Seabees Go To Work On Hospital In Guam

By Sergeant Harold A. Brent, Marine Corps Combat Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN THE PACIFIC Oct. 25. — While the battle for Guam still was progressing, Seabees attached to the engineers of the Third Marine Division provided modern hospitalization for the wounded.

Three Texans were in the group of Seabees whose ingenuity and tireless effort prepared the hospital. They were Boatswain's Mate First Class James C. Evertson of Kerrville, Ship's Fitter First Class Wilbur L. Nabours of Crane and Painter First Class T. P. Smith of San Angelo.

A battered, two-story, pre-Pearl Harbor building in the Navy hospital compound in Agaña was taken over by the Third Division hospital immediately after the Japs had been driven from the town. With shell and bomb holes in its roof and walls, it offered meager shelter until the Seabees went to work.

They salvaged pipe and repaired plumbing, found a 10,000 gallon tank and mounted it on top of the building as a reservoir and provided a pump to life water from a nearby stream to the tank. They plugged up the holes in the walls and roof with Jap cement.

In the rubble of the town they unearthed showers, lavatories, commodes and other essential fixtures. And they rewired the building and obtained a generator to furnish electric power.

The purpose of Gulf's new annuity plan is to grant to employees retirement income as an incentive to further service and as a voluntary reward for long-term faithful service, applicable to all on equal terms. No contributions will be made by employees, the cost of the plan being borne by Gulf with funds paid into an irrevocable trust.

Home Demonstration Club Antique Exhibit Saturday Featured by Colorful Displays

The years rolled back and an outmoded era was brought before the eyes of local citizenry Saturday by the display of old ranch items shown by Grimm Taylor at the antique show put on by the Home Demonstration Club.

One was reminded of a hardy ancestor with courage to meet the hardships of the day. There was a peace, too depicted in the items. An old coffee mill and tobacco cutter, not to mention an old wine jug over 100 years old, spoke of evenings by an open fire.

Contrasted with such items was a horse pistol, stirrups from the civil war, which belonged to Uncle Jimmie O'Bryan. Then there were knives, bayonets, a powder horn and flint over 100 years old, a powder flask with powder at least 75 years old in it, bullet molds, Spanish bit, old rifles—cap and ball, flint lock, Civil War shot guns and cap and ball pistol. The days of the stage coach were brought back by a stage coach haine, board axle and tar axle wagon hammer.

Another colorful display at the show was the items exhibited by Mrs. Tom Workman. The things, for the most part, belonged to her mother, the late Mrs. Sadie Knapp of Ohio, and a different scene was pictured by them. We see a little old lady with her tea table and surrounded by odd items of another century. A tea basket brought over on sail boat in 1870 from England, square plates and other pieces of china.

Two photographed pictures of Mrs. Knapp were shown. One was titled "Tired" and showed only the tired hands of an old lady after a day of work. The other was named "Victoria" and was a full face view of her dressed in ancient bonnet and black dress. These expert works of photography were shown at an exhibit at Ohio State University in 1940.

A display which created a great deal of interest was the arrangement of gifts which local residents had received from relatives and friends overseas. There were odd items from Japan, Italy, India, China, Egypt, wooden shoes from France, pottery from Africa, Bibles from Jerusalem, grass skirt from Hawaii, bow and arrow sent by Billy Stephenson and numerous items from the islands.

Crocheted table cloths were shown by Mesdames E. C. Higday, Jack Smith, John Christy, Jim Robbins and Boyd Cox. Linen and cut-work cloths by Mesdames Daugherty and Cox, and linen and crocheted by Mrs. Daugherty.

Embroidered pillow slips, Mrs. Daugherty, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Lucy Cleaver and Mrs. Christy.

Bed spreads, applique, Mrs. Cox; crocheted, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Cox and Mrs. C. G. Taylor.

Afghan, Mrs. Cox and Miss Taylor.

In the baby department, a baby set was shown by Mrs. A. F. Eades and a bed set and bibs by Mrs. Cleaver.

