IT'S BECAUSE we've been told so many lies that nobody trusts anybody any more. The day of the contract sealed by a handshake instead of nine duplicates witnessed and notarized has just about vanished.

This very well could be called the Age of Mistrust, because we simply don't believe much of what we hear or see any more, and only a sadly small number of people that most of us know can be counted on to keep their word no matter what happens.

However, if we're looking for excuses for our lack of human faith, there are plenty of them around. Advertising, particularly on television, contains many half-truths and quite a few outright lies. I recall a conversation with one of my children one time which illustrates this: "Daddy," he said, "is that really the best soap made, like they just said on TV?"

"Not necessarily," I answered. "Then they're telling a lie, aren't they? They shouldn't tell lies."

So we all have come to expect some advertisers to lie about their products, just as we have come to doubt that anyone will do what they say until they actually have done it. We have learned, often the hard way, that most people quite often say one thing and mean something else.

In the midst of all this, however, we still find people who mean exactly what they say, who are exactly as they seem, without pretense, and who would rather die than break a solemn promise. Such people are more to be cultivated and honored these days because they are getting more and more in the minority.

We can be thankful, therefore, that there are still a lot of honest, truthful folks around.

Not many of them are in politics, though. If I ever run for office, I think I'll run for Cynic.

NEW CHECK LAW BECOMES EFFECTIVE

Effective September, 1967, checks and drafts deposited with Federal Reserve Banks will not be handled through regular bank collection channels if received, without the magnetic ink "MICR" transit number. The new electronic processing of the Federal Reserve System demands such magnetic ink encoding. If it is not convenient for you to carry your personalized check book you should keep a few blank checks with you on your bank.

Changed checks will not be acceptable because of the MICR encoding on the lower left hand side corner of the check. The changed check will still go to the original bank because of the bank's encoded number. Non-conforming checks, bank drafts and other items deposited in your bank will not be handled as cash items by Federal Reserve System and will be returned unpaid unless the items are in amounts of $1,000.00 or more. These large items will be handled by Federal Reserve Bank on a collection basis and a collection fee will be charged by the Federal Reserve Bank for handling.

If you are out of town and need to give a check, it will be necessary for you to use your personalized check or a blank check furnished by the local bank, which you should carry with you at all times.

This new regulation was passed in 1966 by the Federal Reserve System and requires all banks, businesses and individuals to conform.

SCRIMMAGE HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

INJURIES PLAGUE HORNETS

"Please boys, don't get hurt." The words sound like any frantic mother, but words like this from a stern, tough football coach indicate a serious condition.

Coach Jim Cain reported this week that the Hornet football team has been plagued by injuries since beginning workouts. Eight boys are out at this time and several others have injuries that slow down even the most diligent workers.

Van Seymore will be out for four weeks with a thumb injury. Gary Gatewood and Damon Provence will be out for six weeks; and Bobby Brown and Clinton Jones are out for the season. Also unable to play at this time are Mike Hanna, Monte Roberts and Billy Ford. Out of the 36 boys who reported for football, only 26 are able to suit-out as the Hornets look forward to their first scrimmage Friday against the Junior varsity team from Hereford. Scrimmage will begin at 8 p.m. in Amherst Stadium.

Coach Cain reports that other than the injuries, the team's progress has been good and team spirit and attitude is high. He said that he is not sure who will be on the starting line-up Friday night, but that all able team members will see action.

Classes Begin Monday

Classes will begin promptly at 8:30 a.m. Monday, August 28, for students of the Sudan schools.

Registration was being conducted this week and at present time the faculty was not completed definitely with some changes in teaching assignments expected.

Recently hired as school music teacher is Miss Vaughn Allen of Amherst, a spring graduate of Wayland Baptist College in Plainview with a major in music. She has moved to Sudan and is reported to be living with Mrs. E. E. Crow.

DRIVERS WARNED OF STOP SIGNS

He also stressed the importance of safe driving in the school zone as school begins. Speed limits will be strictly enforced and also the right-of-way of pedestrians in the crosswalks.

It is planned for a patrolman to be on duty at the school zone during the noon recess and at the dismissal of school.

Hatfield reported that a total of 30 traffic citations have been issued here during the month of August. These include 11 for speeding, 6 for drunkenness, 2 for reckless driving, 6 for no driving license, 1 for loud mufflers, 2 for failing to grant the right-of-way, and 2 warning tickets.

