Little League Easter Cantata To Be Presented Plans Made

LIKE most other people, I suppose, I'm getting sick and tired of reading about integration troubles in Alabama and elsewhere, but especially in Alabama. Of course, it's not a situation we can ignore, and have it go away, but still I do wish things could be settled more peaceably.

There's a lot of wrong on both sides of the racial situation. Brother Martin Luther King, who impresses me about like Cassius Clay does, wants the moon with a ribbon around it. And he may get it. But—and I always have felt that the Negro deserved equal treatment—he is not demanding just equal treatment. Apparently he wants preferential treatment for himself and his followers.

Besides, he just isn't an admirable type. He looks and sounds something less than intelligent, as contrasted to some other Negro leaders, like Floyd Patterson and Roy Wilkins, both of whom are as far above the likes of Clay and King that it's easy to see there are lots of differences within a race, as well as between races.

King is holder of the Nobel Peace Prize, which should spoil its prestige as a desirable award forever. The only peace he wants is a piece out of the hide of Alabama.

But, of course, there's much wrong on the other side. I have heard some die-hard segregationists even go so far as to say those who have been killed in Alabama got just what they were asking for when they went off down there where they had no business being. Well, I personally agree that they had no business being down there, but I certainly can't agree that they should have been killed for it.

THE PREDICTION is that there will be 40 million color TV sets in the United States within the next two or three years. This means at least 80 million kids will be turning the faces of the actors on the screen a bright green or red, at the occasion demands. Actually, it means that about 150 million people will be watching color TV, and that in turn probably will cause the networks to present most of their shows in color.

I don't know when or if local studios can present color programs.

Already there are some really good color programs, like Hazel, the Virginian, Sammy (or whatever they call it), and Flipper. But some of the worst ones are in color now, leading me to believe that the case of some, anyway, the sponsors must figure that putting them in color is the only way to get people to watch them.

Jack Paar and Johnny Carson are just as terrible in color as in black and white. And that Jack's doctor thing always makes the viewer angry because they never quite seem to get it finished. With the screwy endings they have, I figure someday they will check the scripts and find out that all the time it has been written for an hour and a half show, and they just cut it off after an hour.

A meeting for the organization of the inter-city Little League was held Wed., Mar. 31, at Sudan. It was agreed that the leagues again would be operated with three teams from Sudan and two from Amherst. Present for the meeting were Arvil Blair, Winston Cummings and Joe Miller of Amherst, and Dalton Wood, Phillip Gordon and Bobby Newman, all of Sudan. Wood, outgoing president, presided. Don Hevern of Amherst, last year's vice president, was elected as president for the coming season. Al Carlock of Sudan was elected vice president. O'Donohue was elected player agent for Sudan.

Registration data will be announced next week for boys age 9 to 12 who want to play Little League baseball and who did not play on one of the three teams here last year.

Methodist Revival To Start Sunday

Revival services will begin Sunday morning at First Methodist Church, Sudan, with Rev. Bob Pitzer, of San Antonio, as evangelist. Worship services Sunday morning will begin at 11 o'clock, and the Easter cantata will be presented Sunday evening at 7:30. Sunday School is at 9:45 a.m.

Rev. Pitzer is the Field Representative of the Methodist Mission Home of Texas in San Antonio. He came to the Home as Field Representative to be a liaison between the local church and the Methodist Mission Home of Texas. He has a keen working knowledge of the problems of the local church, as he has served the church as a Methodist minister. Rev. Pitzer was pastor of the St. Matthew's Methodist Church in San Antonio at the time of his election by the Board of Trustees of the Home and subsequent appointment to the Home by Bishop Paul V. Gallo-way. He had served this church from the time it was organized and constituted.

Working closely with the Home as a pastor, Rev. Pitzer came to Texas and the Southwest Texas Conference from the Louisville Conference in Kentucky in 1955 and has served churches in Victoria and Charlotte, as well as in San Antonio. He received his B. A. degree from Southern Methodist University with majors in History, Religion and Social Science, and his Bachelor of Divinity degree from the Perkins School of Theology at SMU, where he was graduated with honors.

As Field Representative, Rev. Pitzer's job is to be a liaison person between the Home and the local church to develop interest, concern, and greater support, and to detect and help to overcome misunderstandings which may arise from time to time.

Rev. Jack Riley, pastor of the church, said that services during the week would be at 7 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Riley will lead the singing. The public is cordially invited.