Hot dish mats were shown by Mrs. Robbins and Mrs. Cox and linen crocheted napkins by Mrs. Cox.

Fresh vegetables grown in the county were shown by Mrs. Bob Burleson, Mrs. Preston Patton, Mrs. Hazel Yocham, Mrs. Dunn Lowery, Boyd Cox, Mrs. W. C. McDonald, Mrs. S. H. Boyd, Mrs. E. D. Yates and Mrs. Lloyd Yocham.

Fort Stockton increases lead in District 3-B Loop

Marfa	1	3	0	26	51
Iraan	1	3	0	25	55

Winning over Iraan 20-6 while McCamey was playing a non-conference game against the San Angelo Kittens, the Fort Stockton Panthers increased their lead in the conference standing to two full games last Friday night in a game played on the Stockton home grid-iron.

Two conference struggles, both home games, remain on the Panther schedule. The Panthers line up against Crane tonight, and play Big Lake on November 11.

McCamey tangles with Marfa tonight, in a home game, than must meet Big Lake, Crane and Grand Falls, in that order.

At this writing, the Badgers should take Crane and Grand Falls in stride, but Big Lake's 31-6 rout of Grand Falls makes that eleven something of a question mark when compared with Fort Stockton's 40-0 win over the same team. The Badgers may run into stormy weather next Friday night when they invade Big Lake.

The Rankin schools have observed Founders Day of the Gonzales Warm Spring Hospital for Infantile Paralysis during this week. As part of the program, Dr. J. C. Bredehoff addressed the students Monday morning on polio. Themes were submitted on this subject, also, by high school students. Three outstanding themes were the ones submitted by Tommy Hall, Joan Starnes and Wanda Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Owens were Odessa visitors Sunday.

Old clothes which dated slightly less than 100 years were shown by Mrs. Lucy Galloway. These clothes were modeled. Mrs. Al Turner wore an old evening dress, Joyce Morris a dress worn by her great grandmother and La Rosa McKelvey was dressed in an old fashioned gown and hat.

Numerous antique items were shown including a charcoal iron by Mrs. Pierce and old coins by Mrs. Clark.

In the canned foods exhibit held in connection with the Antique Exhibit last Saturday, the following prize ribbons were awarded:

Canned peaches: Mrs. Hamp Carter, Mrs. J. W. Powell and Mrs. J. Lane; canned peaches, Mrs. J. Lane, Mrs. M. O. Wheeler and Mrs. Al Turner; okra and tomatoes, Mrs. S. H. Boyd, Mrs. M. O. McDonald; jelly, Mrs. Turner and Mrs. McDonald; preserves, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. J. T. James and Mrs. Turner.

An unusual display of quilts was shown, including a feather quilt by Mrs. Boyd, a down quilt by Mrs. Walton Poage, a wool quilt by Mrs. J. W. Powell, morning glory, wedding ring and daisy quilts by Miss Maggie Taylor, Dresden Plate pieced by the mother of Porter Johnson when she was 72 years of age, tuft quilt by Mrs. Boyd Cox, spider web, corn flower and wool quilt by Mrs. J. Arrows indicate direction of Allied drive on Germany (See: Europe).

EUROPE:

City of Death

Black and pinkish smoke curled above the charred ruins of the once busy city of Aachen as massed U. S. artillery and fleets of bombing planes poured their volley of death into it to rout out the 1,500 defenders.

But hidden deep in underground shelters beneath the rubble like moles, their spirits reportedly bolstered by wine and brandy, the stubborn enemy stood up under the bombardment to come up with machine-gun and rifle fire to plague the stout-hearted doughboys, working their way through the rubble after the heavy salvos of the big guns.

Even as fighting went on inside of Aachen, the Nazis massed for counterattacks in an attempt to break the Americans' pincer closing on the city from the north and south, throwing in sizable armored formations in the teeth of withering U. S. artillery fire.

A smoking and deserted ruin, the Nazis fought desperately for Aachen to use it as a symbol of fanatical German resistance, and to delay its capture because its fall would give the Americans an important road hub, with a broad network of super-highways leading to the Rhineland, 20 miles away.

