WOODWORK BY DALTON

IF CLASSIFIED ads in the National Enquirer, New York City, get results, that tabloid publication must be doing all right. And, judging from the number of want ads in one issue I've seen (part of), they must get results.

The only part of the publication I've ever seen is the top half of a torn page passed on to me by grocerman Bill Turner of Sudan. He says (rather weakly) that he found it used for packing in some items he ordered for the store. Strangely enough, his wife backs him up in the story.

Anyway, we all found the classified ads under a heading "Strictly Personal" interesting, to say the least. Here are a few samples:

"She Has Much To Offer: Lovable lady seeks wealthy man for marriage. Enquirer, Box P-54, 205." (Each of the ads has a box number in care of the newspaper.)

"Where Are You, 21-32? Secure, marriage-minded man, 29, seeks shapely lady, any faith, who likes music, books. Snapshot? Is kind, affectionate, hopes for love, happiness."

"Are You Special? - Petite, attractive colored lady, 45, will adore you sincerely, Sir."

"To a Lonely Man: Lady, buxom, 60, white, is not marriage-minded." (All the cards on the table, here, as in the next one.)

"Prefers Long Tresses: Gentleman, attractive, 41, 6-2, wealthy, generous and discreet, seeks lady with waist-length or longer hair. Not marriage-minded." (He must manufacture baseball gloves.)

"Attractive Divorcee: Western Pennsylvania, 5-4, 120, age 38, has son, 9. Does not drink or smoke. Seeks sincere, honest Protestant gentleman, 38 to 48, marriage-minded. Snapshot? (It's probably the son who doesn't drink or smoke.)

"A Cheerful Glasful of Beer: Cleaning lady, Brooklyn, home type, 47, of Polish descent, superintendent of house. Likes occasional beer. Seeks marriage-minded man."

"Lonely Bingo Player: Gentleman, 6', single, white, 195, steadily employed, seeks lady bingo companion, 21 to 38." (Hm-m-m-m....)

As part of this newspaper's policy of serving the public, we'll be happy to furnish complete addresses to anyone with nerve enough to answer one of these.

Researchers Speak Here

Flame cultivation and herbicides were topics of talks by Jack Parks and Dr. Arthur Gohlke of the High Plains Research Foundation, Halfway, who spoke to the meeting of Sudan Young Farmers Monday night.

Parks spoke and demonstrated charts showing results on tests involving flame cultivation on cotton, soy beans and grain sorghum. Yields on the test plots having flame cultivation were in most cases higher than on plots given normal sweep cultivation.

Dr. Gohlke warned of the residual effects of herbicides. No long term tests have been made on the residue left, and he warned of possible harmful long term effects.

Tentative plans were made by the 12 members present to have a 42 social involving the Young Farmers and Young Homemakers chapters June 7 at the Community Center in Sudan. More details are to given later.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Alldredge of Palestine visited last week in the home of her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jinks Dent.

Hail Batters Area Cotton

Heavy hail shredded young cotton in a sizeable area south and west of Sudan Tuesday night, leaving many farmers with the prospect of replanting.

Charles Wiseman, who lives six miles southwest of Sudan, said his cotton and that of his neighbors was haled out, and said the hail was "a little larger than golf balls." He also noted that all the windows on the east and north side of his rent house were broken out by the hail.

Rainfall in the area varied from two inches measured in Sudan itself to higher amounts in the vicinity. No hail fell in town, and some farmers' cotton which received only rain benefited from the weather.

Surprise Program Pays Tribute To John Dean

John R. Dean, 83-year-old Sudan real estate man who for 40 years has been active in the development and progress of this area, was honored with a surprise "This is your life" program Monday night at the Sudan Rotary Club Rotary-Ann banquet. Rotary Club President Bill Nix narrated the program in which seven other persons took part, each telling of some phase of Dean's remarkable life in Sudan and before.

Taking part were his brothers, Cliff Dean and Kirk Dean of Lubbock, a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Smith of Sudan; Ves Terry and L. E. Slate of Sudan, a former employee, Olan Roark of Sudan, and Dean's son-in-law, F. M. Smith of Sudan.

Dean, who was born at Bowie, Texas, missed by one week being a charter member of Sudan Rotary Club when it was organized in 1936. "I joined a week later," he said. Currently he is serving as program chairman and prior to the surprise announcement that he was being honored had appeared to be concerned with the fact that no program seemed to be ready for the 50 or more persons at the banquet.

