girls worked on camp skills, handicrafts, songs and games and dramatics, and nature study. The Brownie-age group had a separate area for cooking and eating apart from the Junior-age group. The first-aid tent and aide work area was still further separated from the rest of the camp area. Splinters comprised the most serious need of the camp nurse, according to reports. Visitors at the camp one day were two professional Scouts: executive director Miss JoAnn Morrison and field supervisor Mrs. Mary Ann Dours, both of Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Allen and son, Gary, had a 10-day vacation trip. They visited in Colorado City with her parents, in Abilene with their son and daughter, Tom Allen and Mrs. Tom Deveney, and their families, and then went to New Mexico for a few days of sight-seeing.

Mrs. W.H. Savage left on Amtrak Wednesday for San Antonio and will join a party there to go by plane to Charlotte, N. C., to attend the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church. She is the representative of Tres Rios Presbytery.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Whiting and children, Lori, Mark, and Nancy Condes, have moved back to El Paso, their former home. He is an S.P. switchman and they have been residing in the house owned by the Chris Hagelsteins at 212 N. Persimmon.

David Valles has enrolled at Sul Ross State University for the summer session. He made the Dean's List for the spring semester with a 3.2 average.

Mrs. V.G. Ross Buried In Del Rio

Funeral services were in the First Baptist Church here Saturday morning for Mrs. Vollen G. Ross, 75, with Rev. Paul Tatum, pastor, officiating. The Geeslin Funeral Home of Alpine was in charge of arrangements. The body was taken to Del Rio for a graveside service and interment at 3:00 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Ross was killed instantly Wednesday morning when the pick-up truck driven by her husband reportedly struck a parked truck on U.S. Highway 90 close to town. They were enroute to the doctor's office where she had an appointment for medical attention.

Mr. Ross received cuts and bruises over his body and was kept in an Alpine hospital until Friday evening.

Mrs. Ross, the former Lillie Mabel Lemons, was born in Voca on March 19, 1900, and had lived in this area all of her life and in Sanderson since 1936. She was married to Mr. Ross on January 4, 1928, in Del Rio.

She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, L.A. McBee of Eunice, N.M.; two daughters, Mrs. Edna Dunagan of Bishop, Calif.; and Mrs. Lorena Buss of Oregon; a sister, Mrs. Ora Schnaubert, of Del Rio; a brother, Alfred Lemons, of Drumright, Okla.; four grandchildren, and 14 great-grandchildren.

The pall bearers were L.R. Hall, Paul Dunagan, Jarold Dunagan, Doug Dunagan, Robert McBee, and Billy Don White. Named as honorary pallbearers were Austin Nance, J.B. Chapman, Hal Black, Joe Bradford, and Roland McDonald.

Among out-of-town relatives here for the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Johnson and two sons of Rowlett; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dunagan and three sons of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Jarold Dunagan and son of Fairfield, Calif.; Mrs. Jerry Fullbright of Firebaugh, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert McBee and Mr. and Mrs. B.D. White and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. L.A. McBee, Mrs. Audrey McBee, all of Eunice, N.M.; Mrs. R.C. St. Clair and Mrs. Oscar Crawford of Midland; Mrs. Ora Schnaubert of Del Rio and her son-in-law, Harold Shaw, of San Antonio.

Mrs. Alberto Hernandez and son of San Antonio are visiting here with her mother, Mrs. Pablita Flores, and family.

Mrs. Clyde Higgins received a call Monday evening from her granddaughter, Miss Melissa Nichols, in San Francisco stating that her sister, Paula Davis, had undergone successful open heart surgery at Stanford Medical Center. Mrs. M.J. Davis, Paula's mother, and her father, B.F. Davis, of Reno, Nev., have been with her there and surgery was scheduled for May 27, but Paula developed a cough and the surgery had to be postponed.

Report of BOB KRUEGER U.S. Representative

While standing under the pine trees behind the court house in San Angelo last week, I was asked the same question that had been asked earlier at a meeting with the Antonio Personnel Management Association: "How accurate is the President's comment that the Congress is moving too slowly?" My answer is: "Not very accurate. If anything, the Congress probably moves too fast, and doesn't consider legislation carefully enough."

Let's look at the facts. (1) In the last session, when Mr. Ford was minority leader in the House of Representatives, the House did not get organized, and did not make committee assignments until March. The 94th Congress was organized in January and passed a number of major bills by March.

(2) This House has worked more days, been in session more hours, taken more recorded votes, and passed more major legislation during its first 20 weeks than any Congress since World War II.

(3) In the Executive Branch, the person, the President, makes final decisions. Once he has decided, wheels can be put in motion. But a legislative body like the Congress, is different. It must be slower and more careful in the making of laws than the President can be in executing them. A President can decide for a nation. A Congressman can only decide for himself, after listening to his constituents. He must then work to convince his colleagues of the rightness of his position. There are 435 members of the House and 100 members of the Senate. This group must reach some general agreement on policy before the President can, by a veto, overturn a decision of the Congress.

It is in the very nature of democracy that people must convince one another and work together to form policy. That is what members of Congress do: hear testimony, listen to constituents, weigh various suggestions, convince one another, and then pass laws.

Our Constitution decrees that we should have separate and equal branches of government. The Congress legislates, the President executes, the Judiciary arbitrates.

