THIRTY-NINTH YEAR

SUDAN, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1963

NUMBER 30

WOODWORK BY DALTON

about a cute little (ugh) piggy. Actually, it was about pigs in general, and whoever wrote it sure wasn't one of their rooters (ugh).

The one I read was printed up by some outfit calling itself the "Osterhus Pub. House of Minneapolis, Minn." That's what it said down at the end of the poem, and it also described the poem as one of the "1,000 different Gospel tracts" printed by said company.

I don't know what brand of religion thinks pigs are any dirtier to eat than any other kind of varmint (like the stinking old cows I enjoy chewing on so much), but whatever it is, this group really has it for porky.

The poem itself is in pretty good meter, and is rather clever. It is even highly amusing for awhile, but before you get through it (pausing occasionally to regurgitate), you're kind of tired of the theme.

Title of the poem is "From His Tail to His Snout", although I never heard of anyone eating either one of those. Here's a sample, just one of the 20 verses:

"We cook him with cabbage or we boil him with greens, With his mangy old hide we season our beans; With his scabs and his boils both within and without, Sweet Piggy we eat from his tail to his snout."

I still like pork chops, but maybe next time it is served I won't make such a hog of myself.

(Typesetter's Note: Maybe this writer won't make a hog of himself, but he'll still be a big bore).

MY AVERAGE picked up last week as a football picker, when I just missed three out of 14 games for a .786 average. This only gives me .680 for the season, though. I missed on Abernathy-Hale Center, Dumas-Borger, and NTSU-Texas Western. One thing — I did pick Friona over Plains 14-7 and Plains was idle for the week, while Friona beat Memphis. However, I'll stick with that score, I think they really intend to play this week. I came real close to the Farwell-Seagraves and Sundown-Anton scores last week, but Ralls played Floydada a much better game than I expected. This week: Amherst 12, Bovina 7; Sudan 20, Sundown 6; Wilson 20, Anton 12; Morton 14, Farwell 13; Springlake 22, New Deal 6; Olton 24, Hale Center 6; Kress 19, Hart 14; Texas 27, Texas Tech 10; Texas A & M 17, Ohio State 7; Clovis 21, Mulvohr 0; Baylor 14, Houston 7; Tulla 23, Wellington 13; Idalou 19, Tahoka 14; Arkansas 15, Missouri 13; Florida State 26, TCU 7.

MY OLD FRIEND, Ralph Krebs of Lubbock, came by the other day with a couple of good jokes and a big fat cigar to give me. I don't know what those Royalist cigar cost, but I'll bet it's

By DALTON WOOD

A stout defense and the running of Fullback Pat Brown combined to lead the Sudan Hornets to a 24-0 whitewash of the visiting Amherst Bulldogs last Friday.

The Bulldogs made a game show of it after the middle of the second quarter, but they never could get any kind of offense mounted as the black-shirted Hornets swarmed over their ball-carriers in droves, and harassed Bulldog QB Ronnie Smith until he was doing well to get any of his passes off.

The game was more of a defensive struggle than it appeared, as Sudan had to punt seven times and Amherst eight.

It was the first loss for Amherst and left each team with a 2-1 record for the season.

Sudan scored first in the opening quarter after Frank Cantu recovered a fumble on the Amherst

31. Eating up most of the yardage was a 19-yard pass from QB Mike Smith to HB Danny Masten, which carried to the 6-yard line. From there, Brown scored the first of his three touchdowns, slanting off the left side of the line. Smith then passed to HB Tommy Thomson for two points and it was 8-0 with 4:07 left in the period.

Late in the first period, Amherst connected on two consecutive passes, Smith to ends Quinton Pierce and Stanley Simmons, but a fumble halted this effort on the Sudan 44. Four plays later, Brown broke down the left sideline, fought off tacklers twice, and finally wound up with 41 yards and six more points for the Hornets. Mike Smith ran for two points and it was 16-0 with 10:02 left in the half.