Dean came to Sudan in 1923 from Ryan, Okla., where he built the first cotton gin in Jefferson County, Okla., before Oklahoma was even a state, in 1906. Later he sold that gin and took a car agency, which he traded during the depression years for an interest in the Stanfield Ranch in Oklahoma. In 1923 he came to Sudan and bought a cotton gin which he later sold to Ves Terry, and built another gin across the highway, in 1924. In 1925, he sold that gin and built the Dean Gin west of Sudan, which later became co-op, and which he ran until 1944.

Dean retired for a few years, then managed the old Davis gin, which since has been moved. He then lived at Durango, Colo. for two years, and came back to Sudan in the early 1950s and opened a real estate business in conjunction with the late R. E. Doss. Still active at 83, Dean currently is developing a new housing addition.

It was noted that several times in his life Dean has seized opportunities which others considered doubtful or even foolhardy, and made them pay off, especially in land transactions. This was attributed to his perpetual optimism in the continued progress of the community.

Scripture: I John 3:22-24; 4:10, 19-21; St. John 3:16; 13:35; St. Luke 15: 4-7; Ephesians 2:4-9.

"And this is His commandment, That we should believe on the name of His Son, Jesus Christ, and love one another..."

Are we losing our capacity to love? Do we truly care about one another? What do we mean by "caring"?

Someone startled me by saying "I wouldn't want a person talking to me about being saved with the feeling that I, as a person, didn't really matter; that he or she would just tell me about Christ and how to be saved and then pass on by to another place and another people and forget about me." I believe none of us would be much impressed by what a person would say to us, if that was the spirit in which it was said. For only in love is what we say important.

Each and every one of us are

THE FIZZLE FAMILY

By H. T. Elmo

so vitally important to our Father, and to each other as children in one Family. I think we all begin to know how important we are to our Father, not just because of our works or our witness, but because He loves us and wants us back with Him. God has demonstrated in the Cross how much He loves us. Also, the choice to belong to Him, or to Satan, is an individual choice and not a group choice. We do not understand how God could love us so much (nor does a small child understand why his or her parents love) but we do know by the evidence of Jesus and the Spirit that God does, love us.

But do we know how important we are to each other? Do we really care about all persons on this earth enough to go and tell them how to find the Way to live forever? Do we care about each and every person in this world as Jesus cares? How does Jesus care? It is true that He fed the five thousand, but He also did not condemn the woman taken in adultery, but said to her "Go and sin no more." He talked to the rulers, people in high places, but He felt the touch on the hem of his garment of the woman's hand who sought to be healed. Crowds made a lot of noise, but Jesus heard the cry of one blind beggar who cried "Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me." Jesus wept over Jerusalem, but it was to one thief who repented and confessed sin and called to Him "Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy Kingdom" which Jesus said that day the repentant thief would be with Him in Paradise. Jesus had twelve disciples, but it was the faith in Christ of one (Peter) of which He said "Upon this rock will I build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." (The church is built, not on Peter, but on Christ, the Son of the Living God! — which Peter had faith to believe and declare).

Then, if one person is so important to our Father, how much, how greatly needed is our love and seeking for each other here in our time of witnessing! Oh, how much God needs you to tell His world, His people everywhere about Jesus! How each and everyone needs to know that only Jesus Saves and can give to each one Eternal Life. How we need each other for reassurance, for sympathy in our weaknesses, for joy in sharing, for loving that we may better understand each other and better love our Heavenly Father. How much we need to feel our kinship—that we are a human family, who can become through Christ, a God-Family!

Do you know how to live forever? Will you accept and go Jesus' way? Hear Him now, for He is seeking you, Christian, the torch has been handed to you in this "Relay Race"; will you let it go out, or to whom will you hand it? Jesus is the Light of the World!

BEN CASEY WILL AIR AT LEAST TWO TWO-PARTERS NEXT SEASON, one of them about euthanasia... All marriages aren't made in heaven; Bonanza next season will spend a good deal of time on Pernel Roberts' meeting and courting a girl, not yet selected. "By the end of the year," says producer David Dortort, "if the audience likes her and she is the right kind of girl, we'll marry them." MGM is preparing a film special, "The World's Greatest Showman," based on the career of the late Cecil B. DeMille... With Laramie now down the drain, Revue plans to build up Bob Fuller as "the dynamic new Wagon Train star." He'll become a Train regular in the fall.

