WOODWORK TIME CHANGES!

AT ONE South Texas school recently the administration was having a lot of trouble with a series of false bomb threats, until the school principal managed to bring it all to a sudden halt.

Every time someone would phone in a bomb threat, or leave a note, classes were dismissed while officers searched in vain for explosives. This happened so often that the principal decided that time lost from classes would be made up on Saturdays.

There were no more bomb threats.

RICE Institute last year made history of some sort by having the man and woman of the year pictured in the nude in the yearbook. So this year there are more nudes in the Rice annual, we're told (I haven't seen one). The current edition features such things as a picture of Eva Braun and Adolf Hitler with the caption, "Welcome to Rice, Party School of the Southwest."

Other than the nudes there are some other pictures in bad taste, according to reports.

Paul Hester, editor of the annual, says he believes the edition is "unique in its... approach to college life."

So would be the dumping of all the college sewers into the hallway of the administration building, I guess, and this may come next.

It's rather surprising that Rice, long noted for its high academic standards, would allow such action that is beginning to give Rice a reputation for something at the other end of the scale.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:
Since when are Texans incapable of making up their own minds on how to vote?

I notice that the Republican nominee for the Senate, George Bush, is importing people from several other states to do his campaigning for him. These include Vice President Agnew, Sen. Dole of Kansas, Congressman Morton of Maryland, Secretary of the Interior Hickel (former Gov. of Alaska), and it is rumored that Bush is even trying to get President Nixon down to bat for him.

This is not to discredit these individuals, but let us not forget their purpose in coming is to persuade Texas voters.

You don't see Lloyd Bentsen, the Democratic nominee for Senator, bringing in names and people from Washington, D. C., to attract attention.

I say let's put a true native son in the Senate. Let's elect Lloyd Bentsen on Nov. 3. Sincerely,
Glenn Batson

TIME CHANGES!

Sleep! Here it is at last, what most people have been waiting six months for; that hour of sleep that you lost in April when the time changed to daylight savings time. All clocks will be set back one hour when the time changed back at midnight Saturday.

However, several of the local preachers asked that residents wait until after church services to change their clocks, enabling them to get to church on time Sunday morning.

Mail Routes Change

Beginning October 31, residents who reside on the mail routes, even if they live in the city limits, will be eligible to receive mail delivery at their home. This will be available if the residents comply with certain standards set up by the postal department.

If you live on the route (to be sure that you reside on the route check the detailed map of the postal routes elsewhere in this edition of this newspaper) you must place a mailbox next to the street with the box approximately 40 inches from the ground where it may be serviced from a car. The box must be installed before October 31 and you must also sign a change of address at the local post office, according to Sudan postmaster Ken Minyard.

If further information is needed, contact Minyard at the post office.

The Sudan Hornets flew high Friday night as they defeated the Hart Longhorns 59-6 for their second conference win.

Early in the ballgame Hornet FB Steve Edwards ran 45 yards for the Hornets first touchdown. The kick was not good and the Hornets led 6 to 0. The Hornets defense stopped the Longhorns, forcing them to punt on a fourth down. The Hornets again were on the move as Weaver made a 63 yard run to the Longhorn 12 yard line. On the next play HB McNabb ran 12 yards for another Hornet score with Kim Ingram kicked the extra point to give the Hornets a 13 to 0 lead.

The Hornet defense again stopped the Longhorns on downs, giving the Hornets the ball again. HB Roger Boyles scrambled over from the 22 yard line for another Hornet touchdown. Ingram kicked the extra point, so the Hornets now led 20-0. Late in the first quarter Gregory McNabb intercepted a Longhorn pass and the Hornets moved to the 2 yard line where they fumbled and the Longhorns recovered just before the first quarter ended.

The Longhorns were forced to give up the ball early in the second quarter as the Hornet defense again held, forcing them to punt on a fourth and long yardage. The next time the Longhorns were trying hard to get to moving the ball, but Gregory McNabb intercepted a Longhorn pass on the 20 yard line and ran to the 12 yard line. On the next play David Weaver ran 12 yards for another Hornet touchdown. The kick was off to the left, so the Hornets led 26 to 0. Late in the second quarter Johnny King recovered a Longhorn fumble on the 32 yard line.

Local Store Burglarized

Roark Jewelry was burglarized once again early Monday morning. The break-in was discovered when Mr. Cody of Cody Cleaners noticed the front door was open when he came to work Monday. Upon investigation, it was discovered that the burglar had broken the lock on the front door, then shattered the glass and reached inside to unlatch the remaining lock.

