

Plymouth Power Steering Engineered For Safety

DETROIT. — Plymouth's new full time power steering system, available on all 1954 models, now makes driving safer as well as easier, says Plymouth Chief Engineer Robert Anderson.

Driving is safer because the same mechanism which helps the driver turn the front wheels resists turns when they are not desired, he says.

"For example, when one of the front wheels hits a bump or deep hole, the power steering unit goes to work automatically and immediately," he said. "It keeps the car on the course the driver has set. It helps him bring the car to a safe, smooth stop, if necessary. The power steering mechanism absorbs virtually all of the shock."

Power steering also contributes to safer driving by lessening driver fatigue on long trips, Anderson says.

Plymouth is using the link type of power steering. The system consists of a rotary oil pump coupled to the generator, rubber hose lines and a hydraulic power cylinder built into the steering linkage. The cylinder has special, integral valving which permits the cylinder to meet all driving requirements automatically.

Engineering tests show that parking a Plymouth with power steering on a dry pavement requires only 6.7 pounds of effort, compared to 30.5 pounds with manual steering. Rounding a city corner at 15 miles per hour with power steering requires 3.4 pounds of effort, compared to 10.7 pounds with manual steering.

Points In Buying And Preparing Meats Topic At HD Meeting Oct. 8

The Rankin Home Demonstration Club met on Thursday, Oct. 8, at 2:30 p. m. in the Park Building.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Chris Bieri presided. She announced that the major demonstrations for the coming year would be continued on meats and family economics would also be included.

The president appointed a nominating committee of Mrs. Bill Bushong, Mrs. Joe Hodges, Mrs. Alvin Bushong and Mrs. D. O. McEwen.

All members are to fill in her year book and bring to the next meeting, which will be on Oct. 22. Also at the next meeting, the president will give a report of the trip to the state home demonstration convention which was held recently in Galveston.

Miss Myrna Holman, County Agent, then gave a demonstration on points in buying meat, carving and serving roast, and also methods in cooking meats. She stated that in buying meat, look for flecks of fat and fine texture. She also said that an oven thermometer is a "fool proof" way of cooking a roast. Place it through the center muscle of the roast. A rib roast is best for an oven-cooked roast. Cook it at a low temperature. This affords uniform doneness, moderate shrinkage, more serving, greater palatability, greater juiciness, uncharred fat and bones.

Reagan Owls Roll Over Rankin 36-6; Devils To Meet Van Horn Tonight

The Reagan Owls of Dist. 5-A came to Rankin last Friday night and took home a 36-6 victory off the Class B Red Devils.

The Red Devils were hopelessly out-manned — by the larger and faster team. Reagan scored twenty points on the Devils before Rankin could settle down. After this it was an evenly played game.

The first quarter saw the Owls score almost at will through the Rankin line as they rolled to a 20-0 lead. The second quarter was all Rankin as the defense held the Owls to two yards gain for the entire quarter while they rolled to one touchdown and threatened once. The half ended 20-6.

After the half Rankin continued to make large gains through the Owl team, but fumbles always stopped them short of the goal.

Jimmy Yocham began to look like himself. His ankle is getting stronger each week. Bobby Trower and Arthur Dean showed up well on offense by some good running and blocking. Paul Abalos, a fly weight back, made many key blocks that cleared the Red Devil runners for yards. On defense, Jimmy Yocham, Murry McCain, Joe Ellis, and Tommy Hudson were the standouts for the Devils.

Tonight the Red Devils play their first conference at Van Horn. Van Horn has won three out of five games this year and have a fast ball club. Their losses were to Class A and a Class AA ball club.

There will be a good chance that Rankin will have most of their boys in the line-up. Three first line boys will still be unable to play, but this is a good percentage compared to the number that have missed playing in the last three games.

Rankin will be playing in their own class after having played Class A clubs. This will encourage the boys to "mix it up" more with the Eagles.

Follow the Devils to Van Horn and help them bring back a victory. Rankin bested Van Horn last year 18-6 on the local field.

