

While ninety - nine and 44/100ths per cent of Friona's population were lying abed and listening as last Sunday evening's cloudburst hit and then simmered down to a sprinkle, at least one city family was having a real-life adventure out in the flood.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Dickson and family were returning from Lovington at a late hour Sunday night, and for several anxious minutes were wondering if they might not need a motorboat to get all the way home.

The Dicksons had stopped in Clovis for a coke, and were on the last leg of their trip between 11:30 p.m. and midnight, when between Bovina and Friona the road suddenly became a virtual river, running swift and deep.

It was about a mile or two west of Parmerton Hill, according to Weldon, where the water got the deepest, and finally forced them to wait for aid. "The water was running right down the road - just like it was a riverbed," Dickson said.

As they began to get into the water-covered portion of the road. Dickson began to proceed with caution. He was following a Chevrolet Corvair, and figured that he could go as far as the little compact car could.

All of a sudden, Dickson and his family stared in amazement as the car in front of them suddenly floated completely around, and headed back in their direction. "It was coming right at us," Dickson said. However, the smaller car wound up across the road on the shoulder, and Dickson decided to "wait it out" where he had stopped.

The water kept running, inching higher and higher. There were three cars stalled in all -a loaded station wagon being the third. Other automobiles stopped on either side of the "river" and waited on assistance.

After a short wait ("although it seemed like hours") Highway Department officials were on

The Friona Chamber of Commerce ended its search for a manager last Thursday by hiring Mrs. Chuck (Mary Kaye) Everitt for the position.

Mary Kaye made her formal application to the Chamber's board of directors at their regular monthly meeting, and the board offered her the job. In accepting the job, Mrs. Everitt said she realized that she was facing a challenge, but that she was looking forward to the challenge.

A graduate of Plainview High School, Mary Kaye attended West Texas State University and Amarillo

College, majoring in speech.

She and her husband were very active in the Amarillo Little Theatre, and were constantly rehearsing for a production at West Texas. They met during tryouts for the WT production of "Showboat,"

Other productions Mrs. Everitt appeared in included the role of Dorothy in "Wizard of Oz," Bianca in "Taming the Shrew," plus roles in "Dance We Must" and "Consolation Prize." She enjoys writing poetry and singing.

She will assume her new duties on Oct. 1.

Mary Kaye has been employed as secretary to manager Leo Forrest at Deaf Smith County Electric-Co-operative, and helped with the company's public relations. She served as hostess for such ventures as the recent tour by a group of South Americans in the area, sponsored by the electric co-operative. Prior to her position at Hereford, she had a spot on Channel 10 (Amarillo) on the morning show, and also wrote continuity for the television station. "This new position is certainly a great challenge to me. I will do my utmost to make Friona a better place in which to live. I'm here to serve the people, and hope to meet each one personally as soon as possible," Mary Kaye says.

She expressed her thanks to Forrest and the Deaf Smith County Electric Co-operative, for the training afforded her during her stay, where she had an insight of the workings of a board of directors.

The Everitts recently moved to Friona from Hereford. He is manager of Friona's Panciera Tire & Supply Company.

Another Frionan returned from a trip southward on Monday night. Otho Whitefield, who had taken a load of sheep to a Columbian sale in Del Rio, returned by way of Earth, and reported that Running Water Draw was running a foot or so over the highway bridge on the highway north of Earth.

Whitefield, who is president of the Columbia Sheep Breeders Association of America, took 46 animals to Del Rio, and reports an excellent sale.

Whitefield sol the 46 animals at an average price of $78 each, which was about the best price he remembers in his 20 years of dealing with Columbias.

The Friona sheepman currently has a famous boarder out at his place. At a recent meeting in Montana, the Columbia Association chose a prize ram which it wishes to give President Lyndon Johnson for his Columbia herd in Central Texas. Whitefield brought the ram home with him, and is keeping it until such time that it can be delivered.

Star Will Sponsor Annual Grid Contest

Another big football contest for readers of the Friona Star will kick off next week, it was announced this week by Star editor Bill Ellis.

This year's contest will be practically identical to last year's contest, wherein three grand prizes will be offered, as well as weekly prizes.

Grand prize once again will be two free tickets to this year's Cotton Bowl game, along with hotel accomodations and $40 expense money. Second place will receive two tickets to the Sun Bowl, hotel rooms and $25 expense money. Third place winner will get two season tickets to the Friona Chieftain games the following year. Weekly prizes of $5, $3, and $2 will once again be offered to the top three weekly winners.

"Last year's contest was even more widely accepted than our contest had been in the past and we're looking forward to record participation once again," Ellis says.

Making the contest possible are several sports-minded Friona area businesses, who act as sponsors.