Barefoot prints were found inside the shop by Mrs. Roark and Deputy Sheriff Homer McLamby and City Marshal Glyn Williams followed the tracks to the Sudan Hotel where a suspect Ronald Hernandez, 19, was arrested at approximately 9 a. m.

Hernandez showed the officers where he had hidden the rings taken during the robbery. Jewelry valued at some $950.00 was recovered.

The suspect remains in the Lamb County jail under $2,000 bond.

Olan Roark, owner, stated that his business has been robbed six times during the 17 years he has been in business here but this was the fastest that it has ever been solved.

Also in jail at Littlefield is Juan Manuel Martinez, 18, who was arrested for burglary of Central Express on Sept. 14, when some $500 of wrenches were taken from the company's shop. He was arrested by Glyn Williams and equipment was recovered. His bond has been set at $2,000.00.

election to be held.

At present, according to Mayor Reed, Sudan is perhaps the only city in the area who does not have a city sales tax. If the voters of Sudan voted to levy a sales tax, it would be a one per cent tax with the revenue to go into the general fund.

City secretary, Miss Dorothy Jones, reminded citizens of the increase in the natural gas rates which will go into effect on bills dated November 15. This will be a 13 per cent increase.

LOCAL MAN PREDICTS AREA FREEZE-DATE

Jerry Price was named winner of the KDAV - Freeze Contest this week and received a pair of Tony Lama lizard-skin boots. Price predicted October 9 at 6 a. m. as the freeze-date for the area with the Lubbock radio station receiving the 32-degree weather at 5:40 a. m. October 9, giving Price only a 20 minute leeway from the actual time.

The Student Council met early Wednesday morning and discussed varied topics. They chose a discussion topic to use at the SPASC District meeting to be held in Littlefield in December. The last preparations toward the Powder Puff game were decided upon.

The Powder Puff game was played Tuesday night and it was really a good game. The Bustin Broads barely ran past the Bruisin Beauties with a score of 6-0. During halftime, sweethearts were crowned. They were Geraldina Lollabrigida (Gerold Chisholm) escorted by Pam Nix and James Beachemridge (James Black) escorted by Susan Gaston. Also Zery Zery Gabor (Jerry Price) escorted by Cecie Bandy and Brucea Streisand escorted by Linda Sloan. They were presented flowers and were carried around the field in a 1970 Dumbuggy.

The Student Council appreciates the support given by the people of Sudan in making this game a success. We hope you enjoyed it.

The Student Council went to Whiteface Wednesday to talk to students of Whiteface High School on developing a Student Council. Dale Read will transport the officers to Whiteface.

What Secrets To Keep

By DAVE LLEWELLYN
Here's a secret: don't tell anybody, but most people can't keep a secret. You already knew that? I suspected you might. Sometimes it seems the only real secret left is how to keep a secret secret.

The problem of keeping private information private was satirized recently in The Saturday Review by Goodman Ace, who envisioned a woman explaining to a friend, "I have a secret I can't tell. Not that I think you'll tell it to anyone, but the people you tell it to might tell it."

People generally agree that a person's religion should be a private matter — a personal secret. And generally people have less trouble keeping quiet about their religion than about almost anything else. In part, that's how it is supposed to be.

For the most part, though, it is precisely the opposite of what God intended.

We are opposed to God's pronounced will if we keep quiet about our personal friendship with the Father and with Jesus.

Not Secret Club
Knowing Jesus is not a "club members only" opportunity. It is a privilege open to everyone. So we tell people openly.

The Bible's beautiful truths will remain secrets to many people who could find new life in them — "if our Gospel be hid it is hid to those who are lost" — but God wants them to know.

Secrecy among Christians is most common concerning sins. "After all," we reason, "how can I be a testimony to Christ if I go around admitting that I still sin?" Sin, however, is seldom secret, and a Christian hiding sin is a testimony to hypocrisy.

to each other and pray for each other."

It is not our failures that God wants to be kept secret. God is a realist, and He wants us all to be, too.

So, sometimes, secrecy is wrong. When sharing Jesus with the world or sharing the fellowship of our Father with other believers — then it is wrong to be silent.

Silence Can Be Golden
Solomon taught, "There is a time to keep silence, and a time to speak." We have seen when God wants us to speak, but when should we keep silent?

Keep silent about your acts of righteousness.

