WOODWORK BY DALTON

IN MY MIND'S EYE, if there is such a thing, I've been taking green bolls from white ones and coming up with black bolls. This has been going on since I was talking with Kenneth Black, a farmer from the Bula vicinity, who mentioned that he had invented something new by attaching a fan to a stripper.

Privately I thought, "there's nothing new about that," since I have a vivid memory of a stripper with a fan back in my gay youth. But I wanted to be polite, so I listened while he explained his invention, and it turned out he was talking about farming.

Of course, talking to me about farming is sort of like talking to a turtle, but I did get the idea after awhile that he has made a good thing out of keeping the green bolls; dry bolls and trash from his cotton trailer while he's harvesting his cotton. Kenneth played this ball game all last fall, and won every time. He pointed out that using this fan device on a stripper resulted in better turnouts. If I remember right, the turnout was pretty good that other time, too.

SEVERAL new trash receptacles have been installed on the streets here by some outfit which sold advertising on them. The idea of placing them around here and there to be handy for trash disposal is a good one, but I believe the company could have improved on its type container. The things are stuck up on a post, have a slot in them, and carry the word "Litter". You have to look pretty close at that inscription, because the device is shaped very much like a mail drop box, and it's pretty easy to read "Litter" instead of "Litter". I'd almost bet that someone tries to mail a letter in one of them, if it hasn't been done already.

WE'VE JUST had some mighty cold weather, the coldest since 1933 in these parts. Temperature dropped to 14 below last weekend, and another night it got 7 below zero. One of those nights, when it was colder than a finance company's heart, we had some friends over and we were swapping tall tales about the cold winters of the 1916's, or somewhere back in there. I heard the story about that winter about six different times, and every time I heard it the temperature dropped 10 degrees and the snow got a foot deeper. Twenty years from now, when we all tell about the cold winter back in '63, it probably will be at least 25 or 30 below.

Ray Lamb of Lubbock visited Saturday in the home of his sister, Mrs. Bill Cury and family.

Mrs. Sattie Owen of Lubbock was a visitor this week in the home of her brother and family, Rev. and Mrs. Willie Hazel. She stayed in the Hazel home while they attended the Baptist convention in Dallas.

Hornettes Continue To Win

By LINDA WILLIAMS
Tenacity and fine coaching brought the Hornettes through their third district win Tuesday night at Springlake.

The Hornettes, having been downed by the Wolverines in the Amherst tournament, went into the game slightly under pressure. However, the pressure was let up in the first few minutes of the game when the Sudan forwards repeatedly stole the ball and scored, giving the Hornettes the needed confidence to surge ahead of the Wolverines and stay in the lead all through the game until the last quarter.

In the final period the spy Wolverines cut down Sudan's 10-point lead, and by the time the clock registered 4 minutes they leaped past the Hornettes 37-33. But apparently this didn't rattle the players as much as the spectators, and the Hornettes climbed back up the ladder of success defeating the Wolverines 43-41.

Candace Mudgett was high scorer for Sudan with 18 points and Glenna Gatewood made 17. The Sudan boys' team was downed by Springlake 35-25. Taking scoring honors for Sudan was Mike Mudgett with 9 points and Pat Brown scored 8.

Ruling May Aid Farmers

A spokesman for the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District has said that in a letter received last week by attorneys for the Water District, Joseph B. Dooley, judge of the United States District Court, said that ground water used in the production of agricultural crops in the Southern High Plains of Texas is a depletable natural deposit under the federal tax laws, and that he has so ruled in a case pending before his court.

The spokesman, Tom McFarland, manager of the High Plains Water District, said Judge Dooley's comments were in regard to a case tried before his court during January 1962. The suit is a test case filed by a Floyd County farmer, Marvin Shurbet, in behalf of the High Plains District and is styled, Marvin Shurbet, et al v. United States of America. It seeks an income-tax refund of about $300 for the tax year 1959.