Plymouth Power Steering Engineered For Safety

DETROIT. — Plymouth's new full time power steering system, available on all 1954 models, now makes driving safer as well as easier, says Plymouth Chief Engineer Robert Anderson.

Driving is safer because the same mechanism which helps the driver turn the front wheels reacts turns when they are not desired, he says.

"For example, when one of the front wheels hits a bump or deep hole, the power steering unit goes to work automatically and immediately," he said. "It keeps the car on the course the driver has set. It helps him bring the car to a safe, smooth stop, if necessary. The power steering mechanism absorbs virtually all of the shock."

Power steering also contributes to safer driving by lessening driver fatigue on long trips, Anderson says.

Plymouth is using the link type of power steering. The system consists of a rotary oil pump coupled to the generator, rubber hoses and a hydraulic power cylinder built into the steering linkage. The cylinder has special, integral valving which permits the cylinder to meet all driving requirements automatically.

Engineering tests show that parking a Plymouth with power steering on a dry pavement requires only 6.7 pounds of effort, compared to 30.5 pounds with manual steering. Rounding a city corner at 15 miles per hour with power steering requires 3.4 pounds of effort, compared to 10.7 pounds with manual steering.

THAT OLD BLACK MAGIC'S HERE AGAIN

There's a special magic about October... a magic that touches the leaves with vibrant color... gives the days a crisp, cool zest... makes the world seem more ALIVE.

But October spins a reverse kind of magic, too... a Black Magic that steals across streets and highways at early dusk... shrouding familiar objects in darkness... casting deceptive shadows across the motorists' and pedestrians' paths... luring them to DEATH.

The thing that makes this black magic so potent is that it catches pedestrians and motorists unaware. Accustomed to the long, light evenings of a Texas summer, they're not prepared for the shorter fall days ahead. So in the early evening hours people proceed at the same speed and with the same amount of caution as they did in the summer months.

The result is often disaster. Whenever visibility is decreased, danger is increased. In an average year the Texas Safety Association estimates that—on a mileage basis—two to three times as many traffic fatalities occur at night as in daylight.

The only way to cut down on the high traffic accident toll during the early evening hours is to combat lowered visibility with decreased speed and increased vigilance.

"Wake up and Slow Down at Sundown!" is a slogan that will keep you safe.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The Federal Trade Commission, set up to help enforce laws, appears to have entered into their own Big Switch.

FTC is busy as beavers but activities seem largely confined to scanning advertisements, arbitrarily ruling what can and cannot be said about any product.

In the meantime, main function gets left-handed treatment.

A perfect case in point is the FTC announcement of hearings on television receiver industry.

FTC is looking askance at industry method of classifying picture tube size, i.e., a 21 inch tube is 21 inches on the diagonal, instead of either 21 inches wide, or high, a practice started in early days when tubes were round or oval. Today, with rectangular tubes, practice is antiquated but a matter which industry will undoubtedly change without government meddling.

However, while FTC prefers to decide between merits of Tweedledum and Tweedledee, it has so far ignored the plague of the appliance business.

That evil is wide spread between the discount off the retail price given the smaller dealer, and big, or multi-outlet dealers.

Because retail prices are the same consumer is not aware of discount set-up.

Usually consumer is better protected buying appliances from small dealer because of personalized service.

A multi-store dealer often makes as much as 20% more on a given item. On a $300 sale that is an extra profit of $60.

Obviously the extra $60 does not come about because the manufacturer sells at a loss.

Therefore, it appears public pays excessive prices for appliances to provide bonuses to a favored few huge outlets.

Manufacturers not liking systems are powerless to do anything else. Big outlets will not handle their products without preferential discount.

There are other practices FTC could well investigate.

One is cooperative advertising. Although manufacturers usually pay half the cost of a dealer's advertising on their products there are reported instances of Big outlets getting entire amount paid by manufacturer, which is just another way of giving extra discounts to a favored retail outlet.

