on the west side of their blacksmith shop last Friday. At the time the picture was made the giant icicle measured 94 inches. Next is shown one of many evergreen trees which took on a wintry appearance the past week with first snow and then freezing fog. A couple of youngsters are shown turning the street in front of Cummings Farm Store into a playground, as sleds were brought out full force. Last, young Terry Mabry is being presented a $100 savings bond by Charles Allen of Friona State Bank, for coming the closest in the bank's "Zero" contest. Mabry missed by only two minutes the exact time when the temperature reached zero in Friona.

Perhaps those New Yorkers who walked across Brooklyn Bridge to get to their jobs during the transit strike have a little in common with those folks who also try to cross rivers to get to work -- but without benefit of bridges.

We refer to those Mexican farm laborers, commonly called "wetbacks", who try to slip across the border to earn a few dollars working on US farms and ranches, then return to their own homes and families in Mexico. The term "wetback" dates back many years and stems from the fact that, in order to avoid the border patrol, they often swam across rivers or irrigation ditches to get into this country.

Even though it is illegal, we can't help admiring anyone who'll go to all that trouble and risk in order to work for a living, especially when we contrast them with those in our own country who look for legal ways to live off the rest of us without working.

Not all wetbacks are such an admirably sort, of course. The same devious routes across the border have been used, in both directions, by criminals and other undesirables. That's the main reason the border must be patrolled.

It's part of the reason, also, that arrangements were made several years ago, whereby Mexican citizens who sought only to work in the US for a time could do so legally. This was known as the "Braceros" program, and was unquestionably of mutual benefit to citizens of both countries. But that arrangement was ended as of January 1, 1965, on the initiative of the US government.

Almost immediately the wet-back program began to worsen again. During the first 10 months of 1965, the border patrol caught 52,748 persons trying to enter the US illegally from Mexico. This was about 22,000 more than were caught in the same period in 1964. Judging by past records, we expect that most of them wanted only to exchange some good hard labor for some cash.

But Uncle Sam says "No!" No private American dollars for foreigners who are willing to work for them. There's plenty of tax money available for "building bridges of understanding" with Communist dictatorships in Russia and Eastern Europe; but existing bridges of trade and commerce are closed to honest, hard working private citizens in our own hemisphere.

Our respectful and respectably Mexican neighbors are not free to come across the border to help themselves by helping us. It's almost as though Uncle Sam is saying to the world: "Freeloaders, Sit Workers, no!"

As every parent knows, kids learn the darndest things in school these days. However, something new is being advocated in education that is likely to jar the hardest. One of (Continued on Page 3)

TONIGHT AT BOVINA

Special Night Scheduled For Sheriff Lovelace

In appreciation of his 17 years of law enforcement service, friends of Parmer County Sheriff Chas. Lovelace will honor him with a special program and a reception tomorrow (Thursday) night in Bovina Schools auditorium.

Sheriff Lovelace, who was elected to office in 1948 and began his first term January 1, 1949, will be presented with an engraved watch and a plaque.

Following the program, at which E. A. Bills of Littlefield, former district judge, will be the guest speaker, a reception will be held in the school cafeteria.

The presentations to Sheriff Lovelace will be made by W. L. "Preach" Edelman of Friona, Bedford Caldwell of Bovina will be master of ceremonies for the program.

"Everyone in the county is welcome to attend the program and pay tribute to Charlie," invites Herb Potts of Farwell, co-ordinator of the program.

In addition to county residents, several law enforcement officials from outside the county have been invited to attend. Introducing Judge Bills will be Sam Aldridge of Farwell. The program is scheduled to begin at 7:30.

Since Lovelace was first elected to office, he has never had an opponent in his bids for re-election. His present term extends through 1968 -- three more years, which will make a total of 20 which he had held the position.

Citizens of the county wishing to have a part in the appreciation for the sheriff may contact either of the three banks in the county prior to the program.

Helping with details of the program are Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture and Bovina Woman's Study Club. Members of the Study Club will assist in registering guests and with the reception, at which coffee and Spudnuts will be served.

Mrs. Lovelace will also be honored, along with her husband, at the Thursday night program.

