WOODWORK

BY DALTON

THEY'RE CARRYING off all of our planes and ships. Airliners are being hijacked regularly to Cuba, the Pueblo still is being held by North Korea, of whom we apparently are deathly afraid; and Soviet Russia last week forced down one of our planes carrying more than 200 GIs bound for Vietnam.

Of course, those guys headed for Vietnam probably won't be as soon as detained on a Russian island as they would be chasing VC around in the jungle.

But the thing that sticks in my craw is the way we let everybody push us around. There was a time when such nations as North Korea wouldn't have dared to thumb their noses at the U.S. because they knew we'd not sit still for it. Russia is a different story, but certainly not countries such as North Korea and Cuba.

It's been so long since North Korea seized the Pueblo that many Americans have forgotten about it. Meanwhile, there's no telling what indignities the U.S. servicemen held in Korea are being subjected to.

It's enough to make one ashamed of being an American at times.

A COLUMN written by Dick Martin of the well-known (by just about everybody except our family) comedy team of Rowan and Martin praises good old Jonathan Winters. Said Martin: "And there's Jonathan Winters. If Winters were allowed to fly he could give us all a tremendous run for our lives. The only thing that is keeping him down is the old-fashioned format of his show."

I agree with Martin. Winters should be allowed to fly. Either in the F-111A or perhaps we could just shoot him to the moon.

IN DETROIT, reports the Associated Press, some homes are carrying signs reading "This home is not armed." This is in accordance with an appeal by Mayor Jerome Cavanagh for people to stop the "arms race".

Can you imagine anybody being dumb enough to put that kind of sign on his house? They might as well add this line: "Murderers and burglars welcome."

LOOKING BACK on what I've written, it seems that I am mad at the government, Dick Martin, Jonathan Winters and Mayor Cavanagh. Maybe I'll join the "I Hate Everybody" Club.

All is not negative, however. I still like Everett Dirksen, Bob Hope and chocolate ice cream.

Sudan received a much needed rain Monday night. The rain, measuring 1.7 inches, fell without any hail or high winds.

LATE NEWS BULLETIN

Lewis Fields received second degree burns on his right arm and face early Tuesday when a butane tank caught fire as he was filling a pickup tank.

The accident occurred on his farm south of Muleshoe with the Muleshoe Fire Department answering the call. The pickup was reported to be destroyed.

Fields is confined to the South Plains Hospital at Amherst.

Genealogy Meeting Scheduled

Only members and special guests will be eligible to attend the workshop to get underway at 1:30 and continue until 9 p. m. The time set will enable members who work to still take advantage of studying the books brought to the workshop by members.

Mrs. Dwain Phillips, president of the organization, urges all who are interested in joining the Society to pay their membership dues of five dollars, by, or at the next business meeting of the Society which will be July 22. Those who pay by the next meeting will be counted as chartered members and payment of the dues may be mailed to Mrs. Phillips at 313 East 20th St. in Littlefield.

At a recent meeting Mrs. Milton Wiseman and Mrs. Sara Woods, both of Sudan were named to the committee to secure a microfilm reader. Named to the nominating committee were Mrs. R. E. Scott, Sudan, Mrs. June Soldorra, Mrs. A. D. Ward, both of Littlefield; and Mrs. Maurice Brantley, Amherst. Mrs. A. D. Ward has been appointed to act as corresponding secretary until new officers are named in September.

What bothers a pet? For the most part, the same things that bother people!

One exception is poison ivy - a dog is usually not affected by it. But because the plant's irritant lingers on a pet's coat, a person can pick it up. If your dog's been in poison ivy, put on some rubber gloves and bathe him with brown laundry soap.

A cut calls for gentle trimming of hair around the wound and cleansing in mild soap and water. Use only a non-poisonous antiseptic, and don't bandage the pet's wound unless he keeps licking it - or the cut is deep.

Itching and scratching in dogs and cats can be treated with Enditch - in easy-to-feed liquid or edible tablets containing anti-inflammatory and skin-healing ingredients. Enditch is guaranteed by the manufacturer to bring relief within hours or your money is refunded. The preparation is available in pet shops and pet departments everywhere.

