WOODWORK

BY DALTON

WHEN PARENTS get a call from a school principal they usually know right away they've got trouble. But a Decatur, Ill., principal has a policy which no doubt is appreciated by parents.

The principal for the last four months has made calls to many parents saying something like this:

"I just want to tell you that your son is doing very well in class and is very cooperative. We want to congratulate you." His teachers also make the calls. Some of the parents probably haven't recovered from the shock yet.

REAGAN BROWN, extension rural sociologist with the Agricultural Extension Service, recently suggested (with tongue in cheek) that the eagle should be replaced as a national symbol by the cow, sow or hen. He pointed out that the cow, sow and hen have made a great contribution to American progress. "They pushed across our frontiers with our ancestors and have fed our people, and have been sources of great income," he said.

Texas writer Milt Hartsell analyzed Brown's comments and, in part, had this to say:

"Brown says he believes 'Old Bossy' should replace the eagle's place of honor in our society. In support of his opinion, he COW-culates that the milk-producers have long been over-worked and underpaid and certainly haven't shared any great amount of limelight, in this country, down through the years.

"In case we are steering you down the wrong trail, we had better stipulate that Reagan's patriotism is not in question here, it is only a matter of his paying personal tribute to the bovine kingdom... probably for services rendered in his early youth."

"As a matter of mirth, I wonder if he ever thought of some of the consequences that might occur if his idea ever caught fire and the change were to be made.

"A point open for discussion would concern our songs of heritage. It is most likely that such a dramatic switch would produce new national theme songs.

"Such hit-parade possibilities as, 'The Star Spangled Brahma,' 'Under the Double Angus,' 'America, the Butterful,' and 'My Cow-town Tis of There' would probably emerge and pop groups such as 'Three Cow Night' would sing such songs as the 'Jersey Bounce'."

He said more, but that's all I could stand.

Saturday saw the Angels come-out on top of the game with the Braves, 13-6, and the Cubs rallied in the final inning to edge the Dodgers, 12-11.

The Cardinals came on strong in their opening game and home runs were hit by Edgar Tamplin, Jerry Williams, and Kyle Martin to aid in the 25-0 score. Craig Pickett was the pitcher for the Cardinals while Rocky Cowart and T. Williams controlled the mound for the Dodgers.

The Angels took a 5-1 lead at the end of the first inning in their game against the Braves. Both teams scored three runs in the final inning including a homerun by Steve Ritchie for the Angels. Also scoring for the Angels were Joel Williams, Billy Williams, Mike Jones, Randy Scott, Mike Read and Donald Doty. Most team members got hits during the game.

The Dodgers were leading 8-3 at the top of the fourth when Sudan changed pitcher and catcher. The Cubs seemed to take this as a spark and really came alive to score nine runs and down the Dodgers by one point in the final inning. McLaughlin pitched for the Cubs with Kenny Williams and Craig Doty on the mound for the Dodgers. Rocky Cowart hit a homerun for Sudan with Fluellen and Peel hitting homers for Amherst.

Friday, the Braves will host the Cardinals while the Cubs come to Sudan to play the Angels.

Saturday will see the Dodgers going to Amherst to meet the Braves while the Cardinals and Angels battle in Sudan.

As it is impossible for staff members to keep scores of all the Little League games, we are asking that the scorekeepers of each team please call the news office with the official scores, runs and other highlights of the game. LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Sir:
I have read dozens of newspaper stories and "letters to the editor" and not one have I seen which discussed Amendment One fairly or even objectively.

Amendment One was prepared by a group of citizens throughout the state even before our present legislature was elected. The Ethics Commission which would be so created would be appointed by the Judiciary over which legislators have absolute no control.

The big lie which has been carried by all state papers in its "letters to the editor" reflect this is a subterfuge for legislators to get a pay raise. The facts are salaries will be left as they are or adjusted only by the Ethics Commission. The legislature has only the power to accept or reject any change.

The truth of the matter is this plan has worked well in many states. In giving a fine balance of representation in the legislature.