AS A MAN THINKS—

Can the world's religions, which we often think are so different, be so similar?

It would be nice if we could see the world through the eyes of a man who is not a man.

Can you think of any little world where it is that they cannot see you?

Look the Lord while he may be found, call upon Him while he is near.

Do you hear and feel the urgency of this word of God?

Guilt — do you feel guilty? God is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness — if we confess our sins. Then you will no longer be our real guilty.

Will you say that, who has been forgiven? — if you have confessed your sins and repented to God, or the cross of the suffering, accomplishing nothing? You did die in vain for you, unless you repent of your sins and turn to accept Him as your sin offering, your Savior from death and hell, into joy and eternal life.

Will you hear, repeat of your sins, and take Jesus as your own personal Savior today? Jesus said He would turn no one away, that "whoever will may come, and take the water of life freely." Will you come and take Jesus now?

"Today if ye will hear His voice, harden not your hearts." Will you harden your heart? Or will you hear, repeat of your

COOKS AND DINING BUILDINGS—Detailed plans for the buildings being planned for the Girl Scout Camp at Crobyton. The building will have sleeping quarters for 1000 persons including the staff and will serve also as reception and transportation area for large groups. Size of the building is approximately 4,000 sq. ft.

Girl Scouts Begin 18-County Campaign

Roy E. Parr, Chairman of the Caprock Girl Scout Council's "Camp Rio Blanco Capital Funds Campaign" announced recently that the committee is ready to make this 18 county campaign a success.

The Capital Funds Campaign is a program that encompasses 18 counties of more than 6,675 sq. miles and 400,000 people. The program of the campaign is to raise funds for four permanent buildings to be built at Camp Rio Blanco, outside Crobyton, for use of the new scouts.

The camp facilities are presently inadequate to make camping an integral part of the Scout program for all the girls in this area. In fact, each year the waiting list becomes longer, and many girls cannot be accommodated at all. And with the rapid growth of our population and the increasing interest in Girl Scouting it has become not only obvious but urgent that an expansion program be put underway immediately.

The campaign is scheduled to open May 5th and be concluded May 30. Mr. Parr stated that every person interested not only in Scouting but community growth at its most important level, our young people, are urged to participate in this program.

The 18 county area consists of: Pecos, Castro, Swisher, Breckenridge, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Hockley, Cochran, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn and Garza counties.

SEE PLACE Over Time will commence in 1966 under at 10 a.m. Friday, April 15, according to the position of the corporation.

There's ever waiting to be reached or

A right or wrong that fills each day,
That never fails

A task that waits to

To always stand for

A Dessert To Please Men

Ask twenty men to name their favorite dessert and chances are a baker's dozen will say apple pie. Apples and men have had an affinity ever since that day in the Garden of Eden. If you'd really like to tempt the men in your family, try this apple pie—an upside-down version that's finished at serving time. It's delicious and definitely an "I'll have another piece" dessert. The upside-down effect stays moist looking and won't become dry if you eat them with FRUIT-FRESH, an ascorbic acid mixture that does for fruit what salad dressing does for salads. The finishing touch that keeps fruit at its sparkling, most flavorful best. FRUIT-FRESH enables you to prepare fruit dishes hours ahead. Add it to frozen and canned breakfast juices, too, to give a fresher, more natural flavor and more importantly, additional vitamin C.

UPSIDE DOWN APPLE PIE

- 1/4 cup light corn syrup
- 1/4 cup sugar, divided
- 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon FRUIT-FRESH
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 6 cups sliced apples (4 or 5)
- 1 8-inch round unbaked pastry
- Whipped cream

Combine corn syrup, 1/4 cup of the sugar and butter in the bottom of an 8-inch round layer cake pan. Mix together the remaining 1/4 cup sugar, FRUIT-FRESH, flour, lemon rind, nutmeg and salt. Peel, core and slice apples into sugar and flour mixture. Toss well to coat each slice. Turn apples into pan on top of syrup mixture. Fit unbaked pastry round over top. Flute edge and prick. Bake in a moderate oven (375 F.) 45 minutes. Remove from oven and cool at least 30 minutes. Invert on serving plate. Garnish with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

WEEVIL PROGRAM REPORTED HIGH SUCCESS—High praise for spraying results was the order of the day March 17 and 18 in Lubbock when officials of the High Plains Weevil Control Program held their 15th annual meeting.