It appears FTC could find many facts to justify a full scale hearing on selling practices in the appliance business.

Of course, FTC would step on some mighty powerful toes.

And that may be reason why FTC prefers to hunt for needles in a haystack.

After all, when FTC tells little Joe, the corn plaster man, to quit saying his product will stop corn discomfort overnight and that instead he must say something in effect his corn plasters are designed to relieve discomfort, and some folks have reported some benefit, there is little that little Joe can do, because he can't buck bureaucratic power.

The Russians have a word for this type of one-sided procedure.

The word is Sovietize.

Modern Art Takes a Licking!

Did you know we had a real artist in town? Yes sir! Handy Jackson was a contributor to the Sculpture Exhibition at the Centerville Fair last week.

His work was streaky pink and curved all around—sort of streamlined. Caused quite a stir. Nobody was sure what it was supposed to represent, but some liked it and thought it was good art. Handy gave me the lowdown:

"Why, it was nothing but a piece of cattle salt our cows have been lickin' at for months. I just had it mounted. Fooled a lot of folks—one fellow even wanted to buy it!"

From where I sit, Handy's "modern art" just shows how some people can be led astray. Some even get to be "experts"—especially about the other fellow's business. Whether it's art or music, or a simple thing like choosing, say, beer or milk with a snack, we should live and let live. There's no call for either of us to set ourselves up as a "model" for the other!

AUSTIN — Texas politics, long brewing, boiled over with the announcement of Reuben Senterfitt that he intends to run for governor next year.

That puts the 1954 campaigning actively in motion.

It means that prospective candidates for governor must seriously consider making up their minds now about next year's plans.

Most of them have been waiting for Governor Allan Shivers to declare his intentions.

But Senterfitt, by his announcement, placed himself in the forefront of gubernatorial candidates—for the time being at least.

What will he do if Shivers comes out for re-election? Said Senterfitt: "I'm just going to wait and see what he does, and then I'll talk about that."

Senterfitt placed himself in this position: If Shivers runs again, Senterfitt can get out of the race—or stay in, depending on how he feels about it. If Shivers decides not to run, Senterfitt has a head start on the other candidates.

Obviously, Senterfitt thinks Shivers will not be a candidate for governor next year.

Reporters asked Shivers for his comment on the situation. The reply was, "No comment."

Senterfitt has served two terms as speaker of the house. Conservative, quiet and an able organizer, Senterfitt, who is serving his seventh term as a representative of the San Saba district, is highly regarded by fellow-members of the Legislature.

Others who have been named as possible candidates for governor include Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey, former district judge Ralph Yarborough of Austin, Senator A. M. Aiken Jr. of Paris, Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, Mayor Roy Hofheinz of Houston, Congressman Lloyd Bentsen Jr. of McAllen, and secretary of the navy R. B. Anderson of Vernon.

There were developments also in the prospective race for U. S. Senator.

Lyndon Johnson, the incumbent, has visited widely over the state. He has said that he expects no major opponent next year.

But Jack Porter of Houston, Republican national committeeman, has promised that there will be someone running against Johnson. Several prospects have been mentioned for the senatorial race, including Congressman Martin Dies and Robert Stripling, former chief investigator for the House Un-American Activities committee. Reliable inside information is, however, that the anti-Johnson people have just about settled on their man. They are working behind the scenes and preparing a smash announcement.

They think the candidate is a natural who will appeal strongly to the voters.

Everything is set for the visit of President Eisenhower to the home of Governor Shivers at Sharyland, near Mission.

Arriving on October 17, the president will remain there until the 19th, when he will attend dedication ceremonies of Falcon Dam on the Rio Grande.

President Ruiz Cortines of Mexico will also take part in the celebration.

Half a million acres of the Texas tidelands will go on the auction block December 1.

Land Commissioner Bascom Giles says that the sale will be bigger than "anything we have ever done before."

