It's rodeo time in Friona!

About 50 teenage cowboys from West Texas and Eastern New Mexico are expected to gather this Friday, Saturday and Sunday for the first running of the annual Jaycee Junior Rodeo.

Performances are slated each day at 2 p.m. in a newly-constructed rodeo arena west of town. The arena was built by the Jaycees.

Other activities in conjunction with the rodeo are a queen's contest Saturday morning and a dance Friday and Saturday nights.

Four contestants who are already in the queen's contest are Suzanne Taylor, sponsored by Ruthie's Flower Shop; Kitty Black, sponsored by Piggly Wiggly; Tommie Lewellen, sponsored by D&H Fertilizer; and Pat Myers, sponsored by Mary Lou's Beauty Shop and Lva's Little House of Music.

Deadline for entering the queen's contest as well as the rodeo is today (Thursday). Entries are being accepted by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haws.

By Tuesday morning, there were 24 out-of-town entries for the rodeo, and only one from Friona, according to Mrs. Haws. She said, however, that the entries were just beginning to come in and it was expected that the total number would be around 50.

Rodeo events will include bareback riding, bull riding, tie down roping, barrel racing, pole bending, and ribbon roping. There will also be a calf scramble for youngsters under 12.

The rodeo stock, to be supplied by Ratjen Brothers of Happy, will be here Friday morning.

Contestants in each event will compete in two go-arounds during the three days, and they will be competing for 30 trophies, which will be presented by Friona Businesses.

A trophy will be presented to the winner of each event daily, and a trophy will go to the all-around cowboy. To be eligible for the all-around trophy, a cowboy must be entered in three events.

Admission to each of the three rodeo performances will be $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for students and children under 12.

The queen's contest is scheduled for 10 a.m. at the rodeo arena. Judge for the contest will be Lend Klebold of Clovis. She will judge the contestants on personality, appearance and horsemanship.

Winner of the contest will receive a trophy and she will reign over the three-day rodeo. The contest is being sponsored by the Friona Jaycee Wives.

For the rodeo dances, Jimmy Pearson and his Melody Boys will provide the music. The dance, which is also being sponsored by the Jaycees, gets under way at 9 p.m. in Lloyd Thompson's barn each night. Admission will be $2.50 per couple and $1.50 stag.

TROPHIES GALORE are ready for presentation to winners of the various events of the Friona Jaycee Junior Rodeo which unfolds this weekend at the newly-constructed arena west of town. Checking over some of the 31 trophies which will go to the top cowboys are Ronald Smiley, Ira Holt, Virgil Phipps, Dick Ratjen and Jack Burnett. All of the fellows are Jaycees except Ratjen, who will be supplying stock for the rodeo.

SLIPPERS AND LIGHTFOOT are the names of the twin colts which were born Sunday morning at the M. M. Bussell farm. Here, Bussell is pictured with the colts, and looking on is the mare who gave birth to the twins on Mother's Day.

Twin Colts Born On Mother's Day

A rarity in the animal kingdom, the birth of twin colts, helped to make Mother's Day an extra special occasion at the farm of M. M. Bussell, 15 miles north of Friona.

One of Bussell's mares gave birth to twin filly colts early Sunday morning.

Twins born to a mare is something that hardly ever happens, Bussell says. "I'd heard of twin colts before, but had never seen any," says Bussell, who has been around horses and raised them nearly all of his life.

Both colts are doing fine now, but Bussell had to hand-feed one of them all day Sunday before she was able to "go it alone."

When Bussell arose early Sunday morning, he went down to his corral and first saw one colt near her mother. He then could hardly believe his eyes when he saw the second one a short distance away.

The second colt, which is a little smaller than the first, was too weak to get upon her feet. Bussell managed to round up a bottle and nipple from a neighbor, and he immediately milked the mare and started feeding the weaker colt with the bottle.

He fed her in this manner about every hour until midnight Sunday when the colt was finally able to get on her feet.

Lightfoot and Slippers are the names Bussell has decided on for the two colts, which are the pride of the Bussell family and all the neighbors.

The two colts were sired by a half thoroughbred stallion, which Bussell has had for about four years.

The twins are the fourth and fifth colts for the 12-year old mare, which Bussell had had for five years. She gave birth to one colt last year which later died.

Bussell, who lives just across the Parmer County line in Deaf Smith County, farms 480 acres and has two sections of grassland which he runs about 150 cattle on. He says he raises horses "because I have always liked them."

Besides the twins, he has seven head of horses on his farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Bussell were supposed to go to a Mother's Day dinner over in New Mexico Sunday, but after the twin colts were born, Bussell told his wife to go on, and he stayed home and cared for the new arrivals.

Publishers Prints Monstrous Issue New Mexico Paper

An Albuquerque weekly, the News-Chief, set a New Mexico state record in circulation last week. Hitting 50,000 copies for a special issue, the News-Chief laid claim to having the most papers printed of any paper in the state (including the big city dailies).

It makes a good Texas brag when the rest of the story is told. The paper was printed in the plant of Plains Publishers in Friona. The 28-page issue weighed over 8,000 pounds. If the bundles of papers had been stacked in one pile they would have been over 200 feet high.

It took the Friona concern two days to print, tie, wrap and ship the huge order.

