HOUSTON, says a publicity release from the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo (scheduled Feb. 21 through March 4), "is a city of high-rise complexes, super freeways to accommodate the teeming population, skyscrapers springing up everywhere, the home of the world-famous Astrodome..."

We recently went there for two days, and while all the above things probably are true, there are some other things they don't mention.

Some of the super-freeways are continually under construction or repair, and the ignorant visitor trying to steer his vehicle down them has to stay plenty alert to know when to change lanes, especially when three lanes of traffic suddenly go down into one lane. Population they undoubtedly have (wall-to-wall people), and that Astrodome really is something.

Yes, we visited the Astrodome. We are the last people in West Texas to visit the Astrodome, I expect. Anyway, it seems that nearly everybody I know has visited it before now.

We were on the freeway which shows on the map to go right through the middle of the Astrodome, or maybe over or under it. As it turned out, it did no such thing, and the oil company's map is terribly inaccurate. Our idea of taking the loop which goes by the Astrodome was to see the outside of the dome, at least. And we were toying with the idea of taking the dome tour, if it didn't cost too much.

You can see the dome quite a distance away. But getting to it is not so easy the first time. We took an exit which turned out to be the right one, only we decided just as we took it that it was the wrong one, so we went on down the access road, where the next turnoff under the freeway necessitated a U-turn, then somehow we still didn't wind up on the proper road to the Astrodome. Anyway, this road took us around the back side of it, if you can figure how a building that is round has a back side, and we circled the thing for blocks and blocks, trying to figure out how to get to it.

We finally found a little street that took us down to the dome, and the rest of the family kept asking if we were going to get to see the inside of it.

"Well, we may, if it doesn't cost too much," I said magnanimously.

"How much is too much?" asked one of our daughters.

"Anything over 50 cents a person," I decided, to which she replied, "We might as well turn around right now, then."

We found the entrance, and started to drive in. The only sign we could find was one saying it cost a dollar to park. Nowhere in sight was any hint of how much it cost to take the tour. So I asked the parking attendant.

"Costs you a dollar here and a dollar a person up there," he said, in a tone that indicated he didn't really give a hang whether we went in or not. We

LAMB CO. JR. Boy Scout Banquet Set STOCK SHOW

The annual Lamb County Junior Livestock Show which was to have been held last weekend at the County Show Barns in Littlefield, was postponed due to the weather and rescheduled for this weekend, January 19-20. Featured in this show will be swine, lamb, and steers of FFA, 4-Hand FFA members who have resided and attended schools in Lamb County since January 1, 1973, provided they have owned their show animals long enough.

Thursday is weigh-in day beginning at 1 p. m. Showing of animals and judging will begin at 5:30 Friday with lambs; swine at 9 a. m., Saturday; steers at 1 p. m., Saturday. Prizes will be awarded in each category.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Testerman are parents of a daughter, Glenna Renee, who weighed 7 lbs. and 8 ozs. She was born Thursday, Jan. 11 at 4:25 p. m. in Littlefield Hospital.

The Testermans have two other daughters, Jannette Diane and Brenda Kay.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Maxwell and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Testerman.

Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Maxwell, and others of Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Engram celebrated their 40th Wedding Anniversary Sunday afternoon at a reception in the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church. Their children, Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Popejoy of Sunray, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Baccus of Euless, Roy Engram of Cameron, Mrs. Karen Rich of Amherst, and Kim Engram of the home, hosted the occasion honoring their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Engram were married in Clovis, N. M., January 13, 1932 in the parsonage of the First Baptist Church.

Guests were registered by Pamela Lanners of Sunray, a granddaughter.

Refreshments of punch, coffee and tiered cake which was made by their daughter, Mrs. Jim Baccus, were served by Shelley Hargrove and Cindy Moss. The table was covered with a white netcloth over red and centered with an arrangement of red carnations. Silver and crystal appointments were used. Others

SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS RE-ELECTED AT BOARD MEETING

The school board members of the Sudan Independent School District held their regular meeting Monday, Jan. 8, when the administrators, Kenneth Noles, Dale Read and Bernard Wilson, were re-elected for the 1973-74 school year.

Reports were given on two items. One being on the water problem in the fieldhouse with a discussion regarding purchase of a new storage tank. The other report was given by Kenneth Noles, superintendent, on the mid-winter conference in Austin for administrators.

Several items were approved by board members including the use of school facilities by the "Little Dribblers" organization, participation of Sudan Independent School District in the 1973 Title II Program, and financial aid to the local FFA-4-H Project Show. The attendance of Coach Jim Warren to Texas A&M Spring Football Training, and the attendance of Ron Dunaway and Mrs. Brenda Black to the Science Teachers' State Conference in Austin were also approved.