Giles asked the oil companies about the land on which they would like to make bids. Fourteen companies responded, asking that 650,000 acres be put on sale.

Giles' recommendation, approved by the School Land Board, was that 500,000 acres be auctioned.

There were two changes in the Board of Insurance Commissioners.

Governor Shivers appointed Garland A. Smith, who had been casualty commissioner, to be life commissioner and chairman of the board.

Smith replaces George Butler, who died recently.

Taking Smith's place as casualty commissioner will be J. Bryon Saunders of Tyler, a practicing attorney who will resign as chairman of the state board of public welfare.

Quit talking about a recession, Governor Shivers advised Texans at a speech in Dallas.

There is more danger that Americans will talk themselves into a depression than there is that the economy itself will bog down, the governor told an audience of 700. Texas' industrial growth will continue at ever-increasing rates, the governor predicted. The Gulf Coast is becoming the nation's chemical center, and Dallas will be the nation's textile manufacturing center, Shivers said.

He cited other signs to indicate that the state is in good financial condition.

Three new members were appointed to the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

They were Henry Coffield, Marfa rancher; Henry Le Blanc Sr. of Port Arthur and Robert J. Frenshley of Houston.

These men succeed Richard M. Kleberg Sr. of Kingsville, Shelby Kritser of Amarillo and V. F. Neuhaus of McAllen.

Vaughn Bryant resigned as executive director of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission.

Neville Penrose of Fort Worth, chairman of the commission, accepted the resignation "with regret." Bryant gave "financial reasons" for leaving the job. He did not announce his plans.

Bryant set up his office so that all correspondence was written in English or Spanish interchangeably. All members of the staff speak and write Spanish.

Former Governor Dan Moody suffered an attack of acute indigestion in Federal Court at Alexandria, Va.

Carried from the courtroom on a stretcher, Moody said, "I've gone out of a lot of court rooms, but I've never gone out like this."

Moody went to Virginia to be defense counsel for Jack Cowart, former agriculture department official charged with receiving compensation from a company doing business with the government.

Emanuel Coutrakis of San Antonio lost in the state supreme court his efforts to get a union organizer's permit.

Representing the International Fur and Leather Workers Union, Coutrakis sought to compel Secretary of State Howard Carney to issue the permit.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd obtained injunctions against Coutrakis and the union, preventing attempts to organize tannery workers in San Antonio.

Shepperd charged the union was "Communist-dominated."

Cigarette, liquor, and wine tax stamp sales brought the state $4,183,567 during September.

Treasurer Jesse James said the revenue was less than that collected in September of last year, but higher than this year's August revenue.

It's Your Duty To Help Prevent The Spread Of Disease

EXERCISE OF CARE CAN LESSEN FREQUENCY OF MANY COMMON ILLS

AUSTIN, Oct. 14—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, says that it is the duty of every citizen, young and old, to help in preventing the spread of disease. Every man, woman and child in Texas has a personal obligation to keep as well as possible, and to do all they can to protect others from illness. Even a child in kindergarten can be taught to cover a cough or sneeze and thus help in preventing the spread of colds or other diseases that start with the symptoms of a cold.

Dr. Cox emphasizes the fact that the local health officer can do little to break the chain of communicable disease in the community if he does not have the whole-hearted support of the people. Every case of illness that looks suspicious of being a communicable disease should be promptly reported to the health officer. Physicians report to the county or city health officer the cases of communicable diseases they diagnose, but parents often fail in this duty. The local health officer cannot start control measures until he is informed of cases or suspected cases of communicable diseases.

Some signs and symptoms which often accompany communicable diseases are: running nose, coughing and sneezing, dizziness or faintness, swelling about the neck, sore throat, unusual paleness, ear ache or running ears, feverish appearance, rash, nausea vomiting or diarrhea and irritability or other change in normal behavior and appearance.

Help to prevent the spread of communicable disease in your neighborhood by observing correct health practices and reporting promptly any appearance of suspicious symptoms.