Later in the half, Sudan drove to a first down on the Amherst 3, but the Bulldogs got stubborn and took over on downs 'way back on the 24, as the final play lost 18 yards when an errant pitchback finally was picked up by Thomson, who promptly was rolled under by Amherst's Chris Eady.

Just before the half ended, Sudan's Larry Morgan scooted 45 yards down close to the Bulldog goal, but a backfield-in-motion penalty rubbed out the play.

Amherst stalled on the Bulldog 44 in the third quarter and appeared in position to kick Sudan into a hole, but the Hornets' Bill Boyles and Frank Cantu roared through to block a punt on the 36.

Later in that quarter, Brown scored the final marker on a 12-yard scramble, and HB Danny Masten ran for two more points. This topped off a 53-yard drive started when Mike Smith intercepted one of Ronnie Smith's passes.

Amherst's Gary Pigg made a fine catch of one of Smith's passes, a 12-yard gain to the Sudan 39 which was the Bulldogs' longest gain of the game, but another interception, this one by Corley Baker, stopped that threat.

The Sudan 24 was the closest Amherst ever got to scoring, and this was set up after Ronnie Smith recovered a fumble from ble at the 33. On a fourth and one effort, Brown came in to down Pigg hard and Sudan took over.

Amherst, unable to run against the determined Sudan defense, took to the air 20 times, completing 7. Smith did all the passing for Amherst, and did a good job of throwing, considering he was rushed hard every time. The seven completions netted Amherst only 47 yards.

Pigg, who was injured and removed from the game in the fourth quarter, deserves lots of credit for keeping Amherst in the game almost single-handed. Despite spotty blocking, he carried the ball 14 times for 50 yards, an average of 3.6 yards per carry, and caught one pass for 12 yards. In addition, he was credited with being in on 12 tackles. The combined efforts of all other Amherst backs resulted in a minus 6 yards rushing.

Stanley Simmons and Terry Hughes also turned in good games on defense for Amherst.

For Sudan, Bill Boyles at guard led the defensive efforts, with Donny Ford and Tommy Thomson also standing out. Offensively, Sudan showed some new power with Danny Masten running at halfback for the first time, and Masten also caught three passes for a total of 68 yards. Mike Smith spent most of the game at quarterback and did a good job, completing 5 of 9 passes for 58 yards, and carrying the ball 5 times for 26 yards.

Brown was the game's leading rusher, gaining 87 yards on 12 carries, an average of 7.3.

With several boys sidelined for the game, Sudan got good service from several relative newcomers to the lineup. Mike Nix and Corley Baker did creditable jobs at offensive end, and freshman Ronnie Brown showed promise in a brief appearance at defensive end.

Coach Hank Brown's boys this week will journey to Sundown, where the always-tough Roughnecks will be waiting. Sundown this year has lost to highly-rated Idalou, tied Hale Center 6-6 and last week defeated Anton 26-6 as Howard Phillips, whom Sudan fans should remember from last year, scored all four touchdowns. Last year Sundown beat Sudan 21-6, the start of a 3-game losing streak for the Hornets. This week, however, the Hornets should see the return to action of several key players, with even an outside possibility that injured players Roy Roberts and Robert Williamson will get into the game.

District 3-A's two previously unbeaten teams, Springlake and Kress, really took it on the chin last Friday, with the Wolverines being walloped 48-0 by strong Class AA Olton, and Kress being trampled 42-0 by Peterburg, one of the state's strongest Class A teams. Farwell lost 26-15 to powerful Seagraves, despite the Steers' Danny Lindop going 100 yards for a touchdown, and Hale Center showed unexpected power in pasing Class AA Abernathy 26-6, while Sudan was beating Amherst 24-0.

Tetanus Deaths Unnecessary, Says AMA Health Official

Despite the outpouring of new "wonder" drugs, man's ancient enemy, tetanus, has not yet succumbed to a cure.

Even so, death from tetanus, or "lockjaw" as it is commonly called, is "almost entirely unnecessary," says Raymond L. White, M.D., Director of Environmental Medicine for the American Medical Association.