Fanatical as Nazi resistance was at Aachen, it was no more rabid than on the Third army front from Metz to Nancy, where the enemy

continued to fight strongly to bar Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's pathway to the Saar basin, and on the Seventh army front about the foothills of the Belfort Gap, 25 mile break in the mountains leading to Bavaria.

By landing behind enemy lines and outflanking their defensive positions, the Canadians steadily pushed the Nazis from southwestern Holland, while the British 2nd army threatened to close in on them from the north near Arnheim.

In Italy, heavy rains sent shallow, gravelled mountain creeks careening over their banks, and muddied up the hilly terrain, slowing the 5th and 8th armies advance on the Po valley.

As Allied troops knocked the Germans off of one slope, they bucked up against fresh opposition on the next, and occasionally the Germans threw in counterattacks in an attempt to exploit the difficulty of bringing up supplies over mushy roads or sagging mountain shoulders.

With most of its crack troops strung to the northeast and east, and no strong defensive system organized in the south where Russian troops were hammering forward after their dash through fallen Romania, Hungary's early collapse was expected by the Allies.

Massing 1,000,000 men, the Reds developed a three-pronged drive on East Prussia, aimed at slicing up the German province from the north, east and south.

Land at Harvest

British forces in the Peloponnese who landed at Patras, fourth city of Greece, are on hand for the harvest of the No. 1 crop of the region.

The Greeks have a word for it, which we translate as currants. They grow profusely on the Ionian Islands and for many miles inland along the Gulf of Corinth shores. In fact, Corinth gives them their name. These currants of Corinth are small, seedless grapes. Harvested and dried, they become raisins of the same type that California produces.

PEACE MACHINERY:

Draw Blueprint

Having assumed the major share of defeating the Axis on the field of battle, the U. S., Britain, Russia and China, and later France, proposed to assume an equally major responsibility in maintaining the peace through a postwar security organization outlined at the Dumbarton Oaks conferences in Washington, D. C.

With other United Nations acting as an advisory assembly, the "Big Four," and later France, would hold permanent positions on an executive council, to which would be entrusted the task of maintaining order through peaceful settlements, or the use of force, if necessary.

To assist the permanent council, an economic and social committee would be organized to promote trade, and an international court of justice would be set up to settle cases which could be determined on legal grounds.

- 1. Whether any of the nations represented on the permanent council shall be allowed to vote on the question of applying suppressive measures if charged with aggression;
- 2. Whether the U. S. representative's vote for such measures should be cast at the direction of the President or congress;
- 3. What forces or facilities should be placed at the disposal of the permanent council;
- 4. What constitutes aggression.

To Moscow flew Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Minister Eden of Great Britain to confer with Marshall Stalin and Foreign Affairs Commissar Molotov on knotty Balkan problems posed by the Russian armies' lightning occupation of these countries.

Also on the conferees' agenda was discussion of the critical Polish situation, brought about by the exiled Polish regime's resistance to Russian claims to the country's eastern territory, and the soviet sponsored Polish Committee of National Liberation's demands for an important voice in the future government of the nation.

PACIFIC:

Strike China Coast

Even as Admiral Chester Nimitz declared that "... We must make landings on the China coast ... to enable us to employ the air forces which will be at our disposal ..." U. S. planes bombarded the Ryukyu islands and Formosa guarding that vital shoreline.

As hundreds of American planes sought to soften the enemy's defenses shielding the Chinese coast, the Japanese pressed their drive to seal off the whole eastern shoreline to prevent a juncture of U. S. and Chinese forces in the event of landings.

Recognizing the character of the enemy drive, Admiral Nimitz said: "... To the extent that the Japanese improve their situation in China, our task will become more difficult ..."

Principal target of the U. S. aerial attacks was the glittering green island of Formosa, serving as a huge air base covering the sea lanes to China, and staging point for the enemy's South Pacific operations.