Ed Stanton, publisher of the News-Chief, commented in his column in this issue:

"This marks a milestone in our history and a first in news-

Swimming Pool Opens This Week

The long-awaited opening of Friona's new indoor swimming pool, the first of its kind for this area, is slated for this week end, announces Truett Johnson, owner of the $60,000 recreational facility.

Workmen this week were installing glass doors and windows, painting the walls, white-washing the pool, and completing installation of the roof.

There will still be finish work to do after this week, but the pool will be ready for use this weekend, Johnson says. There will be a lifeguard on duty.

The pool was filled with water Tuesday, and Johnson hopes that it will be warm enough for use by tonight (Thursday). If the water is warm enough, the pool will be used for high school class parties from 4 to 10 p. m.

Tentative schedule is for the sophomores to use the pool from 4 to 6, juniors from 6 to 8, and seniors from 8 to 10.

Open house is slated for this Saturday and Sunday, but the grand opening will be postponed until equipment is received for the snackbar, and everything is complete, Johnson says.

The public, however, is invited to visit the pool anytime during the day or evening Saturday, and on Sunday afternoon.

For the grand opening Johnson is planning some special swimming exhibitions, one by the Scuba Skindivers of Amarillo and another by a Red Cross group.

Starting June 1, swimming in the pool will be by membership only, Johnson says, but until that time only pool admission fee will be charged.

Baker Duggins has been hired for the summer to conduct swimming classes each morning and to serve as a lifeguard. Mrs. Deke Kendrick will also conduct classes and be a lifeguard at the pool.

In conjunction with his swimming classes, Duggins will also train several more lifeguards, Johnson says.

When membership cards go on sale, they will be sold for $1.00 a year per person. Cardholders will be permitted to use the pool by paying a swimming fee each time they go swimming. The fee will be 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children under 13.

Family membership cards will be sold at $12 per month, and these cards will permit any member of the family to go swimming at anytime without paying an additional fee. Individual membership cards on the same basis will sell for $5 per month.

Persons seeking membership cards must apply in person, Johnson says.

In the near future, certain nights of the week will be set aside for teenagers, families, ladies, and stags, Johnson says.

With completion of the pool, Friona is the only small city on the Plains to have such a recreational facility. The only other swimming pools in this area, comparable to this one, are located on the campuses of West Texas State College in Canyon and Eastern New Mexico University at Portales.

Johnson says that he has not yet decided on a name for the swimming pool, and that he will probably conduct a contest for picking a name. The person who suggests the name which the owner decides upon will be given a season pass, Johnson says.

EAGERLY AWAITING the time when the water level will reach the top are Don Stuhls and Gary Snead, two Friona teenagers who were on hand Tuesday when Friona's new indoor swimming pool was being filled. Filling of the pool was completed Tuesday night, and the water should be warm enough for swimming by today.

School Drawing To Close

It's just about wrapped up for another year.

That's the story as far as youngsters of Friona School are concerned, as they begin preparing for final exams and the "big day" next Wednesday when school is dismissed for the summer.

Wednesday will be the last full day of school and junior high and elementary students will return Friday to receive their report cards, says Raymond Cook, high school principal.

A special awards for grades one through six is scheduled in the school auditorium Wednesday morning, and the annual high school awards program is slated for 1:30 Wednesday afternoon.

At these two programs, awards will be presented to the top students for various accomplishments. The public is invited to attend the two awards programs.

Baccalaureate Sunday Night

The Rev. "Bill" Burton, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Friona, will be guest speaker for baccalaureate Sunday night at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Regular services at most churches will be cancelled Sunday night, and ministers of all the churches will be platform guests at the baccalaureate.

Music for the services will be by the Trebelaires, under the direction of Eva Miller. The group will sing, "A Perfect Day," and "The Halls of Ivy." Processional and recessional will be played by Janet Smith.

Commencement exercises for the 49 graduating seniors will be Thursday, May 25, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium, and grade school exercises will be the following night.

WITH JUNE

For quite some time now most of the construction of new homes and business buildings has been on the highway, in the north part of town or in the west part of town. Right now the east part of town is coming in for its share of attention in the building.

Joe Boeckman has a new warehouse-office building 1/2 block east of Rockwell Brothers Lumber Yard and construction of a new Oddfellows Hall is underway just across the street from the water tower.

Soon Claude and Sarah Ann Miller will join the growing list of "country people moved to town." They are building a new residence just south of the David Carsons in the Lakeside Addition. Their son, Johnny, has always been happy living in the country, so he may just stay on the farm.

Real soon a lot of college students will be graduating, coming home, attending summer schools and doing a variety of other things. Members of the Star staff will be deeply grateful if you will call us and report any items of interest concerning this group of young people.

Right now we would especially like to have information concerning Frionans who will be receiving degrees next month. Our phone number is 2291 and a call will certainly be appreciated.

Of course, this same principle applies to any news item about anyone in And Around Friona.

How many of you saw Betty Barnett on a television program from Lubbock week before last? It seems that Betty was a bit nervous about demonstrating her hair styling ability to a television audience so carefully refrained from telling anyone about it.

All of us have at one time or another observed the ability of children and young people to overlook thoughtlessness in others, but too many of us who are older fail to cultivate this ability. Too often we allow ourselves to get to the point of looking for some slight fault in our associates so that we may criticize them.