Finally, why have Texans resisted all efforts to raise legislators' salaries? The answer is simple. Obviously any effort on the part of us, as legislators, to campaign for a raise would be resented. As a result those who fall for the communist line "that all elected officials are bad", have their heyday.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

For use in a serious research of Texas weather, I need to contact as many people as possible who have first-hand knowledge of storms, drought, floods, and so on.

Especially desired is information pertaining to the drought and depression of the 1930's.

Do you suppose there are those around who recall the great government cattle shooting episode during the summer of 1934? Oral accounts and photographs of this would be most welcome.

Any help you can give me will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,
Roy Sylvan Dunn

GOVERNMENT MAN TO BE HERE

Congressman Bob Price announced today that his district representative, Charles Lanehart, will be in Lamb County on May 12 to assist local residents with any problems they may have with the federal government.

Lanehart will be at the Court House in Littlefield from 9 a. m. to noon and 1 p. m. to 5 p. m.

"I find that with each passing year my legislative workload becomes heavier in Washington and it is becoming more and more difficult for me to be in each of the 28 counties in our district on a regular basis. For this reason, I have made arrangements for Lanehart to be in each county in the 18th district as frequently as possible, hopefully once a month," Price said.

FIRST TRAFFIC SAFETY LAW—Gov. Preston Smith congratulates sponsors after signing the first traffic safety bill passed by the 62nd Legislature. The sponsors are, left to right, Rep. Jim Nugent, Kerrville; Sen. Jim Bates, Edinburg; and Frank Calhoun, Abilene. The new law changes many provisions of Texas law to conform with the uniform traffic code being enacted by many states across the country. Several more new traffic laws still await legislative action. While signing the bill, the Governor called for a "crack-down" by law enforcement officials in the fight against traffic violators.

HAIL SUPPRESSION PERMIT GRANTED

A California firm, Atmospherics Inc., received a permit from the Texas Water Development Board last week to conduct hail suppression operations in this area, including the southeast corner of Lamb County, from May through October.

Both the "for" and "against" groups were in Austin for the hearing last week when it was decided that no evidence was found that last year's program caused a rainfall reduction. A permit for rain stimulation was denied by the board as it was considered entirely separate from the hail suppression permit and legal requirements had not been met to secure the permit. A hearing for the rain stimulation permit will be held at a later date.

Supporters hope to reduce crop-damaging hail by aerial seeding of selected clouds with silver iodide. About 550 backers contributed $128,600 to finance the area program.

TOPS Club Has Meeting

Sudan was well represented at the TOPS State Convention at Amarillo Friday and Saturday. Attending the workshops Friday were Oleta Reece, Thelma Gage, Veda Terrell, Ruth Baker, and Ramona Engram. Joining them Saturday for the session were Verdine Gann, Mayfair Graves and Thettie Walker.

Friday night cantinas were set up at the motels where members were staying with shuttle buses running between. Comedy skits were given by various clubs with the highlight being a style show by the TOPS mens clubs of Amarillo.

The Sudan TOPS held their regular weekly meeting Monday at the Community Center when seven members were weighed-in with a combined weight loss of six pounds.

The meeting was opened with a TOPS song, followed by the group reciting the pledge. A

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Let's Have Unity, Not Division

These who have been trying to establish a great gulf between the generations in this country seem to be losing the battle. Recent indications are that the "generation gap" which was so widely publicized a year or two ago is now obviously nonexistent.

When President Nixon visited the campus of the University of Nebraska on January 14, there were only a few booms and shouts of "Peace now," during his address—and these were drowned out by applause from the audience, consisting mostly of young people.

"There has been too much emphasis on the differences between the generations in America," said the President.

"Let us work together to seek out those ways by which the commitments and the compassion of one generation can be linked to the will and the experience of another, so that together we can serve America better, and America can better serve mankind."

Mob's Will Thwarted

There have long been some among us whose purpose is to divide us—setting the young against the older, the black against the white, the poor against the prosperous, women against men. Their purpose seems to be to cause disintegration and disunity among us. They preach hatred and division—not love and unity. They advocate conflict and destruction, not cooperation and constructive action.

A year ago, our television screens were filled with pictures of violence perpetrated by young rebels. It seemed that rebellion and youth were linked together.