"As a disease, tetanus is completely preventable," Dr. White noted. "The only reason it persists is that people fail to get immunized, or fail to maintain their immunity. Out of sheer neglect, three-fourths of the people don't have the protection they need. "If it weren't for medicine's continual concern over the possibility of tetanus—if practically every time a physician saw a wound he didn't take precautions against tetanus—the disease would rank much higher among human killers."

Tetanus is caused by a deadly poison emitted by certain bacteria which contaminate certain types of wounds—especially puncture wounds, or wounds with imbedded dirt.

The bacteria itself cannot survive long enough in the open air to infect wounds. But its seeds or spores can.

Tetanus spores are usually produced by bacteria growing within the air-free intestinal tracts of mammals, including man, and reach the ground in animal manure. Within the intestines, bacteria cause no harm to their host, other than to serve as factories for the production of spores.

Once on the ground the spores, which are unaffected by air, and are borne great distances on the wind, can survive for as long as 11 years. Besides cultivated land, they are commonly found in household dust and the grime of city streets. Some have even been detected in hospital operating rooms—tracked in on street shoes.

The spores in some sections of the country are nearly as common as dirt, and await only the right kind of wound to start their chain of infection.

Because of its peculiar nature, tetanus has never been a mass killer like some infectious diseases. It is, however, a vicious enemy, killing 60 per cent of those it strikes.

Development of immunity against tetanus, says Dr. White, requires a series of inoculations

New John Deere 4020 Offers More Power

Power-minded farmers in the Sudan area have a first-hand opportunity to learn about the new John Deere "4020" tractor on display at Jordan E Douglas Implement Co. in Sudan.

These new tractors are the successors to the John Deere "3010" and "4010" Series. Calvin Jordan, owner, stated that the new models will offer increased horsepower. In addition to a beefed-up Synchro-Range Transmission, a brand-new Power Shift Transmission that permits shifting through all forward and reverse speeds without clutching will be made available.

Row-Crop models with a variety of interchangeable front ends and Standard models for grain, and other general farming operations are available in both series. In addition, the "3020" is available in Row-Crop Utility, Hi-Crop, and Grove models. John Deere-built variable-speed gas and Diesel engines are available. LP-Gas, too.

The new "3020" will develop 64 horsepower as compared to 55 h.p. on the "3010" tractor. The new "4020" will produce 88 horsepower as compared to 80 h.p. on the "4010" Series. In citing these figures, Jordan said that all measurements of power were made at the power takeoff.