This ought not so to be! Perhaps if we would think of friendship as one author did--A Sacred Trust--we would be more tolerant of faults in others. He wrote, "We should never let a friend go out of our lives if we can possibly help it. If misunderstandings arise, let them quickly be set aright. Friendship is too rare and sacred a treasure to be thrown away lightly."

And, yet, many people are not careful to retain friends. Some lose them through inattention, failing to maintain those little amenities, courtesies and kindnesses which cost so little--hooks of steel to grapple and hold our friends.

Some drop old friends for new ones. Some take offense easily at imagined slights and ruthlessly cut the most sacred ties. Some become impatient of little faults, and discard even truest friendships.

Some are incapable of deep and permanent affection and fly from friendship to friendship, like birds fly from bough to bough.

When we have once taken friends into our lives, we should cherish them as rarest of jewels."

Another bit of wisdom along this line comes from the pen of Ralph Waldo Emerson. "It makes no difference, in looking back five years, how you have dieted or dressed; whether you have been lodged in the first floor or attic; whether you have had gardens and baths, good cattle and horses, have been carried in a neat equipage or in a ridiculous truck; these things are forgotten so quickly, and leave no effect. But it counts much whether you have had good companions in that time."

Seniors of 1961 have been anxiously awaiting the stopping

Open house at Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis, will start at 12 a.m. Sunday, May 21. Everyone is invited.

An air show will start at 2 p.m. with each aerial performance being narrated by Capt. William C. Thomas and 1st Lieutenant Robert T. Cliphant Jr.

The first aerial demonstration will be made by a Lockheed F-104 Starfighter which will break the sound barrier at tree top level across the runway in front of the crowd. The F-104 has a speed in excess of 1500 miles-per-hour and because of its short razor edged wings and high speed it is referred to as the "missile with the man in it."

An aerial refueling demonstration will show the Boeing KB-50J tanker refueling two North American F-100 Super Sabres. In addition, a formation of four F-100s will swoop down over the field, kick in their afterburners and zoom to a high altitude.

A low altitude bombing (LAB) demonstration by an F-100 will show the crowd how the over the shoulder bombing technique is employed with an actual explosion taking place.

A ground controlled approach (GCA) demonstration by three F-100s in formation and by a C-123 Provider will demonstrate how blind landings are made. The ground controlled approach is the technique used to guide aircraft to the runway in bad weather. The pilot flies according to instructions received by the ground controller who has the airplane in view on a radar scope.

A formation of nine T-37 jet trainers from Reese AFB, Tex. will stage a flyover for

In addition to the above flyovers, many flights by Cannon F-100s will be made over the field throughout the day.

Static aircraft displays of both the Air Force and Navy will be on hand affording a close up view of the airplanes by the spectators. The Air Force will display the B-47 Stratojet medium bomber, the Cessna T-37 jet trainer, the Convair F-102

What Is Humi-Cite?

HUMI-CITE is a natural liquid soil conditioner which creates humus and helps break down and balance the natural minerals in soil to produce healthy plants. Healthy plants are far less susceptible to insects and diseases.

Most of us know about plant chemistry--we have in years past tried many formulas, some with great success, and some with little results. We are putting our money on HUMI-CITE and believe we have the answer to our plant food needs. We firmly believe the addition of HUMI-CITE to your plants including COTTON will give the greatest results in lowering damage from diseases and insects. Plant chemistry is just common sense -- the same common sense every mother uses to try to give her family balanced meals to produce good healthy bodies. HUMI-CITE is a balancer -- a Soil Conditioner which counteracts alkali and salts to permit good germination of seeds planted in our land in Parmer County.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE: HUMI-CITE should be applied to all crops in irrigation water at the rate of 10 gallons per acre. Home-owners will be happy to know it brings marvelous results to flowers, shrubs, fruit trees and lawns. Available in small amounts for home use... We also have mineral water for cattle -- easily applied in regular drinking water to give cattle all the minerals needed for healthy growth.

Larry Anthony, a junior at Friona High School, was the winner of a mechanical drawing contest conducted Saturday at West Texas State in Canyon.

Anthony, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Anthony, submitted a drawing which he made in an industrial arts class here. There were four divisions in the mechanical drawing contest, and Anthony was the winner of Class II.

Three other Friona students who submitted entries in wood-working contests received ratings of excellent. The students were Pat Myers, Kenneth Gaines and Jerry Parker. Entries for the contests were submitted from all over the Panhandle area.

The Friona students were accompanied to Canyon by their instructor, Bob Copeland.

Editorial Comment:

No Such Thing As Temporary Tax

One thing that recent American history has proven is that there is no such thing as a "temporary tax." Whenever government assesses a tax on the general public, whether it be defined as "temporary" in nature, or "permanent," it invariably becomes the latter.

One of the latest examples of a temporary tax that looks like it is going to be with us for some time is the one-cent-a-gallon federal gasoline tax, which was adopted last year to help finance a nation-wide federal highway program.

The tax was supposed to have ended July 1, but congress is currently in the process of extending the tax for more highway construction. Just how long a period the tax will be extended for is not known, but we'd venture to guess that it will be around for some time to come. And, quite likely, if our liberal-minded government can put it across, the tax will be increased.

We aren't trying to dispute the need for spending tax money for a federal highway program, because good highways are a sound investment. However, sooner or later any commodity can be taxed to the limit, and we think that has happened on our gasoline taxes.

