WOODWORK

BY DALTON

WE KNEW IT WOULD come to this. A picket line appeared in front of the FBI office in New York last week, and it reportedly was led by a Brooklyn Mafia boss. One of the signs read, "FBI Hoover, Why Frame Italians?"

The robbers are picketing the cops, which sort of goes along with all the other protesting these days, where usually (so far as most of us are concerned) the bad guys are picketing the good guys.

SPEAKING of good guys and bad guys, President Nixon lost favor with lots of people (especially Republicans seeking re-election) when he ordered troops into Cambodia. The action last week was a calculated risk, Nixon said, noting that he "may be a one-term president" as a result.

Personally, I just don't know if the action was right or not, but I certainly am glad the decision was not mine to make.

The President did make a comment regarding the nation's servicemen that I like. He expressed pride in our young fighting men and contrasted them with "those bums blowing up the campuses."

He praised the servicemen as "the greatest... kids who are just doing their duty... and they stand tall and they're proud."

About the campus rebels he noted that "... the boys on the college campuses today are the luckiest people in the world—going to the greatest universities—and here they are burning up the books."

He's right, of course, but this isn't likely to endear him among the rock-throwing set.

A WEATHER report the other day, just after a couple of the windiest, most miserable dusty days for some time, reported that the winds the next day would be "light and bearable." Some said it was supposed to be "variable," but others said it was probably correct—and would be welcome relief.

Local Church Sets Revival

The Church of God of Prophecy located at 1st and Wilson, is participating in a church-wide revival effort sponsored by the organization with world headquarters in Cleveland, Tenn. "SPIRITUAL CONQUEST", the name given to the world-wide evangelistic endeavor, will be conducted from March 29 through May 17. The local congregation has chosen May 10-17, 1970 to conduct their revival.

Rev. Lary W. Walters will be the evangelist. Rev. Walters has evangelized for six years in various states including Ohio, Idaho, Utah, California, Nevada, Virginia, West Virginia, and Tennessee. Also, he has pastored in California, Ohio, and West Texas. At the present Rev. Walters is the pastor of the

FFA Banquet Held

The annual FFA Parent-Son banquet was held Monday night in the Sudan school cafeteria with some 125 persons attending. James Black, chapter president, served as master of ceremonies with Roger Swart giving the invocation. Entertainment was provided by Miss Sharon Wilson who sang and accompanied herself on the guitar.

The welcome was given by Shawn Potter with his father, H. H. Potter, giving the response.

Guest speaker was Bill Sarpalius of Clarendon, 1969 State FFA president, who was raised at Boys Ranch and now attends Clarendon Junior College. He spoke on "What Does the Future Hold in America" and stressed to the youth attending that we still live in a free country, but that it was up to them to keep it that way.

Advisor Don Ham presided during the awards presentation when Raymond Maxwell and Wayne Swart were installed as honorary members. Special awards went to the Quiz team of Jerry Price, Roger Swart, Keith Downs, and Ryan Dale Harvey who won first in district competition and second in area. James Black was also recognized as receiving second place in district in public speaking.

The five annual foundation awards were presented to Star Greenhand Jimmy Mathiam; Star Farmer James Black; Livestock award, Freddie Maxwell; Public Speaking, James Black; Soil Conservation, Roger Swart and Crop Farming, Don Harper. James Black was also presented the inscribed gavel, which is customary for the chapter president to receive at the banquet.

PIANO RECITAL SET SUNDAY

Some 20 students of Mrs. Jim Cain, Mrs. Aubrey Ray and Mrs. Tommy Evans will be presented in a recital Sunday, May 10, at 3 p. m. in the Sudan High School auditorium.

Genealogy Meet

The Llano Estacado Genealogy Society of Lamb County will have their monthly workshop and business meeting Saturday, May 9, from 1 to 5 p.m. in the Lamb County Library.

The newly purchased Microfilm Reader Printer which was placed in the library only two weeks ago will be demonstrated to all members and interested persons.

Membership dues are now accepted and can be paid to the Society by sending it to Mrs. Norma Phillips, President, or to Mrs. John E. Stehlik, Secretary-Treasurer. Also, donations are being accepted, payable to the Society and are tax deductible. Stehlik announced.

The average mother, we've been told, walks more than 8 miles every day. Why not give her feet a break this Mother's Day: make sure she's got a phone within answering distance. An extension (in the kitchen or bedroom or laundry room) costs just a few cents a day. There's no faster relief for aching feet.

61 Members Make Band Trip

The Sudan Hornet Band attended the 38th annual Tri-State Music Festival last week at Enid and received a Division II rating in both concert and sightreading.