Following the close of business, the meeting adjourned.

National Youth Week To Be Observed

National Youth Week, a week of activities to provide an opportunity for local congregations of the Church of God of Prophecy across the country, to honor their young people, will be observed January 17-23 by the church located at First & Wilson Street, Sudan.

The theme for the week will be "More Power to You", using Acts 1:8 as their theme text. "When this scripture is activated," says Youth Director Maudie Wood, "there will be more 'power' to: maintain peace and poise in this age of unrest; produce the fruits of the spirit; release the gifts of the spirit in the ministry of the church; to do service for the Lord Jesus Christ; to live a life acceptable to God in this present evil world; to witness and win the lost of this generation."

Some of the activities the youth will be involved with this week will be: TABS (Teen-age Bible Study), a study of the book of Acts to discover what made the early church dynamic; Bible reading marathons; personal evangelism; prayer-ins; sing-ins; fasting; youth-led revivals; special youth Sunday; skits; films; remembering the servicemen; making a library of puppets for the Sunday School departments; exchanging services with a neighboring youth group.

"Today's Christian youth deserve the undivided attention of their churches," states Pastor Steve Couch. "The Church of God of Prophecy is proud of their mighty force of Victory Leaders and realizes the valuable asset they are to the church."

Pastor Steve Couch cordially invites all to attend the District Youth Rally, January 20 at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Todd Rites Held

Funeral services for Rev. Ellis Andrew Todd, 65, of Lubbock, who died at his home Thursday, Dec. 27, 1972 were held Dec. 29 at the Oakwood United Methodist Church, Lubbock.

Officiating were Rev. Lyman Wood, pastor, and assisted by Dr. J. Howard Crawford and Dr. Luther Kirk. Interment was in Resthaven Memorial Park. Arrangements were by Resthaven-Singleton-Wilson Funeral Home of Lubbock.

Rev. Todd, a retired Methodist Minister, was a native of New Mexico.

He was a graduate of McMurry College in Abilene and a member of the Masonic Lodge. He was a member of the Oakwood United Methodist Church.

He went to Lubbock in 1935 from Plainview when he began preaching. He pastored churches in Sudan, Wilson, Seagraves, Petersburg, Hale Center, Stanton, Haskell, Wellington and McLean. He served at Sudan from 1957-1960 where he headed a building program. The new church facilities were completed in 1961. Rev. Todd retired in 1968 from the ministry.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Minnie Lee Todd; his daughter, Mrs. Wanda Lee Hamblin of Littlefield; a son, Ellis Todd of Overland Park, Kan.; a twin brother, Earl Jackson Todd of Brady; another brother, Rev. Plez Todd of Balingier; four sisters, Mrs. William Longmire and Mrs. W. H. Bogard, both of San Saba; Mrs. Albert Lewis of Eden, and Mrs. Lois Oliver of Austin; and four grandchildren.

Among pallbearers were Rodney Nichols and Bobby Joe Carson, both of Sudan.

It may have begun in Greece, but the flatlands of eastern New Mexico have squatters rights now. Or more appropriately, exhaustion rights.

The second annual Eastern New Mexico University at Portales Marathon unfolds Feb. 17, 1973 and a field of some 200 runners and bicyclists is expected to converge on this New Mexico city to run and pedal a total of 26 miles, 385 yards.

Started in 1972 under the auspices of the Portales Chamber of Commerce and Eastern New Mexico University, the initial Marathon here drew 85 runners the 25 cyclists. Since that time, word of mouth has spread like a prairie fire and a much larger field is expected this year.

Entries for the Marathon will remain open until the morning of the race and the only requirement for entrance is a $2.00 fee ($3.50 if a person does not hold a current AAU membership card). A flat $2 is required of cyclists.

A total of 24 trophies will be awarded this year, for the winners but also for the youngest and oldest participants, the entrant traveling the farthest distance to compete, a team trophy in a high school division and in an open division, plus many more.

Young, old, male or female, everyone is eligible to traverse the 26-odd miles, the only requirements a small fee, a doctor's examination (provided here) and a wealth of stamina.

The bicycle portion of the Marathon is slated for a 9 a.m. starting time Saturday, Feb. 17, with the runners following them some 15 minutes later.

Charles Harris, an Albuquerque, N.M., accountant won the race in 1972, outdistancing the field with a time of 2 hours, 29 minutes, and 59 seconds.

Tom Hutchinson from Lubbock was the speedster in the Class I bicycle division, blazing across with a time of 1 hour, 6 minutes, and 6 seconds.