MISCELLANY

Milk is the largest single source of gross farm income and was 15 per cent of all farm income in 1943—larger than cattle or hogs, twice eggs, over twice cotton, four times wheat, six times tobacco. One out of every 15 U. S. families is dependent on milk for a livelihood.

Milk and its products comprise over 25 per cent of the 1700 pounds food consumed annually by individuals.

1944 HARVEST:

Record Seen

Only adverse weather during the remainder of the harvest season can crimp a record grain production for 1944, the U. S. department of agriculture reported, with the corn crop expected to total an all-time high of 3,196,977,000 bushels; wheat 1,108,881,000 bushels, and sorghum 152,000,000 bushels.

Estimated production of 1,192,000,000 bushels of oats and 287,000,000 bushels of barley would place the total harvest of the foregoing five grain crops well above 5,800,000,000 bushels, a gain of approximately 400,000,000 bushels over last year.

In addition to the flourishing grain harvest, record crops of rice, fruits, commercial vegetables, peanuts and tree nuts were anticipated, and tobacco production was expected to approach the 1939 high of 1,804,879,000 pounds. A 7 per cent increase in tonnage of citrus crops over 1943-'44 in all states was forecast.

Although below record levels, production of hay, beans, peas, soybeans, flaxseed, potatoes and sweet potatoes was estimated above prewar output. Marketing of livestock and livestock products was expected to reach a higher volume than in any year save 1943.

Canned Foods

With the army demanding increased supplies of canned fruits and vegetables, and packs of these products spotty, civilians may expect smaller stocks during the coming year, trade circles declared.

Unless army orders are cut in the event of Germany's downfall, it was said, civilians can expect less canned peas, corn, tomatoes, beets and carrots, with only asparagus supplies remaining about the same. Of fruits, only apricots will be in good supply, with smaller stocks of peaches, pears, fruit cocktails and pineapple available.

According to trade circles, canning was affected by the War Food administration's increase in the percentages of certain items set aside for military use, adverse weather, and manpower problems.

Star Farmer

Named as the Star Farmer of 1944 at the annual convention of the Future Farmers of America, 20-year-old Elton Ellison of Ralls, Tex., started off seven years ago with the purchase of a 10-acre farm, which he worked with the purchase of 10 acres of cotton and mules on borrowed money.

By the end of the 1942-43 season, Young Ellison was able to help his father buy a 260-acre farm, which he worked along with an additional 270 acres he rented before answering his army call in August. Receiving a $500 award on behalf of Young Ellison, his comely 13-year-old wife chirped: "... My goodness ... this check will really help us on our farm. I'm going right back to Camp Roberts and Elton to hurry home as soon as he can ..."

SOLDIER VOTE:

Estimate Total

Of 4,300,000 servicemen who have received absentee ballots, more than 2,300,000 will vote November 7, state officials estimated.

To date, more than 600,000 ballots have been returned, with the rate varying from 5 per cent in Wisconsin to 50 per cent in Ohio.

In New York, 375,000 out of 589,054 servicemen who received absentee ballots were expected to vote; in Pennsylvania, 180,000 out of 600,000; in New Jersey 300,000 out of 379,920; Tennessee 37,500 out of 50,000, and Montana 5,000 out of 13,000.

CHINA:

Relief Needs

Although supplies could not be delivered before 1946, and most of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation fund of over $1,350,000,000 will be spent for locomotives, tobacco, clothing, food, etc., chiefly for Europe in 1945, China has requested aid totalling almost $1,000,000,000.

The sum, however, would represent less than a third of total Chinese relief costs, it was said, with the country planning to bear the remainder of the whole expense for feeding and clothing the people, restoring transportation, rebuilding industry and resettling millions driven from their homes.

In addition to nearly a $1,000,000,000 of supplies, China asked the UNRRA to furnish 935 doctors and nurses, 1,000 industrial experts, and 230 welfare workers.

Matching the U. S. contribution of $1,350,000,000, other United Nations are to furnish an additional $1,000,000,000.