HUNTER 'GIVES UP' TO WARDEN

AUSTIN. — A Central Texas Game Warden reports discovery of "the most honest hunter."

He said the man telephoned him and reported that he had been trespassing; had shot from public road and had hunted on license of his home county without license.

The warden said the man, about 30 years old, apparently had innocently become a triple violator.

The warden related how the man had noticed a woman taking his license number, parked on country road, while he hunted mourning doves in a fenced field without the owner's permission. As the story goes, the man returned home and conferred with a relative who suggested he would be turned in for trespassing. The hunter excitedly described his other activities to the relative and then realized his multiple blunders.

The warden took the case under advisement. He suggested other might benefit by the "public confession."

The average leave is a succession of 2's. It consists of 2 weeks which are 2 short. Afterward you are 2 tired 2 return 2 duty and broke not 2.—The Gosport, USNA Pensacola, Fla.

"From Production to Marketing — We're Proud to Serve the Great West Texas Oil Industry"

NATIONAL Oil Progress Week October 11-19

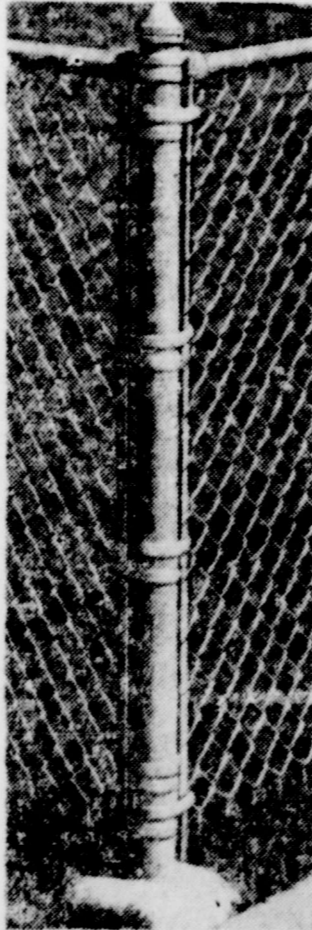

From production to marketing, dependable electric power is a working partner of the West Texas Oil Industry — an industry which is the basis for the continued growth and prosperity of the area.

A pioneer in serving the Oil Industry, the West Texas Utilities Company has recently put into service — as a part of a $40,000,000 construction program — new electric generating facilities providing an additional 95,000 horsepower of electrical energy to serve the Oil Industry and West Texas.

Special Equipment, Program For Speech Therapist Made Available To Texas Tech

A cooperative program in speech correction between Texas Tech and the Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center has made available to Tech equipment and a training program for speech therapists unavailable elsewhere in West Texas.

Dr. P. Merville Larson, head of the Tech speech department, announced this week that Tech has joined the treatment center in a program to help children with speech and hearing difficulties. The treatment center, housing much of the latest equipment in working with children with hearing and speaking hurdles, will serve as a laboratory for advanced speech therapy students.

PUBLIC HUNTING TEST ADVANCED

AUSTIN—The Texas Game and Fish Commission indicated favor for proposed public hunting experiment in East Texas forest lands, but decided time was too short to permit the trial projects during the coming big game harvest season.

The public shoots, discussed at the Commission's regular quarterly meeting in Austin, would be on National Forest Lands covered by a two-way agreement between the U. S. Forest Service and the Commission.

The Commission decided to try out the program despite the patchwork areas involved, caused by irregularity of boundaries with many privately owned tracts wholly enclosed by the National Forest Lands.

One point made by the Executive Secretary, in outlining the proposed restricted harvest, was that the game population would soon reach such proportions that the brood stock would not be endangered by limited shooting.

It also was emphasized that law enforcement might be strengthened under the suggested new policy in the affected areas where local sentiment opposes prosecutions for game law violations.

The Commission's stand on the proposal, which has been studied by state and federal technicians, indicated the possibility that the experiment might be ready for the 1954 fall season.

Most big game hunting in Texas now is done under the traditional land ownership-game management program whereby wildlife is harvested under leases between landowners and hunters.

