FORTY-SIXTH YEAR, NUMBER 17

SUDAN, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS

THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1970

WOODWORK BY DALTON

SOME OF US have been guilty in the past of accusing the nation's youth of drifting away from the old-fashioned and honored traditions of marriage and raising families and accepting responsibility.

We have known all along that this wasn't the case with most of the youth in this part of the country, but from this distant viewpoint it has seemed at times that those in the Far West and up north are more interested in free love of the type which flaunts morals and traditions, such as that illustrated by John and Yoku Ono, or however it is spelled. We've heard a lot about hippies everywhere living together and having orgies (and babies) without bothering with such details as marriage.

But a cheerful note comes from the Gilbert National Youth Poll, which, according to an article by Newspaper Enterprise Association, asked 3,000 young people aged 14-25 across the nation about their marital expectations.

Twenty per cent were already married, while 74 per cent expected to get married. Reversing what has come to be the traditional role of the male as a reluctant bridegroom, the figures showed 79 per cent of the males endorsing the institution of marriage compared to 69 per cent of the females.

Only five per cent of those checked indicated that they never planned to get married. Further, the NEA story commented:

"Almost 60 per cent of married respondents have children. Ninety-two per cent of those who did not said they did plan to have children. This, in fact, was overwhelmingly the reaction across all the categories. Having children is definitely in."

Incidentally, half of those checked said they planned to have three or more children, which may not do much for the overpopulation problem.

No Power Shortage Seen

"Don't hold back. Use all the electric power you want whenever and wherever you want in the 45,000 square mile area that we serve. There is no electric power shortage in this part of the country," Roy Tolks, president of the Southwestern Public Service Company, said today.

The statement of the electric company president was made as a result of frequent articles in national magazines and other media which leave the implication that the whole nation faces a power shortage not only this year but "in the decade ahead", as one publication put it.

"At the end of last year, when we announced our plans to invest $25,000,000 in new plant equipment this year, I said, 'there'll be no blackouts in our service area in 1970.' That still goes. I'll add at this time that there won't be any in the near future, either, as long as we have the right to plan our own future without outside interference. We have a responsibility to meet the electric service needs of this area and we have done the planning required to carry out that responsibility," Tolks continued.

Funeral Held For Mrs. Vest

Funeral services for Mrs. Corliss Puckett Vest, 67, who died Wednesday in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, were held at 2:30 p. m. Friday, June 12, in the First Baptist Church. Rev. J. R. Manning, pastor, officiated, and the Rev. Wayne Perry, a Lubbock minister, assisted.

Burial was in the Sudan Cemetery under direction of Hammons Funeral Home, Littlefield.

A native of Upshur County, Texas, she lived in Sudan one and a half years. She was previously a resident of Littlefield for two years and of Brownfield 25 years. She was a member of the Sudan First Baptist Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Bobby Markham of some companies and to telephone others whose organizations are interested in expansion to tell them of the availability of electric power and other resources in this area. We have outstanding people, lots of space for expansion, a superb climate and energy reserves. Not many areas can say that these days and all of us should work to benefit from these advantages," Tolks concluded.

Southwestern Public Service Company has generating capability reserves that are 18% greater than the peak load which has been predicted for 1970.

"That's like saying you have $118 put aside to pay a $100 bill that you owe," Tolks pointed out.

Adequate reserves are normally considered to be generating capability that is equal to the largest single generating unit on your system. Southwestern's reserve capability for 1970 exceeds that margin of safety by nearly 100,000 kilowatts.

Southwestern is already looking down the line at its next 500,000 kilowatts of electric generating capability. At the present time, a 210,000 kilowatt unit, the first in a new facility southeast of Lubbock, is under construction and is scheduled to go into service in mid-1971. Projected units of 289,000 kilowatts of capability are in the planning stage for 1973 and beyond.