McFarland said that the favorable decision in the Shurbet case, upheld on appeal, will ultimately mean millions of dollars in tax savings for persons in the Southern High Plains of Texas who can show a cone in the ground water beneath their land and who are using the water to produce income. McFarland pointed out that in 1954 the Board of Directors of the High Plains Water District first authorized the District's staff to seek a depletion allowance on ground water. The Board felt that if such a program were allowed on ground water by the Internal Revenue Service, then a great many more persons would realize first hand that their supply of water is truly exhaustible and would then become conscious that "water conservation" is a necessity for continued prosperity. McFarland continued, "In the beginning our board had the feeling that too many people are not really convinced that the ground water is not being replaced, or that they accept the fact of decline only in an abstract sort of way. The board thought that if each person had to physically check the water level in his own wells in order to take the tax deduction, that then the decline in water level would be a personal thing and would make him cognizant of his plight. Only when some men reach this point are they ready to discover ways and means of using water as efficiently as possible."

WMU BUSINESS MEETING HELD

Mrs. R. E. DeLoach presided at the regular business meeting last week of the WMU of the First Baptist church. Plans made include the Annual banquet given by the organization honoring members of the Senior class. The date was set for Feb. 18. Present were Mesdames DeLoach, James P. Arnold, Sr., Dexter Baker, Halbert Harvey, Willie Hazel, L. F. Meeks.

Farmer's Cotton Stripper Innovation Aids Turnout

More pure cotton per trailer load is the aim and result of an invention of a Bula area farmer who tried it out during the cotton harvest just ended.

Kenneth Black, who farms 12 miles southwest of Sudan, operated his cotton stripper with his invention, an attachment which takes out the dry bolls and green bolls, and a considerable amount of trash, and drops them in a bin. The undesirable material then can be dumped at the end of the row, he explained. Black estimated that he made $5 per bale more this last season than he would have made without the use of the attachment.

"My best turnout this season was 26 per cent on stripping, about equal to handpulled cotton," he said. "I feel I can up that at least two per cent this fall."

He explained that the device was not doing a perfect job yet, "but with what I've learned this year, I feel sure it will be perfected by next season."

Black did most of the machine work himself on the attachment, which he made by cutting the elevator off and rigging up a way to feed the cotton through a suction fan. Under the suction, the cotton is lifted and the dry bolls and green bolls and heavier amounts of trash dropped.

A native of the Bula area, Black graduated from Sudan High School in 1952 and attended Texas Tech and Eastern New Mexico University. He has farmed his own land for the last four years. He and his wife, Jane, have four children, ranging in ages from 1 to 6 years.

Rev. and Mrs. Willie Hazel, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Parrish and Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Baker were in Dallas this week to attend the Southern Baptist Evangelistic Conference.

For her wedding trip the bride chose a black and brown wool suit with black and brown accessories.

Scripture: St. Mark 1:16-20, St. John 15:14-17.
The call of Jesus to come follow Him is as real and as urgent today as it was when He first called Simon and Andrew, James and John, and the other disciples.
But did you notice their response to His call? It is true there had been some previous "prey" ration made for the coming of Jesus, the Messiah, but you and I have far more than that. So, what about our response to the call of Jesus for His service? Are we as eager and ready as the first disciples to do what He says, or do we want to know more about where we are going, what we may have to do, how long it will take, etc.? Maybe we don't want to leave our job, or our family or friends - and to follow Jesus sometimes we may have to do that, too.

"... and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired servants, and went after Him."

Let's look at ourselves, Christians, and look also at the world in which we live.

Taking a practical viewpoint (and Jesus is "practical", for He never asks us to do what He cannot make a way for us to do), James and John did leave their father Zebedee, to follow Jesus, but Zebedee evidently was provided for and had the help of the hired servants. Jesus had a definite place of service for James and John. I think Zeb-deo's place to serve was right where he was. Perhaps Zebedee knew this; maybe he did not.

However, the kind of service we do for Jesus is not for us to choose. Jesus said: "Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you." So, Jesus chooses what we shall do, if we are truly willing to follow Him.
Sometimes we are amazed, sometimes disturbed, perhaps, at the services Jesus wants us to do. How to know? The only way I know to follow Jesus is to do as He says and trust Him to know and help us to find the way. This means we walk by faith, not by sight. We love, and believe in Jesus, and then we let Him have His will and way in our lives, doing what we can right where we are, as we seek Him daily for cleansing, comfort, guidance and loving fellowship.

