DO YOU know how to blow your nose?

This intriguing question is asked by the American Medical Assn. (down with medicine) in a news release which purports to give health and safety tips.

Like most others who may ask this question, I thought there was nothing to it. I've been doing it for years, but it just isn't something you go around talking about.

But, says the AMA, "physicians have long known that blowing the nose too hard can cause trouble in the ear." The AMA means you can hurt your own ears by blowing too hard, and doesn't say anything about hurting anyone else's ears by blowing too loud. The article goes on to tell all about air pressure in the middle ear (of concern to people with three ears, I guess), and tubes to the throat, and after eight paragraphs, comes up with the statement that "the proper way to blow your nose is not to blow too hard and to leave both nostrils open."

While I'm on the subject I'd like to mention that my big objection to Kleenex like Kleenex is that if one isn't careful he'll blow a hole in them. These work best when reinforced by a quarter of a page torn from a newspaper, preferably one of our competitors.

AFTER 18 years, a book I once owned has turned up again, in an odd coincidence on which it would take some mathematician to figure the law of probability.

I never met or heard of Don Ham, Sudan vocational agriculture teacher, until he came to Sudan a couple of years ago. But last week when I was visiting in his home, we were looking over various books which he had and he picked up one of them, on the life of Kate Rochelle, commenting that "Here's one I never did get around to reading." He idly flipped it open to the flyleaf, and there was my name, in my handwriting, much to his surprise and mine, too.

As it turned out, the book was given to Don about four years ago by his uncle, W. A. Ham of Jackson. The book had belonged to Jess Ham, W. A. Ham's son, who was killed in an automobile accident about six years ago.

Jess Ham and I were classmates and good friends at Jackson High School from 1942-46, and apparently I had given the book to him sometime, although I didn't even remember ever owning it (I do remember reading it).

I wish I did know the odds against such an occurrence. I'll bet they would be high.

Scout Banquet Set

The annual Cub Scout Blue and Gold banquet is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 5, at the school cafeteria.

Chancellor Sidney Gage urged all parents of Cub Scouts to attend, as well as Jaycees and their wives. The Sudan Jaycees is the Cub Scout sponsoring organization.

DR. LANE MURRAY

Dr. Murray Joining A&M Staff

Dr. Lane Murray will join the Texas A&M College faculty as an assistant professor in the Department of Education & Psychology.

The daughter of the late Ed and Elsie Stone, Dr. Murray grew up in Sudan and graduated from Sudan High School in 1937.

Dr. Murray served in the same teaching capacity at Texas A&M College in the spring of 1960 but left the faculty to devote full time to the doctoral program at the University of Houston until June, 1962, when she received the degree of Doctor of Education. She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Texas Technological College and a Master of Education degree from Sam Houston State Teachers College.

Before joining the Texas A&M faculty, Dr. Murray was a teacher of English and journalism in the Huntsville High School.

At the University of Houston, Dr. Murray's original research, "Preparation of Manuscripts for Reproduction by Distro" was published by the Bureau of Educational Research and Services, and was made available for purchase by graduate students through the Bureau. She also developed and wrote "A Secondary Student Teaching Handbook for the University of Houston" to be used as the official handbook in the University's student teaching program.

Dr. Murray collaborates with her husband, Dr. Thomas Murray of the Sam Houston Department of Education and Psychology, to write and produce filmstrips of an educational nature which are sold to public and private schools and colleges throughout the United States and abroad. One of their filmstrip series, "Making the Library a Learning Center", received a blue ribbon award in international competition as best in its category of Education and Child Development in the 1962 American Film Festival in New York

Sudan Girls In 48-37 Cage Win

Sudan's girls won their sixth consecutive game in District 3-A, Tuesday night, stopping the Hale Center girls by 48-37 while the Hale Center Owls romped over the Sudan Hornets by 69-36.

This leaves the Sudan boys 0-6 in district.

High scoring boy for Hale Center was Sid Barry with 20. High for Sudan was Mike Mudgett, 13.

High scoring girl for Sudan was Judy Steer with 23. High for Hale Center was Marilyn Trimmer, 21.

Glenna Gatewood had 12 points and Candace Mudgett had 11.

Sudan will play Springlake here Friday night.

NEW BAND DIRECTOR NAMED FOR SCHOOL

Michael Metz, Texas Tech graduate who has been assisting in band at Littlefield schools, has been hired as band director for the coming semester at Sudan Schools.

Metz will succeed Jerry Pickens, who has accepted a position in Snyder. Mrs. Metz is an elementary school teacher.