Sponsors this year are Reeve Chevrolet, Bi - Wize Drug, Plainview Production Credit Association, Friona Farmers Co - Op Gin, Herring Implement Co., Chester Gin, Rockwell Bros. Lumber, Friona Motors, Ethridge-Spring Agency, Friona Country Club Gin, Galloway Implement Co., Monsanto Ag Center, Friona Feed Yards, Hub Grain Co., Parmer County Implement Company and one or two other sponsors who will be

What Does Future Hold For Small Town Business Firms?

In every state, in nearly every county, of the United States are small town in which former business areas have become ghost streets.

The scene is a common one: store windows boarded over: former banks used for storage; dust gathering on empty benches on the sidewalks. Yet in many of these towns there are more people than ever. The movement of trade came about as a result of better highways, faster automobiles, and poor promotion by the local merchants. The movement has been largely from villages to county seats and other small cities, which had the benefit of newspaper publicity.

* * * * But what about the future? Will super-highways, airplanes, and still faster automobiles begin to sap the commercial acand other flourishing small centers of trade? Not necessarily so. * * * *

The local merchant holds many advantages over distant competitors. The local consumers will remain loyal IF he thinks he will get a fair price at home. He will remain loyal IF he knows he can find the variety he seeks at home. He will remain loval IF he realizes how much he will save in transportation and services costs by trading at home. He will remain loyal IF the local merchant demonstrates that the local stores are progressive and up-to-date.

In short, every IF concerning the future of the small city merchant depends upon his use of advertising to keep the local consumer interested and informed on the ever-changing goods and services constantly being offered to the consumer by district competitors.

THE FRIONA STAR

The 1966 County Bake Show is over. Four blue ribbon's were given with the highest score of these being won by Ann Blackstone, a Lazbuddie 4-H'er. Ann seems to get her share of the blue ribbons in 4-H and this one will take her to the Tri-State Fair to compete for high honors. Other blue ribbon winners were Diane Coker, the second highest winner, Kathy Coker and Nancy Blackstone, RECORD BOOKS of 4-H'ers that were turned in for judging in Home Economics projects were 49. These have been judged and awards winners selected. Project work for 1966 is over and Clubs and leaders are getting ready for the new year. This will be the time for new girls and boys to decide on projects for another year. Adult leaders for projects will be needed if 4-H members are to benefit from project work. Adults who can spare a few hours each month can find satisfaction and contribute their time toward a very worthwhile activity. Let the Extension office or the 4-H Club Organization Leader know if you would like to take the training as a leader. It is hoped that training in some projects can be done in October.

Some changes have been made in 4-H Food guides and training on these will be given to leaders as soon as enrollment is completed.

SEPTEMBER BETTER BREAKFAST MONTH Many homemakers have found themselves a few pounds heavier after all the visiting and picnics during the summer. Skipping breakfast is not a smart way to lose weight -as many homemakers and girls

Following a plan of three well-planned meals a day to obtain the important nutrients needed in each person's daily diet.

September is designated as "Better Breakfast Month" and is a good tme to check the family's breakfast habits. Breakfast skippers are likely to become more pronounced with the beginning of school the competition for and "prime" time each morning for students and other busy people. A few minutes in the morning for an adequate breakfast for weight watchers and girls and boys can pay off in many ways -- it can prevent that tired, nervous and listless feeling during the mid-morning and improve grades of the school girl and boy.

Hollis Returns From 🖉 Mailbag 🗭

Scout Training Fete In the August 18th Issue of the Star you reported visitors

Mr. Archie M. Hollis of Friona, Scoutmaster of Troop 56. sponsored by the Friona Lions Club in Friona, has just returned from participating in a Farm-City Conference at Philmont Scout Training Center, Cimarron, New Mexico, for which he received a scholarship from the National Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The scholarship for himself and Mrs. Hollis was awarded on a basis of outstanding leadership in Scouting, Church, Civic, and other community organizations.

The National Rural Scouting Committee of the Boy Scouts of America launched this program eleven years ago as a means of paying tribute to the thousands of service and community minded men across America who give so much of their lives as volunteer leaders to boys through the Scouting movefifty states received such scholarships.

The purpose of these conferences is to study the newest and most effective program ideas and outreach methods to the changing population characteristics of our times. These scholarships are made available by the Sears - Roebuck Foundation, the National and State Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, Future Farmers of America and members of the National Rural Relationships Committee of the Boys Scouts of America.

Commenting on the conference, Joseph A. Brunton, Jr., Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America, said, "The goal of Scouting is to prepare boys to achieve their full adult potential as responsible citizens. A trained Scout leader is the key to achieving ths goal. The men who have tributions to boys. Their contributions of time and concern underscore again the importance of the volunteer in the social structuve of our nation." Hollis has been active in Scouting for the past six years, and under his leadership Troop 56 has grown to a troop of 22 boys. He is a member of the First Baptist Church, the American Water-Works Association, the Volunteer Fire Department, where he serves as Asst. Fire Marshall.

Under his leadership the troop has carried out many conservation projects, and because Sincerely, of these projects, he has been Waggoner Carr granted this scholarship furnished by the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts Inc., A portion of the program was given over to conservation education.