A near-drowned pet can be revived by first holding him up by the hind legs to let the water drain out. Then stretch him on the ground and apply regular, timed pressure on his chest - push, count 10, release, count 10, over and over. When normal breathing resumes, keep the pet warm and quiet.

Lyle - Anderson Vows Exchanged

Miss Eleanor Theresa Lyle and Rae Loyd Anderson were united in marriage Saturday, June 29 at 3 p. m. in the Chapel at Shaw Air Force Base, South Carolina. The double ring ceremony was performed by Chaplain Bradley T. Morse. The bride is the daughter of Lt. Colonel and Mrs. William H. Lyle, Jr. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Anderson of Sacramento, Calif.

Vows were spoken against a background of white Grecian columns holding arrangements of white gladiolus, snapdragons, chrysanthemums and daisies. The altar banked with all white flowers held brass candelabra and lighted white tapers. White gladiolus and chrysanthemums with white satin ribbon bows and streamers marked the family pews.

Preceding the nuptials a program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Robert D. Edmonds, organist, and Robert J. Cavendish, vocalist.

Due to her father being on duty in Southeast Asia, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, William H. Lyle III. She chose a regal formal gown with a curved empire bodice of white silk organza and embroidered white daisy appliques ended in a chapel train. Her bouffant three tiered veil of bridal illusion was held in place by a cap of Venetian lace daisies centered with crystal crystal drops. She carried a white lace covered Bible topped with a white orchid on a cascade of white roses, carnations, stephanotis, lily of the valley and miniature ivy.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Alex C. Wilson and Mrs. David C. Rice. They wore floor length gowns of pale yellow silk organza over taffeta. Tiny daisy appliques accented the bodice and hemlines of the slightly modified A-line silhouette. Their headpieces were yellow peau de soie bandeaux with looped bow and daisy trimmed streamers. They carried bouquets of white daisies with green velvet streamers.

Anderson served as his son's best man. Usher-groomsman were Lt. Alex C. Wilson and Lt. David C. Rice of Shaw Air Force Base.

The bride's mother chose a street length gown of petal pink silk desire. The bell sleeves and skirt were enhanced with wide bands of white eyelet organza re-embroidered with pink stones and tiny beads. She chose matching accessories and wore a white cymbidium orchid corsage. The groom's mother selected a Nile green sheath of raw Saki silk featuring short sleeves and a rouleau neckline accented by three rhinestone clips. Matching accessories and a white orchid corsage completed her ensemble. The bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. William H. Lyle, Sr. of Sudan, chose a pink silk linen dress, and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Myrtle Holman of Panama City, Fla., chose a powder blue shantung suit. Both wore corsages of white roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was given by the bride's family in the Gamecock Room of the Shaw Air Force Base Officer's Club. In an atmosphere of flowers, greenery and music, guests were presented to the receiving line by Lt. Colonel and Mrs. Charles J. O'Connell.

The bride's table was covered with an imported white silk organza hand embroidered tablecloth over yellow satin, and was centered by a four tiered wedding cake decorated with yellow roses and topped by a pair of white turtle doves holding miniature wedding rings. The cake was flanked with white cherub candelabra holding yellow tapers, yellow and white snapdragons, white roses, daisies and baby's breath. Cutting the cake, were Mrs. David K. Maxted of Panama City, Fla. and Mrs. Howard H. Holman of Sarasota, Fla., both aunts of the bride. Assisting them were Mrs. Jesse E. Green, Mrs. Larry D. Krull, and Mrs. Paul W. Post, all of Shaw Air Force Base.

Yellow taffeta overlaid with nylon tulle covered the refreshment table. A gilt d'or epergne with crystal drops held white and yellow snapdragons, daisies, roses and baby's breath was centered between cherub candelabra and yellow tapers. Presiding at the punch table were Mrs. Cleon E. Dean and Mrs. Archie Kearley, both of Lubbock, and great-aunts of the bride.

Mrs. William B. Duncan was in charge of the guest register at a table decorated with a miniature bride and silver candle holders with yellow tapers encircled with white flowers and covered with an Air Force cloth of white embroidered tissue linen and lace over yellow satin.