Dr. J. C. Gaines, head of Texas A & M's Entomology Department, told the group that weevil research efforts will continue through the Spring, Summer and Fall, and should furnish answers to some of the questions about the High Plains weevil's biological processes. These answers, he said, could prove highly beneficial to the High Plains control program.

Ed Don, Field Service Representative for Sudan Cotton Growers, gave the program financial report and stated that over 97 percent of the 28 grower-belt cottons were retained, with less than 3 percent of profits requesting returns.

Rise in Cancer Cure Rates Reflects Research Advance

Thirty years ago there was no organized national research attack on cancer.

Today cancer research is one of the largest and most fruitful fields of scientific investigation in this country. The cancer problem is no longer an enigma — the lines of attack are laid out; systematic progress is being made.

This is reflected in the rise in the cancer cure rate in the United States from one in five cases 30 years ago to one in three cases today. There are now 1,200,000 Americans, alive today, who have been cured of cancer.

Although the American Cancer Society has increased its spending to more than $12,000,000 annually on cancer research, it could efficiently spend twice as much money in this field.

In fiscal 1957-58, for example, the Society had to turn away nearly $2,000,000 of highly recommended research because of lack of funds.

One of the most promising areas of investigation in virology — the search for viruses that may cause human cancer. If such viruses are discovered, a vaccine may be created to prevent cancer, as in polio. But research in virology is complex and expensive. More funds are needed to pursue all lines.

Research Needs

The Society lists four other areas of research which could absorb needed funds:

1. Breast cancer — to find the cause and more effective diagnosis and treatment.
2. Epidemiology — to determine why certain individuals get cancer and others do not; and what living habits and environment have to do with this.
3. Immunology — to learn if the body has a defense mechanism against cancer and, if it has, to stimulate this mechanism when necessary.
4. Behavior — to find out why people, particularly youngsters, begin to smoke, and why they can't stop.

The annual Sudan Band Banquet is scheduled for this Saturday night, according to Mike Metz, band director.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

By CINDY TAYLOR

Future Homemakers of America are celebrating National FHA Week April 4-10. Some 254,000 members of 10,000 chapters in the United States, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands are working "Toward New Horizons".

Future Homemakers work toward the goals of helping to improve personal, family and community living. A national program of work guides the activities of individual FHA members and chapters. Project for this year are: (1) You and Your Values; (2) Focus on Family Friendship; (3) Marriage Calls for Preparation; (4) Stay in School; and (5) Action for Citizenship. The Sudan chapter has enjoyed fine programs based on these projects. All projects further FHA's over-all goal.

Future Homemakers are responsible members of their families today, preparing to be creative leaders in the homes they will have in the future. We stand by our creed in saying:

"We are the Future Homemakers of America. We face the future with warm courage and high hope. For we have the clear consciousness of seeking Old and Precious values. For we are the builders of homes, Homes for America's future, homes where living will be the expression of everything that is good and fair. Homes where truth and love and security and faith will be realities, not dreams. We are the Future Homemakers of America. We face the future with warm courage and high hope."

Future Homemakers Week To Be Observed April 4-10

Over one-half million Future Homemakers of America in more than 10,000 chapters are celebrating National FHA Week April 4-10, sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education and the American Home Economics Association, and guided by legislative leaders. As part of a long national campaign of better living through education and family life work, FHA members are working through their chapters, now for all our citizens, now for all our children.

The 254,000 members of 10,000 chapters in the Texas Association of FHA are celebrating their 50th year of national affiliation.

"In 1908 Texas was the first state to receive its charter and adopt their motto, 'Toward New Horizons,'" reported Jacqueline Pe-ack, State Advisor. FHA Week will start today and include such projects as family life work, home improvement, and family life work. It will also include such projects as family life work, home improvement, and family life work.

Members will celebrate FHA Week by attending church together, sponsoring club events and family life work projects.

FHA is sponsored nationally by the U. S. Office of Education and the American Home Economics Association, and guided by legislative leaders.

The national program of work includes: (1) You and Your Values; (2) Focus on Family Friendship; (3) Marriage Calls for Preparation; (4) Stay in School; (5) Action for Citizenship.

These national Texas girls were awarded their State Degrees at the State Meeting last May.

Officers, delegates and guests of the Texas Association will convene in Dallas April 21-24, and will celebrate their 50th anniversary of FHA Week.