The federal tax is now four cents per gallon, and, added to the five-cent state tax, this makes the total tax paid by the Texas motoring public, nine cents on each gallon of gasoline. In some states it is even higher.

In Texas when a motorist pulls up to a gasoline pump, about one-third of the money he shells out for filling his car goes for taxes. Or, for each 10 gallons of gasoline a person buys, he pays 90 cents tax.

The gasoline companies are beginning to complain a little, and they have undertaken extensive advertising campaigns to awaken the American public to what's going on.

Few commodities are taxed to the extent that gasoline is, the gas companies point out, and one of the reasons for this is that the tax is concealed in the price of the gasoline on the service station pump. Few people are aware that they are paying such an exorbitant tax. The extra nine cents is only a part of the cost of the gasoline.

While we can sympathize with the gasoline companies, and admire them for their efforts to fight the tax spiral, we are afraid that at the present time there is little hope for success on their part.

The "temporary" one cent tax is no doubt here to stay, as is every other type of tax. And, rather than doing away with any tax, and cutting taxes of any kind, the general public can expect only more and more taxes from every angle.

Naturally, if public opinion were strong enough, the tax situation could be changed, as could a lot of things in this free society. But at present, we don't see any hope for such a general feeling among the American public.

Quite likely there are multitudes of taxpayers who relish the thought of a little less strain on the pocketbook, but by the same token many of these same people are strong supporters of more and more services from the federal government.

The plain, simple fact is, that to get the latter it takes the former. If the American people are going to continue to elect to office public officials who promise something for everyone, i.e. more and more federal assistance, whether it be aid to education, farm subsidies or what have you, then the only recourse is going to be more taxes--not fewer.

Yes, we'd like to see the gasoline tax lowered, along with several hundred more. We'd even like to convince ourselves that lower taxes were possible. But, being realistic about the whole thing, we'll have to admit that it can't be.

We also know that "temporary tax" is a misnomer in modern day language. In reality, there is nothing quite so permanent.

Labor Peace Vital to U.S. —McGovern

The president of the National Association of Manufacturers says that labor-management relations must be improved if this nation is to achieve the economic growth it needs.

And NAM president John W. McGovern has this advice for management:

"Management must become more aware of the national, world and community factors which affect their companies and their employees. And management must make sure that employees learn about them, too, and understand the effect these developments outside the plant have upon conditions within it."

McGovern told the NAM's 33rd Institute on Industrial Relations, meeting in Hollywood, Fla., that employees are gradually becoming aware that a labor contract is not merely a matter between the company and the union which represents them.

He pointed out that when labor negotiations begin, the employees should understand the problems they face as a part of the company—and the sentiment of the members should be the basis for the union representatives' attitude.

McGovern cited the case of a plasterers' union in Los Angeles which turned down a 12½-cent-an-hour wage rise, offered by the employers, because the union members felt they would have steadier employment if the price of labor did not increase. As another example, he told of the employees of a Cleveland department store who voted to accept a smaller increase than their contract called for.

"Golf, golf, golf!" wailed the wife as her husband started for the door with his clubs. "I really believe I'd drop dead if you spent one Sunday at home!" "Now dear," he answered, "there's no use talking like that. You know you can't bribe me."

Treble Teens Win Area Contest

The "Treble Teens," a musical foursome representing the Friona FFA Chapter, were the winners of the talent contest during the Area I FFA Convention at Amarillo Saturday.

The Friona group, which includes Donald Ray Bushy, Bobby Daniel, Reggie Hays and Earl Crow, was judged the best of the six district winners. The "Teens" won the district contest held in April.

They will now go on and participate in the state contest, which will be held in conjunction with the state FFA convention, July 19-20-21.

Accompanying the musical group to the convention was David McVey, one of Friona's FFA advisors.

Names of four Friona FFA members were submitted at the convention for Lone Star Farmer degrees. The four boys who will be eligible for the degrees, which will be conferred later this year, are Jerry Rankin and Carroll Bennett, seniors; and Craig Coon and Floyd Reeve, juniors.

By Vern Sanford Just what is "handloading"? Is it merely a fad? Is it as easy and inexpensive as advocates claim?

These are questions sportsmen ask when they do any appreciable amount of hunting or shooting.

Answers to the above questions can be made quickly. Handloading is just what the word implies—loading your own ammunition by hand. It isn't just a fad. It's easy and it's inexpensive.

Perhaps I should amend that last part and say it's inexpensive unless you become a real gun bug. Then there are gadgets, gadgets and more gadgets to buy.

Shooters turn to handloading because they want custom ammo and want to save money. There's no question about saving money when a lot of shooting is involved—particularly in target, skeet and trap. You'll save plenty then as you'll be using lots of ammunition.

Biggest expense in handloading is in the initial equipment. But ammo savings in a year will pay for it. And if you buy good reloading tools, they will last a lifetime.

Ammo prices, of course, vary. Some wholesale houses sell much cheaper than the sporting goods stores, but even the so-called "wholesale" price is well above the cost of reloading yourself.

For example, take the popular 30-06 round. At retail it will cost about 25 cents a round. At so-called "wholesale"—about 19 cents. Yet by using the same fired casing you can reload for as little as two to seven cents a round, depending on the components used.