Bob Cummings a new series

BOB CUMMINGS HAS AGREED TO UNDERTAKE A NEW SERIES based on the Bentz Shogren book, "This Is Goggle." But the test film will not be shot until fall. Production co-partners: Filmways (Beverly Hillsbillies, Mister Ed) and James Garner's new company, J.L.K. Productions... After six years on the network air, Leave It to Beaver is going into syndication... Leslie Nielsen (New Breed) will try again with a new series, Pilot for Hire... All is not quite lost for The Untouchables and Naked City. Both are being put back into circulation via syndication... Walt Disney's new contract with NBC carries Wonderful World of Color through the 1964-65 season... Moving way, way out, Twilight Zone will present "The Bard," in which William Shakespeare, portrayed by John Williams, will serve as ghost writer for a modern TV hack writer, Jack Weston.

If the deal jells, Vic Damone will again be host. Last summer's director, Barry Shear, has left NBC to form his own company, but he would return to handle just The Lively Ones... If CBS's first Royal Ballet special next season is well received, the network will present a series of them, all filmed in England.

The struggle of peoples around the world to win stability for their countries and better lives for themselves is one of the great stories of our time. Especially equipped to tell this story are CARE Mission Chiefs. On four continents they distribute the CARE food and Self-Help materials made possible by U.S. contributors; they are in daily contact with the men, women and children engaged in striving for growth. Here is a recent report by the Mission Chief in the Dominican Republic.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC This Caribbean nation is taking decisive steps to protect one of its most important natural resources — its valuable forests.

Nearly one-half of the 500,000 acres of pine forests in the mountainous central part of the country has been destroyed in recent years through wasteful practices.

The destruction was caused by farmers seeking to extend their individual acreage by the "slash-and-burn" method and by people taking long suppressed vengeance for their sufferings under the Trujillo regime. This took the form of burning down forests owned by the dictator, his family and favorites. Eighty percent of the land industries and businesses in the country were owned by the Trujillo clique.

Today with the help of CARE's people-to-people aid programs the country's rich timberlands are being safeguarded. Recently the first class of 40 students graduated from the Dominican Forestry Training Center. The rangers, most of them in their early twenties, are now spread throughout the wooded regions of the country to protect it against fire and degradation.

That constructive step was made possible because CARE provided the school with $7,000 worth of tools and firefighting equipment necessary for the training program. American forestry engineers estimate that it will take from 20 to 22 years of firefighting.

What's In A Name?
Fishermen use a lot of words most good, a few bad, and some that don't seem to make any sense at all. Local terms that define fish and fishing methods can confuse even pros. If you don't know the difference between "chunkin'" and "pluggin'" it doesn't really matter. You're safe if you just stick to casting. But, sometimes, say Mercury fishing experts, an understanding of local expressions can be very helpful.

Let's see if you can describe the method of fishing and species of fish usually involved with the following terms:

- (a) Skittering: (b) Mooching;
- (c) Jugging; (d) Cake walking;
- (e) Squidding; & (f) Notching.

- ANSWERS:
- (a) Skittering — A method used for catching bass with a long cane pole and bait usually fish strip or pork chunk. The bait is danced across the surface along the shore.
  - (b) Mooching — Salmon fishing technique using anchovies or herring as bait in the Pacific Northwest.
  - (c) Jugging — Catching catfish with set lines supported by glass jugs or other floats. This is used for both sport and commercial fishing in the Mississippi Valley.
  - (d) Cake walking — Method of skipping a deep-running plug or bait across the bottom. Used in northern waters for lake trout.
  - (e) Squidding — Surf fishing term popular mainly on the east coast. While particularly used in reference to striped bass, the same baits or artificials will catch a variety of fish.
  - (f) Notching — Modifying a plug to reduce extreme action and retrieving with the rod tip extended deep into the water. Deadly for bass in the bayou country.

A Chevy II wagon looks this big when you load it up and this big when you gas it up

That, in the eyes of most Chevy II wagon owners, is just about the size of it.

