The game had everything. Great plays, trick plays, and bad plays. Great individual effort and not so great penalties. Quality officiating and — you get the idea. It felt like a playoff game but it wasn’t. It felt like a district game, but it wasn’t. It was simply a hard-fought, exciting, never-say-die, exciting regular season game with Friona outlasting Dalhart 39-35.

It was also a game the Chieftains needed. Sure, wins over Dalhart 39-35...

WASHINGTON, D.C. – On September 26th, U.S. Senator Ted Cruz (R-Tex.) delivered remarks on the Senate floor honoring Shea Woodard Hall for 25 years of service in the U.S. Senate and to congratulate her on her upcoming retirement. Shea has been a member of Sen. Cruz’s staff for seven years while serving as the West Texas Regional Director for Cruz. Sen. Cruz, and will retire in October.

Mr. President, I would just like to give tribute to a great American, a great Texan, a great human being, and all the things that she has done in the organization, who has dedicated her career to serving the people of this country. Her name is Shea Woodard Hall.

Shea has worked as the West Texas Regional Director on my team for seven years. She is now retiring. She served for 10 years in the Senate, in 1993, when she was hired by my predecessor, Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison. At West Texas Regional Director, Shea started with 89 counties in her region. By land area, that’s bigger than state. Shea could have left her office in Austin, drive seven hours north, and still be in her region—she’s huge. Shea was responsible for the needs of her fellow Texans.

Shea has worked to serve the western half of the state, which is the area she was hired for. She has been tireless and effective in her job, serving as the West Texas Regional Director. Shea has worked to serve the people, to serve the state, and to serve the nation. She has been a tireless and effective member of our team.

Shea is an institution in this state. She is one of the most respected human beings in this state. She is someone who has dedicated her career to serving the people of this country. Shea has become a living legend in West Texas because no problem is too big, and no problem is too small. She has been a tireless advocate for the people of this state, and she has been a tireless advocate for the state of Texas.

Shea is the kind of person who always puts the needs of her fellow Texans first. She is someone who has dedicated her career to serving the people of this country. Shea has been tireless and effective in her job, serving as the West Texas Regional Director. Shea has worked to serve the people, to serve the state, and to serve the nation.

The national average is up 7.4 cents per gallon from a month ago, yet stands 2.2 cents per gallon lower than a year ago.

“Prices have cooled back off after Saudi Arabia brought a significant portion of oil production and processing back online, helping the national average to begin moving lower again, but don’t tell California who saw a massive spike of nearly 25 cents per gallon in the last week, as by refunding excess taxes,” said Patrick DeHaan, head of GasBuddy. “While most of the country will likely see prices tip-toe lower as oil prices have moved lower, California will see prices move higher in the week ahead, with increases also possible in those areas that received their gasoline from California includ- ing Las Vegas. Prices in most of California were slightly higher earlier this year, but if they all rise by an additional 1.8-1.5 cents they may rival the higher earlier this year, but if they all rise by an additional 1.8-1.5 cents they may rival the

Psalm 142: Trusting God through Difficulty

When the going gets tough, where do you turn? Psalm 142 flows from a very troubled time in the life of a person, where persecution abounded and they had no one to turn to. Through these trials, his hope remained in the Lord and this brief Psalm provides two clear principles that help you to trust the Lord through difficulty.

First, go to God with your complaints and troubles. Often when we have complaints or problems, or like to get everything off our chest, we think God can’t do anything about it, other than push in their two cats or jump on your pity party hand wagon. When you go to God, you should start the conversation, “Oh no, my Orlando, your difficulties in light of His unwavering presence, and your stresses in light of His unwavering presence.”

Secondly, continue seeking God to,新常态, clear plans which leads you to intentionally cling to God through the trial. Notice verses 3-4 that Davidarrays the myth of how exhaust the perceiving has been on him emotionally, physically, spiritually, and relationally, but in the final three verses he counters his emotions and thoughts with faith and hope. You are my refuge and you are my portion in the land of the living. He prays in verses 5-6 that the importance to stand up for yourself and commit to him as the way, the truth, and the life. When you hope for your house rests in the solid rock, you have a foundation that can endure any storm you face.

Four inducted into West Texas Walk of Fame

By Clint Mears

Larry Trider, Susan Graham, David Kneupper, and Romeo Reyna were inducted into the West Texas Walk of Fame on September 19, 2019 in the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center Theatre. Celeste Carusos, niece of Romeo Reyna, accepted on his behalf.

Besides being highly successful in their chosen careers, these new inductees have another thing in common. They are true West Texans. Hard-working, friendly, and generous.

Celeste said that her uncle accepted help from any family member who wanted to be a part of the artistic process. She also said that his gardens were just as beautiful as his artwork. The multitude of family members at the ceremony was a testament to the love Romeo had for his family. Larry credited his family for encouraging him to chase his dreams. The Walk of Fame honor has motivated him to reach out and thank everyone that has helped him along the way.

Susan is looking forward to teaching and training the next generation of young people who want to showcase their talents to the world. David remarked that music is a powerful tool and that he is thankful for the opportunity to utilize his skills for the enjoyment of all.

The “West Texas Walk of Fame” honors those individuals with a strong connection to Lubbock and the West Texas area who have devoted a significant part of their lives to the development and production of the performing and visual arts and whose body of work has been influential nationally in one or more of these areas. These four honorees have done that and more.