The Lovelaces are parents of three sons, Johnny, who is assistant football coach and head basketball coach at Spur High School, and Jerry and Leon, who are attending Texas Tech on football scholarships.

"We think Sheriff Lovelace has done an outstanding job of heading our county law enforcement during his many years in office and we think it is fitting that we pay tribute to him for his fine work at this time," commented Potts.

Representatives from all towns and communities in the county have taken part in the planning for the Appreciation Night.

Sheriff Lovelace has been a county resident since 1920 when he moved here with his parents from Vernon.

Services Conducted For Zola Cranfill

Funeral services for Mrs. Zola Verle Cranfill, 56, long-time Friona resident, were conducted from Friona Methodist Church at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Survivors include her husband, G.L. (Preach) Cranfill, a son, Dr. Lee Cranfill, Friona; two daughters, Sue Frances White, Friona, and Joan Pat Patton, Canyon; and seven grandchildren.

She was born August 10, 1909 at Tulla and moved to Friona 36 years ago. She was an accountant and co-owner of Cranfill-White Bookkeeping Service in the Mabry Building.

Rev. Paul Mohr, pastor of Union Congregational Church of which Mrs. Cranfill was a longtime member, was the officiating minister. He was assisted by Rev. Russell McAnally, pastor of Friona Methodist Church.

Also re-elected were two members of the credit committee, Ralph Taylor and Ralph Roden.

During the meeting, it was announced by the treasurer, Lucy Jones, that the credit union has grown to include assets of $328,075.54 at the close of business December 31, 1965. This was an increase of $74,500 over the same date a year earlier.

Also, the board announced its intentions of paying four and one-half per cent interest on savings deposits with the credit union. The FTFCU paid out approximately $12,000.00 in dividends this year, and will have paid out approximately $60,000.00 during the past five years.

It was also pointed out that the FTFCU has loaned over $1,680,000 since it was organized 12 years ago.

Ten of those attending the meeting were awarded door prizes of $5 shares in the credit union. Winners were Mrs. Calvin Doshier, Bobby Drake, Rodney Williams, Roger Fields, Darla Howell, Mike Taylor, Paul Williams, Mrs. J.P. Ready, C.O. Houser, and Santos V. Garcia.

Holdover members of the board of directors are Lucy Jones and C.O. Houser. The holdover member of the credit committee is W.H. Flippin, Jr.

day total to eight inches officially, with a total water content of .34 inches.

The snow of Thursday night and Friday morning (six inches) melted down to .24 inches of moisture. A "trace" of snow was recorded on Sunday and Monday mornings, as well as on the preceding Thursday.

The snowfall seemed fairly general the county over, and drifting was held to a minimum, so that most of the moisture will be of a beneficial nature.

County Agent Joe VanZandt termed the snow "what the doctor ordered" for wheat and grassland.

The week's snow bringing the official moisture total to .34 inches left January just .02 inches below the total moisture received in January of 1965.

Official records tabulated by the City of Friona showed that the mercury, which finally dipped below zero the morning of January 22, fell to 10 degrees or less six consecutive nights through Wednesday night.

The week's readings were as follows:

Jan. 20	47	28
Jan. 21	30	9
Jan. 22	15	-5
Jan. 23	30	-5
Jan. 24	30	7

Mothers March Set Feb. 4

The annual Mother's March, sponsored by the Friona Jayceettes as a project in conjunction with the local March of Dimes, has been set for Friday, February 4.

The march had originally been set for this Friday, but with the recent snow and icy conditions, and threat of more, the drive was rescheduled for the following Friday.

The Mother's March is just one facet of the local drive by the March of Dimes.

RE-ELECTED . . . These officials of Friona Federal Credit Union are shown after the annual meeting last Thursday where they were re-elected to their respective positions. Seated are directors Loyde Brewer, Ray Landrum and Mack Bainum. Standing are members of the credit committee, Ralph Roden and Ralph Taylor.

ZANEY BLANEY

"Good Will Ambassador" To Be Chamber Banquet Speaker

these days a visitor to public school may overhear something like the following:

"Set 'em up again, Miss Jones. I'm just (hick) getting relaxed, kid."

This sort of thing may come from recommendations made to the New York Academy of Sciences recently by a Harvard University psychiatrist, Dr. Morris Chafetz. The good professor advanced the idea that children should be taught to imbibe booze properly and that this kind of education could best be provided by our schools. Naturally.