A king-size appetite for cargo. But a dainty one for gas. And this, we hardly need add, is just the kind of wagon we planned it to be.

Taut and trim as it is on the outside, we went to great lengths to keep it BIG where a wagon should be BIG. The load platform extends a full nine feet from the back of the front seat to the tip of the lowered tailgate.

And for all the pepper we packed into that 6-cylinder engine (there's also a choice of an even thrifter 4 in most models), we were careful to keep it simple, easy to service — and a real stickler on economy.

Feel in a traveling mood? Well — happy coincidence — this is the time of year your Chevrolet dealer feels in his most generous trading mood. Looks like it's high time you two got together.

CUSTOM OF THE COSTUME HAS MEANING

With graduation time approaching, a subject worthy of examination is the academic costume. There's more to the meaning of the cap, hood and gown than most people think, as the color and shape of each item of apparel has its own special significance.

The individual pieces vary for different level graduates. For example both the bachelor and master graduates wear the same basic black cap with the tassel hanging over the left side, but the doctorate graduate sports a silk and gold bullion tassel.

The doctorate gown is considerably different. It has three velvet horizontal bars on each of the sleeves, and two wide velvet bars running vertically down the front of the gown. The hood of the academic costume is also important as a means of learning more about the individual graduates. Each hood has a velvet border, and the color of this border represents the graduate's field of study.

Among the more predominant colors, and their meanings, are these. Arts, letters and humanities all are represented by a white border. Law has a more colorful border, purple, while budding philosophers can be spotted by their dark blue borders. You can identify science graduates by the golden yellow of their borders, and music graduates are easy to pick out by their pink borders. Equally as easy to distinguish are medical doctors with their green borders, and theology students with their scarlet borders.

WITNESS, the undersigned, Clerk of the 154th District Court of Lamb County, Texas. Issued and given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in the City of Littlefield, Texas, this 15th day of May, A. D. 1963.

Feed 'n' Weed Yard at Same Time

If you've been a shareholder in Weekend Weeding for the past couple of summers, the advice of this column is sell—but fast. And invest instead in chemicals—lawn and garden chemicals, that is.

They'll "earn" you more time for your weekend golf, and your dividends—in the form of a healthy, green lawn—will be constant and appreciable. When you "thought" WW (a wild growth situation, incidentally) you rationalized that you'd be saving money. But which one will you be this summer? Happily enough, at this juncture, the decision is still yours. But don't delay. What will the theme of your lawn program be—chemical or physical?

Often times, your spreader leaves strips of unfed lawn, which become even more unsightly as the fertilized areas thrive. To avoid this, set the spreader guide at one-half the recommended opening and cover the lawn twice. The second time walk at right angles to the first.

SOLUTION FOR "SARP" SUFFERERS

Television antenna engineers have added a new word to their vocabulary. It's "Sarp," which stands for Suburban Area Reception Problems. Increasing demands for better color TV and FM Stereo reception have caused the engineers to re-appraise their approach to the problems of city and suburban residents, who, though they live closer to the TV or FM transmitter, now find they have reception difficulties just like those experienced by their "fringe area" neighbors. Engineers from the famous Channel Master Antenna Research Laboratories have come up with a new answer in a "city and suburban" version of their famous "Crossfire" antenna, designed originally for deep fringe reception. The new compact Crossfire gives true color fidelity on all channels and eliminates "ghosts" and "gain" variations for both color and black and white TV. Perfect reception is particularly important with color TV since ghosts and other distortions which are only annoying with black and white TV become intolerable when seen on a color set. The compact Crossfire also provides high gain, directivity and sensitivity for perfect FM reception.

EVERYWHERE MEN ARE HUNGRY FOR LIVING BREAD. They are fed stones that glitter but do not satisfy. They long for the hope of a new world. They are offered the fear of world destruction or world dictatorship. In their hearts they know that if men continue to live like clever, greedy beasts, sooner or later they will be caged or shot. Man's attitude must change. The apple in the Garden of Eden was good. Somebody's attitude to it was wrong.

Science is good. But much of it now seems devoted to the art of destruction.

Education is good. But education nowadays seems to justify moral and spiritual bankruptcy and to destroy faith.

Wealth is good. But when it becomes the aim of great societies, the character of people decays.