But, seek Jesus we must, in prayer and worship, in meditation and reading His Holy Word and in fellowship and service with other Christians. We must be alert to hear the still, small voice, for Jesus may speak to you or me through someone that is unaware, through some written word as we think with the mind of Christ, in a vision... in His own way.

I paused here to ask myself
"How many, with ears to hear, really hear the call of Jesus to come and follow Him?" If you hear as you read this, be obedient and remember in looking out at the sinfulness, the suffering, the pain, the trouble and sorrow in this world that it was to these Christ ministered and it was for sinners that Christ died!

"They that are whole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick..."

Let's do what we can where we are, to be a bright reflection of the great physician, Jesus Christ, our Lord and King. Let's truly follow Him and proclaim the Good News of eternal life, letting Christ heal the needs through us, and let us pray without ceasing.

Tractor Tuneups Increase Efficiency

COLLEGE STATION (Special)
-Tuning-up your gasoline or liquid petroleum gas tractor can increase its power by 11 percent and fuel efficiency as much as 14 percent, says Henry O'Neal, extension agricultural engineer, Texas A&M College.
And this increased power and economy can mean savings in time as well, he continues.

IF gas and gasoline engines usually require a tune-up every 250 hours of operation and if these adjustments are not made when needed the engine cannot deliver the power it was designed to give and fuel will be wasted.
Improper timing and carburetor adjustment can seriously harm an engine because of over heating and oil dilution from un-burned fuel, O'Neal says.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Too Much Litter In Town

(Editor's Note: The following is a letter written by Sudan City Marshal Ewell Roberts, who is concerned about the apparent apathy of many local citizens toward keeping the city clean.)
*****

Why do we have roadside parks and city parks? Let me tell you.
Workers for the city or the state put them there for your benefit and mine, so people could stop and eat their picnic lunches and rest while they are eating. Some even pull up to them to sleep.
Others seem to think they are there for another purpose, and some people just don't care how they leave them.

We have signs telling us how far it is to the next roadside park. We pull in there and look around, then see how cluttered with trash and dirty they are and drive off. Of course, the highway department crews or city crews come along occasionally and clean up the parks for us to use, but they can't do the job without help.

Not only our parks, but our streets and highways are cluttered up with beer cans, bottles, cartons and other trash. A person may carelessly throw out a bottle and then someone runs over it and punctures a tire.

Either the person who first tossed out the bottle doesn't think, or he doesn't care.

When I am patrolling the town, and see a bottle or can, I pick it up and carry it to a trash can or to the dump ground. However, I miss some.

People driving through or visiting here look at our town, and if it is clean they may tell our ears. So let's help keep our town clean.

If Wide-Track is as hot as Pontiac says, why don't they put it in their Tempest?

They just did.

We can take a hint. When people are as happy with something as Pontiac owners are with Wide-Track, we're willing—may, eager—to let everybody else in on it. That's why Tempest has a Wide-Track of its own this year. It's why you get to choose between a lively 4 and a 326-cu. in. V-8, too. We aim to please—and if we do say so, we're pretty accurate. *Optional at extra cost.

Now there are two kinds of Wide-Track cars... Pontiac and Tempest

CHEVROLET... the Quality truck!

WALK AROUND IT. SEE THE DIFFERENCES.

Start at the rear of this Fleetside pickup. Grab the tailgate and pull hard. No give. Two wedge latches keep it tight. Now unfasten them and let down the gate. Jump up and down on it. Does it sag? Notice how the chains are wrapped in rubber so they won't rattle or mar paint.

Now look at the lower side panels. Two walls. You might dent the inside one but it won't show through. The floor will never rust. It's select wood, not metal.

Now please sit in the cab a minute. Comfortable? It also is double walled and the roof is insulated. Let's start 'er up and look for a washboard road. Chevrolet coil-spring suspensions fight road shock better than other types, good for the truck, load and the driver.

There are other things. But you can see why this is a truck that does a job without a lot of pampering. It's built right. Which is why it's usually worth more at trade-in. When would you like us to deliver it?

2 NEW 6-CYLINDER ENGINES

New High Torque 230-cu.-in. Six is lighter but more powerful than its predecessor. It is standard in Series C10 through C30 models.

New High Torque 295-cu.-in. Six - most powerful truck 6 Chevrolet has ever built! Standard in Series C60, optional at extra cost in lighter models.