The same holds true with shotgun shells, although the savings aren't quite as great. Every gun is a little different from another. A load that may perform well in one gun may not perform as good in another weapon of the same caliber and make. Here's where handloading really becomes important. You can customize ammo to fit your individual gun for specialized shooting.

How easy is the work and what components are needed? You need a loading tool complete for the caliber you intend to reload. Then you need powder measures and scales, a supply of bullets, and finally a reloading manual to give recommended powders and weights for the desired results.

The reloading tool has four basic parts: press, dies, shellholder, and primer arm. Since there are only two basic sizes of American primers, you'll need only two primer arms regardless of the number of calibers you load.

Now let's take reloading of a shotgun shell step by step. From your supply of used hulls, select only those in good condition. If the paper lip is frayed or the brass dented or bent, discard that hull.

Your next step is to insert the usable hull in the tool and knock out the old primer. Move to the next operation and insert and seat the new primer.

Then measure the correct amount of powder into the hull. You'll find it interesting and money-saving.

and seated under the pressure recommended in your manual. Next comes the charge of shot—and finally the crimping of the shell.

Once you get the hang of it, you can reload a box of shotgun shells in 10 or 15 minutes.

Handloading is safe as long as you exercise caution and don't try to "soup-up" loads. Your manual will give you the right powder proportions for safe "soup-up" loads, but don't try experimenting unless you're an expert in the field.

There are many powders made, but they are not all the same. Certain powders are made for very specific purposes, so stick with manual specifications. Take the shotgun shell for example. There are light, high velocity, and magnum loads. Each requires a different powder.

Fast-burning powders are used in light loads, slower burning powders for the heavy loads. If you happen to use the wrong powders, you won't blow up your gun, but you'll get some terrible shot patterns. The amateur can't make shotgun pellets, but he can form his own bullets for rifle and pistol shooting. This is done with swagging tools. Here again the money saved in making your own is considerable.

Furthermore, with swagging tools you can get the type of bullet you want for a specific purpose. You can easily make your own bullets in round nose, flat nose, spire point, wadcuter, cup, hollow point, etc. Swagging dies can be obtained in a great number of sizes—including 22 caliber.

With metallic cartridges, you can reload a casing eight or ten times. However, when a casing shows a crack, signs of wear, or bulges—throw it away. Shotgun hulls can be reloaded three to five times. There are several solutions into which you can dip the paper shells to prolong life for even several more reloadings. The new poly-steel hulls that came out last year can be reloaded up to ten times.

If you have any doubt about the popularity of handloading, visit a rifle range or skeet club. Shooters will pick up and pocket the casings—not because they have a fetish for keeping the grounds tidy, but because they're handloaders.

Handloading isn't hard. Try it. You'll find it interesting and money-saving.

Showdown Near On Sales Tax

BY--Vern Sanford Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, TEX.--A showdown is near in the 57th Legislature's money-raising battle.
Final round apparently will be between Gov. Price Daniel, who is anti-general sales tax, and a Senate group, which has indicated leanings toward a 3.25 tax.
Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center, chairman of the Senate State Affairs Committee, also is serving as chairman of a subcommittee to consider the House-passed sales tax bill. Other members are Senators Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi, Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, Jep Fuller of Port Arthur and Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells.

Speaking before a Senate committee hearing on the sales tax bill, the governor minced no words in saying he would veto it... or anything similar to it.
He urged consideration of a "package bill," that would levy selective sales or excise taxes in eight areas. Affected would be gas pipelines, motor driven tools and appliances, jewelry, utilities, stock transfers, soft drink, beer, liquor and restaurant meals.
This plan, said the governor, would bring in $166,000,000 a year -- enough to cover the general appropriations bill, pay raises for teachers, and leave a nest egg for next time.
HOUSE VOTES TEACHER RAISE--House gave one of the biggest votes of the session to a bill that would give teachers the full $810 a year salary raise they seek.
Rep. L. DeWitt Hale's bill was approved 143-to-4 and sent to the Senate.
It would raise the minimum pay for teachers with a bachelor's degree to $4,014 and for master's degree teachers to $4,239. Yearly increases for experience would be doubled, from $54 to $108.
Superintendents and principals would receive from 20 to 40 per cent more than the base for classroom teachers.
JOBLESS AID INCREASED--A bill to increase unemployment pay, both in amount and duration, received preliminary House approval.

Rep. Tony Korloth of Sherman is original sponsor of the much-amended bill. It would raise maximum weekly payment to the jobless from $24 to $35 and increase from 2 to 30 weeks the period during which an unemployed worker could receive state help. It would require that the applicant be out of work for one week before receiving unemployment compensation.
Bill would cost employers an extra $6,000,000 to $8,000,000.
CD BILL FILIBUSTERED--A proposal to give the Legislature emergency powers in event of enemy attack came in for attack itself in the Senate.
Sen. Culp Krueger of El Campo is sponsor of the proposed constitutional amendment that would allow the Legislature to fill offices made vacant because of enemy attack. As first offered, it also authorized the Legislature to "take such measures as may be necessary," even to suspension of the Constitution.
Opposing the bill were Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, the constitution's most vocal defender, and several other senators.
Even with the offending phrase deleted, the measure was approved by only a 14-to-12 vote. Two-thirds approval is needed for a constitutional amendment.
HOUSE REDISTRICTING OKAYED--Legislature is moving slowly ahead with the politically painful task of realigning the state's congressional and legislative districts to conform with the 1960 census.
House has given final passage to a bill re-shuffling the House districts. It will increase the number of city representatives and reduce the number of rural representatives, but in general, the city members will represent about twice as many voters as the rural members. The increase is due to the constitutional limit of one representative to 100,000 people in urban areas.

