A CALIFORNIAN named Don MacDonald writes a syndicated column called "You and Your Car" and recently I saw some proofs of some of his columns.

They were quite interesting, especially to men. It's been my experience that women carelittle about cars, other than what color they are, so long as they run. But for the benefit of those men, I am going to offer some excerpts from his columns, hoping that this proper credit to him will keep me out of the courts on a plagarism charge.

One thing MacDonald wrote about was the dishonesty of some service station operators, particularly some of those at the edge of long, sparsely populated stretches of road. He noted that a favorite trick is for an attendant to wait for an out-of-state car, then when everybody piles out and goes to the rest room, he lets some air out of a tire. When the driver comes back, he points to this, finally convinces him he has a slow leak, and ends up selling him a new tire. Moral: someone should stay with the car at all times when it's being serviced in a strange station. Other comments by MacDonald:

"Watch out for the fellow who in the course of a grease job will wiggle a front wheel so you can hear the ball joints rattle. You probably don't need new ones; they're supposed to rattle a little."

"I wish I had a dollar for every battery that's been sold just because the old one had corroded terminals. This corrosion is normal and can be easily cleaned off."

"An anit-freeze concentration higher than 68 per cent offers no additional protection... Countless quarts of oil are needlessly sold because the attendant, purposely or otherwise, fails to seat the dipstick... If your car doesn't ping on regular gas, premium is a waste of mone;, as higher octane numbers can't give more power."

Well, he might get some arguments on some of those, but it makes for interesting reading. However, I agree with Mac-Donald that the vast imajority of service station owners, caught in the squeeze between trading stamps and giveaways, still are honest.

SUPPER HELD

Members of the First Baptist Church had a Thanksgiving suppe: Thursday, Nov. 21 at the Sudan Community Center.

The invocation was given by Gaylon Burns.

For the program Raymond Harper led group singing with Mrs. J. R. Manning at the piano. Singing a special selection was Mrs. Louise Ray. Rev. J. R. Manning gave the benediction.

Some 150 attended the supper.

The Fighting Sudan Hornets won the Bi-District Title Friday night at Lowery Field, Lubbock, with a victory over the Ralls Jackrabbits, 20-12. Sudan fans were proud and pleased and certainly "wild" when the last play ended and the Hornets had battled a big and tough Ralls team right up to the last second of the game.

The Hornet offense controlled the ball through the first half of the game, but in the final analysis, it was the greatest goal line stand ever made by the Hornet defense when they held Ralls on Sudan's 1 yard line and pushed them back from the goal line five consecutive times to gain possession of the ball—and finally to win the game. Congratulations go to all the Hornet team and coaches on a great victory.

Sudan will travel to Borger Friday night for the Regional play-off game with Gruver. Game time is 7:00 p.m. at Borger on Saturday.

Rallsbegan the offensive play, but Sudan held and forced them to give up the ball on downs, and the Hornets had the ball on their own 26. Then followed two big plays for Sudan about midway the first quarter. Fullback David Weaver ran 20 yards to the Jackrabbit 45, and HB Jerry Bellar broke away from the Ralls defense and ran 43 yards, and on the next play, Bellar plunged over for the touchdown. He kicked the extra point and the quarter ended with the Hornets leading 7-0.

Starting the second quarter, Sudan took the ball, after they had held Ralls and forced them to punt, on their 20. Then Bellar took off on a 78 yard touchdown play, kicked the point, and Sudan was leading 14-0. Bellar's kickoff sailed into the end zone and Ralls took the ball on the 20. They moved on down to the Sudan 12, trying to reach for the TD, but a penalty moved the ball back to the 23. Ralls QB Wideman tried a pass, but Sudan QB Steve Martin had better ideas and intercepted the pass on the 1 yard line and returned it to the 33 before he was brought down. Sudan was on the move again, as Martin passed to End Bobby Brown for a 52 yard gain to the Ralls 4, where FB Weaver bulldored his way over on the next play for a TD. Try for the extra point failed, and the score was Sudan over Ralls, 20-0.

Ralls moved the ball downfield for 80 yards on 15 plays for their first touchdown. HB Bruce Johnson took the ball in from the 3 for the score, try for EP failed, and at the end of the half, Sudan was leading 20-6.

The Hornets fumbled early in the third quarter, and Ralls came up with the ball on the Hornet 48. They moved the ball to the 3, and FB Matt Starch went the last 3 yards for a TD. Wideman's passing try for two points was picked off by End Joe Hines. The Hornets took the ball and moved on down to Ralls 35, where they fumbled again and the Jackrabbits pounced on the ball for a recovery. They moved on down to the Hornet 9 yard line as the quarter ended.

Ralls started the 4th quarter with a 4th down and goal to go from the 9. Wideman tossed a pass into the end zone, which was incomplete, but the Hornets drew a pass-interference penalty, and Ralls got the ball on the Sudan 1 yard line, with a first down. Then Sudan drew an offside penalty, and the ball was only 1/2 yard from the Sudan goal line. Then the Sudan Fighting Spirit really came out in the Hornet defense as they made the goal line stand spectators will not be likely to forget in for a, long time. They had stood firm on the first play from the one, but now they stood firm, and four plays later, they took over the ball on their own 2 yard line, and Martin picked up 7 yards on a quarterback sneak. The defensive battle continued, as Martin intercepted another Ralls pass on the Jackrabbit 48, with 1:20 left on the clock. Sudan moved on down to the Ralls 10 yard line, and when the game ended the Hornets had a 20-12 victory over the Jackrabbits, and had won the bidistrict trophy for Sudan.

Bellar was top ball carrier in the game, with 199 yards. Weaver did a tremendous job playing fullback, the position usually filled by Larry Hanna. OB Martin did an outstanding job to show he really was the champion quarterback in the bi-district, which title he and his teammates had just won. He showed tremendous skill in both his calls and maneuvers in this game.

And for the defense — they were the Greatest! — led by Monte Roberts, Bill Ford, Mickey Gilbert, Harvey Willeby, Tim Nix. Everybody did a fine job in holding Ralls.

Katie mother's maiden name was De bose. Annie's father, Frankli Washington Towns, was born Atlanta, Georgia, on March 8, 1864, and passed away at Canute, Oklahoma, on December 8, 1935. He was a farmer.

J. D. worked the sawmill aft and then began born at Verda, misiar East Wilson was born on September 25, 1907 and Ottis Dorman was born on January 10, 1910. A daughter, Gertrude Velva, was born October 4, 1911 and passed away October 5, 1911, also at Verda. J. D. and Annie moved to Chillicothe, Texas, in 1922 where they farmed, They moved to Sudan on December 1, 1929, and lived on and farmed one of Dr. King's places They traded cream and eggs for groceries. The Chesters raised almost everything they ate, killing their own hogs and beef. In the winter there was half a bee: hanging on every pioneers' windmill and tacked dusage hanging in their smoke houses. They canned beef, chickens, and everything else they could.

J. D. and Annie had a pickup they drove when they could afford the license and gas, but they drove a wagon and team most of the time. They bought the Woods' place and moved one and one-half miles east of Sudan in 1953. They also bought