In February of last year, a mob set fire to the Bank of America building near the campus of the University of California at Santa Barbara, causing $250,000 damage.

A few months later, when the bank had put up a new building on the same site, another mob moved against it, to destroy it too.

But a dozen young people, including three girls, locked arms in front of the building to protect it. "Go ahead and burn the bank. I'm standing here," cried a petite blonde. The mob, after pushing and shoving and yelling, finally gave up—and the bank was saved from destruction.

Since the mob, in the first instance, burned down the building, the action was news all over the nation. But when the dozen young people, in the second instance, thwarted the destructive efforts of the mob, little attention was paid to their heroic action.

Good Examples Needed

Young people today are subject to pressures that previous generations knew nothing about. But, despite the difficulties under which we and our young people live today, the word of the Lord is still true.

The Bible says, "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

Training includes telling, showing, and correcting errors in performance. But don't overlook the powerful influence of a good example.

Young people need good examples to follow. They are more likely to learn from good examples than from excellent precepts which they do not see demonstrated.

There is no "generation gap." There are differences between young people and older people—and always have been. But these differences can and should give us the strength of diversity, not the weakness of division.

make everyday Mother's Day...

give her an ELECTRIC DISHWASHER

Hands stay prettier—out of dishwasher. That's a fact! And here's another fact—when Reddy washes the dishes, he uses water hotter than human hands can stand—so you know your dishes are really getting clean... and all automatically!

AN ELECTRIC DISHWASHER... A Mother's Day gift for everyday of the year!

Handy Tent Patch

"Iron on" patches are handy for repairing the snagged or torn clothes of the outdoorsman. They also can be used to patch that hole in the tent.

Heat a pot and use the bottom of the pot to iron on the patch.

Hook and Bait Saver

Sinkers that hang-up in rocky areas when you're surf fishing often cause line breakage. Result is loss of hooks and bait.

If you need a heavy sinker that's disposable (and free), use an old discarded spark plug. Hammer the electrodes together, then tie on a short wire leader—from line to electrode loop.

Then, if you get snagged—a sharp pull on the line will release the wire and free the bait and hook.

Emergency Frying Pan

Did you forget your frying pan, Mr. Camper? The top off that 5-gallon lard can will serve in an emergency. At least it did in one instance.

And the hub cap off the old jalopie was a substitute used by another outdoorsman.

Reloading the Reel Spool

It's easy to reload the reel spool when you're out at the lake, or on it. Just run the end of the line down through the guides, from tip-top guide to the reel, and tie line to the spool. Then simply toss the fresh spool far out into the lake and start reeling in the line.

Believe it or not, the spool will spin right where it landed, as the line comes off—and give just the right tension for an A-1, line-spooling job.

If you don't want to use all the line, just paddle over and pick up the spool whenever you have wound off what you need.

Bleach Bottle Uses

There are dozens of uses the outdoors woman can make of empty bleach bottles.

Cut off the tops of three different sizes and they make excellent emergency bowls that fit, one inside the other, for easy storage. They are light but strong and can be used as mixing bowls or for refrigerator storage.

Men find the old plastic bottles ideal as scoops or for bailing water from the boat. It all depends on the way you slice it.

Happiness

Happiness is having your wife try on a dress you can't afford and finding out it doesn't fit her anyway.

Happiness for a wife is deciding the gorgeous, glamorous young blonde examining the empty house next door is only the real estate agent.

Happiness is finding out the dull couple you absolutely HAVE TO HAVE to your next party is going away on vacation that week.

Happiness is getting a nasty letter about an unpaid bill when you've just gotten back your cancelled check.

Happiness is already getting into maternity clothes before the "neighborhood" busybody knows you are pregnant.

To some housewives, happiness is a virtue that just misses being a vice.

Happiness is getting the kids so mad at you they don't speak to you for two straight hours.

Happiness is reading the bathroom scale at five pounds less.

Happiness is inviting all your relatives down on a Sunday they can't come.

Sometimes, happiness is nothing at all—so long as it turns up the corners of your mouth and makes you grin.

Happiness is losing an argument to your wife only to find out later she was really wrong, after all.

Happiness is finding out your high school sweetheart looks 20 years older, too.