FARM MORTGAGES

Farm mortgage totals declined nearly a billion dollars in the period from 1940 to 1944, according to U. S. department of agriculture reports. Of the $952,000,000 total reduction, $850,000,000 was in 1942 and 1943. Good income from record-breaking crops made this possible.

On January 1, 1944, the farm mortgage debt was almost 8 per cent below that for a year earlier, 14.4 per cent below the total for January 1, 1940, and almost 48 per cent below the peak-year of 1923.

Our Libel Laws Protect Individuals—Not Groups

Because our libel laws specifically cover the defamation of individuals, any racial, political or religious group may be attacked unfairly and continuously with little risk of prosecution, says Collier's.

While many group-libel bills have been introduced in state legislatures and congress in recent years to provide this much-needed protection, only one such measure was ever enacted; namely, in the state of New Jersey in 1935, and that was invalidated six years later.

Brighten your kitchen with cross-stitch towels. Pattern 7159 contains a transfer pattern of seven motifs, averaging 6" by 7" inches.

Household Hints

When washing windows, add a few drops of kerosene to the water to give added polish. Painted furniture is easily cleaned if a little kerosene is added to the washing water.

A few cranberries added to your applesauce when cooking will give it a delicious flavor.

If you find it difficult to find your doorkey in your handbag, sew a snap to a piece of narrow ribbon, tie the key to it, and snap it to the inside of the purse.

The next time you make a laundry bag, put a draw string on both ends. This will facilitate emptying it.

Wrap a metallic frock in black paper or material to prevent it from tarnishing.

To save your rubber heels, have the shoemaker reverse them when they get worn on one side.

Warm feet are assured when one has to wear rubber boots in winter or when wading an icy stream, if woolen socks are first put on and then paper sacks drawn on and snugly folded about the foot. Then put on another pair of socks—heavy cotton does all right for the second pair. Feet dressed in this way get warm and stay so, no matter how cold the day or water that one has to wade.

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for October 29

THE CHRISTIAN MOTIVE FOR LIVING International Temperance Sunday

LESSON TEXTS—Psalm 4:3-8; Luke 4:4; John 6:35; Romans 12:1, 2; 13:12-14. GOLDEN TEXT—Seek those things which are above.—Colossians 3:1.

Disciplined living should be the goal of each of us. Life is not to be lived carelessly, influenced by chance events or passing impulses. Such discipline of life would keep men from the temptations which lead them into intemperance and sin.

A life can be properly disciplined, only as it is controlled by Christian motives. Such a life has—

I. Spiritual Gladness (Ps. 4:5-8). The psalmist had faced the distressing questioning of men who derided him for his faith. They were unbelievers who demanded of him what good his religion did (v. 6). He has an answer, and it is the testimony of his own experience.

Those around him sought gladness in the harvest of grain and in the wine which was supposed to give a lift to their spirits. This was their joy. Well, the man of God had something infinitely superior. He had gladness in his heart. It was not dependent on outward circumstances—it was within.

Then note, too, that it did not rest on something that happened, or on some fellow man. "Thou (God) hast put gladness in my heart." That means real joy and satisfaction.

II. Spiritual Food (Luke 4:4; John 6:35).

It is delightful to have true gladness, but man needs food if he is to grow and to work. That is true spiritually, for he must have the needed nourishment of life here also.

Jesus when tempted (Luke 4:4) because He was hungry saw beyond the temporal need, and declared that life should be controlled by a higher principle. The spiritual has a place of supremacy over the physical in the life of the Christian man or woman. The body with its desires is to be subject to the definite control of the spirit, which takes its orders from God.

The explanation of the awful alcoholic debauchery of our day is found right here. Men have given their bodies the supreme authority and they are driven by the lusts of their flesh. What they need more than legal reform or restriction of sale of liquor (and we believe in both) is the regeneration of their souls by the grace of God in Christ Jesus. Let us bring them the gospel.

John 6:35 makes known the fact that Jesus, the bread of life, satisfies every need of men. Every normal hunger and thirst finds full satisfaction in Him. Have you tried Him as the One to meet the need of your hungry heart?