Pointing out that alcohol is here to stay, and presumably on the theory that if you can't lick it you should join up with it, Dr. Chafetz said, "people must learn to develop a healthy attitude to it." If children can be given this healthy attitude, fortified with experience, the professor believes they will not degenerate into alcoholics.

The Chafetz plan would start the child on spirits in the elementary grades and would take him through college on a varied diet of alcoholic beverages. This would not only stop thirsts but would help the kids with their social behavior problems, according to Dr. Chafetz.

However, the program is highly scientific, as is everything that originates on the Harvard campus. No straight shots of bourbon and no dry martinis would be served in the first or second grade. Presumably this would be for older men and women, in high school.

Unfortunately, Dr. Chafetz did not clarify many points in his preliminary pitch. Will teachers be expected to match drinks with their young charges? Will all those casks and cases rolled into our public schools be underwritten by federal aid to education? Will that other Harvard Professor, Kenneth Galbraith, endorse this as part of the public sector of the affluent society?

Rip Van Winkle couldn't sleep for 20 years nowadays. He'd have to get up, from time to time to fiddle with the thermostat.

Walter (Zaney) Blaney, the self-styled Texas "ambassador of good will," is the featured speaker for the annual Friona Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture banquet, scheduled for Tuesday, March 1 at the new Friona High School Cafeteria.

Tickets for the banquet, which will also install new Chamber officers and honor outstanding personalities in the city, are to go on sale immediately, and will be available from any member of the Friona C of C & A. Blaney appears on a national circuit for banquets and conventions. He has become one of the top humorists in this field to emerge from the State of Texas.

A popular speaker for banquets such as for chambers of commerce, Blaney recently spoke to a similar banquet at Canyon.

Blaney is 6 foot, 6 inches and dresses in Texas regalia with boots, string tie and Stetson. He pours forth a fast line of Texas humor and engages members of his audience in some zany action on stage with him.

In 1960 Zaney was first commissioned Texas Official Ambassador of Goodwill by Governor Price Daniel. He was commissioned again recently by Governor John Connally.

Blaney is a sleight of hand artist and comedian. His magical creations have won him a number of awards in national magician societies.

Last July he was the featured act at the worldwide convention of the International Brotherhood of Magicians.

Blaney is a native of Dallas and is a graduate of the University of Texas. He and his family, a wife and three small daughters, live in Houston.

His antics at the university won him the nickname of "Zaney" and the name stuck.

In September of this year, Governor Carl Sanders of Georgia and Texas Governor John Connally invited Blaney to appear at the Southern Govern-

Squaws Drop Second Loop Game At Olton

The Friona Chiefs won their second straight District 3-AA contest at Olton Tuesday night, but the Squaws dropped their second contest, this one in overtime, 62-56.

It was a case of the boys team meeting one of the weaker teams in district, with Friona coasting to a 79-29 win, while the girls met one of the contenders. Olton girls are one of the five teams in district which are rated among the top ten teams in the state among class AA teams.

While the loss was a setback for the defending district champion Squaws, it does not by any means eliminate them, as there are seven big games left in district play.

Friday night the teams go to Dimmitt in what should be the final game of the first half of district play. However, the Lockney games, postponed from last Friday, will have to be rescheduled.

Then on Tuesday, the teams will "start over" the second time around in district, going to Abernathy to play two outstanding teams there.

The Chiefs had little trouble in their game at Olton Tuesday. They had a 22-7 lead after one quarter, and sped to a 38-12 halftime lead. It was 59-15 after three quarters, and reserves saw a lot of action.

The Squaws' game was nip and tuck throughout. Olton had a 17-12 lead at the quarter, and a 29-27 halftime edge. Friona took a 43-40 lead into the final quarter.

With the score tied and eight seconds left in regulation play, Cindy Ingram calmly scored two free throws to give Friona a 53-51 lead. But Olton raced the ball downcourt and scored a basket as the buzzer sounded to tie the game and sent it into overtime.

Olton scored seven free throws in the three-minute extra period to emerge on top. The Olton team scored 28 out of 35 free throws during the game, as charity tosses spelled doom for the Squaws in their second straight game.