SCHOOL PURCHASES STOCK TRAILER

The Board of Trustees of Sudan Public Schools recently purchased a stock trailer for the Vocational Agricultural Department. The trailer costing $662 was purchased from Clime Trailer Sales in Lubbock. It will be used primarily for hauling livestock when purchasing and when attending livestock shows.

Agricultural supervisor Don Ham reported that he expects approximately 45 students this year and stated that the department could use twice as much space as they presently have for animal shelters.

Last year the Agricultural Barn was completely filled and students had to use seven or eight emergency pens for keeping their show stock. The local show is customarily closed in January.

Ham also reported that the first PTA meeting will be held September 4, when officers will be elected.

WHAT DO YOU CHOOSE-- LIFE OR DEATH?

Scriptures: St. Luke 23:42; St. Matthew 7:23; 10:32-33.

"A good, moral person," apparently, is said of many people. But any man or woman who is truly good, is good only in Christ Jesus. The heart of man is above all things the most deceitful.

One may be morally clean in action, and even kind on occasion; but, to illustrate what I mean about being good—your action, good or bad, is not what will get you into heaven.

Let's say that you went into town and gave $1 to a blind man on the street, or helped a lost child to find his mother. But, unless someone who was near you told me about your deeds, I would never know, therefore, could not give you credit or praise for such actions.

How long—oh, how long will it take for all of us to realize that God, being a Holy God, only can give us credit for doing His work in His service through Jesus' testimony of us. God knows us only as His children through Jesus Christ. Until we accept Jesus, because that is the will of the Father for us so to do, He will say, "I never knew you, depart from me, ye that work iniquity." Anyone who will not accept Jesus as the only begotten Son of God, the only way into eternal life, is a worker of iniquity, taking the glory for a good action that rightfully should be glory for God. Jesus is the only acceptable offering to God in payment for my sin and yours. Glory and praise belong to God.

As the thief on the cross next to Jesus said, "Lord remember me," he was not saying remember my good deeds or bad deeds. But he was saying, "Remember me, for I do believe you are the only begotten Son of God, with power to save me—to save all mankind—from death and hell into eternal life."

The thief evidently had nothing much to brag about or much to offer Jesus in return for His love. And he had a great deal to be sorry for. Most of us are like that, but regardless of all this, it is our faith through acceptance of Jesus as Lord (for then His shed blood covers, blots out, our sin and God remembers them against us no more) that saves us. And it is loving obedience to follow Jesus that is all important.

So, one may do ever so many good deeds, and get only the satisfaction and praise of man (which is fine but goes no further than the grave). For God does not know us, except as we believe and do His will, which is that "no man be lost" and have faith to accept Jesus as Saviour and Lord.

One Way — Jesus Saves! No works, no good deeds, no achievements of mine or yours can save us, only as our sins are covered by the shed blood of Jesus — and by faith we take Him.

How about you? Are you enjoying that measless one feels in the midst of the "for a season pleasures" of sin? Or do you want a peace and joy and assurance and love forevermore, that makes physical death only a stepping stone to a higher realm of life?

Jesus gives Life — only Jesus. There is no other way. God gave His Son for you and me — can we afford to miss heaven, when God wanted us back with Him that much?

Look at Jesus, search the Scriptures, accept Him and He will save you and go with you all the way back to the Father!

Changes In Licenses Set

The Department of Public Safety reminded Texans today that August 28 marks the effective date of several amendments to the drivers license law which are designed to benefit Texas motorists from the standpoint of providing added protection.

The law sets new minimum age limits for acquiring a license, provides for issuing a provisional license to any person under the age of 21, and increases the penalties for driving without a license and violations calling for automatic suspension.

It also sets penalties for countering or forging a license, or for possessing such a license. The age limits were raised to a minimum of 16 years for obtaining a license when a person has satisfactorily completed an approved course in driver's education, and to 18 years for persons who have not had such a course.

The minimum age for operating a five-brake horsepower motor scooter was raised to 15 years. A special examination will be required after January 1 for applicants desiring a license to operate a motorcycle which includes an "off-street phase" and an "on-street phase." The applicant must provide the motorcycle and a passenger vehicle and licensed driver to convey the License Examiner during the road test.

Licenses issued to persons under 21 years of age will be stamped "Provisional" and may be suspended if the operator is convicted of two traffic law violations in a twelve month period. This becomes effective January 1.