ESA Meets Held

The ESA Christmas party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vincent recently when the halls were decked with holly. Mr. and Mrs. Bobby J. Markham were co-hosts.

The candle lit tables were decorated with silver rope and other Christmas decor.

Dinner was served to the following guests, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Blume, Mr. and Mrs. Al Harrison, and Mr. and Mrs. Noel Lumpkin, and to the following members including Messrs. and Mesdames Darwin Reid, Tommie King, Ardell Black, Kenneth Wiseman, Marvin Tollett, Mike Nix, Eddie Wilson, C. E. Nichols, Edward Fisher, Donnie Cowart, Ron Dunaway.

Christmas gifts were exchanged with the revealing of secret sisters. Names were drawn for another year.

White elephant bingo was the entertainment for the evening.

Jayellen Wilson was hostess for the ESA business meeting Thursday night when Miss Becky Bradshaw, South Plains Maid of Cotton, and Chamber of Commerce Representative Bob Hand, both of Lubbock were special guests.

Miss Bradshaw and Hand were introduced by Nancy Davis who was in charge of the program. Miss Bradshaw modeled her 100% cotton wardrobe consisting of seven ensembles with narration by Hand. The ensembles included a two-piece navy and utes, and 6 seconds.

Tom Hutchinson from Lubbock was the speedster in the Class I bicycle division, blazing across with a time of 1 hour, 6 minutes and 6 seconds.

Interested runners and/or cyclists may enter by mail with a check or money order to Bill Silverberg, track coach, Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, N.M. 88130.

white dress; a green and white floor-length dress of pique; her "speech dress" of black and white cotton pique which buttoned down the front and slit to the knee and was topped with a matching hooded cape lined in bright red. She completed the show modeling a beautiful white lace dinner dress trimmed with pearls and sequins.

Miss Bradshaw is a native of Idaho where her father is a cotton farmer. The petite maid stated her favorite color is navy blue. She is a junior student at Texas Tech.

Sixteen members were present for the fashion show. They were Brenda Black, Mary Cowart, Nancy Davis, Ellen Dunaway, Waynette Fisher, TuTu King, Martha Markham, Loretta Reid, Ruth Vincent, Jayellen Wilson, Pam Wiseman, Mary Tollett, Maxine Nichols, Kathy Gatewood, Debbie Baker.

In the business session, projects were discussed. Favors will be made at the next business meeting and then taken to the Satellite School in Littlefield.

TECH SIGNS EDUCATION & TRAINING AGREEMENT

Texas Tech University School of Medicine has signed an education and training affiliation agreement with Permian General Hospital in Andrews, announced Dr. Grover E. Murray, president of that school of medicine.

ACCENT ON HEALTH

Children in Texas who seldom have an opportunity to receive treatment from a dentist will benefit in 1973 from a new Medicaid program of the Texas State Department of Health and Texas Department of Public Welfare.

Welfare families with children will be eligible for the dental program when it begins early this year.

The State Health Department will administer the program. Initially, the program will be discussed with the date to be announced later.

Inauguration

Gov. Dolph Briscoe was inaugurated Tuesday as Texas' 40th governor.

Briscoe was sworn into office at noon on the south steps of the capitol building in Austin along with Lt. Gov. William P. Hobby.

An inaugural breakfast at 7 a.m. got the days' activities off to a start when Tom Landry, Dallas Cowboy coach, was speaker. The inaugural parade began at 3 p.m. with the governor and lieutenant governor for children under the age of six years—approximately 100,000 children in Texas. Beginning on July 1, the program will be expanded to cover all welfare children up to age 21—more than 300,000 children.

Mrs. Hazel Gaston has been dismissed from the Medical Arts Hospital in Littlefield where she was a flu patient.

hosting a reception in the capitol rotunda at 5 p.m. The inaugural ball was at 8 p.m.

It is reported that Briscoe has made only one public appearance in Austin since defeating Henry Grover in the election. He has designated former White House aide Robert L. Hardisty, 41, as his press secretary and special assistant.

Hobby will preside over the senate and set up his office soon after the primary election. He is participating in inaugural events in Texas and was designated by Briscoe to represent Texas at President Nixon's second inauguration Saturday.

At the close of the inauguration Tuesday, Briscoe and Hobby presented their plans to the 63rd legislature. Briscoe vowed to restore confidence in state of Texas, and no new taxes for '73. Some 3000 attended the inauguration.

BOYS TO REGISTER SUNDAY FOR "LITTLE DRIBBLERS"

A meeting of parents and boys age 9-12 who are interested in the "Little Dribblers" basketball program this spring, will be held at the Sudan school cafeteria Sunday, Jan. 21 at 3:00 p.m. All parents or interested adults are urged to attend along with their boys. Coaches, officials, gate keepers, and concession stand workers are all needed to insure the success of the program.