Over 17,000 students from 590 bands and choirs participated in the three-day event.

Sixty-one band members from Sudan were accompanied by 10 sponsors and bus drivers. They stayed at the Tradewinds Motel in Oklahoma City.

Band parents were on hand Saturday night to welcome the returnees home when refreshments were served in the band hall.

In the Class A division of the University Interscholastic League region band contest held recently at Dimmitt, the Hornet Band, directed by Tommy Evin, received Division II ratings in concert and sightreading, with only Seagraves and Petersburg receiving Division I ratings. Some 15 bands participated in the Class A division.

Judging was conducted by Don Craig of Dumas, Tom Rhodes of Fredericksburg and Pat Peterson of Sweetwater.

The local Awards concert is scheduled for May 18 when the entire department of all Sudan schools will perform.

The Sudan Band Parents Organization will meet Thursday, May 14.

New Uses for Old

What do you do with old railroad stations? The Great Northern Railroad has an answer. The railroad donated its Askov, Minnesota depot to the Pine County Historical Society for a museum. GN also donated to the society depot furnishings and equipment including telegraph instruments, a torpedo box, ticket and tariff cases, train order hoops, three wall settees and a desk—all remaining as a part of the museum exhibit.

MAC'S SHAMROCK

Mac's Shamrock located at 1220 W. American Blvd. in Muleshoe are modern service stations where you will find the employees courteous and accommodating. They feature the best of high octane gasolines and all brands and weights of oil. When you stop at Mac's Shamrock they are willing to check your car completely. Besides just filling your gas tank they wash your windshield, check your oil, water and tires as you desire. Mac's Shamrock is your one stop station in these well known Shamrock oil products with the exception of car washing.

They will drain your oil adding the brand of oil you desire, change the oil filter and check your transmission grease. In this Good Neighbor Review we are proud to recommend Mac's Shamrock for their quality products and excellent service to you at a savings.

LOCAL FIREMEN ATTEND CHURCH TO HONOR SENIOR MEMBERS

The Panhandle Firefighters Association annual convention was held Friday and Saturday, May 1-2 at the Holiday Inn in Amarillo, with a banquet climaxing the meeting Saturday night.

Attending from Sudan were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Provence, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Taylor, and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Gordon. They returned home Sunday.

Study Club Meets

The 1935 Study Club met on their regular meeting date, April 27, 1970 with Mrs. W. V. Terry as hostess.

The motto for the meeting, "if you get wet in an April shower, don't surmise you're a May flower; get into dry clothes," was given by Mrs. Harold May.

Mrs. Frank Rone and Mrs. Weaver Barnett gave the roll call. Mrs. Jo Ann Ellison was program chairman and presented Mrs. J. R. Manning who gave the program by reading poems she has written over a period of time.

During the business session it was decided to hold the annual breakfast on May 16 at 9:30 a. m. in the home of Mrs. F. W. Watts.

The meeting concluded by repeating the club Collect.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Manning and another guest, Mrs. Adrian Martin and members, Barnett, Ellison, Gatewood, Hay, May, Nichols, Olds, Rone, Watts, White, and the hostess, Terry.

A service I can give to you, is something I should gladly do, Not in return or paying back, To recompense some kindly act, Not to expect, to long or yearn, For something given in return, But service I would gladly do, Because I'm really wanting to.

Why Do Jews Reject Christ?

By DAVE LLEWELLYN
Jews have more reasons to reject Jesus Christ — and yet more reasons to receive Him — than any other people in the world.

The early church was almost entirely Jewish — and so were its first persecutors. Over the next several centuries, however, the ratio reversed and, by the fourth century of the Christian era, Gentiles dominated the church and Gentile "Christians" began to persecute the Jews.

If antagonism is not now prominent, misgivings and memories are — and today there remain between many Christians and Jews considerable misunderstanding and, sometimes, mistrust.

One major contributor to this unfortunate friction is the way in which Christ is presented to Jewish people. Many believers indicate their fear of introducing their Jewish friends to Jesus by simply refusing to bring up the subject — apparently seeing the task as impossible.

They began in the Synagogues. Yet the repeated testimony concerning Paul and the other apostles is that "They began to proclaim the Word of God in the synagogues of the Jews" and "He powerfully refuted the Jews in public, demonstrating by the Scriptures that Jesus was the Christ." (Acts 13:5 and 18:28)

Such testimony indicates that there is a proper and effective way to present Jesus as the Christ — that is, the Messiah — to Jews.

The attitude of the presentation is crucial.

The past 2,000 years have given the Jewish people multitudes of reasons to distrust

Sunday School Lesson for May 10, 1970

Christians, so patience, and understanding, and operational fruits of the Spirit are essential for any witness to Jewish people.