Upon conviction of driving without a license, a motorist is subject to a fine of up to $200 for the first offense and increasingly stiffer penalties for each successive conviction. A little publicized provision of the State's new traffic safety laws requires that one or both parents of juvenile traffic offenders appear in open court with the youthful law breakers. Persons convicted of driving while intoxicated (or a similar

MRS. VERNA LEE WOOD will receive her B. S. degree in Biology from the University of Houston in graduation exercises Friday, August 25. Mrs. Wood is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Willie Hazel. Following graduation, she will join the faculty of McArthur High School in Irving, where she will serve as instructor of General Science and Chemistry. She has previously served one year on the faculty at Hale Center High School. Charles, her husband, will be attending Dallas Baptist College.

Persons who are subject to a first suspension of twelve months. Any subsequent suspension on the basis of this type of conviction will be for a period of 18 months. In addition, any driver whose license has been suspended or revoked may be required to attend a program of rehabilitation for problem drivers.

Any person applying for an original license must furnish the Department with certified copy of the applicant's birth certificate or other documentary evidence deemed satisfactory by the Department for proof of age. The Department is also authorized to require any other information necessary to determine the applicant's identity, competency and eligibility for licensing. Thumb prints will be required on all original applications after August 28.

Among other provisions designed to ban unsafe drivers from the highways is the requirement that the Department of Public Welfare furnish the DPS with a list of the persons who apply for or receive assistance to the needy blind. The license of such persons must be revoked to comply with the law.

Also, any person who is convicted of driving while his license is suspended or revoked shall be punished by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $500, and shall be imprisoned not less than 72 hours nor more than six months.

PIONEERS OF

By EVALYN PARROTT SCOTT

(The author of this column would like to share with the readers, experiences of two Sudan and Lamb County Pioneers, who went head-hunting last Friday in an effort to trail their ancestors of bygone pioneer days. Accompanying Mrs. Milton (Hazel) Wiseman to the Workshop held Friday in Lubbock by the South Plains Genealogical Society, the author recorded the days activities to another Kindred Spirit and Trail Hunter, Miss Gladys Hardy, a former Sudan school teacher.)

Dear Gladys:
I must share my latest experience with you. I attended my first Genealogical Workshop (although I have been doing research in my arm chair and with a pencil for fifteen years) last Friday, when I accompanied a friend, Hazel Wiseman, to Lubbock where the workshop was held.

I found it most educational and humorous.
KINDRED SPIRITS SEARCHING FOR ANCESTORS

"Pardon me -- I've lost my magnifying glass, have you seen it? I think I left it here in North Carolina when I was searching for data a few minutes ago."

"No, ma'am, Oh, here's a glass, maybe it is yours."
"No! Those are mine," piped another kindred spirit from whose stack of books the first lady had plucked the magnifying glass.

With me sitting between the two ladies, I then tried to be helpful and picked up an unusual shaped object sitting on the table smack-dab in the middle of North Carolina, and asked "could this be your magnifying glass?"

The lady whose magnifying glass had nearly been given to the other, exclaimed: "That's a pencil sharpener."

So much for trying to be useful and showing my ignorance. I returned to North Carolina after observing Hazel was lost in Tennessee. In fact, I thought she'd never get through with "Tennessee Cousins" and possibly some of her companions did who were also interested in "Tennessee Cousins," the book that is.

Down the aisle was the Family History Section and while there I became absorbed in so many families, the small suitcase I was carrying to store my notes in, fell open and all my paraphernalia slid and slithered in all directions--and to my dismay I discovered I had broken my vanity compact mirror.

And speaking of broken glass, this has been my summer of unidentified flying objects and broken glass. I do hope the breaking of the mirror means the end of my summer of flying glass.

Broken have been glasses in two storm doors by flying children; a broken windshield in the farm pickup by an unidentified flying rock; and to top this someone set a treasured glass bowl with gravy in it on the back porch to feed the family dog. Some unidentified kinsman stepped in the bowl and smashed it to smithereens--but back to the workshop and following the trails. No, I forgot to tell you another broken tale. The treasured long-tom shot gun belonging to my deceased father some sixty years old (the gun) was carried outside by an unidentified kinsman and the carved wooden handle, (carved by my husband twenty years ago) was splintered when some child tried to close the gun by beating the handle on the cement porch!