Modern Study Club Elects New Officers

Highlight of the Tuesday evening meeting of Modern Study Club was election of officers for the ensuing two years. Mrs. Ernest Osborn was elected president. Other elected officers are Mrs. Frank Spring, vice-president; Mrs. George Taylor, secretary; Mrs. Dave Thompson treasurer; Mrs. J.T. Gee, reporter, and Mrs. Howard Ford, parliamentarian.

The program topic for the evening was antiques. Each member was asked to bring an old picture. These pictures were flashed on a screen and enlarged by use of an opaque projector. Those present made a game of identifying the pictures.

"An Old Sweetheart of Mine" by Riley was read by Mrs. Aubrey Rhodes from an antique volume belonging to Mrs. I.V. Day. Mrs. Roy V. Miller Sr., pianist, played a number of old songs and Mrs. Ernest Tannahill and Mrs. George A. Jones pantomimed the husband and wife mentioned in the poem.

An antique rocking chair, brass cuspidor, kerosene lamps and candles furnished an old fashioned setting. Members displaying antiques told the history of each item on display. Mrs. Mabelle Hartwell, a guest, displayed several unusual pieces of cut glass and silver. Hostesses were Mrs. George Taylor and Mrs. Sloan Osborn.

POETRY ILLUSTRATION . . . Mrs. Aubrey Rhodes read the poem "An Old Sweetheart of Mine" at the Tuesday evening meeting of Modern Study Club. Mrs. Ernest Tannahill and Mrs. George A. Jones acted out the poem as it was read. The three pose here before a table of antiques which were displayed during the program.

There may be more than one Friona resident who has already picked ripe strawberries from the backyard in 1966, but I've not heard about it. Mrs. Mabelle Hartwell, who lives about one block from the Star office, was surprised to find a few ripe berries on a vine she was pruning in her backyard a few days ago.

Mrs. Hartwell has lived in Parmer County many years and has seen many strange things happen, but this is the first time she has ever seen ripe strawberries on the vine in January.

Two Frionans were television personalities one day last week. Janice Cunningham, daughter of the Wesley Cunninghams, is a student at a beauty school in Lubbock.

Students participate in an advertising commercial with instructors and models. A few weeks ago Janice told her mother she had been asked to appear on the program and wanted her for a model. Vernell, who is an employee of Friona State Bank, was somewhat reluctant to serve as a model, and suggested that Janice ask someone else to appear with her.

Janice, like most young ladies, knew how to get around her mother's reluctance by saying, "I couldn't do as good a job on anyone else."

Of course that clinched the deal. Janice, who graduated from Friona High School last spring, began doing her mother's hair long before she thought of enrolling for a beauty course. The only thing many of us who know the Cunninghams regret is that we didn't have an advance notice so we could have watched the program.

The following article came to my desk with the caption, "FOR WOMEN ONLY." After reading it and considering the subject matter, I feel sure it contains good advice for persons of either sex of any age. If the effect of losing one's temper was understood by more people, perhaps more effort would be spent learning control.

You've heard of, perhaps even know, the woman who early in life decides "nobody's going to push me around." She then embarks on a lifelong battle to defend her rights, real or imaginary. The ability to cope with stress elude her. She stamps, screams and throws her way through life convinced she is building "respect" in those who handle her with kid gloves.

Actually, she may well be building the weapons of her own destruction.

Medical science tells us that continuous, uncontrolled temper can encourage or aggravate high blood pressure, heart disease, ulcers, colitis, asthma, jaundice, skin disorders, dizziness, chronic indigestion, fainting spells, and headache.

And of all these conditions, researchers report nervous tension headache is the most frequent result of temper. You've undoubtedly discovered this yourself after a flare-up with the children, your boss, neighbor -- or a complete stranger who jostles you on a crowded sidewalk. Muscles tense immediately, particularly those at the back of the neck and across the shoulders. Your head aches. You react by "tightening up". But as you do this the pain increases. The tension headache intensifies -- and continues long after the anger has subsided.

