Children's Pictures To Be Taken

by dalton

WE SUPPOSE it is okay, if it allows a lot of people some extra time on weekends (depending upon what they do with their extra time), but all these Monday holidays still seem a little strange to some of us.

Somehow it just doesn't seem right to celebrate George Washington's birthday on the wrong day. Ditto with Columbus Day and some of the others. The people who set up this Monday holiday thing haven't yet dared to change Thanksgiving, the Fourth of July and Christmas, but that probably is coming. We'll be celebrating Christmas the fourth Monday in December, with New Year's Day to be the following Monday, even if it is Jan. 4.

That might not be too bad, since Dec. 25 is an arbitrary date, anyway. But we're going to balk when someone decrees that Good Friday will be observed on the Monday after Easter.

APATHY, the biggest enemy of progress in any area, is posing a threat to the Texas Constitutional revision. We understand that few citizens of the state are bothering to tell their state representatives and state senators what they'd like to see done regarding the rewriting of the constitution. Actually, if you have any ideas, you should let your senator or representative know.

THIS WEEKEND we all get an extra hour of sleep, making up for that hour we lost when we went on daylight time. I think we are supposed to run our clocks back an hour when we go to bed Saturday night. It's all so confusing; I really wish we could stay on one time or the other and not ever change. It doesn't even matter which one; it's just that I have a hard time remembering what it is that I'm supposed to do when the time changes.

Had a call from a reader the other night who may have been concerned that we won't be able to get this time thing straight in our minds. She didn't mention the time change specifically, but I gathered that she would like to fix my clock.

Mrs. M. Nix Rites Held

Mrs. Mary Eva Nix of Denton died Tuesday, October 23 at 12:30 p. m. in the Denton Nursing Home. Funeral services were held Thursday, October 25 in The First United Methodist Church of Sudan. Officiating was the Rev. Aubrey White, pastor.

Burial was in the Sudan Cemetery. Payne Funeral Home of Amherst was in charge of arrangements.

She is survived by her husband, Hoyt Everett of Denton, (brother of Matt Nix and Raymond Nix, both of Sudan); two sisters, Mrs. Vera Nix, Sudan, and Mrs. Helen Jones, Lubbock; four brothers, Raymond White, of Hereford, Ralph White of Durango, Colo., Earl White of Farmington, N.M. and Hue White of Ojai, Calif.

Pallbearers were nephews.

PERSONAL

Mrs. Ramona Ingram returned home Monday from St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock where she had been a surgical patient for several days.

It is an undisputed fact that the responsibilities of tomorrow's world our nation and community will rest upon the shoulders of the children of today. Since this is true, the publisher of this newspaper would like to give you a good look at these future "World Builders."

The only way we can do this is by publishing pictures of them in a feature series. To assure the latest and best reproduction pictures they must all be of uniform size and quality.

An expert children's photographer with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work will be here Wednesday, November 7. Pictures will be taken at the Sudan Beacon News Office from 2:00 p. m. to 6:00 p. m.

NO CHARGE TO PARENTS

There is no charge to the parents. There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. It is bonafide in every sense of the word. Parents do not have to be subscribers, nor even readers of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangement with the studio representative when they select the pose they want printed in the paper. It is entirely up to them.

THE MORE PICTURES THE BETTER

This paper simply wants pictures of all the youngsters and the more, the better. So the mothers and fathers of the community in which this paper circulates should remember the date Wednesday, November 7, bring their children to the photographer.

You will be mighty glad afterwards, if you did and very, very sorry if you do not permit your children to participate in this event. The kiddies will have fun and both mother and dad and the youngsters too will be very proud to see their pictures in print later.

Appointments may be had by calling 227-3911, 227-6841, or 933-2467.

Mrs. Moore Rites Held

Funeral services for Mrs. Alva (Lois) Moore, 54, of Muleshoe, who was killed Saturday in an auto accident, were held at 4:00 p. m. Monday in the Trinity Baptist Church with the Rev. Oscar Newell, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Roosevelt, and the Rev. V. L. Huggins, pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial was in the Bailey County Memorial Park under the direction of Singleton-Ellis Funeral Home of Muleshoe.

Mrs. Moore was killed about 4:00 p. m. Saturday in a two-vehicle collision four miles north of Muleshoe on Hwy. 213. She was dead on arrival at West Plains Hospital, Muleshoe.

She had lived in Bailey County since 1920, part of that time in the Circle Back Community, moving there from Chillicothe. A member of the Trinity Baptist Church, Mrs. Moore was a res-

DISTRICT DREAMS TURN TO ASHES

VEGA OVER HORNETS, 26-0

The Sudan Hornets watched last Friday night as their hopes for a district championship turned to ashes at the hands of a mighty contingent of Longhorns from Vega, 26-0.