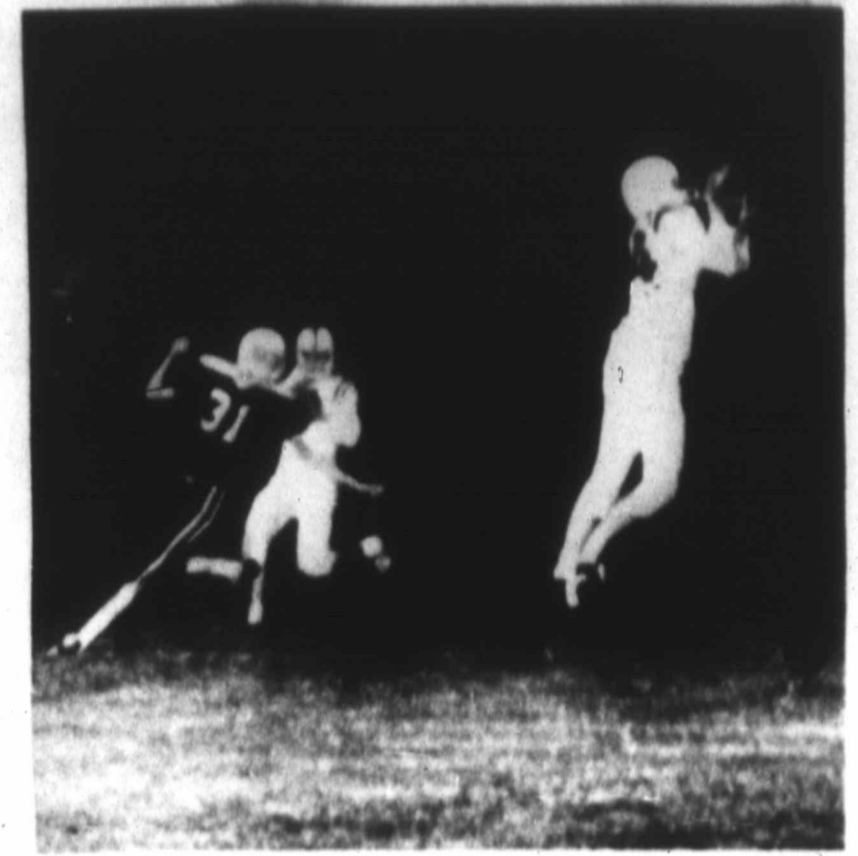

PowerShift, Jordan pointed out, will permit changing gears under full load. Operators will be able to shift freely and instantly to any of the eight forward and four reverse selections without any interruption of power to the drive wheels. All of this can be done with the tractor on the go and without touching the clutch.

Power Steering and Power Brakes are both furnished as regular equipment on the new "3020" and "4020" tractors.

If we hold genuinely to the idea of healing we should and can pray effectively for Divine help for those who are in need of healing.

NEARLY INTERCEPTED — Billy Sherrill of Amherst appears to have the football sacked up near the Bulldogs' goal line, but he was too eager and dropped the ball. The pass was intended for Sudan's Mike Nix (31), who is running in front of Guy Hufstler of Amherst. (Staff Photo)

Today...Jet-smooth Luxury '64 CHEVROLET

'64 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan—one of 15 Jet-smooth luxury Chevrolets.

Chevrolet was luxurious before, but you should see it now. With smart new styling, the '64 Chevrolet looks even longer (but isn't). There's even a whole new series this year—the Impala Super Sports—with front bucket seats as standard equipment. (The new Impalas and Bel Airs are more luxurious, too. Even the lowest priced Biscaynes have new foam-cushioned seats front and rear and are fully carpeted.) Of course, you expect more than just luxury from Chevrolet. A choice of 16 power teams, for instance—a 6 and six V8's up to 425 hp (optional at extra cost). And quieter transmissions. Jet-smooth ride with Full Coil suspension. Flush-and-dry rocker panels, Delcotron generator, self-adjusting brakes and other low-upkeep features. If you've ever wondered how luxurious Chevrolet could get—with all the extra-cost options there are to choose from—that seems to be entirely up to you.

Take your first look at the first CHEVELLE!

CHEVELLE! by Chevrolet

New Chevelle Malibu Super Sport Coupe—one of 11 models in three great series.

You've never seen anything like this totally new line of cars before. Chevelle is new in everything but Chevrolet quality. Chevelle is a good foot shorter than the big cars, so it parks easily. Yet the interior dimensions of its Body by Fisher provide a generous amount of head, leg and shoulder room. (Chevelle's trunk is big and roomy, too.) The ride is surprisingly smooth with a rugged coil spring at all four wheels. And not so surprisingly for Chevrolet, the new Chevelle offers a choice of engines ranging from an economical 120-hp 6 to a 220-hp V8 (optional at extra cost.) Choose the Chevelle you like best from the three series—the Malibu Super Sport, the Malibu and the 300 Series, eleven models in all—at your Chevrolet dealer's. Window on the World

(The struggle of peoples around the world to win stability for their countries and better lives for themselves is one of the great stories of our time. Especially equipped to tell this story are CARE Mission Clubs. On four continents they distribute the CARE food and self-help materials made possible by U.S. contributors; they are in daily contact with the men, women and children engaged in striving for growth. Here is a recent report by the Mission Club in Sierra Leone, West Africa.)

SIERRA LEONE — When the Principal of St. Andrew's Secondary School in Bo, Sierra Leone, announced that CARE was about to begin a feeding program at the school, the assembly room shook with laughter. The American teachers — from Peace Corps and African-American Institute — were shocked: they'd seen the CARE posters in the States showing hungry children enjoying the food from America; and the children in the local primary schools were also participating in school feeding under the auspices of CARE. Now St. Andrew's too was to receive food. The boys' laughter was a disappointment to the staff.