Mrs. Anderson chose a traveling costume of yellow knit with white trim, white patent leather accessories and the yellow throated white orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride was graduated from Chofu High School, Tokyo, Japan, and attended the University of Texas at Arlington. The groom received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of California at Berkeley where he was a member of the Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity. He is a Captain in the Air Force Reserves and presently a student at the University of the Pacific, McGeorge School of Law in Sacramento. After a wedding trip to Florida the couple will be at home at 3405 Balmoral Drive, Sacramento, Calif.

MRS. RAE LOYD ANDERSON

Devotional

BY HAZEL HOUSE

Scripture: St. John 6: 37-40, 8:24, 30-32, 10: 12-18, 14: 13-15.

"And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

Amidst so many lies and confusion and chaotic conditions, how shall we know the truth? Jesus tells us how, in God's Word, for He also said, "If ye continue in my Word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth..."

What greater message could one preach than the Gospel of Jesus Christ? The cross, the death and resurrection of God's only begotten Son, who was sent by God the Father to complete His plan for the salvation of man.

What do you need? And what does the world need? A Savior—one who can take us just like we are, and as we follow Him, studying and obeying His word, make us into what we ought to be. A Savior, who has the power to give to us now eternal life; one who, when our physical body wears out or is destroyed, can give us a new eternal body and can take us immediately from this earth to the eternal Home in heaven, forevermore to be with Him.

A Savior, who has the power to lay down His life for your sin and mine, and the power to arise again. A Savior, who has the power to keep His promises to us: that He would never leave us who love Him, alone in this world, but would abide with us, sending the Comforter to teach us all the way Home. And a Savior who said if we ask anything in His Name, He will do it!

JESUS IS THE ONE!
Jesus said "Because I live, ye shall live also." (St. John 14: 19). And He said—"If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you".

Is Jesus your Savior and Lord? Then does His words abide in you? Do you read His words in God's Holy Word to learn of Him? Jesus is the one — the only one whereby you can have eternal life. Take Him, accept Him now!

Immediately all the doors were opened.—(Acts 16:26).
There is a place, a way, a work for all of us. Let us see ourselves purposefully occupied, giving and growing. God sees us in this way, and He will show us how we can live this way. New doors are continually opening to us, for we have much to give.

Ask Dr. QUIZMEE

Dr. Quizmee, our information specialist, is happy to answer his readers' questions in his weekly column. All responses are verified by Funk & Wagnall's Standard Reference Encyclopedia.

The 25-volume set of Funk & Wagnall's Standard Encyclopedia were won this week by Elaine Halligan who asked the doctor: "When and where did the shaking of hands originate?"

"Probably in the ancient Kingdom of Judah in South Palestine in the ninth century before Christ. Scripture records that a man named Jehu asked an associate to shake hands to prove that his 'heart was right.' The idea was that when a man shakes another's hand, he can't draw his sword."

Mrs. Evelyn Arthur who would like to know: "How did the ringing of the curfew originate?"

In the Middle Ages, throughout Europe, a bell was tolled or other signal given at an hour when citizens were to put out lights, cover fires and go to bed. Originally, the purpose was a precaution against fire.

Mrs. Irene George who came up with this fish story: "Is it true that there are such things as 'climbing fish'?"

Yes. In India, there's a fish that sometime travels on land by holding reserve water in small pockets near its gills. It's been said to climb trees with its spine-like gill covers and by hanging its under fin in the bark of trees.

If you are the first to submit a question which appears in this column, you will receive, free, the full 25-volume set of Funk & Wagnall's Standard Reference Encyclopedia. The writer of this column is the sole judge as to who is first. Mail your question to Dr. Quizmee in care of this newspaper.

Smoke (Or Something) Gets Into Your Eyes

If something is wrong with your car, you go to an auto mechanic; if you have a toothache, you go to the dentist, but if you get a speck in your eye, do you always have a doctor remove it? Stay away from amateurs, warns the Better Vision Institute. Your eye doctor should be the only one to treat your eyes.