YOUNG HOMEMAKERS ENROLL 18 MEMBERS

The Sudan Chapter of Young Homemakers Assn. met Jan. 28 with Mrs. Don Ham acting as temporary chairman.

Mrs. Pudd Wiseman gave the purposes of this new organization and 18 members were enrolled.

A nominating committee was appointed and officers will be installed at the next meeting Feb. 4, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Home Economics building.

Robbie Petty is advisor to the group, and she urges that anyone interested attend the next meeting.

last April.

Dr. Murray will commute to A&M College from her home in Huntsville where she resides with her husband and two teenagers, Joyce, a high school junior, and Mark, a sophomore. Another son, Stone, is a sophomore journalism student at Stephen F. Austin.

Scripture: Philippians 4:5-8, 19; II Timothy 2:3-4; Hebrews 13:5-9; Romans 12:2.

"Think on these things."
A life given over to the "trivia" as the sole concern of the mind will beat the spirit into a hardened path into which the seed (God's Word) falls and finds no lodgment.

No emotion or truth can live in the mind unless it renews itself in experience.

William C. Finch wrote the above statements and in study and soul-searching, I find them coming back to me, so I ask you to read them and prayerfully ask yourself as I do: What emotion or thought in my mind do I want to keep, to sink down deep into my soul and become a part of me, and to renew itself in experience? Also, which emotion or thought do I want cast out of my mind, and in trying to follow Jesus' example by saying, "Get thee hence, Satan?" Do not entertain an emotion or thought and thus allow it to renew and multiply itself in experience if it dishonors the name of our Father.

Salvation from sin (and from death penalty of sin) into righteousness and eternal life is an experience. This experience is between an individual and God. When a person admits his or her sinfulness and asks God's forgiveness and help to turn from that sinfulness, immediately God hears and answers. I know He does, for He said so and He heard and answered me. Knowing his or her sin are forgiven, when that sinner believes and accepts Jesus as Savior and Lord, he or she is born again spiritually and has become an eternal child of the Eternal God! God, the Almighty Father, whose Word assures His children that "God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able, but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it."

Then, after we have salvation as a free gift, together with God's Holy Spirit, His Word and with His other children we "work out" our salvation — experiencing the new thoughts, the new emotion, the will of God, day by day as we grow up from a crawling spiritual infant into a walking, running, growing-up Christian.

Growing up both physically and spiritually can be painful at times. But just because we may lose a battle does not mean we will lose the war! The war we fight is not one of guns, planes, rockets or missiles — not flesh and blood that we fight, but a war against the powers of darkness that only our faith to believe in God can overcome.

So, let brotherly love continue. Put Christ on the throne of your heart and will and mind, (give all of yourself to Him just as you are) and remember in victorious joy that God's Word of promise says,

"I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee."

Miss Meeks Honoree

The home of Mrs. G. S. DeVall in Littlefield was the scene for a bridal shower Friday evening honoring Miss Jane Meeks of Sudan, bride-elect of Mack Campbell of Littlefield.

WATER SPEED TESTS — Seagoing cargo carrier now under test for Marine Corps could play a major role in future amphibious warfare. The vehicle — a high speed craft that can move tons of supplies 35 miles an hour on water or land — was developed by Ingersoll Kalamazoo Division of Borg-Warner Corp. Called the LVW (for landing vehicle, wheeled), it is a 14-ton boat with aluminum plating hull, retractable rubber-tired wheels and is powered by a 1500 h.p. gas turbine engine. With a water-borne range of more than 150 miles, the highly-maneuverable LVW can skim across the water carrying loads up to 10,000 pounds from ship to shore or between ships.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Cate have been visiting their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Cate of Austin.

TPA

Texan of the Year AWARD

Presented to
DAN BLOCKER
OF BOWIE COUNTY TEXAS

THIS AWARD is presented on behalf of the Daily and Weekly Newspapers of Texas to DAN BLOCKER, who truly measures up to a Texan's yardstick of a real Texan. It is tendered in appreciation of the high honor and distinction he has brought to the Lone Star State.

DAN BLOCKER's role as Ross Cartwright on NBC-TV's Bonanza series is natural casting. In real life, as in his character part, the word of this modest and unassuming Texan is as good as his bond.

This gentle giant of a man had to have a big body for such a big heart.

Texas newspapers salute him for what he is, as well as for the fame he has brought to our great State.

Better salaries is the most important single factor in retention of teachers — so said 153 Hale-Alkin county committees in a study of Texas schools.

Just what could occupy the mind, Point out the type or name the kind, That equals service we can give, To prove the life we choose to live; Not just a service for a few, But service for no matter who; Our service equals all that we, Can ever claim or hope to be.