If the House bill is finally enacted, a number of representatives will have to retire or run against another House member whose district has been combined with theirs.
House also got two congressional redistricting bills out of committee after passage of a "hurry up" resolution. Texas is due one extra congressional seat, for which Dallas County is vigorously bidding.
Senate action on a bill to rework the senatorial districts has been slowed by Sen. Jep Fuller's filibustering objections.
ESCHEAT BILL FAILS AGAIN--House voted 72-to-60 in favor of letting the abandoned property bill remain abandoned.
This bill was defeated earlier in the session, despite Governor Daniel's insistence that he would call a special session, if necessary, to get it passed.
Rep. Charles Hughes, sponsor of the measure, tried to get it called up on the calendar for a second time, but was turned down.
Bill would set up machinery whereby the state could take over property or bank accounts of persons who die or disappear without heirs. Governor Daniel has estimated it would bring the state some $17,000,000.
SPLIT JURY BILL ADVANCES--A bill to allow less than unanimous jury verdicts in civil cases -- an issue on which the legal profession is sharply divided -- was approved by the Senate Jurisprudence Committee.
Under the bill, 10-to-2 verdicts would be allowed.
Opponents of the bill say it would cut away at one of the safeguards embodied in trial by jury. Supporters say it would reduce needless delays and hung juries caused "by one blockhead."
PLEAD FOR PRISON FUNDS--State Board of Corrections is making a last stand before the conference committee on the appropriations bill to get more funds for the prison system.
Texas prison situation is "explosive," said Director O. B. Ellis, who warned of the possibility of riots unless the board gets funds for needed improvements. Crowding three men into six-by-eight foot, one-man cells and requiring 72-hour work-weeks for guards were cited as examples of the problems.

Appropriation measures passed by the House and Senate give the Department of Corrections about $19,000,000, compared to the $24,000,000 it requested.
Conference committee is the "court of last resort" for those seeking changes in a bill. Each house must vote on the conference committee report on a "take it or leave it" basis.
LOAN BILL PANEL NAMED--After weeks of argument and delay, the Senate State Affairs committee sent the problem of small loan regulation to a special subcommittee.
On the committee are Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, chairman, Senators Abraham Kazen Jr. of Laredo and George Parkhouse of Dallas.
Senator Hardeman is Senate sponsor of the House-passed small loan bill which would regulate loans of up to $3,000 and would allow charges ranging up to 40 per cent.
Representatives of small companies making loans of $100 and less have urged a different -- and apparently higher -- scale for loans in this category.
TRADING STAMP BILL HEXED--Proposed legislation to outlaw the use of trading stamps would be unconstitutional, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled.
Wilson ruled that prohibiting trading stamps would go beyond the authorized power of the state. Proposed bill, said the opinion, cites no reason why use of trading stamps could be considered a danger to the public interest.
SPOTLIGHT ON HIGHWAYS--Need to avoid "hardening of the highway arteries" will be emphasized during Highway Week in Texas, May 21-27.
State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer noted these warning signs:
1. More than one-third of Texas' total highway mileage is obsolete.
2. Building of farm-to-market roads (now a 33,000 mile system) has outpaced the money to maintain them.
3. Revenue from road user taxes (on gasoline, etc.) is constantly in danger of being diverted to uses other than highways.

SHORT SNORTS
North Texas State College in Denton will become North Texas State University on August 27. A bill making the change has been signed by the governor.
Senate voted final passage of a bill that would give the Texas Aeronautics Commission three-fourths of all unclaimed tax refunds on aviation gasoline. Remaining one-fourth goes to the schools. Comptroller estimates the unclaimed refunds at some $70,000 to $100,000 annually.
Following the Soviet achievement in putting an astronaut into space, President Kennedy, speaking at a press conference, said: "I do not regard the first man in space as a sign of the weakening of the free world, but I do regard the total mobilization of men and things for the service of the Communist bloc over the last years as a source of great danger to us, and I would say we are going to have to live with that danger through much of the rest of this century... Our job is to maintain our strength until our great qualities can be brought more effectively to bear."

ANAHEIM, CALIF., BULLETIN: "In the past, the tax an employer paid was directly related to 'experience'. That is, the employer who hired and fired or laid off workers freely paid a much higher tax than one who stabilized his employment.
"Now, all employers would be treated alike. The incentive to stabilize employment--itself a costly process--will be impaired.
"So, to extend benefits for half a million unemployed, the jobs of 60 million are to be made less secure, now and hereafter.
"There must be a better way."