The teachers questioned some of the boys. The laughter, they were told, was the consequence of joyful, ironic disbelief. Who could accept such an incredible thing as meals at schools? When the Principal explained the plans further, disbelief gave way to pure joy and irony was replaced by hope.

Now the hope is a reality; the students daily enjoy the CARE lunch. Made from basic food commodities (corn meal, flour, milk and vegetable oil) donated by the people of the United States, locally available foods such as meat, fish, sugar, pepper, onions, oranges, and bananas are added. And the results have become immediately apparent: the students feel better, are more alert, and have greater sustenance for the sheer work of study.

St. Andrew's is one of forty-five post-primary schools in Sierra Leone. Students are selected on a competitive basis. Hard as it is to gain entry into a Secondary School in Sierra Leone, it is even more difficult to continue studies. There is not only the hardship of acquiring the school fees; room and board must be provided in most schools by the student himself, as there are few dormitories. Most students come from remote, rural — and poor — areas and they must seek housing and food from relatives or guardians. As highly an education is regarded in Sierra Leone, people are not usually able to give much assistance to the aspiring scholar. CARE's assistance in the School Feeding Program has dramatically helped. And with the additional assistance of CARE, St. Andrew's and other schools will go further.

Under the supervision of the Principal and the American teachers, students of St. Andrew's have begun clearing land with CARE tools to build their own dormitory. With a machine delivered by CARE, building blocks are being made. Carpentry and masonry tools have been supplied to the school and, when they are ready, CARE roofing material will also be provided.

ODDLY ENOUGH

LEISURE

Steel pipe plays a big part in the leisure activities of Americans. Take the kids to a playground jungle gym—or set one up for them in the backyard. What's it made of? Built-welded steel pipe!

Off to a winter sport... and steel pipe construction guarantees the safety of ski lifts. A steel pipe T-bar pulls you to the top of a ski run. A special refrigerant circulating through steel pipes keeps an artificial ice skating rink open all year round.

Even if you prefer spectator to participating sports, you'll be rooting for built-welded steel pipe. Full pipe use is for backstops, protective fencing, hand rails.

Scripture: St. John 13:21-35; 14:6-12; Hebrews 12:1-2.

How about the Christian Way? Is the way following Christ that leads to eternal joy, peace, love and life always joyful?

Yes! Oh, yes! But it is a joy that the world knows nothing about, for this joy is given only by the indwelling Holy Spirit; a joy that is there within, even when the way is filled with sorrow, tears, burdens, sweat and blood—the way of the cross that leads home!

But how can there be joy in a time of sorrow or pain? Any Christian knows the answer to that, but Jesus Himself best explains it when He told Judas to go and do what He "doest, quickly". Then after Judas was gone Jesus said, "Now is the Son of Man glorified, and God is glorified in Him".

Jesus said that God, the Father, sent Him to seek and to save that which was lost. To die, to give His life, to redeem us, save us, from sin and death. And Christ was so full of the joy He had with the Father, the joy He had to look forward to, in being again with the Father in heaven, the joy of knowing He was now doing the Father's will, the joy so great that He endured the cross, and despised the shame of that terrible cross for "the joy that was set before Him".

Do you know this joy of doing the Father's will? Have you given even a cup of cold water for Jesus' sake? Have you given yourself to Jesus, that He may dwell within you, and you may put on the "robes" of His righteousness (not your own!) so that the heart and mind, and indeed every human faculty that you have is His to use?

For Christ then will use you, in the way He chooses, to do His works now: which is to tell the Good News of the gospel that Jesus Saves! But His way of using us is not always our way. Sometimes we would choose to do the spectacular, and He would choose to have us do something about which no one else except Jesus would know! Sometimes we would choose to do the small or hidden service, and He will choose us to do the spectacular! Yes, each one of us has a choice to make: Satan and sin, or Christ and His righteousness. Choose Jesus, then let Him choose what He will have you do for Him. Love Him, hear Him, and be obedient to do His will.

