Shaffer Enters

able Race in 1

"Pap" Shaffer this week filed with the Democratic chairman to have his name placed on the Primary as a candidate for Precinct No. 1.

Shaffer has been in and out of Upton County since 1925 and he has made his home in Rankin permanently for the last eight years. One of the timers in the oil fields, Shaffer worked twenty years for the Gulf Oil Corporation in the Production Department.

Shaffer is in good health and often works at Red Bluff Lumber Company, operated by his son, Robert Shaffer.

Shaffer will in no way keep from carrying out the duties of his office," Mr. Shaffer said.

"I can reasonably be persuaded to be a constable, I will attend to the office."

Shaffer said that he was planning to make an active race for office and would be out in the field, talking to the voters.

Shaffer requested that any who have a good word for him and his family.

Eligible Voters May be at Record Percent--

Candidates Off and Running After Passing of Deadline

Percentage-wise, poll tax payments, first-year votes and over-age exemptions may be at an all time high in Upton County. The staff of Tax Assessor-Collector H. E. "Gene" Eckols was still busy this week breaking down the poll tax figures into their proper voting precincts and could not give a definite figure.

However, 1766 paid poll tax receipts were issued—and that is a definite figure—and 67 first-year vote exemptions. On the first-year exemptions, the deadline for making application has not yet passed since this group of citizens have until 30 days prior to the election for picking up their free first-year vote.

Another segment of the voting population which has not been determined exactly is the over-age vote. In Upton County it is no longer necessary for the over-age voters to register each year and consequently the number of such votes can only be estimated. This figure, said to be conservative, is set at 400—giving a total vote potential for Upton County this year of over 2200.

Although a definite number as to how many votes are in each of the four precincts cannot be arrived at until all poll tax payments are sorted and checked, it is estimated that around 600 will be posted for Rankin proper with another 100 or more in the Midkiff-Rankin area which will be voted in the boxes in this end of the county.

IN FREE

It would appear at this time that voters will find the choices thin in the Democratic balloting for the county. No county-wide offices appear to be in contest at this time, giving Sheriff H. I. Eckols and County Attorney John Menefee clear sailing.

Not so, however, with two of the Commissioners races—in Rankin's Precinct 1 and McCamey's Precinct Three. These two races appear at this time to be the top drawing cards locally with three in the Rankin contest and four in the McCamey race. Also in Precinct 1, the constable race had an added candidate when C. A. Shaffer announced this week against the incumbent, E. M. Sullivan.

One other aspect of the political picture which is not yet fully clear is what the county Republican Party will do. Dr. J. D. Gossett, county Republican chairman, said that no candidates other than Congressman Ed Foreman had filed with him. However, should the party decide to hold a primary in the county, write-in candidates could appear on their ballots and thus earn a spot on the November General Election ballot.

Mrs. Oteka Darby of McCamey is vice-chairman of the county Republicans and Gossett said that a quest was now on for precinct chairmen. He pointed out that a meeting will be held on Monday, February 10 at Benoit's Cafe in McCamey at which time Representative Foreman will meet with the group and organizational plans will be further carried out.

This meeting will be at 12 noon and will include a dinner meal. Tickets will be $3.00 per person. Gossett said that all conservatives, Republicans and otherwise were invited to attend.

Also, on Monday from 5 to 6 p.m., a coffee will be had at the Gossett home honoring Congressman Foreman. Anyone who wishes to do so is invited to attend and to speak with their Representative.

Sports Banquet Set For February 20th

Rankin Booster Club has picked Thursday, February 20 as the date for their annual Sports Banquet at which they honor various athletic teams from Rankin High School. Time will be at 8 p.m. at the elementary school cafeteria.

Tickets will go on sale this week end by members of the club at $1.25 per person. A dinner and a speaker will be presented along with various sports awards and recognitions to teams and individual players.

Red Devils Falter in Drive for BB Title

Up until last week, it appeared that the Rankin Red Devils had a better than average chance of being district contenders. Now, since Tuesday, January 28, they have dropped three games in a row and look to be completely out of the race. The tough one to lose was the Big Lake game on Friday night when the Red Devils were once again beaten by three points—about the sixth such loss for the season. Ozona and Iraan took the other two wins from the local squad.

On Friday, February 7, both the boys and girls teams go to Sanderson and next Tuesday, they are to host the Eldorado Eagles, currently tied with Big Lake for 1st place in district in the boys side of the ledger and for all practical purposes, the winners of the girls district title.

District play ends on February 18. The girls schedule calls for an A and B game in Grandfalls on that same date to close their season.

A Little Help, Please

A call for help has been issued by the Xi Epsilon Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi as they continue their efforts to develop a park in the area between the two baseball fields in Rankin. Needed at this time is pipe that would be suitable for making swings and other similar play-sets for use in the park.