"With the help of our area department and in cooperation with other local industrial development groups, I have started to write to presidents of Sudan, and Mrs. Rudolph Gracy of Flagstaff, Ariz.; four sisters, Mrs. Johnny Kropp of Cottonwood, Ariz., Beulah Puckett of Lockney, and Mrs. B. W. Hemphill and Mrs. Tom Wainwright, both of Longview; two brothers, Haden Puckett of Sweetwater, and Jeff Puckett of Midland; one grandson, and four granddaughters.

Pallbearers were Dick West, Gayle Brown, Dexter Baker, Billy Chester, Noel Lumpkin, Paul Provence.

interference. We have a responsibility to meet the electric service needs of this area and we have done the planning required to carry out that responsibility," Tolks continued.

SAND HITS CROPS

"As much as 1500 acres of young cotton in the Sudan-Amherst area was destroyed by the devastating sand storms Thursday and Saturday, according to Jake Moreland, field supervisor for the Lamb County ASC office in Littlefield. The damage was spotted with the crops north of Sudan reported to have received the highest rate of destruction. Thursday was recorded as one of the worst dust storms for our area in the past year. The high wind velocity moved many tons of top soil from one field to another destroying tender cotton plants in the process.

Moreland reported that the number of acres destroyed or damaged could go much higher as many farmers who still have 65% of their cotton remaining are simply replanting other crops without reporting the loss. Moreland said that accurate measurements of cotton and grain sorghums will be made in August.

Farmers who have planted cotton which was destroyed, may get a release from the ASC office and replant grain sorghums and still receive their price support payments.

Also farmers who have not planted due to adverse weather conditions, including lack of moisture, are eligible for the preventive planting program which enables them to receive acreage credit for their cotton, thereby qualifying them for price support payments. However, these farmers cannot plant these allotted acres with other crops.

Although the grain sorghums have been damaged by the sand, wind and rain of the past several weeks, it is thought that most of it will survive.

As the forecasters see it, barring further adverse weather, the county stands to have a fair cotton crop for this season.

It has been several years since most Lamb County farmers have "endured" bumper crops. Maybe next year....

SCIENCE SKETCHES

TINY GLASS BEADS found on the moon's surface may be a clue to its origin, scientists report. Presence of the beads, says one expert, suggests volcanic activity at one time, while another thinks a giant explosion on the sun glazed some of the moon's surface, creating the glass-like particles.

Electric Air Conditioning? NO QUESTION ABOUT IT!!!

OVER 30 YEARS OF PROVEN DEPENDABILITY

Just like your refrigerator, electric air conditioning uses the same experience-proven method of cooling. A dependable compressor keeps on cooling no matter how high the outside temperature.

LOW OPERATING COST

Before you buy, be sure you have complete information. Electric air conditioning saves you money when you buy and because it uses only electricity and free air, your operating cost is low... no extra installation costs, either!

NO LOSS OF EFFICIENCY BECAUSE OF ALTITUDE

Our area is several thousand feet above sea level yet electric air conditioning is not adversely affected. It does its cooling job as efficiently as if it were at sea level. An important point to consider when buying.

CHOICE OF BRANDS

There are 58 manufacturers of electric air conditioning and all major brands are available in our area. Brands in your area are listed in the Yellow Pages or identified on your neighborhood dealer's store front.

CHOICE OF SIZES

Only electric air conditioning offers the right size for your cooling job. Too large a unit makes your first cost unnecessarily high; too small runs up operating cost. Electric air conditioning can save you money on both counts.

COMPLETE SERVICE

The principle of electric air conditioning is so well understood and the parts so easy to change that any air conditioning man can give you service quickly should you ever need it.

THOUGHT FOR MOTIVATION

There's something in our daily acts
That's telling folks a lot of facts,
They judge the life that we display
From what we daily do and say.
One thing about the walks of men,
They leave their tracks where they have been,
The place we're going in and out,
Leave tracks that tell what we're about.