Something To Think About

6th. Street Church of Christ
Box 515 -- Friona, Texas

This is good advice. Many do not live through the week like they appear to live on Sunday. To be like Christ one must reflect Him every day of the week. He must live each moment as if it were the last moment he would ever have on this earth. Actually, life is no more than a time for preparation for judgment and eternity. If we fail to make that preparation now, it will be too late for us to start after death. All the prayers that can be prayed, all the money that can be spent, will avail nothing if we die lost and alienated from God. We must die as a saint if we would live like one in the next world. Friend, the Lord's mercy is not extended to one who will live as he pleases and expect to cry out in the hour of death, "Lord save me." His mercy is reserved for those who will render faithful obedience to His will every day of every week. God will not forgive, and the blood of Christ can not cleanse until obedience is demonstrated on the part of the sinner. There is, then, but one safe course. It is not one of pretense, characterized by Sunday piety. It is a life of faithful obedience. It is a "seeking first the kingdom of God" realizing that therein is man's only hope.

The religion of Jesus Christ is something that must be lived every day. It is not a Sunday religion only. Fuller once said, "Measure not men by their Sundays, without observing what they are all the week after."

JESUS RE-EVALUATED ANCIENT IDEAS
Matthew 5:20 -- John 8:39 -- and John 14:7-11
I. JESUS CAUSED HIS DISCIPLES TO RE THINK MANY IDEAS.
His clash came with the Pharisees because they were unwilling or unable to change their minds. They were unteachable. Woes were pronounced upon them. A man unteachable is a man doomed.
How much of Jesus' time was spent trying to lead that little group of disciples into new and deeper ways of thinking about things! How much was accomplished when they finally grasped the new conception of God as taught and manifested by his own self! He is not willing that they should feel that their knowledge was complete because they had been with him. Among his last words were these, "I have yet many things to say unto you..."
II. WE MUST FOREVER SEEK TO HAVE THE MIND OF CHRIST.
How different all everyday things, flowers, trees, children, friends, loved ones; all virtues, love, joy, peace, kindness, meekness; all nations, America, India, China; the continents, Asia, Africa, South America, Europe; how different the world -- could we think of them with the mind of Christ!
I suppose that the idea which must change most continuously is our idea of God. Our finite minds must reach out more and more to grasp the idea of an infinite, all-powerful, all-wise, everywhere present, all-loving Father. With each greater appreciation of God our ideas of all other things large and small will be changed, taking on greater significance.

The NEW JOHN DEERE MODEL 105

Model 105 Hi-Lo Self Propelled Combine

During the fall of 1957, we introduced the John Deere Model 95. At that time, John Deere Model 95 was described as the BIG combine in the John Deere line. The soundness of the John Deere concept of a big combine is evidenced by the acceptance of the Model 95. As stated at the time the Model 95 was introduced, dimensions alone do not make a combine big. DEMONSTRATED CAPACITY HAS BEEN AND WILL CONTINUE TO BE FINAL PROOF OF A COMBINE SIZE.

The model 105 has demonstrated in the field that it delivers approximately 25 per cent more capacity than the Model 95, and that's BIG.

Ridge-Planting Getting Popular With Farmers

A farming practice that appears to be getting more popular with Farmer County area farmers is ridge planting of cotton, rather than the placing of the seed down in the lister furrow.

There are several reasons for this planting method, one of which is that it's much easier to get a good stand of cotton on the ridge where the soil temperature is considerably higher than it is down in the furrow.

Cotton, being a warm weather crop, needs a high soil temperature before it will germinate and it will just naturally sprout faster on the ridge, say farmers who have been planting this way for several years.

There are supposedly advantages and disadvantages to both ridge and furrow planting, but Wendol Christian, an Oklahoma Lane farmer who has been planting on the ridge for several years, says that there is really no disadvantage to ridge planting.

Christian cites the soil temperature as an important factor, and he also lists several other points which make this type of planting more desirable.

Even though irrigating of early cotton is not a recommended practice, there are times, such as a dry spring like this one, when the crop needs a little water to help it along. By planting on the ridge, it is possible to water between the rows, thus giving the cotton some badly-needed moisture without applying it directly on the plants.

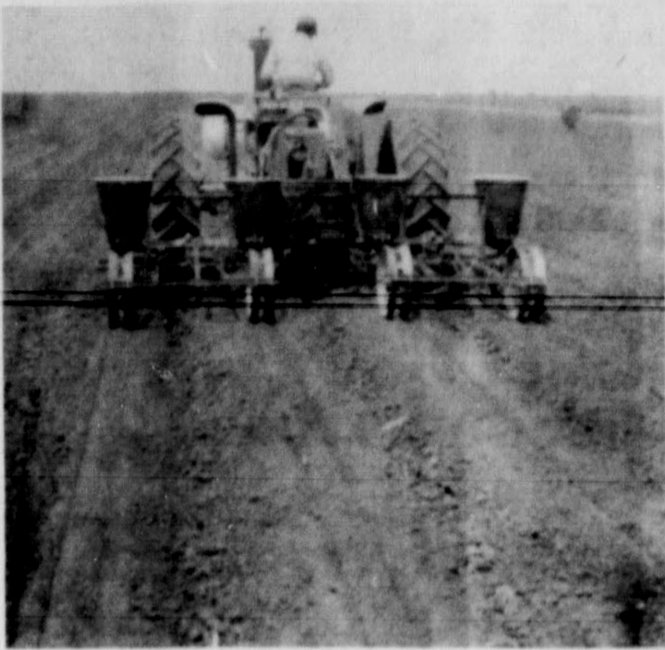

Also, by using a knife-type planter, the seed can be put into the ground without turning up the soil and exposing subsoil moisture. The knife cuts into the ridge and drops the seed in the ground where it is concealed in moist soil.