The secret of coping with temper - triggered headaches lies in preventing them. Every time you "think mad" your temperature rises from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 degrees, and contrary to popular opinion, even worse things may happen when you "blow you top." Adrenalin floods into your system. Blood vessels react violently as nature transfers blood from skin surfaces to muscles -- muscles tense for fight or flight.

Next time you feel anger boiling up inside, rip the weeds out of your garden, clean the attic, wash walls, paint the bathroom, -- or the inside of the closets. Do anything that takes real energy. If social

COUNTY WORKSHOP

Plans are shaping up well for the workshops on Pattern Alterations. A total of 48 have registered and registration will close Tuesday, Jan. 25.

One day next week the Clothing Specialist from A&M University will be working with agents in this area, bringing us up-to-date on clothing construction techniques, 4-H clothing guides and other news on fabrics. Family living cost continues to rise and the homemakers who can sew, whether she sews for creative outlet and satisfaction or for economy in dressing her family, will welcome information on new techniques and fabric news.

All too soon a kitchen becomes cluttered with tools that are less useful than expected or do not work.

Tools seldom used may not be worth the space they take and may well be discarded. Here are a few clues to help in this selection:

For accuracy, choose measures that are labeled "U. S. Standard." A minimum measuring kit consists of a set of spoons, a nested set of metal cups, (1/4 to 1 cup) and a glass cup with pouring lip.

Moving food calls for spoons, tongs, forks, and turners—with insulated handles and easy to grasp. A set of wooden spoons for stirring and mixing can save the finish on those pretty bright pots, less danger of breaking bowls and the handles do not get hot.

Take a good look at the efficiency of your kitchen. Are seldom used tools or tools that do not work taking up space? Are tools stored at point of use, convenient and easy to find? Much time and energy can be wasted due to improper tools to do a job efficiently and poor storage.

The list of available gadgets could be pages long. To earn a priority position in a top kitchen drawer, any tool should prove its worth through frequent satisfactory service.

We have an excellent bulletin in the Extension Office that may prove helpful in this area for kitchen tools and storage for efficiency. It's entitled "Arrange Your Kitchen for Convenience and Comfort." These are free, call 481-3619 and ask to have a copy mailed or come by the office.

Langston To See His Terrace Wish Realized

J.W. Langston, a Parmer County Soil Conservation District cooperater has long wished for the benefits of terraces without the old style crooked terraces and the short point row. His wish is about to come true, because parallel terraces as designed and laid out by the Soil Conservation Service offer just that, along with a solution to the new problem of matching high speed multirow equipment with terraces, diversions, contour rows, and other cropland conservation practices.

SNOW BENEFICIAL

Last week's snow was big aid to nearly all area farmers and stockmen. We were in real need of this moisture for our wheat crop and to aid in land preparations for this year's crop. Even though cattlemen had to feed some the snow helped give grassland some moisture for next springs early growth as well as improve wheat pasture conditions.

Langston plans to construct the terraces as soon as the dirt contractor can get to the job. He also plans to parallel terrace another quarter next fall if all goes as planned.

The advantages Langston sees are as follows:

(1). Terraces are designed to accommodate 4 or 6-row equipment without odd areas or point rows.

(2). Terraces will hold rainfall where it falls, allowing it to soak into the soil, to be used in the production of cash crops.

(3). Stopping water erosion on the long, gently sloping field. Langston has entered into a Great Plains Conservation Program contract for the purpose of receiving cost share assistance on the construction of these terraces. For further informa-

Bankers Tour Area

A group of Eastern New Mexico bankers and agricultural specialists toured feed lots in Friona area last week.

Sam Thomas, agricultural development manager for Southwestern Public Service Co. was in charge of the tour.

Reason for the tour was to show the visitors in feeding programs, which they might combine with their alfalfa. The county represented by the group produces an estimated 135,000 tons of alfalfa each year.

The group included three Carlsbad and Artesia bankers and the Eddy County Agriculture Agent.

Lots visited in the Friona area included those of Doyle Cummings, A.W. Anthony and Joe Easley. The group also toured the Holly Sugar Corp. feedlot at Hereford.

After spending the night in Amarillo on Tuesday, the group was scheduled to tour feedlots on the North Plains near Dumas, Stratford, Guymon, Hooker, and Gruver.

The tour had originally been scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, December 15-16, but was postponed because of bad weather.