A stingy Longhorn defense kept the locals at bay throughout the contest as six first downs and only 120 yards total offense was all Sudan could manage. At the same time, however, the Longhorns were running roughshod over a highly-touted Hornet defense to the tune of 23 first downs and 380 total yards.

Sudan pulled a trick from their "Pandora's Box" on the first play from scrimmage as Mark Hanna received a 15 yard lateral pass from center Roby Lynn and sprinted goalward. The Hornets made some key blocks but Mark was finally hauled down at the Vega two-yardline after covering 62 yards. From here it was all Vega as the Longhorns stymied the Hornets on four straight running plays and took over the ball on their own six yard line.

It took Vega only five running plays to avenge the "near score" as they displayed a powerful off-tackle rushing game. Halfback Tim Hubbard lit the scoreboard for the homecoming crowd by blasting 56 yards for the score. The running attempt for the extras was stopped and Vega led

JANETTE TESTERMAN CROWNED QUEEN

The traditional Halloween Carnival was held Saturday night with fun and games for everyone. Jannette Testerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Testerman, was crowned Harvest Queen in coronation services preceding the carnival. She and her escort, Dean Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Richards, represented the kindergarten.

Named as first runner-up was Janet Nix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Nix, escorted by Shayne Vincent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vincent. Second runner-up was Tammy Gore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gore, escorted by Doug Warren, 6-0 at 8:01 in the first quarter.

The Hornets came back again on their next possession as they mounted a drive once again. Mark Hanna swept left end for 7 yards to pickup the Hornets' second first down on their own 43. On fourth and nine, Don Noles "booted" the ball to the Vega 34 where a fumble occurred and was pounced on by David Aills. A trap play up the middle netted Pat Hedges with 9 yards before Hanna picked up another first down on a 4 yard burst around left end. Faced with a vital fourth and five situation, quarterback Mitch Chester ran a pass-run option to the Vega 13 for a first down. Once again, however, the Longhorns "throttled" the Hornets as on a fourth and two, Hedges was stopped short of the marker and Vega owned the ball on their own six yardline.

A costly pass interference call on Sudan kept Vegas drive alive after it appeared to be "bogged" down on their own 30. Four plays later, Hubbard scored again on an 8-yard dash around right end. The extra points were good and Vega led 14-0 with 4:51 to play in the first half.

The Hornets couldn't move the ball but Vega could and with only 32 seconds remaining in the half, the 'Horns passed 16 yards for their third touchdown of the evening. They went to their dressing room with a 20-0 lead.

Sudan managed only two first downs in the second half; one was a ten yard pass from Chester to Hanna and the other was on a four yard burst by Donald Johnson preceded by an 8 yard middle trap by Hedges. The defense displayed an improved performance, however, as they made two goalline stands.

The final Longhorn touchdown came at 7:20 in the fourth quarter when Hubbard slashed two yards to the end zone. Donnie Noles knocked Vega had already done its damage by a convincing 26-0 verdict.

The victory practically wrapped up the district championship for Vega as they must lose two of their next three games before Sudan or Hart could represent the district.

The Hornets have an open date tomorrow night and will travel to Farwell next Friday night.

 The Sudan Junior Varsity played the Vega JV Thursday with the Hornets dominating the first half by scoring two touchdowns and controlling the ball. The Hornets scored on a 26-yard run by Jerry Williams to make the score 6-0. The try for extra point was no good.

In the second quarter, the Hornets scored a 49 yard TD on a halfback pass to Luther Robison. The try for points was good and Sudan led 14-0.

Then, in the second half, Vega got the breaks and scored three times to win the game 22-14.