Boys will be registered and are required to pay a small registration fee of $3.50 to cover various expenses, which will include a

"Little Dribbler" game jersey

Interested persons may contact Jim Warren or Gary Campbell for further information.

Girls registration will be held another time.

Theory Y Churches

All organizations operate essentially on one of two sets of assumptions known as Theory X and Theory Y. Douglas McGregor explained the differences in THE HUMAN SIDE OF ENTERPRISE and Robert Townsend showed in UP THE ORGANIZATION the Theory Y principles he used to make Avis into a profit-making and exciting company.

Theory X organizations think: (1) People hate work. (2) They have to be driven and threatened with punishment to get them to work toward organizational objectives. (3) They like security, aren't ambitious, want to be told what to do, dislike responsibility. Townsend suggests one model for a Theory X organization is the Roman Catholic Church, but that ought to be broadened to include almost all churches.

How many people in most churches do all the work? Very few. Doesn't that prove that they hate work? It proves that the church hierarchy—all priests to the contrary notwithstanding—does not want them to work. Church is for spectators and there is room for very few performers in the entertainment business. One man dominates the stage at every church performance, leaving little place and less satisfaction for supporting players. Week after week a moral or spiritual club is brandished threateningly from the pulpit (though sometimes the threat is subtle) and somehow enough people knuckle under to barely limp along.

Jesus disparaged Theory X structures. "You know," He taught, "that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and great men exercise authority over them. It is not so among you, but whoever wishes to become great among you shall be your servant, and whoever wishes to be first among you shall be your slave; just as the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve." (Matthew 20:25-28)

Theory X pastors have congregations to help them get their work done, while Theory Y pastors—there are some—realize that the work of the church is the work of its people and, following Jesus' example, they help their people get their work done.

And the people love it. They prove Theory Y: (1) Work is as natural as play or rest. (2) If they commit themselves to mutual objectives, they'll drive themselves more effectively than you can drive them. (3) But they'll commit themselves only to the extent that they can see ways to satisfy their ego and development needs.

Churches work and grow as the people in them work and grow personally and spiritually. The pastor's leadership comes by example.

If Jesus' example can succeed in business, it certainly ought to work in the church. Copyright Dave Llewellyn 1973

CENSUS ON EMPLOYMENT BEING TAKEN THIS WEEK

The January 15-19 survey on employment and unemployment conducted by the Bureau of the Census in this area will include questions for the employed on any recent job changes. Percy R. Millard, Director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in Dallas, says answers to the questions will provide insight into the relative stability of job holding. Also, in order to provide information about the ways job seekers successfully find jobs, questions will be asked those who have changed jobs within the past year about methods they used in obtaining their new jobs.

These questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey which the Census Bureau conducts nationwide for the U. S. Department of Labor. Results of the November survey showed that unemployment had dropped to 5.2 percent of the labor force, the lowest rate since August 1970. Total employment was unchanged from October, 82.5 million, but had increased by

TRY-OUTS TO BE HELD JAN. 20 FOR "TEXAS"

Try-outs for "Texas" will be held Saturday, Jan. 20 from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. at the Fine Arts Building on the campus of West Texas State in Canyon. They will hold try-outs at the women's gym at Texas Tech in Lubbock Sunday, Jan. 21 from 1 to 4 p. m. If you can dance well, sing, stand on a stage and speak to an audience with warmth and conviction, "Try out for 'Texas'". Each year about half the cast is new, carefully selected by directors in a series of auditions.

The Royal Ambassadors of the First Baptist Church met Saturday morning, Jan. 13, in a regular meeting when Counselor Bob Nelson brought the program on "Alaska, Barking Ice and Totem Territory". Several boys led in prayer, and then the group went to the gym to practice basketball for the Little Dribblers team.

Others attending the meeting were Odell Johnson, Perry Kent, Paul Kent, Troy Moss, Mike Hill, Mike Read, Brian Burns, Ken Williams, Scott Hargrove, Lester King, Joey Bellar, Len Williams, Johnnie Nelson, Jimmy Williams, Donnie Nelson, Victor King, Ray Dudgeon, Darren Provence, Reagan May, Lee Markham, Kevin King and the other counselor, Ed King.

The RA meetings are each Saturday morning from 10:00 to 11:30 a. m. All boys are invited to attend.

There is a tower of strength for you and me... 'Tis that which we call faith And as the sea Off dashes on the rocks To no avail

So storms may come to us; But in the gale

We lean upon that faith And soon once more We see a beacon light-- It is the shore.