Happiness is learning the kid who thinks your child is stupid has to go to summer school, too.

WITH FURNITURE, TOO, LET THE BUYER BEWARE!

A few weeks ago I was invited to the home of some close friends to see their new furniture.

My friends are young newlyweds with big aspirations but without a budget to match, and this factor necessitated that purchases they made for their home be careful ones. Surprisingly enough, their new studio apartment was not only comfortable but colorful and at first glance, full of furniture that would seem to last a lifetime.

These friends had attempted not only to buy value, but also to make their selections for style. They wanted their furniture to last longer than their stay in their present apartment. And they had tried to select furniture with simple lines that would adapt easily to other styles should their present taste for modern furniture change in years to come.

Once I had taken more than a casual first glance around the apartment, I noticed a wall unit along one wall which appeared to be made out of walnut hardwood. My friend had always had her heart set on walnut furniture, and was terribly proud of this recent acquisition.

I examined this piece for construction, but more important, also for wood content. And believe me, I was terribly disheartened when I had to break the news to my friend that her "walnut" wall unit wasn't walnut at all! It was made of hardboard which had been printed to look like genuine walnut veneer.

This true story illustrates a very important point to all prospective furniture buyers and that is simply that everything is not always what it seems!

The fact of the matter is that there are many less-than-expensive pieces of furniture on the market which are passed-off as genuine hardwood furniture when in truth they may be made of plastic or hardboard on whose surface is printed a film which imitates the grain of genuine hardwood. That's why it is a good idea to look for labels on each piece of furniture which specify that the piece is made of genuine hardwood and not some inferior imitation. Today more so than ever it still holds true that the buyer has to beware!

Any questions on wood? Write to Rhonda Racz, Hardwood Institute, Suite 1422, 551 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017.

A GAS outdoor grill gives food a tangy outdoor flavor without the time and bother of charcoal fire. Char-broiled flavor comes from the smoke of meat juices dripping on hot briquets. Charcoal itself provides no flavor.

Permanent ceramic briquets in the gas grill reach cooking heat in a few minutes, and there is no long wait to start cooking. The heat is regulated manually so there is no need to move a grill up or down.

Identify the Kiddies

Vacationers who take along the kiddies find peace of mind in equipping the youngsters with identification bracelets, tags or pins.

Each day add the current address to a luggage tag, hung by a string, necklace-style. Or slap a piece of ident tape on the child's wrist.

The French manufacturer of a new twin-engine, short range air transport designed to carry 130 to 150 passengers over route lengths up to 960 miles has turned to the United States for engines to power the plane. It will have JT8D jet engines produced by United Aircraft.

A U. S. French combine has developed a giant energy absorbing net to prevent end-of-runway airliner crashes by any commercial air transport. Now in final testing at Edwards AFB, Calif., the system, according to its developers, could be available at airports within a year at a cost of $500,000 to $800,000.

Church Honors Seniors

The Sudan Church of Christ feted members of the Sudan graduating class at a hamburger supper held Friday, April 30, in the community center.

The welcome was given by Mike White and musical entertainment was provided by Mitzi Trussel.

Highlighting the event was the memory corner which featured photographs of seniors taken during infancy and earlier childhood days. Also featured were papers from the first and second grades belonging to the seniors.

Approximately 35 persons attended including 26 class members.

HOME SEWING INCREASES

Women and girls are sewing more these days than ever before. According to pattern companies 500 million garments are made a year. Women and girls in Lamb County make their own clothing because those they make are better quality and those who have a fitting problem can have a better fit. From 60 to 70 percent can be saved by making them at home.

Home demonstration club women are studying sewing at home this month. Many women find sewing a satisfying outlet for self expression and creativity says Lady Clare Phillips, Co. Home Demonstration Agent.

One of the first steps in sewing is matching fabric to the pattern. Materials fall into four main types, stiff, crisp, thick and limp. Patterns should conform to the type of material. Cotton knits are very popular at this time. Most are washable but it is important to consult the label for instructions on care.

Using a special ball point sewing machine needle is an aid to sewing on knit fabrics. Also using thread with more "give" like the core spun thread may be desirable.