Seek to learn of Him in prayer, from the Bible which is the Word that testifies of Jesus, in the fellowship of other Christians. For Jesus said we would have a seal by which all men would know we are His disciples, "if ye have love one to another". The seal Jesus has is that He knows those of us who are His (II Timothy 2: 19).

Joy? Praise God for the joy that is mine on this upward way! And the greatest joy is when one who does not yet know Jesus has said, "I'm a sinner; but Christ died for me, for my sin because He loves me, so I'll take that offering for my sin, I'll take Jesus as my Savior. Lord, forgive my sins that made your death necessary to pay for my redemption from Satan—and how I love you for dying in my place that I might have eternal life." Jesus is yours forevermore when you are His!

There is joy in answered prayer! There is joy in the Super-natural Presence of God making Himself known to even me! There is joy in pain, knowing Christ keeps His word to never leave us nor forsake us. There is exultant joy in knowing Christ has all-power in heaven and in earth, and that He is always near with that power available to any and all who love, trust and obey Him! So, if you are tempted, dwell on the thoughts of Jesus. Call on Jesus, and Satan the tempter will flee from you. There is joy in taking a too-long-for-you step by faith, holding on to Jesus, and knowing that you made it by His power!

There truly is joy, peace, love and eternal life in Jesus! Don't wait; take Him now, saying: "Just as I am, without one plea but that Thy blood was shed for me, and that Thou bid'st me come to Thee, O Lamb of God, I come! I come!"

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Salem visited last week in the home of their daughter and family, the Al Koriaths in Dallas. While gone Salem attended a meeting of the Texas Council of Churches in Austin. They were also in Houston to visit Mrs. Salem's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Harkey.

MOVING south to dodge winter weather won't eliminate colds, warns Dr. A. L. Baruch of New York. Infection from exposure to crowds occurs South as well as North. Never treatments, he says, are a better answer.

Calling All Children To Tahiti!

The most enthusiastic group of French Polynesians comes this year from the crisp of U. S. kids lucky enough to have vacationed in those magic isles.

Parents claim Tahiti is a family paradise, particularly as the night takes only eight hours from Los Angeles to Honolulu, and is represented throughout North America by Air France.

French Polynesians are the most enthusiastic of all islanders in the Hawaiian group. They are as colorful as their tropical vegetation. Their mode of transportation are the Moai, Tahiti, Bora Bora, Huahine, Moorea. Hotels provide all amenities, and the islanders are very friendly.

In this child's wonderland of Tahiti, the most interesting sight is the children themselves. They are as colorful as their tropical vegetation. Their mode of transportation are the Moai, Tahiti, Bora Bora, Huahine, Moorea. Hotels provide all amenities, and the islanders are very friendly.

A new type of decorative wall plaque eight times lighter than plaster has been developed by Kalon Products Company, Santa Ana, California.

This news should prove particularly timely as September signals the start of a period of redecoration for high school and college age students.

According to company officials, the newest type plaques boast excellent surface detail and resistance to chipping—just the items, it would appear, to live up to a dormitory room.

The plaques are produced by a process that will reproduce almost any type of metal, ceramic or wood surface from molded rigid urethane foam. "The process," says Paul E. Killian, Kalon's general manager, "captures the finest and most delicate lines of the artist. A wood finish plaque looks exactly like wood. A metal finish plaque looks as though it were sculptured from expensive metal."

The plaques can be hung by pressing them against a small finishing nail driven in the wall. Wood glue can be used, of course, to fasten the plaques more permanently in place.

Kalon products offers 22 standard plaque designs in sizes from 10 x 10 inches to 17 x 40 inches for decorative use in homes as well as hotels, motels, restaurants and offices.

In addition to the line of 22 standard plaques, others will be especially designed upon request for use as club insignias, family crests, team emblems, church and school symbols, company trademarks and graphic arts.

The '64s from Ford are here:
The Year of the Test Drive starts today!