This project was started several years ago by the group and they have had only limited success despite much effort and a good bit of money invested. They have planted several groups of trees only to have them die or be run down by persons unknown in pickups or cars. But they are, despite these setbacks, going ahead with their efforts.

This year they plan to erect a number of picnic tables and want to install playground equipment such as the swings. That's where the pipe will come in.

Anyone having pipe which they could donate for this project are asked to contact either Mrs. Ray Boggs or Mrs. Shank Bloxom.

Two Candidates Announced --

City and School Elections Will Be in Early April

CITY VOTE

The deadline for filing for the city council about the way—on March 7—the candidates have both filed.

E. B. Bilodworth is running as Mayor and M. J. Gossett is now filed for another term as City Commissioner. His term is not up.

This election will be held on April 7 at the City Council is expected to hold the election at their monthly meeting this

SCHOOL VOTE

Coffee shop talk is speculating to the effect that others plan to enter the race before the filing deadline.

At their regular meeting on Thursday night, Rankin School Board will officially call the April 4 school election, according to W. O. Adams, business manager. Up will be the seats presently held for election to three-year terms on the Board by Dr. James Gossett and C. J. Shaffer. Deadline for filing for a place on the ballot will be midnight, March 4, Adams has pointed out.

Absentee voting in the school election will run from March 12 through March 31. A new arrangement will be carried out in absentee voting this year following a change in the state law. All such voting will be done at the school tax office. Previously, the county clerk had attended to this phase of the school elections.

Adams said that at the present time, no candidates had filed for places on the ballot but that they could do so at his office at any time between now and the March 4 deadline.

THE TOUGHIE—

Last week, Judge Allen Moore put before the public some of the problems under consideration by the Commissioners' Court. Chief among them was the question of what to do about the expense of operating the two county hospitals.

Back in 1952, the citizens of Upton County voted on the question of bonds to build the hospitals. They—you might say—amended the constitution of Upton County to read in effect that the county would subsidize hospitalization in Upton County. The means of obtaining money for this subsidy was to be through taxation of property located in this county. Although no mention was made in the bond issue nor provision set forth for it to do so, it was assumed at the time that the county would not only build, equip and maintain the two hospitals but would also subsidize their operations.

Under the state laws, this is an entirely legal arrangement.

And, very much like all things that are subsidized with tax money, the hospitals have been an increasing financial burden to the county—having been out around a quarter of a million dollars more in expense than they took in over the last four years despite all efforts — and some good ones have been made— to cut the overhead. Prices have advanced a long way in the past ten years, adding to the cost of supplies used by the hospitals. It is no longer possible to hire nurses for $150.00 per month—or even Rankin and McCamey bonus salaries to get. It stands to reason hospitals will have to do for nurses.

to the judge's report, Commissioners' Court has de- the time has come steps toward a solu- this problem. They have positions which were put the report last week.

it one was to create a district. This would take doing and would be a n out affair. That might the original step but late for that now.

and was to revalue all property and set the tax enough to get the money. 1964 when land in Up- ty was bringing $4 to acre, the tax value on roll was $3.00. At that time it was lowered—temporarily— to $1.50. Today, with land selling from $30 to $200 per acre in the county, the tax value is still at $1.50. There are now on the county tax rolls, home with a value set at $10. Others—some, perhaps, of equal actual value— range from that figure all the way on up the ladder. Businesses are put down at all sorts of values and the values placed on oil production and property leaves much in question. Nevertheless, tax raises, are, to say the least, unpopular.

A third proposal is to put the hospitals back under one board as per the state requirement. It is felt by some that this might result in further savings. It was tried for a long time and most people seemed to be dissatisfied with it. And, again, the amount of savings would appear to be rather small since one of the big losses is salaries and to break even on the loss last year, McCamey would have had to dismiss almost all their employees and Rankin would have gone with very short help.

The fourth proposal, a new one, would lease the hospitals to Drs. Cooper and Gossett with a subsidy of $1,000 each per month for operating and upkeep. I, for one, don't like subsidies of any kind— mostly because no one has come up with a big, fat one for newspapers but just because I do not like it in no way means that it might not work. But I doubt it. In the first place, I cannot see any doctor—who must also be a businessman—taking over an operation in which he is almost sure to go in the hole, and, secondly, if he does go in the hole, he cannot continue to operate.

Now the Commissioners' Court has given this matter a lot of time and consideration and I'm sure they have more facts and figures and know better what the citizens of the county want than I do but it seems to me that at least three of these proposals won't work. Why form a hospital district when the court already has the power to tax? Putting the two hospitals under one board might save some money, but would it be enough and would it be a permanent solution? I doubt it. As for turning them over to the two doctors, that also does not have any guarantee of solving the problem and besides, we are going to get socialized medicine soon enough as it is.