Any expectation that a legislative body can or should act hastily and without careful consideration of policy alternatives is misguided. It shows a misunderstanding of the very tasks of Congress and the President as defined by the Constitution.

I disagree with a good deal of the legislation passed by this Congress. But comments that this Congress is inactive and unresponsive are simply erroneous. I would not, by any means, want the Congress to act more hastily, but rather more carefully. That would be in the national interest.

SS Benefits For Disabled Is Explained

Working people who face a long-term severe disability should apply promptly for social security benefits to avoid loss of payments they may be entitled to, according to social security officials here.

Social security pays monthly benefits to eligible workers and their families if the worker is severely disabled and cannot work for a year or more. Payment begins with the sixth full month of disability.

"Back payments can only be made up to 12 months," a spokesman said.

"So disabled workers should not delay their applications, even if they are not sure they will qualify for payments. About one of every 12 workers getting social security disability payments misses out on some payments because he applied too late."

Disabled workers who have not applied for benefits should call any social security office as soon as possible, according to the spokesman. "Or, they can ask a friend or relative to make the call," he said.

Social security disability benefits are paid to over 2 million disabled workers and over 1-1/2 million dependents. The average payment is $205 a month. Disabled people who have been entitled to social security disability benefits for 24 consecutive months or more also are eligible for Medicare health insurance.

The Social Security Administration is an agency of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

THE SCIENTISTS TELL ME ...

Redesigned Cancer Drugs May Increase Effectiveness

Many cancer drugs exist that can kill or arrest the spread of cancerous cells. But none of these drugs can be considered a satisfactory cure for cancer.

The main drawbacks of most of the drugs presently used in chemotherapy (treatment with chemicals) are threefold: they kill many normal cells, and they are ineffective against resting cancer cells. In addition, the cancerous cells eventually develop a resistance to the drugs.

"While there is no cancer drug without undesired toxicity, some drugs could be redesigned to exist in a harmless storage form that could be distributed throughout the body," says Dr. Joseph Nagyvary, a professor of nucleotide chemistry in the Department of Biochemistry and Biophysics, The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas A&M University.

"These redesigned drugs would be able to easily pass through the walls of all cells and become active mainly when in the presence of abnormal, growing tissue," Nagyvary stated.

"Notice I say abnormal. The approach my group is investigating is expected to work on not only cancerous tissue, but also it is being studied for problems of allergy, psoriasis and brain tissue. At present, problems with all of these involve some of the most resistant cells of the body.

"Biological studies on allergy, effect on the brain and on psoriasis will be performed in collaboration with Dr. A. Szentivanyi (Tampa, Florida) and Dr. W. Klemm (Texas A&M University).

"Texans will be pleased to know that while the initial research of the team I head was supported by the Experiment Station and Texas A&M, our present research is strongly supported by federal grants.

"Our involvement in development of new drugs, which was begun in 1968, has received the attention and financial support of the National Institutes of Health. Results and projects developed here at Texas A&M have been recognized and adopted by some prominent research institutions.

"Drugs can do their thing—good or bad—only in tissues where they are absorbed. The same drug can be invigorating or intoxicating, depending on the site and manner of its administration. Much effort is spent nowadays on regulating or modulating the delivery (logistics) of drugs to selected tissues.

Some of the best drugs, such as aspirin and penicillin, were the result of accidental discoveries, but the modern scientist likes to rely on rational approaches. There are several obvious areas for achieving a better utilization of drugs. The TAMU group is zeroing in on better penetration of tissues by a certain class of drugs called nucleotide anti-metabolites.

"These compounds were unable to penetrate cellular membranes because of their electric charge which, on the other hand, is required for biological activity. The rationale underlying our strategy was suggested by the behavior of organophosphate insecticides which are neutral molecules and possess superior penetration."

Logically, Nagyvary and his colleagues transformed one of the important cellular agents, so called cAMP, into a neutral phosphate. It is known that cAMP not only regulates the growth and shape of cells, it is also involved in diseases such as psoriasis, asthma, diabetes, hypoglycemia and even in aging.

Yet, when injected, cAMP does little good for reasons of poor absorption through cell walls. But after modification in neutral form, it exhibits some of the desired activities and it seems even to stimulate the nervous system, which is the toughest target to penetrate.

Other advantages of using the neutral organophosphate form of drugs, according to Nagyvary, are that it can be considered a good storage form, from which the active agent is released only slowly with a longer period of action and less toxicity. The application of the same principle to cancer drugs will lead to the development of better efficiency in the treatment of resistant tumors, which otherwise do not respond to chemotherapy.

Nagyvary emphasizes that his group does only the initial part of drug development, including chemical design, studies of biochemical mechanisms of action, and simple small animal studies. Research hospitals take care of the further applications to human diseases. Nagyvary feels much credit should go to those responsible for advocating the new line of research activity. He singles out the work of Dr. R. K. Gohis and Dr. R. G. Gillen.

These findings of the TAES team were presented on May 19 at Buffalo, New York, before the Sixteenth Annual Medicinal Chemistry Symposium.

In 1968, Nagyvary's students initiated biological testing of an anti-leukemic agent which was further developed and modified in Japan and is on its way to becoming the best single agent against human leukemia.

There are new horizons, which bring new excitement and challenges, such as the stimulation of the brain and the rejuvenation of cells and organs. Research of such fundamental interest and wide scope is bound to benefit plant, animal and human health.