Jesus warned that to call attention to your righteousness is to rob yourself: "Take heed that you do not your righteousness before men, to be seen of them: else you have no reward of your Father which is in heaven."

Specifically about prayer He said, "Having shut your door, pray to your Father Who is in secret, and your Father Who sees in secret shall recompense you."

Jesus suggests that special intimacies between the Father and an individual believer are possible, if they are exchanged in secret, and thereafter kept secret. In this relationship, unseen acts of righteousness are pure praise to God.

Here lie the pleasures of a truly personal friendship. The greatest believers of all times have all had this underlying, incommunicable fellowship with God.

Jesus' message must not be kept secret. But, beyond your public relationship with God, cultivate a secret, private fellowship.

SUPPORT SOUGHT FOR AMENDMENT 3

Broad-based support for Constitutional Amendment Number 3 was announced by W. T. Crouch of Itasca, Texas, newly elected chairman of the Keep Texas Productive and Green Committee.
"The amendment is designed to lift the tax burden on agricultural land and this will benefit all Texans," Crouch explained. "Sportsmen will enjoy lower cost hunting and fishing leases and find them more readily available; housewives will be afforded a possible solution to the problem of spiraling food prices; and our precious open spaces will be preserved, for all to enjoy."
"Property taxes on agricultural land are increasing at an alarming rate across Texas and many farmers, ranchers and foresters are literally being driven out of business," Crouch said. "The amendment will provide a uniform method of property assessment whereby the land is taxed according to its productivity instead of its market value."
A former president of the Texas School Board Association, Crouch feels that Texas, as one of the country's most agriculturally productive states, must stop "using the land as a supporting base for all state enterprises that our modern society needs and demands." He added, "this is economically unfeasible and an economic impossibility."

LOCAL SCHOOL NURSE

The pilots, Jon Martin and Larry Collier, and meteorologist, Curtis Smith, are being transferred to the hail suppression project in Kenya, Africa.

Amendment No.3
A "GREEN BELT LAW" FOR TEXAS

TEXAS FARMERS, RANCHERS and timber growers in more and more areas in or near urban sprawls are caught in a squeeze for their economic lives. And it is up to Texas voters on November 3 to do something about it—or take their consequences of depending on imports from other states and foreign countries for their food, fibre and shelter in the future.
When taxed as land speculators instead of as farmers, there are going to be fewer and fewer farmers and less and less productivity of our lands. This means loss of food for our tables, fibre for our clothing, and timber to build our homes and places of business. Texas could drop from the most productive, self-sufficient state in the nation to an economic condition of dependency.
The decision rests on the passage or defeat of Constitutional Amendment No. 3 in the General Election when everyone—Democrat, Republican or Independent—can have their say.
Amendment No. 3 reads:
FOR OR AGAINST . . . "the constitutional amendment to authorize the Legislature to provide by law for the establishment of a uniform method of assessment of ranch, farm, and forest lands, which shall be based upon the capability of such lands to support the raising of livestock and/or to produce farm and forest crops."
Passage of the amendment is necessary to rectify agricultural lands being taxed on speculative prices. It would remedy, for example, the situation whereby all agricultural production land in an area is taxed at a $2,000 per acre "market value" solely because one farm or ranch in the same area sold to a developer for industrial, commercial or residential use at a $2,000 per acre speculative price.
An amendment seeking to achieve substantially this remedy was adopted by Texas voters in 1965. It has proven unworkable. The Texas Farm Bureau reports several legal suits have been filed by landowners since 1966, but to date, no court case has been finally settled in a manner to establish a working precedent for tax assessors and landowners to follow. Meantime, the urban sprawl has picked up speed and farm real estate taxes in some areas have jumped from 50 to as much as 550 percent in just the past five years.

Recognizing that the state's economy is still related directly or indirectly to the productivity of the land, the Legislature wisely has given the public another opportunity to retain its agricultural self-sufficiency. Amendment 3 encourages full production of agricultural land right up until it is actually converted to "higher use." At which time, it is generally agreed by agriculturalist proponents of the amendment, that the Legislature would provide a law calling for a "roll back." That would mean the tax assessor could go back a specified number of years and levy an additional tax for each of these specified years just previous to the land being diverted from agricultural production to commercial, industrial or residential use.
In most of the 25 states now having this system, it is called "The Green Belt Law." As the cities under this law push outward and onward over more and more agricultural lands, there is no tax penalty that would discourage the land staying in agricultural production until a specific urban development comes along converting it to one of the aforesaid "higher uses."
These states have prudently recognized that upping agricultural land taxes to the level of the land speculator cannot be offset by any amount of improvement in agricultural yield per acre.
The Green Belt concept has some appeal to urbanites who give it thought.