More wages, shorter hours, better social and economic conditions are all good and all necessary. But in the hearts of millions of workers, white, black, yellow and brown, is a gathering disillusionment.

Freedom is good, and is coming like a flood to Africa. But where yesterday black men hated white, now black fears black. And tomorrow may see black or red imperialism where white imperialism reigned yesterday.

Asia hoped to teach the West the art of unity. For years India practiced a policy of "neutrality," which was praised to high heaven by the Red Chinese giant. Now that giant has crossed the nation's frontier and swallowed 30,000 square miles of Indian soil. The feet of invaders march on land that was successfully defended during 200 years of British rule.

The Communists say that the free world is divided within itself. That is true. But has the Communist world an answer? A Communist Ambassador from Eastern Europe said recently,

"There is deep division in the Communist world. Khrushchev has moved beyond Stalin. He does not want to force his ideas on humanity by pointing a bayonet at their bellies. But Mao Tse-tung believes war not only inevitable, but necessary, in order to carry mankind into Communism. He has told us we must risk 300,000,000 lives to do it."

Khrushchev thinks the most dangerous anti-revolutionaries are the Chinese. Mao Tse-tung thinks the most dangerous anti-revolutionaries are the Russians. And this peril is projected into Europe where Albania and Yugoslavia growl and bare their teeth as they follow their separate paths.

Ordinary men look on the policies, or lack of policies, which brought the world to the brink of war over Cuba as insanity. They would cry "Halt," but do not see the way.

The answer lies in the character of men.

It remains true that unless we deal with human nature drastically and thoroughly on a colossal scale, man will follow his historic path to violence and destruction. Capitalism, free enterprise and democratic socialism have failed to cure the selfishness that permits too few to have too much, while too many have too little. The Communist states have failed to answer the hate and bitterness that drive men into danger.

Hating Russia or hating America or hating another class, color, race or country multiplies the problem and cures nothing. The free world as well as the Communist world needs help, not hate.

Squatting in the streets, protesting about the atom bomb and running to a safer place when danger threatens does not seem an intelligent reply to the challenge of the century.

Those who would be willing to die for their country in war but meanwhile insist on living comfortably, selfishly, undisturbed, do not answer the challenge of world revolution.

Men who at international conferences talk about unity, when at home family life, politics and industry are divided by ambition, fear, jealousy and greed, do not convince or change anybody.

Some criticize the "godlessness of Communism." But they make excuses for promiscuity, homosexuality and indulgence in high places. This increases security risks. It also confirms the cynicism of those who look from outside at self-styled, God-fearing Christian societies that have become corrupted. Men deny the power of God to cure the disease because they are in love with the disease itself.

An answer is at large in the modern world.

It is moving massively throughout the world and changing the outlook of continents.

Japan — "New men, new nations, a new world"

Prime Minister Ikeda of Japan in October opened a new Moral Re-Armament center at Odawara. He told the conference there that his objective as Prime Minister is to double the national income. He said, "The foundation for this should be new men who are right and true. MRA is working to create new men, new nations, and a new world." Japan's senior post-war statesman, Shigeru Yoshida, said, "I want to study MRA so that I can make it my own and become a part of it."

To Odawara came 6,500 people from 42 nations. One of them was Colonel Kim Chong Pil, second man in Korea, a country with a 60-year-old hatred of Japan. Yomiuri Shimbun, Tokyo daily, said, "Japanese-Korean negotiations are at an impasse. This meeting between Ikeda and Kim will be a climax to lead these negotiations to a conclusion." Colonel Kim said at Odawara, "You have demonstrated the possibility of creating one world family by transcending political, national and racial barriers. Coming here has recalled me to God's purpose for my life — to restore the moral standards of my country. I pledge myself that I will always be with you, any time, whatever the circumstances."

Italian workers, almost entirely Communist, absorbed in the Latin American play El Condor, near Naples, November, 1962.

"Space Is So Startling"

Leaders of Japan planned for the new space-age musical, Space Is So Startling, to travel the land. A special train was contributed free by the National Railways for this journey. The play drew crowds to the theaters in Tokyo, Hokkaido province, Osaka and Yokohama. Millions across Japan saw it on television. Mainichi, with its four million circulation, writing under the headline "Setting Theatrical Precedent," described the staging, music and choreography as unique and said, "The play shows the road that humanity should choose."