So, that leaves only one sure solution out of the four proposed and it's that nasty one—the tax raise. Nobody likes it and there would be much screaming and hollering plus name calling. But it is a solution and if I had to make a choice between having no hospital and taking the tax raise, I'd go along with the tax boost. Cut expenses as much as possible—and whether anyone realizes it or not, the Rankin Hospital, the only one with which I am personally familiar, has done a very good job along this line the past year and all employees ought to be commended for their efforts—but still have something more than a first-aid station.

There is, however, another solution—the one that is used by a business when it is facing a losing proposition—and that is to close one of the hospitals. Now I know that that idea will go over like a lead sandwich but there again, I'd rather have one than none and by following the business procedure, the one that would be closed would be the one which has lost the most money, and the one that is going to be the most expensive to keep up in the future. Right at the present time, that would be the McCamey hospital but I'd imagine that we would have to call out the national guard if that idea was carried out.

So, what have we got? We have a problem to which there is no solution as far as pleasing everyone is concerned. Heads will roll before it is settled. I had rather be a newspaper editor and owe many bills than to be a commissioner in Upton County and have to decide this question—especially since one point seems to stand out above all others and that goes back to 1952 when the voters amended the county constitution to subsidize hospitals. As far as I know, that amendment has not been repealed and the commissioners are under sworn oath to uphold the laws of this county which—as voted—include furnishing the people a couple of hospitals.

To my way of thinking, that cuts down the argument considerably.

HINTS for the HOMEMAKER

By Mrs. Louie S. Jeffers, County Home Demo. Agent

Remember those nostalgic childhood days when the whole family gathered 'round the dining room table for a rousing game of cards?

Those were the good old days when we didn't talk about "togetherness"—we had it. An exciting game of Hearts, Fan Tan or Michigan was everyone's delight and all that was needed to complete a perfect family evening of fun was a panful of hot and buttered popcorn.

Why not introduce your own youngsters one of these long winter evenings to some of that old fashioned family fun? Card playing is real family entertainment that gives youngsters fundamentals of arithmetic, good manners and fair play. And a deck of playing cards is a common denominator of fun for young and old alike to test their wits and luck.

Do you consider yourself the unlucky card holder of the family? Then Hearts is the game for you because a hand containing numerous low cards usually wins.

Would you like your youngsters to learn how to play Bridge? Teach them "Oh Pshaw" which card experts call a wonderful "stepping stone" to Bridge since it employs many of Bridge's features.

Want to improve your youngster's memory? Concentration is a memory game and the dismaying fact for grownups is that the small fry are usually good at the game. In fact, it is difficult to beat the youngsters at this simple game because they are more attentive to the location of the cards.

If you have any children who are good in arithmetic, they should do well playing Red Dog. It will test their skill.

Homemakers are not always aware of bargains at sale prices. If a food item that is as good and wholesome as pork liver can be bought for six cents per serving of 4 ounces, it is a bargain.

Liver is listed first on the nutrition charts that show food values such as Vitamin A, Thiamine, Riboflavin, Niacin, Protien, Phosphorous, iron, Pyredoxine, Pathothenic acid and Vitamin D.

The 4 ounces of liver gives you enough vitamin A for three days. One big sweet potato and one serving of carrots together equal this amount.

The other food nutrients would compare in the same way.

There are many quick ways to prepare liver. Try one of the following:

French Fried Liver

Trim and cut liver into finger size strips. Dip into lemon butter (¼ c. lemon juice and ¼ c.

ern Music Co. of San An-has released the published arrangement of "Castle Gap" Concert March by Clifton Williams.

The march was commissioned 2 years ago and first performed in Rankin with the composer conducting the Red Devil Band.

The title page of the score bears the following notes: "Castle Gap is a mountain pass in West Texas near Rankin, famous in early southwestern history as a wagon train and stage coach route. Legends tell of Maximilian's treasure buried here. The march is not intended as pictorial writing, but rather depicts in general effect the strength and vigor of the pioneers in dealing with a rugged terrian and climate. Commissioned by the Rankin, Texas High School Band, James F. Mabry,

III, Director."

"Castle Gap" was performed in December of last year by the Air Force Academy Band, opening their concert in Chicago for the Midwest Bandmaster's Association Convention. It will be performed in February by the Texas All-State Band at the Texas Music Educator's Convention. The University of Houston Band will play it in March for the American Bandmaster's Association Convention.

The Red Devil Band is once again preparing the work for use in festival competition this spring.