Ford cars have changed. Only a test drive can tell you how much. Races and rallies, economy runs, braking and acceleration tests have bred into our 1964 models the kind of total performance you just can't create on the test track alone. They are hard-muscled, fast-moving, sure-footed. Open competition helped make them that way. They offer you substantially more car than anything at their price. You don't have to take our word for it. We're willing to rest our case on our cars.

1964 SUPER TORQUE FORD
Strongest, smoothest, steadiest car in its field—by hundreds of pounds... More steel in frame and suspensions... Unique suspension lets wheels move backward as well as up and down to flatten bumps... Distinctive new rooflines.

1964 FAIRLANE
Unique combination of family-size room, sports car feel and modest price... Optional 289-cubic-inch V-8 so lively it was adapted for famous Cobra sports car... Five engine choices, six transmission choices, eight different models.

1964 FALCON
All new except the economy that made Falcon famous... Falcon's six still holds all-time Mobil Economy Run record for Sixes or Eights... Finest ride ever built into a compact car... 11 models—plus 3 extra-duty wagons.

SCIENCE SKETCHES

WHEN a man gets to the moon, what's he going to eat? His spaceship, what else? Dr. Sidney Schwartz, a physiologist, has invented an edible construction material made of milk powder, starch, hominy grits, banana flakes and other delicacies.

SHORT AND SWEET

The signers of the Declaration of Independence numbered 56 men. They were of varied backgrounds, ages, education, property and experience.

Some were already famous — Adams, Franklin; some were unheard of, recruited at the last minute as replacements for men who refused to support independence. Eight of the signers were born in the British Isles.

Sixteen were in their thirties; 20 in their forties; 11 in their fifties, six in their sixties; and only one, Franklin, over 70. All but two were married; each had an average of six children.

Twenty-five were lawyers; 12 were merchants; four were doctors; one a preacher, and a famous one, a printer. Half were college graduates; some were self-educated.

Five of the signers were imprisoned during the war, and one, Richard Stockton of New Jersey, died as a result of the poor treatment he received after being captured. Eventually five others lost their lives as a result of the war their Declaration set in motion. Seventeen suffered serious or total property losses.

Not one of the 56 men quailed or defected throughout the long ordeal of an often-floundering war in a cause that sometimes seemed hopeless. Few benefited from their bravery but not one repented his original declaration of independence.

WMU MEETS

The W.M.U. of First Baptist Church met Monday afternoon when the year's calendar of activities was planned. Mrs. L. F. Meeks gave the devotional and the call to prayer. Presiding for the meeting was Mrs. R. E. DeLoach. Mrs. J. P. Arnold Sr. gave the closing prayer.

Flowers from every season will be blooming in a dazzling array of colors this Fall as the newest melamine dinnerware patterns appear on the market.

As seen at a recent preview showing in Chicago for the National Housewares Manufacturers Association, melamine dinnerware designs will feature an unusually varied assortment of bright, bold colors and gray floral motifs in the next few months.

As a matter of fact, homemakers will have a choice of 45 new patterns in melamine when shipments reach retail stores in September. Prices for a service of eight will range from $20 to about $50 for delu-xer sets.

All the favorite posies - asters, daisies, nasturtiums, roses, and many, many others - will be featured in one or more of the 29 different floral patterns due to debut.

Geometric patterns, including plaid and abstract decorations, will also be very much in evidence.

One new design treatment due to catch the spotlight next month will be "border to border" decorations in contemporary Mediterranean style introduced by Texas Ware in two patterns of its new "Epicure" group.

In one of the patterns, the over-all design treatment appears in abstract swirls and squares of harmonizing colors - a distinctive combination of deep sea blue, dragon green and charcoal. In the second, the design features mellow shadings of green, Spanish moss gray and beige.

The two patterns singled out here are used on a flowing coupe shape in deluxe wright melamine which, like all of this modern trouble-free dinner-ware, is chip and break-resistant and perfectly safe in dish-washers or boiling water.

For the Fall, then, it appears everything's coming up roses, or petunias, or violets, or something.