III. Spiritual Service (Rom. 12:1, 2).

"Reasonable service," says the Authorized Version; "spiritual service," says the Revised Version. Both are right. The man who is really reasonable will be spiritual and will render to God a sacrificial service.

Note that it is a "living sacrifice" that is said to be "holy, acceptable to God." This is not a case of a single act of deep devotion (great as that may be), but a going on in the daily walk to live for Christ. That calls for grace and power, and He is ready and willing to give both to each of His children.

That experience with God means a non-conformity to the world, which is too little spoken of and less practiced in the church today. The one who professes to follow Christ is simply not to be conformed to the ways of this wicked world. There is to be a completely transforming experience of the grace of God, that takes you out of this world while you are still in it.

IV. Spiritual Walk (Rom. 13:12-14).

Christians are the children of the morning. They walk in the light (I John 1:7). This world walks in darkness. No one needs any argument to prove that point—just look about you.

The deeds of darkness are evil deeds, and men dwell in darkness because they love evil (John 3:19). That means that the children of light must walk circumspectly and "becomingly" (that's a good word!) in this world. Thus we may attract others out of the darkness into the light, so that they too may put aside "reveling and drunkenness," yes, and also "strife and jealousy." Those go together.

The way to victory is to be clothed with the Lord Jesus and His righteousness (v. 14). That is a real "armor of light" with which we may be protected.

Note also that we are studiously to avoid making any provision for the desires of the flesh. Put such things away, and with them will go the temptation to use them. Some professing Christians need to heed this word by destroying some beverages which they may have on hand—just to give one example.

Soldier of the Soil

VICTORY begins with the American farmer, working from long before sunset until long after nightfall. Upon him falls the burden of feeding the fighting forces... the civilian population... and hungry mouths in war-torn countries.

To the challenge of producing more food than ever, American soldiers of the soil have responded with heroic effort. Despite shortages of help and equipment, they have established records. They have contributed mightily towards winning the war.

Now you are asked to help your fellowmen in another way... to contribute money to give men in the armed forces needed recreation, to give books and sports equipment to prisoners of war, to give nerve-shattered men in the merchant marine a chance to recuperate. To give unfortunate people abroad and at home a chance to have life, liberty, and happiness.

The dollars you can give are needed more than ever this year. Please give generously.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

As American as Huckleberry Finn

About the best-read books in our town are the works of Mark Twain—who wrote Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn and all those other lovable, undying stories.

And I think it's because he's the most American of all our writers. He understood his fellow men—and loved them as he loved all humanity.

You may remember what he said of Tolerance and Freedom —those principles so basic to our way of life. Mark Twain believed in them, of course. He fought for them. But he cautioned: "Never let tolerance become indifference, never let freedom become license."

From where I sit, that's timely wisdom for a troubled world—
whether it applies to international politics, or to a man's right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer occasionally.

For tolerance—respect for the other fellow's rights—is important not just in the big things, but in the little human everyday things, too.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"That's really a great editorial you just read to us, Judge. Where did you say it appeared?"

"In 'The Stars and Stripes'...the newspaper of the U.S. Armed Forces in Europe.
Kind of gives us folks back home something to think about, doesn't it, Bill?"

"It certainly does, Judge. Particularly the last paragraph. Would you mind reading that again?"

"Glad to, Bill. It says, 'We can remember the days of prohibition, when moonshine whiskey made quick fortunes for bootleggers, crooked politicians and dishonest police officials. As a result, we claim we know what we want in the way of liquor legislation and feel those at home should wait until we return before initiating further legislation on liquor control."

"Out of fairness to our boys over there fighting, Judge, how could we disobey such a wish?"

Take a little time to have your oil changed!

A FEW minutes here now may save several hours in a repair shop later and save a whopping repair bill, too. The wear and tear of steady driving at varying temperatures thins out even the best oils. Let us drain out this worn-out motor oil and replace it with full-bodied Marathon Motor Oil—the cream of the crude.