Christian, who has been planting on the ridge for several years, says that this is the first year he has found the planting method he really wanted. He says that the knife planter, "something that our fathers used," solved a couple of his problems.

Previously, even though he had planted on the ridge, Christian had used a flexi-planter, which is a disc-type rather than a knife planter. The disc-planter, while effective, still left something to be desired, he says.

SEEDING ON THE RIDGE with a single-row, knife-type planter is what this farm hand is doing on the Wendol Christian farm. The knife planter assures a uniform seed depth, and planting in the warmer ridge soil makes the seed germinate faster.

It (the disc-planter) turned up the soil to a certain extent, and it didn't always plant the seed at a uniform depth, Christian points out.

However, the Massey-Harris knife planter which he is using this year cuts through the soil at a uniform depth and most of the seed germinates at about the same time.

This type of planting gave Christian a solid stand of cotton about 12 days after the seed was placed in the ground.

One drawback that has been pointed out in regard to ridge-planting is that it's more susceptible to wind damage, both prior to the time the seed sprouts and after it reaches a good stand.

Christian doesn't consider this to be too much of a problem, however, and he explains that ridge-planting can even be advantageous in this respect too. He points out that with ridge-planting there is no danger of dirt and sand piling up on top of the planted row.

While many farmers are still a little skeptical about planting their seed on the ridge, the practice is becoming more popular each year.

The Oklahoma Lane farmer, as well as others who have switched from the furrow method of planting, thinks that it won't be too long before most of the farmers start planting on the ridge.

They believe that the results will soon prove that it is the best planting method.

LAZBUDDIE JUNIOR BOYS 4-H CLUB

Danny Miller called the meeting to order, and announced that four boys, Frank Hinkson, Steve Foster, Bobby Gleason and John Gulley had won first place in the district elimination at Canyon.

First summer meeting for the group was planned, and will be held in the Oklahoma Lane Community Center on June 13 at 7 p. m. Several demonstrations will be given, and everyone is invited.

A GOOD STAND of cotton is what Wendol Christian has on his farm near the Oklahoma Lane Community. The seed was placed in the ridge by a Massey-Harris knife-type planter.

Foods And Nutrition Meetings Scheduled

Farmer County 4-H Club Girls will soon have the opportunity of attending special foods and nutrition meetings. Adult leaders will be trained Friday morning May 19 at 9:00-11:30 in the Friona State Bank community room. This training is open for all mothers of 4-H club girls or anyone interested in helping the girls with their 4-H program.

recipes suggested with each lesson in the My Favorite Foods Member Guide.

Upon completion of the Unit 1, My Favorite Foods of eleven lessons each girl will display food she has prepared as was taught at a County Favorite Foods Show. The first place exhibitor will then represent Farmer County in the District Show in Amarillo in July.

Training will be conducted by Miss Ettie Musil, County Home Demonstration Agent. Leader and member guides, written by State Foods and Nutrition Specialists, will be followed closely in the training. Lessons taught in the first training will include "Easy-do Chocolate Fudge," "Sandwich and Banana Milk Shake," "Peanut Butter Cookies," and "Apple-Celery Salad."

Later two additional trainings will include "Vegetables," "Meat Salad," "Drop Biscuits," "Peach Delight Dessert and Orangeade," "Cocoa," "Broiled Wiener Sandwich" and "Quick Puddings." Many adult leaders learn much for their own use while they learn to teach girls who need and want their assistance.

Each leader can choose five of no more than six girls for these special foods and nutrition groups. Of course, girls may choose their adult leader. Only one lesson will be taught by the trained adult leaders during each meeting. This will enable the girls to practice what they have learned and to try other

County Notaries Must Re-Qualify

Secretary of State Frank Lake announces that all qualified notaries public desiring re-appointment for the new term ending June 1, 1963 must re-qualify by the payment of the required fee and the filing of a new oath and bond with County Clerk Hugh Moseley between June 1, 1961 and June 10, 1961. Lake emphasized that notaries public should not send requests for re-appointment or for commissions directly to the secretary of state. The law specifically requires that the county clerks approve notary bonds.

Any person not now a notary public who desires appointment should apply to his county clerk between April 1, 1961 and May 20, 1961. Application during this period will assure prompt attention before the rush procedure of re-appointing present notaries.

The secretary of state further pointed out that each person applying for a commission as a notary public must be at least 21 years of age and a resident of the county for which he is appointed. The exact name and permanent address of the applicant must be furnished to the county clerk.

The Newest Developments in HYBRIDS

SCOTT 500

Here is a short-stalked, red grain hybrid with great yield potential and wonderful stand ability. Stalk height is about 12 inches shorter than RS 610. Red Grain (darker than RS 610 grain) on very large medium-dry heads. About same maturity as TX 600 and outstanding in ability to stand and to yield. Adapted to dryland or irrigation. 110 days to mature.

SCOTT 450

An early grain hybrid of about the same maturity as RS 590. It is very similar to Scott 500 (above) but earliness makes this an outstanding hybrid for areas needing this factor. Red grain, large heads, high yield and shorter stalks make Scott 450 a highly desirable early grain hybrid. 95 days to mature (12 to 18 shorter than 610).