Final Commission authority was given the proposed limited harvest of antlerless deer in Kerr, Gillespie and Mason counties to be begun this fall as a means of restoring the sex balance to deer herds.

"Politics is an honorable profession. The only thing dirty about politics are the dirty people in it."

When organization of the program is completed, the Texas Society for Crippled Children and other organizations may refer persons to Tech to receive clinical training. The society has $1,500 invested in equipment and in an auditory training room at the center.

Tech has long had a clinic for children with speech difficulties. Miss Helen Lindell, a member of the speech staff at Tech, has conducted a free clinic for children. On the cooperative staff will be Dr. Larson; Dr. John A. Manning, speech therapist and part-time assistant professor at Tech; and Dr. Ester Snell, director of the center.

Equipment thus far installed includes a Train-Ear for working with hard-of-hearing children; a tape recorder; and an audiometer, a hearing testing machine. Equipment ordered includes a psychometer, an aid in testing hearing for small children; a chromalizer, a device by which sound is translated into color.

The Board of Directors of the Santa Fe Railway has today declared a quarterly dividend of $1.25 per share, being dividend No. 163 on the common capital stock of the company, payable Dec. 8, 1953, to stockholders of record at the close of business Oct. 30, 1953.

Report National Office of Vital Statistics: "The greatest danger facing the young families in this country is death by accident."

W.S.C.S. Meets With Mrs. McGill Monday

Mrs. A. E. McGill was hostess Monday evening to the study class of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

The meeting opened with the singing of hymns led by Mrs. R. O. White, accompanied by Ruth McGill at the piano.

Roll call was answered by each person present by naming one country of the 28 foreign countries in which the woman's division is at work.

The theme of the session was "Christ Calls to Mission and to Unity," and after an opening statement by the teacher, Mrs. R. H. Johnson traced the movement toward greater unity between the denominations through the Great Christian Conferences beginning with Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1910; Madras, India, in 1938, and culminating in the organization of the World Council of Churches at Amsterdam, Holland, in 1948.

Mrs. Herbert Hurn reported on the topic, "Christian Students Lead the World Toward Unity," showing that as early as 1893 the World Christian Student Federation had been organized and that students who met last year at Tranancare, India, were not afraid to face with Christian faith the most troublesome questions that plague our world.

The meeting closed with the reading of Matthew's account of the "Feeding of the Five Thousand," and a meditation, "What Are Devotions?" by Mrs. Harold Congdon.

Mrs. McGill and Ruth served spice cake topped with whipped cream to Mmes. E. D. Yates, E. C. Higday, Will Nix, Ross Wheeler, Hurn, Congdon, Johnson, White, and to Miss Myrtle Reed and Miss Mattie McDonald.

The closing session of the study will be at the Methodist Church next Monday evening at 7:30, with Mrs. R. H. Johnson and Mrs. Ross Wheeler as hostesses.

Members are urged to attend and visitors will be welcome.

Contract Tentatively Let To Construct TV Transmitter Building

PROGRESS REPORT
KMID-TV Channel 2
By: Bill Buford, Technical Advisor
October 6, 1953
Midland, Texas

Monday morning, in the offices of Walter L. Norris, Midland Architect, the contract to build the transmitter building of KMID-TV was tentatively awarded to Houston Hill, Inc. of Midland, Texas. The contract bids were opened by Mr. Norris and Bill Buford, Technical Advisor, for the Midessa Television Company.

Beginning the actual construction of the buildings and tower must be delayed until final approval.

Young Adult SS Class Of Methodist Church Has Supper Sat. Night

The Young Adult Sunday School Class of the Methodist Church enjoyed a chili supper and treasure hunt last Saturday night. The scene of the get together was in the home of Mayor and Mrs. A. E. Ivy.

As the guests arrived each was handed a slip of paper with a name on it. During the supper each person interviewed the person whose name they received on the slip of paper.