Whatever happened to the book on Coopers, which I contributed to the South Plains Genealogy Society that morning I do not know, for when I departed at 5 p. m. it had not been returned to the Family History section. No telling where the Coopers are by now. Incidentally, while presenting the book to the Society president, the press photographer made a picture, and I forgot to take off my sunshades! Faye knew that would happen as she always has to tell me to take them off whenever she is with me.

While engrossed in one book I heard a lady next to me exclaim, "I've just got to go to Rhode Island."
Absentmindedly I looked up and asked, "Oh, You need to search the courthouse records there?" GIVING me a somewhat funny look she replied, "I meant the table of Rhode Island."
Another time a very pretty young lady muttered, "Oh, why did I get hooked on this research and ancestor bit."
I answered back, "Once you start trailing there is no stopping place," and she then informed me how well she knew it. Her spare bedroom had been turned into a research center.

At one time I was roused from reading some historical facts by the words, "Evalyn, look what I found, I just knew my Waggoners were in "Tennessee Cousins." This is really a good book!" this from my Sudan Pioneer companion, Hazel Cobb Wiseman.

"Here let me see if I can find Parrotts and Coopers," I answered, reaching for the book.

"You can't; you have to come over to Tennessee if you want to read it." I never did get around to seeing my Tennessee Cousins.

Books, books and more books. Treasures of recorded words of happenings of long ago and of ancestors who had no idea their names would some day be so diligently searched for in little bits of recorded history.

I saw an elderly gentleman turn up his hearing aid when a young lady asked him if he had ever heard of the family name, Galantia. Later I found the family for her in Pennsylvania.

After looking for a Bean for another kindred spirit and helping her solve the problem of how a maternal ancestor wound up with the middle name Bean, I then proceeded to Virginia.

Ah--Virginia, that is where I should have been all day. Win or lose, I haven't come up with an early Colonial line that didn't come first to dear "ole, Virginia." I guess I shouldn't tell that as some of my best friends are pure yankees.

At five, Hazel and I limped wearily to the car, after having visited nearly all the fifty states in spirit, if not in body.

The car was burning hot, having been sitting out in the August sun all day. Hazel started the motor and turned on the air conditioner; then "Goodness gracious, I've lost my glasses; wonder if I left them in Tennessee or Pennsylvania."

With both of us digging and hunting I spied a pair of brown rimmed glasses and handed them to her. There I was being helpful again!

On the way home we discussed the days activities and shared

The State tax on property, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of the public free schools, shall never exceed Thirty-five Cents (35¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation; and no county, city or town shall levy a tax rate in excess of Eighty Cents (80¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation in any one (1) year for general fund, permanent improvement fund, road and bridge fund and jury fund purposes; provided further that at the time the Commission Court meets to levy the annual tax rate for each county it shall levy whatever tax rate may be needed for the four (4) constitutional purposes; namely, general fund, permanent improvement fund, road and bridge fund and jury fund so long as the Court does not impose any outstanding bonds or other obligations and so long as the total of the foregoing tax levies does not exceed Eighty Cents (80¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation in any one (1) year. Once the Court has levied the annual tax rate, the same shall remain in force and effect during that taxable year; and the Legislature may also authorize an additional annual ad valorem tax to be levied and collected for the further maintenance of the public roads; provided, that a majority of the qualified property-taxpaying voters of the county voting at an election to be held for that purpose shall vote such tax, not to exceed Fifteen Cents (15¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation of the property subject to taxation in such county. Any county may put all tax money collected by the county into one general fund, without regard to the purpose or source of each tax. And the Legislature may pass local laws for the maintenance of the public roads and highways, without the local notice required for special or local laws. This Section shall not be construed as a limitation of powers delegated to counties, cities or towns by any other Section or Sections of this Constitution."
Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on November 11, 1967, at which election all ballots shall have printed on them the following:
"FOR the constitutional amendment allowing counties to put all county taxes into one general fund."
"AGAINST the constitutional amendment allowing counties to put all county taxes into one general fund."

Big and Little Leaguer

The young teaching the younger was the case recently as Jim Lefebvre, star second baseman of the Los Angeles Dodgers, gave some batting tips to Little Leaguer Johnny Rowenfield. The youngest dugout companion that day was Curran Instant Breakfast, already a star when it comes to the care and feeding of athletes. In addition to pointers on how to grip the bat, and stance in the plate, Johnny learned that the liquid meal can provide the "energy edge" that all good hitters need.