Other than that, it would take an incredible stretch of the imagination to conceive of an urban dominated Legislature coming up with an enabling act that would give any farmer a tax consideration over city dwellers. And urban dominated will be the Legislature that acts on the laws authorized by Amendment No. 3. The historical rural majority orientation of Texas' 31 Senators and 150 House Members ended with the last redistricting. The 1970 census will remove the last vestiges of rural dominance in Texas lawmaking. So what farmers get henceforth, as before, must be on merit, and with consideration to city dwellers.
None of the partisans for Amendment No. 3 hold any hope whatsoever that any taxes will be decreased as a result of it. They consider, however, that the ad valorem (property) tax has become an ever increasing, inequitable tax burden. Passage of Amendment 3 conceivably could open the door to needed ad valorem tax reform for the rural and city dwellers alike.
Since 25 states already have the "Green Belt Law" and since Texas voters previously approved a constitutional amendment of like import that unfortunately proved unworkable for the purpose intended, no opposition would reasonably be expected to develop for voter approval of Amendment 3 on November 3.
As a dedicated evangel of Texas growth in industry, in improvement of the quality of Texas life (both urban and rural), and greater appreciation of our state's heritage, TEXAS PARADE takes this unusual opportunity to endorse Amendment Number 3, in full confidence the Legislature of the future will lay out ground rules that are fair, equitable, and will promote the greater productivity, beauty, glory and orderly development of Texas. ☆☆☆

Gas Rates To Increase

In a joint statement made Friday, Fred Poe, chairman of the Steering Committee of West Texas Municipal Utilities Committee, and K. B. Watson, executive vice president of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, announced agreement on a proposed rate increase for natural gas used in 34 West Texas cities.

The agreement came in the form of a recommendation to the governing bodies of the member cities for a 13 percent increase in the cost of gas effective on billings dated on or after November 15, 1970. The recommendation also included a provision for a gas rate adjustment to Pioneer based on the cost of gas during the calendar year to become effective on April 1 of the following year.

Pioneer agreed to provide each city a verified statement by March 1, of the field cost of gas for the prior year to determine the rate adjustment for the following year.

The first such adjustment report will be delivered to each city by March 1, 1971, for action by April 1, 1971, to become effective April 15, 1971.

The governing body of each member city of the West Texas and The Bluebirds.

Year pins were awarded to the following girls: Renay Jordan, Pam Nelson, Bernadette May, Terri Chester, and Carolyn Carpenter. Girl Scout badges were awarded to Lesha Beavers and Sherli Templeton.

Those attending were Mesdames Calvin Jordan, Harold May, Billy Chester, Bob Nelson, Jimmy Carpenter, and leaders Mrs. Bill Adams, Mrs. James Farmer and Mrs. John Williams.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Marx or Bible In Classroom?

Angela Davis is a Communist. She says so, herself. Until recently, she has been an instructor at the University of California at Los Angeles. Now she is a fugitive from the FBI, since it has been revealed that she is the owner of the shotgun which killed a judge who was kidnapped from his San Rafael, Calif., courtroom by self-proclaimed revolutionaries.

How important is it to have on our college and university faculties only men and women who teach and advocate loyalty to our American ideals?

Faculty Members Involved
The mayor of Madison, Wis., has said, "We've had continuing illustrations in the city of Madison of involvement by faculty members in the creation of disorder, lending support to disorder, and, in fact, advocating it."

Madison, you know, is the city where the University of Wisconsin is located—where, on August 24, the Army Mathematics Research Center was bombed, resulting in the death of Robert Fassnacht.

U.S. News and World Report says that Rep. Edith Green (Dem., Oregon), whose special House sub-committee held more than four months of hearings on campus unrest, has stated, "I am convinced there would be no campus riots if it weren't for some faculty members."

Is it true that violence of this sort is stirred up by some members of university faculties?

Rep. Green, who has investigated this matter, says so. Mayor Dyke, of Madison, Wis., says so. Others agree that radical faculty members have had a damaging influence on students.

Is it easier to be a practicing Communist in our universities now than to be a practicing Christian?

Here's one case that you may find interesting in this connection: the case of Max Lynch, professor of mathematics at Indiana State University.

