THE NEW CARS are being shown this week, with Thursday and Friday the opening dates for most models. They are designed to make you feel like the old car you're driving is a hunk of junk and these new ones will make you the king of the road. For the most part, they probably will succeed. There are so many different styles (but all similar) and options, that a fellow with the money should be able to order his new Ford or Chevy just about how he wants it. He can order it for economy, for luxury, or somewhere in between.

One thing which amused me was reading in the list of new features of one of the new models, "...and a new, larger, 25-gallon gas tank."

This prompted a friend of mine to remark about his own car, which already has a 25-gallon tank: "I'm carrying so much gasoline now that I've been thinking about putting a sign on my car-calling 'Flanger-Flammable Cargo'."

Anyway, the new cars are nice. Wish I had one.

WHEN THE doorman of an expensive club tripped over the doorway and went rolling down the steps, the manager angrily cried out: "Careful, you fool! They'll think you're a member."

SOMEONE SAID the current emphasis on education in our state universities is typified by a new statement that no athlete will be awarded a letter unless he can tell at a glance which letter it is.

The Sudan Hornets added another victory to their perfect football record for this season, by defeating the Anton Bulldogs 33-0 in Masten Stadium Friday night.

Hornet FB Mike Bellar opened the game with a kick into the end zone. This set up the Anton offense on the 20 yard line, but on the second play Sudan recovered an Anton fumble. QB Ronnie Hill handed off to Bellar on the first play for a 47 yard gain and on the next play Bellar went over from the 8 yard line for the TD. Although his kick for the point after was off to the left, the score was Sudan 6, Anton 0, with almost 11 minutes remaining in the first quarter.

In the second quarter Bellar ran a punt return back 48 yards before he was brought down. Larry Morgan ran the ball for good yardage with Bellar scoring the TD from 2 yards out. Bellar also kicked the point after making the score 13-0 in the middle of the second period.

Several plays later Steve Martin intercepted an Anton pass mid-field and Sudan moved the ball into scoring position once again with Gary Gatewood making an outstanding side-line sprint only to have the ball knocked from his arms step-by-step of the TD. However, Hornet guard Mike Hanna, playing head-up ball, covered the ball in the end zone for the TD. Halftime score was Sudan 19, Anton 0.

Carrying out the never ending surprises of the game, Anton tried an off-side kick but Sudan covered the ball near the 30 yard line. Sudan lost the ball on down but Gary Gatewood intercepted a pass and put Sudan in scoring position once more. However, the Anton defense dug in and held the Hornets. The Hornet offense performed an excellent job and held the Bulldogs when Anton's punt failed the Hornets took over on the 3 yard line.

Larry Morgan scored the TD and Bellar kicked the extra point. Anton defense came back in the fourth period and although Jerry Bellar picked off an Anton pass, Anton was in good scoring position when Mike Bellar took an Anton pass and ran it 75 yards for the final TD with Bellar making the point after ending the ballgame 33-0 in favor of Sudan.

KING'S RED RAIDERS TO MEET A & M

Texas Tech seeks an unprecedented fourth consecutive victory at the expense of Texas A & M when the Raiders invade College Station Saturday night.

Coach J. T. King, himself a former Aggie Assistant coach, has directed the Red Raiders to three straight wins—10-0, 16-12, and 20-16—over AGM. King's first two Raider squads, 1961 and 1962, bowed to AGM 35-7 and 7-1, and his edge in the series is now 3-2.

For the entire rivalry, dating back to AGM's 47-6 win in 1927, the Raiders trail 8-15-1.

An explosive finish gave the Raiders their 20-16 win last year. Texas AGM will be playing its first home game after bowing on the road to Georgia Tech 38-3, and Tulane 21-13. Texas Tech is 1-1, winning from Kansas 23-7, then dropping a 71-21 demolition to Texas as 48,155 persons looked on.

A former Aggie gridders son, John Scovell, will quarterback the Raiders Saturday night. Feild Scovell last week saw his son also count for 275 yards of total offense, 175 more than Texas' Bill Bradley.