The leaders of the Zengakuren students, men who thought Khrushchev and Stalin as reactionary as the leaders of the West, came to picket the theater in Hokkaido. They were out to cause a riot. But they were stunned to silence by the passion of the MRA force for a social, economic and global revolution far swifter and more penetrating than their own. They called off the riot and saw the play instead. They filled the theater with their friends. They were still talking with members of the cast two hours after the final curtain. In the dormitories where Marxism and rioting were discussed until 4 a.m. they now discuss Moral Re-Armament. These students organized showings of the MRA films in their university. With the money made they travelled 712 miles by train to Odawara for training in MRA.

The world longs for unity. In Japan Socialists and Government supporters, trade unionists and industrialists, the youth in universities and armed forces are accepting the discipline of unity necessary to enlist both the Communist and non-Communist worlds in the greatest revolution of all time.

India — "Every division can be solved"

From the Odawara Assembly, seven members of the Parliament of the South Indian State of Kerala returned to a country at war and "waking to reality." They were some of the men who wrested the State from Communist control three years ago, at a time when many in New Delhi were out of touch with reality. These seven men, representatives of bitterly opposed democratic factions, now say, "Anti-Communism united us to throw out the Communists, but within two months of victory we were fighting each other again. Anti-Communism is no basis for permanent unity. We needed a superior ideology, and this we found in MRA."

These men of Kerala saw Archbishop Makarios, President of Cyprus, who was on a state visit to India. K. M. Cherian, Chief Editor of the largest Kerala newspaper, told him, "We bring you a message of hope — that through MRA every division and problem can be solved. This has been our experience in Kerala." Archbishop Makarios replied, "I greatly appreciate the action and purpose of Moral Re-Armament which is at work in our country also. You have our blessing. Yours is a right and just struggle."

Italy — "A complete Revolution"

In Italy, the home of the Church and of the largest Communist Party in Western Europe, a Latin American force is carrying MRA from city to city. The force includes students who were militant Marxists planning bloody revolution. Also generals, industrialists and workers' leaders. Thousands are massing to their support in towns and villages where poverty and bitterness have ruled, to hear them and see their play El Condor.

In Naples, where some of the audiences were 80 per cent Communist, a Communist Professor of Philosophy said, "MRA takes half-hearted Christians and bitter Marxists and enlists them both in a complete revolution."

The Naples paper Roma headlines a page on the world development of Moral Re-Armament, "A Banner of Hope — Millions in the World Fight for Moral Re-Armament."

The Secretary-General of the Communist Party in one town said, "What these people say is exactly what I would like to do for the world. Socialism and Communism are not the final thing. The final thing is what I have seen here."

Britain — "Next step for our people"

To Britain on December 19 came the new musical, Space Is So Startling, direct from its Japanese journey. It will be shown for six weeks at the Westminster Theatre. During the last year 160,000 people have paid to see plays which are doing for Britain the job which this musical play has been doing in Japan.

Miss Nora Swinburne takes the leading role in Music at Midnight, which had its 219th performance in Britain and is shortly to be launched as a play — and later filmed — in the United States.

Miss Swinburne says, "People from all over Britain write to me and say how much the play has meant to them and what a difference its spirit is making in the country. It is a play for every country."

The Vice-Chairman of 10,000 miners in a North-Eastern coalfield of England said after seeing this play, "I am absolutely prepared to put the same effort into the fight for the Moral Re-Armament of my country that I put into the Communist Party for twenty-six years. None of the major political parties has what our country needs. The workers are disillusioned with their leadership. What I have seen here convinced me that this is the next step for our people."

The American premiere is January 10th in Los Angeles' Biltmore Theatre, followed by a national tour that includes La Jolla, Palm Springs, Santa Barbara, San Francisco, through the Southwest and across the nation.

MRA gives the worker, the housewife, the statesman, the businessman and the ordinary man everywhere the chance to make modern history. Its aim is a world where all hungry are fed, all homeless housed, and where every color, class, race and background has a proper chance to work together in rebuilding the world.

The world will not stay the same. It will either be destroyed or changed. Many sincere Communists think force is the only means to change the system. Non-Communists, willing to create a revolution swifter and deeper than a revolution of force because it changes men, will offer a greater revolution to enlist the sincere Communists and bring hope to humanity.