Professor Lynch says, "I am now in my 10th year as a professor of mathematics at Indiana State University in Terre Haute, and from where I stand, it really looks bad for higher education in America."

"Immorality, drug use, and the number of Godless, atheistic professors are on the increase. We've had several Communists speak on Indiana State campus."

"For years I've been struggling to maintain a Christian witness on the campus. Two years ago, University officials informed me that I was not allowed . . . to have any religious material in my room . . . no religious symbols, nothing pertaining to religion, and that included reading my Bible."

"I have continued to read the Bible in my classes, against the wishes of the university. Now, my dismissal is being discussed by the administration."

"Can you imagine—a faculty member being fired in America for reading the Bible?"

Word of Warning
"The Bible has a word of warning for people who reject it. Here it is: 'Whoso despiseth the word shall be destroyed.'"

The prophet Isaiah was more specific: "Therefore as the fire devoureth the stubble, and the flame consumeth the chaff, so their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up in dust, because they have cast away the law of the Lord."

What can we look forward to if we continue to despise the Bible and prefer to allow Communists to practice their creed in our colleges, rather than Christians?

HOW CROP DOLLARS ARE SPENT

Information concerning what a dollar or five dollars given to CROP can accomplish has been requested.

Below are some quotable figures for this purpose. Please understand, however, CROP and CWS respond to needs overseas on the basis of what is requested by people there. For example, perhaps CROP and CWS will be requested only to provide the dried fruit or milk, fertilizer or pesticide listed in the examples rather than the whole diet or farming needs. These figures are examples only of what can happen if CROP is requested to fulfill the whole need rather than part of it. With this precautionary note, here are the examples of what your dollar given to CROP can accomplish assuming CROP is asked to provide this kind of help.

Through CROP you can help a farmer grow crops to sell at the market place. For $8.20 you can provide enough insecticide, fertilizer, and seed for a farmer to cultivate and harvest an acre of cabbage; for $10.60, an acre of beans.

$1.00 given to CROP can provide: $15.00 worth of vegetable seeds, or twenty pounds of dried fruit, or 250 eight-ounce servings of milk, or 200 servings of dried fruit, or 10 pounds of high protein supplement (80 "servings"), or 1 small hand tool, or help drill wells and clear land in India to benefit over 350,000 people in one area alone, or help train young farmers in the Congo.

one serving of high protein supplement. This would exceed the needed protein and caloric minimum daily requirements so desperately needed by the "typical" hungry person of the world.

Twenty-five dollars would feed this child for one whole year!

WATER LEADERS CONDUCT MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Water leaders from throughout West Texas, Eastern New Mexico and the Oklahoma Panhandle will converge on Lubbock Saturday, Oct. 24, to launch an area-wide membership drive for Water, Inc. The kickoff meeting is slated at the In Town Inn and will be concluded with a luncheon.

Chairman of the membership committee of Water, Inc., is Gaston Wells, Dumas, the organization's first vice president. Wells said that officers of the organization's county units and county membership committee chairmen will attend the Lubbock meeting along with the organization's officers and directors.

There are currently about 2,200 active members in Water, Inc., and directors have set a goal of 3,000 by the annual meeting in mid-February.

The special emphasis on membership will extend through November with solicitation teams working in virtually every community served by Water, Inc.

Water, Inc., activities are financed through membership dues, each member pledging an annual contribution to the work. In addition to financing, each individual member is encouraged to become a leader in the educational drive for water resource development.

Water, Inc., is a "grassroots" organization working toward adequate future water for all. It played a lead role in development of the Texas Water Plan and is currently working toward implementation of the plan which calls for importation of water into areas of scarcity.

DPS ACCIDENT REPORT

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated six accidents on rural highways in Lamb County during the month of September, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in four persons injured and an estimated property damage of $5,320.00.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first nine months of 1970 shows a total of 82 accidents resulting in four persons killed, 36 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $72,953.00.

Total traffic accidents in Texas during the last twenty years have increased from 200,000 in 1950 to approximately one million in 1969. Total number of persons injured in traffic accidents has increased from 69,000 in 1959 to 223,000 in 1969. Total number of persons killed in traffic accidents has increased from 2,410 in 1950 to 3,551 in 1969.

The Sergeant reminded all Texas motorists that vehicles bearing red motor vehicle inspection stickers with the large black numeral "10" in the lower left-hand corner of the windshield must be reinspected before midnight, October 31.