Some metals get harder when they are struck, others fracture and fly apart. Engineers at Pennsylvania State University report they have found a way of accurately measuring and predicting how and why metals behave differently.

The basis of the discovery is a new technique for use on the powerful electron microscope—a technique of looking at micro-thin slivers of metals to predict the energy which holds metal atoms together.

The all new CAMARO will be built in sport coupe and convertible models (super sport shown above). The Camaro line incorporates many sprightly options that include concealed headlights behind a lattice grille which opens and closes when lights are turned on and off, plus a hood with simulated louvers and a wide "bumble bee" paint band on the nose. A 350-cu. inch V8 engine is used in the Super Sport version of the CAMARO. They go on display September 29.

The doors of their homes or in the center of party tables. In former times adults were the carriers of these faces and their use was more utilitarian.

Look in the days when ghosts and goblins walked at night and there were no lighted roads people were afraid to go abroad after dark. It was obvious that a human being was no match for a ghoul or goblin.

Then someone had the idea of carrying a lighted face so light could be used to create of darkness would approach the person who carried it. Thus was the jack o' lantern born.

The more fierce the face, obviously the better it was to ward off the evil spirits. And the light inside, sometimes a bright coal, never after a candle, but only helped frighten the ghosts but as so providentially lighted the way.

It is not known at what period in history jack o' lanterns changed heads from being made by adults to being made by children. Probably it was after ghosts and goblins were recognized for what they are and highway spotted lights or at least, police generators. But the jack o' lanterns still are used for amusing children.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

As population increases the greater grows our pollution problem. This is true of our outdoor areas, as well as our municipalities.

There was a time when we gave little thought to pollution around a lake. We built septic tanks with not too much caution. But then our nearest neighbor lived miles away.

Today that condition has changed. Around most of our lakes today we have large communities. Sewage disposal is one of the biggest problems. Many communities are located in rocky country, where the run-off is not too good. The refuse finds its way into the lake.

Texas has so long, consistently flowing rivers or streams. There are times of the year when some of them are powder dry at many points. When these streams are down we have an opportunity to observe the type of pollution that takes place.

During a recent dry spell we had occasion to observe the condition of several stream beds. Old automobiles, refrigerators, worn out tires and many other kinds of debris were in the river beds and along the banks. These were dumped there by thoughtless citizens who wanted to rid their premises of the cluttering mess.

Most municipalities can put a stop to this type of pollution with existing ordinances. Unfortunately the higher courts are badly crippled by our state laws governing pollution and many of these laws are practically useless.

Apparently that won't be the case much longer. Now there is federal legislation which will permit the government to step in where local authorities fail to act.

The fight against pollution is basic. It affects all of us, not just those who hunt or fish, but every living person is within its sphere of influence.

When our streams pour contaminated water into the Gulf of Mexico it is harmful to our marine resources and costs us millions annually in loss of marine life. When our cities pour overflow of their sewer system into the streams, they are harming every person who is affected by that stream.

For the most part heavy industry is attempting to solve its pollution problems. Our paper mills, big refineries and others are taking precautionary action wherever possible to prevent polluted substance from getting into our lakes and streams.

Some of our smaller industries, however, are not so interested in the health and welfare of the people. A glaring example of that is within sight of the capitol dome in Austin. Here sand dredging companies run their wash water back into the Colorado.

Much of the time, the Colorado river water is the color of sand from Austin almost to the Gulf. Many downstream cities must use this water . . . and fish need oxygen to survive.

Our State Health Department and our Parks and Wildlife Commission work together to stop pollution in many places. Game wardens take numerous samples of water from many streams and the health department makes the analysis.

But the courts continue to be the stumbling block in many cases because the laws do not have enough teeth. And the legislature continues to bypass proposed bills that could rectify this problem.

This is a project local sportsmen's clubs and Chambers of Commerce might well promote. With enough local clean-up projects, the program could spread statewide and we could eliminate a great deal of the pollution that is harmful to every living thing.

Devotional

By HAZEL HOUSE

THINK!!

Scriptures: St. John 6: 37-40, 47-58.
 Jesus Christ, born into the world lived a strange life to many some 33 years here on earth. He was crucified, dead and buried, arose from the dead and ascended back into heaven, there, He said, to make intercession for us until He returns to earth again to take us to be with Him forevermore.