The other essentials are the Old Testament and an inductive presentation.

The following four-question sequence has been suggested by a Hebrew Christian.

First — "Does it say anywhere in the Jewish Scriptures that God would have a Son?" Yes — "Who has established all the ends of the earth? What is His name and what is His Son's name, if you know?" (Proverbs 30:4. See also Psalm 2:7.)

Second — "Do the Jewish Scriptures say that God's Son would be God?" Yes — "Unto us a Child is born . . . and His name shall be called . . . Mighty God." (Isaiah 9:6. See also Jeremiah 23: 5, 6.)

Third — "Do they say that He would die?" Yes — "He was cut off out of the land of the living." (Isaiah 53: 8-10. See also Daniel 9: 25, 26.)

Fourth — "What do they say was to be the purpose of His death?" Answer — "He was cut off out of the land of the living for the transgression of My people, to whom the stroke was due . . . Thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin . . . He bare the sin of many and made intercession for the transgressors." (Isaiah 53: 8-14)

"To the Jew First" The New Testament says the Gospel is to go "to the Jew first, and also to the Greek (Gentile)."

There are 6,000,000 Jewish people in the United States — nearly half of the world Jewish population. What better place to return to "the Jew first"? Copyright Dave Llewellyn 1970

What Is Answer To Drug Problem?

What is the answer to the problem of drugs? What advice should be given to young people wondering whether they should experiment with drugs to enlarge their understanding of themselves?

Conflicting advice comes from many sources.

Here is some advice from young people who have had experience with drugs.

A young university student — Andy Anderson — committed suicide by dousing himself and his car with gasoline, then starting a fire. He left a note, in which he said:

"Please forgive me, parents, for quitting after you have raised me, but I cannot live with myself any longer."

"Don't"
"This Christmas I had a very bad experience with a drug called marijuana. I have smoked a little pot before . . . but I tried marijuana only once. Since then I have not been in control of my mind. I have killed myself because I can no longer run my own affairs and I can only be trouble and worry to those who love and care for me. I have tried to straighten myself out, but things are only getting worse. . . ."

"To those of my friends who might also think about learning about themselves with mind-expanding drugs — don't."

A tragic end to a life which had been full of promise. Is there any hope for a young person who becomes addicted to drugs?

Yes, there is. Catherine Marshall, in the May issue of "Guideposts," tells of meeting a young couple — Jeff and Carrie Buddington — who had tried marijuana, LSD, and speed (amphetamines). Jeff told of enjoying the "highs" of drugs at first—then feeling "something evil reaching out to possess me. Crazy images appeared in my mind. . . . I could feel the control over myself slipping away."

His wife, he said, "felt something like this, too."

But they were fortunate. They met some Christians—real Christians — who were interested in them. They went to the community where these people lived.

"It was in this Christian community that we began at last to find answers," Jeff said.

"One You're Searching For"

"One day, all by ourselves, we had our own Pentecost and accepted Jesus. Later we were both baptized in the creek and also legally married. People came from everywhere for the wedding — hippies still on acid, and straight people. We spent the whole day telling them all, 'Jesus is the One you're searching for!'"

His young wife, Carrie, said, "The Holy Spirit has power . . . greater power than the unholy spirit. . . . He enabled us to kick drugs in a matter of days when we'd been on them for so many years — and that's a miracle."

It's tragic that the young man who killed himself did not know of the power that is able to set people free — even from drug addiction.

The Bible says, "Ye shall know the truth — and the truth shall make you free."

The best answer to the problem of drug abuse is for young people to take the advice of those who have learned the hard way — don't do it.

For those who are already hooked, there is a way out. It is the way that Jeff and Carrie Buddington found.

Bride-Elect Honored

Miss Donna Joan Gaston, bride-elect of Gordon Houston Green, was honored with a luncheon Monday at Hemphill-Wells Gold Room. The brides colors of yellow and green were used in table decorations and a centerpiece of yellow daisies were used.

Hostess gift was linens.

Special guests were Mrs. Joan Gaston and Mrs. Guy Nickels, mother and grandmother of the honoree, and Mrs. Ruby Green and Mrs. Gordon Duncan of Muleshoe, mother and grandmother of the prospective bridegroom. Other guests were Misses Susan Gaston, Janie Brown, Sheila Howard, Andrea Thomason, Deann McKinley, and Diane Bryant.

Hostesses were Mesdames Donnie Cowart, Bob Drake, Glenn

Gatewood, E. C. Minyard, Radney Nichols, and F. M. Smith.

Miss Gaston and Mr. Green plan to marry May 30 in the First United Methodist Church of Sudan.