The theme of Halloween was carried out in the table decorations of orange and black. The centerpiece was a pumpkin.

Mrs. Pete Pollard directed the games and the chef for the evening was Mr. Carl Crosskno.

Those attending were: Rev. and Mrs. Don Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wall, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kennemer and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. Bob St. Clair, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Congdon, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McGill, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. McEwen, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prentice, Mr. Carl Crosskno and Mayor and Mrs. A. E. Ivy.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bell had as guests last week, Mrs. Bell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Arnold of Bowie, and Mrs. Bell's sister, Mrs. Lloyd Mershon of San Angelo. Still visiting in the Bell home is Mike Arnold of Pecos.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn Lowery have returned from seeing the World Series in New York.

Betty Jo Beckham, who is attending the Metropolitan Business School in Dallas, visited her parents last week and returned to Dallas Sunday.

Miss Myrtle Reed visited last weekend in Corsicana.

Mrs. C. J. Ward and Mrs. Eddie Ward are visiting this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Eckols.

al by the Federal Communication Commission of the modifications to the original construction permit. Offices will be established at Midland Air Terminal some time next week.

Assuming final approval by the FCC will be received some time this week, the schedule of construction will proceed something like this: Construction of the transmitter building will begin Monday, October 12th. The construction of the tower will begin as soon as the equipment can be moved in by the tower erection company. It is hoped that the tower and building can be completed by October 26th.

The transmitting equipment will arrive from Camden, New Jersey about October 26th. Remodeling of the Studios will begin about October 19th. The studio equipment will be shipped from Camden, New Jersey in the next week, and will be installed as it arrives.

The FCC was asked last week to modify the original construction permit to better serve the entire Permian Basin. The modification called for an increase of power output to 26,276 watts. The transmitter and tower location was moved to one mile south of Midland on the "Tower Road," on the J. W. McCormick farm. The modification application also included moving the studio to Building T-48 at Midland Air Terminal. The lease on the building was approved by the City Council last week. It was felt that this location would better serve the entire population, making the studios more accessible to the public, being more centrally located. Application was also made to the FCC to permit use of Micro Wave relay equipment from the Studio to the transmitter. The transmitting antenna will be 547 feet above ground level. This height was approved last week by the Fort Worth Regional Air-space Subcommittee in a meeting with Bill Buford, through the effort of Mr. Clyde Sharrer, Manager of the Airport.

The bulk of approximately 3-4 of the programs will be Network film and movies. Every effort will be made to secure the latest movies available and the better network shows. The network shows will be primarily NBC with as many good shows from the other networks as possible. It is impossible to predict when we will have live network programming. But we feel sure that we will have live network as soon as the other television stations in this area.

With no unforeseen delays, we expect to begin testing of the equipment about November 15th. Programming will begin as soon as the equipment has been tested and proven to be in proper adjustment. If no major difficulty arises, you can expect to be hearing those singing commercials telling you that "It is only so many shopping days until Christmas" for about a month.

AREA RANCHERS ATTEND DROUGHT MEET IN ODESSA

Ranchers from Pecos, Reeves, Tom Green, Upton, Andrews, Winkler, Midland, Crane, Ward, Reagan and Ector counties attended the Drought Conference at the Lincoln Hotel in Odessa Friday, when Senator Spessard of Holland, Fla., a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, and Department of Agriculture officials heard reports of the ranchers.

The ranchers told of cutting down on their herds until nothing was left but foundation stock.

Holland assured the men that the government would not leave the drought-damaged ranchers to shift for themselves, but also said that they would have to take some lessons, as the boom prices of the past two years definitely were over for now and would not be supported by any legislation.

The complete absence of any possible natural grass here now was pointed out to Holland, who remarked that this was a "grass roots conference."

Regardless of federal aid, the ranchers know that only rains can clear up the problems of the farmers and ranchers in this drought-stricken area.

During 1952 Forest Service fire-fighting crews suppressed 11,965 fires. Of these, man caused 7,021.