Why, after some 1966 years, do we continue to talk about Jesus? Why don't we forget, or almost forget about Him, as we forget about many other men?

Think about Jesus Christ, think, as though your very life depended on your decision as to who He is and what you will do with Jesus.

For indeed, you cannot now ignore Jesus Christ. Your very life does depend on your decision now. Because that very act of trying to ignore Him is a decision which will lead to your death. By choosing Jesus as your Redeemer and Savior, which He wants to be, you begin your eternal life now. Just take Jesus, follow Him, seek Him with all yourself. Give yourself to Him and He will change you from a sinner to a sinner saved by grace!

How to accept Jesus right where you are? Jesus said "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me hath everlasting life."

Believe Jesus! Read the stated Scripture—Believe, and confess Jesus as your own Lord and Savior, and you are then a born-again child of God, with everlasting life.

I can witness in telling you that when I was sorry for my sin, turning away from them in repentance, feebly reaching out for Jesus, He was there. He made Himself known to me and saved my soul, as He said!

And what He has done for me He can and will do for you. Stop just trying "to do better". Give yourself to Jesus, trust Him, serve Him, love Him for what He has done for you and me, and He will make you God's child.

I can tell you, too, that you will then learn to love Him more, not only for what He has done, but what He is doing and shall do in and through each one who will believe on His name.

Don't miss Jesus! He is the One, the only hope of man. Today is the Day. God help you now to hear Him.

Hunting Schedule Listed for Season

AUSTIN -- The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission set October 25 as the goose season opener and November 19 as the duck season opener at a meeting here. Shooting may begin at one half hour before sunrise.

The goose and duck season will both close January 7.

The goose season will be 75 days, same as last year, and the duck season 50 days, and increase of ten days over 1965.

The goose limit will be five per day, and five in possession. Hunters may take two Canada, or one Canada and one speckled belly.

The duck bag of four a day or eight in possession after the first day was relaxed to allow two mallards per day, or four in possession.

The 1965 restrictions on pintails was eliminated to permit a limit of this species alone.

Sandhill or little brown cranes may be legally taken in a specified portion of West Texas from October 29 through November 27. The open portion of the State is west of U.S. Highway 277 beginning at the International Toll Bridge in Del Rio, north to San Angelo then along Highway 87 to U.S. 287 at Dumas, then along 287 to the Oklahoma border.

Bag and possession limits are unchanged for last year. The daily total is four ducks with not more than 2 wood ducks, two canvasbacks, or 2 mallards. The possession limit is just twice the daily bag. Up to 5 merganser ducks may be taken per day but no more than 1 hooded merganser. Two coots per day rounds out the fall bag.

The goose and brant limit is 5 per day or in possession and may not include more than 1 Ross's goose, or 2 Canada geese or subspecies, or 1 Canada and 1 White-front, or 1 White-fronted goose. Sandhill cranes may be taken at the rate of 2 per day but the possession limit is 4.

BY ROSEMARY

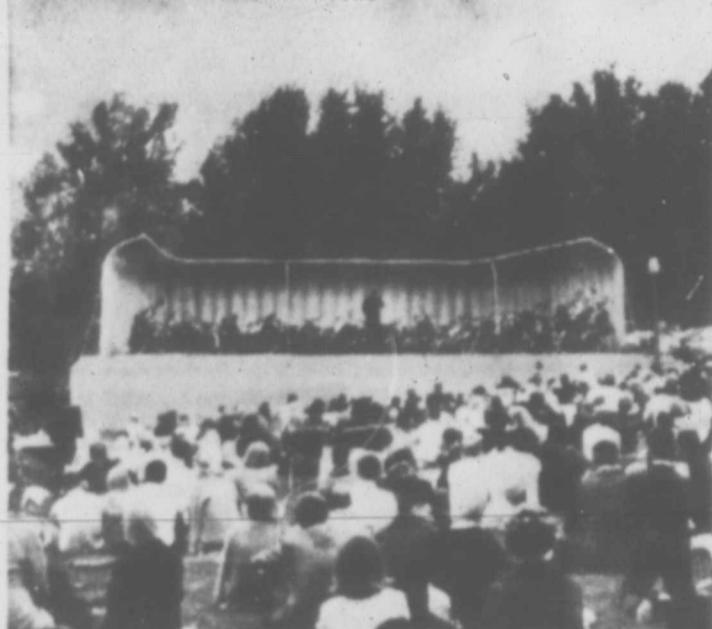

The woman of today is very much like her sister who lived in the 15th century before Columbus discovered America. At that time what physicians concluded who failed to see a recent Chicago exhibit of pre-Columbian sculpture. The day before, some of these 1,000 years old, tell the story of a woman who lived in Central and South America centuries before the Aztecs, Incas or Mayans. According to Dr. Albert I. Weissman, owner of the fabulous collection, who has studied thousands of clay figures, women in many ways haven't changed much in 400 years. He said that the little pre-Columbian girl as you see today, played with toys of all kinds and with dolls. And as she grew older, she loved to wear jewelry and pretty clothes. Young women, then, as now, wanted to be attractive to the opposite sex. Many sculptures show women with beautiful elaborate hairdos, earrings and adorned with jewels.

BIGGEST STATE FAIR TO OFFER BIGGEST SOUND: FREE "POPS" CONCERTS BY 92-PIECE SYMPHONY

Unique in all fairdom will be five free "pops" concerts featured at the 1966 State Fair of Texas October 8 through 23 in Dallas. The full 92-piece world-famous Dallas Symphony Orchestra will perform in a portable acoustical shell on the Explorade Stage. Donald Johanos and Charles Blackman will conduct young music—show tunes, familiar whistle-able songs, very light classics—starting at 5:30 p.m. October 8, 9, 10, 12 and 14.

The modern woman who wants to be extra lovely will try protein. There is nothing better for skin, hair and nails, and this is well demonstrated by looking at the latest reports of the multi-billion dollar cosmetics industry which has flooded the market with all kinds of animal and milk-protein preparations. Proteins are valuable because they form films that hold the hair in place and prevent the drying of skin. Some proteins are absorbed in to the hair shaft, helping to waterproof hair damaged by bleaching and permanent waving.

***
The needs, tastes, habits, expectations and values of consumers are undergoing "whirlwind changes" George H. Allen, vice-president of the magazine division of Fawcett Publications, told a recent national meeting of home economists. "We must," he said, "keep closely in touch with and ahead of the rapidly changing society in which we all live and work" and "learn from these accelerating social changes that we see as very important to our own education and personal evaluation of the future."

Among the most evident changes, he said, are more people reaching for help in the complicated area of management of one's own income.

drastic changes in food consumption which has moved overwhelmingly toward prepared and special convenience foods, and improvement in taste in design, color, form, and decorating, witnessed by more individuality in new home design and in home decorating. "As people get more economically independent," he said, "they get more independent in their tastes."

***
There are four prime changes in our social structure which have contributed to these changes, he said. First, is the tremendous increase in money left over after basic living costs are covered—the realization that money is not going to disappear overnight since there is no immediate threat of a recession or depression. Second, with 27 million working women today, there is the difference that two paychecks makes in family income and how that income is spent. Third, is the advent of our credit economy, where everyone uses credit as a convenience as much as in anticipation of earnings. The fourth is the increase in the average life expectancy of the individual, with tens of millions of people beginning to realize that they may live 5, 10 or 15 or more years after retirement, all of which requires more careful planning and prudent living on their part.

Thrifty Sal Soda Makes Fall Cleaning Easy

There'll be no cause to grouse, when fall-cleaning the house. If you heed the advice of a pro. And just add a load-a good old sal soda. To a bucket of water, for instance. It's so versatile, it cleans plastic and tile, The woodwork, linoleum, glass. And to scour, just apply the sal, as it, dry. For a shine that really has class. Since it saves work and time, cutting through all the grime. With a speed and ease that's enchanting. And its cost is so small, housecleaning this fall. Won't leave you flat broke and panting.

I certify that the statements made by me above are correct and complete.