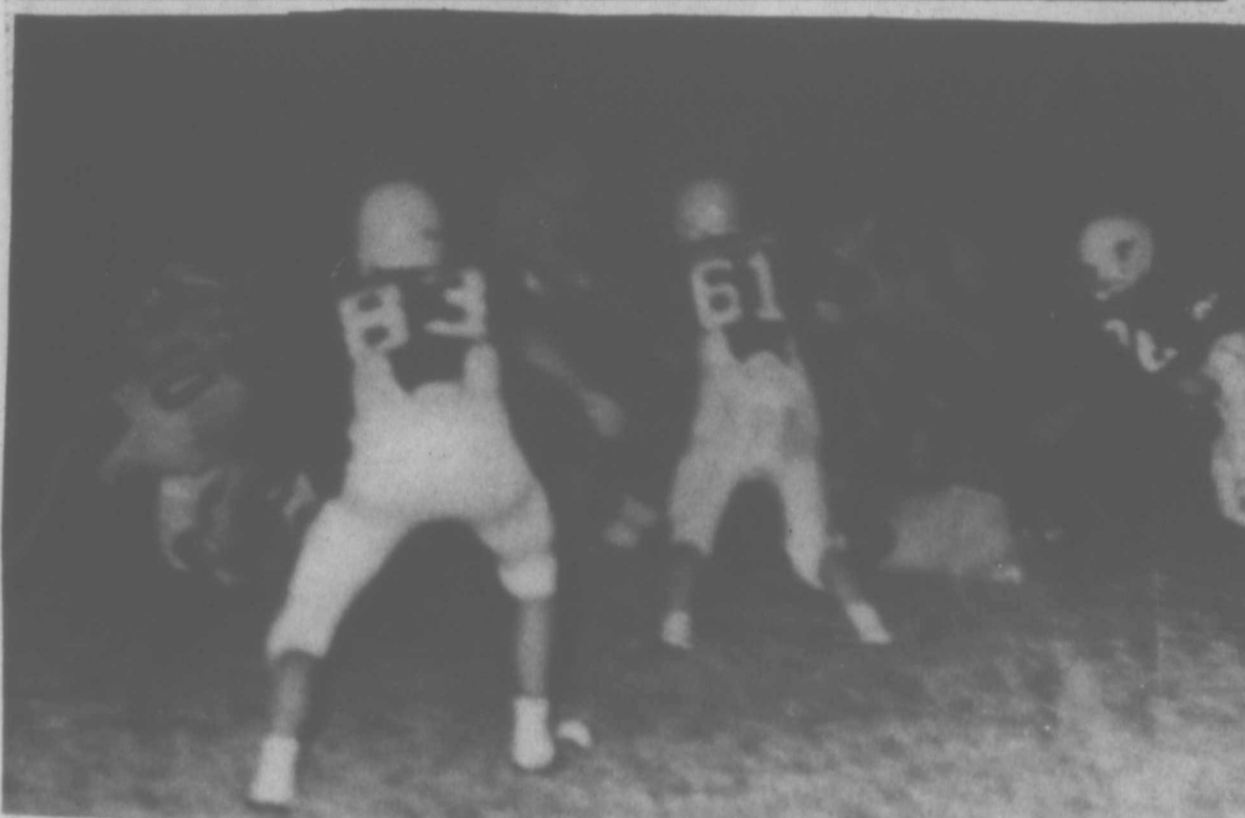

The Hornets played sound football but fell short of a last surge to win the game.

 The Sudan Junior High Football teams again split this week with the 7th graders taking their fourth loss of the season and the 8th

The 1973 cotton crop is almost in the bag for High Plains producers. The expected bumper crop, due to expanded acreage, uniform earliness of planting and favorable weather conditions, may bring an additional bonus, says a research scientist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station here.

Micronaire values, based on data taken from daily temperature readings, could top 3.5 or higher, he says.

Dr. Jack Gipson, cotton physiologist based at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, explains that research shows a strong correlation between the average pre-valuing temperatures of the late summer months and the fiber quality of High Plains cotton.

"While several factors influence the quality of cotton," he says, "micronaire (a fiber quality measurement) and oil seed content are determined in large part by prevailing temperatures during August, September, and early October.

"Of the various fiber quality measurements used in the cotton industry," Gipson explains, "micronaire is of most concern to area producers since it is invariably the limiting quality character for this area.

"Micronaire provides a measure of the maturity of cotton fibers. Although it is not a measure of fiber diameter it is so closely correlated with diameter (of fineness) that it serves the cotton industry as a reliable indication of fiber fineness.

"Cotton prices are based on this quality measurement," he notes. "Producers are paid the greatest prices if their cotton is in the 3.5 to 4.9 range. Readings above or below this range are penalized."

The researcher explains that in practice a particular cotton variety will have the genetic potential to develop fiber with a particular degree of fineness. But if environmental conditions, particularly temperature, are unfavorable, this level may not be achieved.

Such is the case with much of the cotton grown in this area, Gipson adds.

"For the current season," he says, "it appears there will be 52 days with 75 degrees F or below in the critical period. This pegs the current season's average micronaire at about 3.5, based on the varieties grown in the past.

"For the current season, however, there has been an appreciable shift to varieties with a higher micronaire potential which will be reflected in a higher overall average," he observes. "Taking these into account, it seems likely that micronaire values may average 3.6 for the 23 county area."

COTTON REPORT

Care should be taken that any State actions with regard to forward contracting of cotton in Texas is effective, equitable, practical and compatible, according to Cotton Fanning, Executive Assistant at Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Fanning made this statement at a hearing conducted October 26 in Lubbock by Representative E. L. Short of Tahoka, Chairman, of the Food and Fibers Marketing Subcommittee of the Texas House Agriculture Committee.

Noting that the major problem with forward contracting is in the area of contract performance, he said much discussion in Texas and across the Cotton Belt has to date failed to arrive at the "perfect solution" and that PCG was therefore unable to make specific recommendations to the Subcommittee.

"I can say, however," he continued, "that whatever action the Committee takes or considers taking should meet four criteria: "It should be effective as a means to make forward contracting a better marketing tool; "It should be equitable in that it will not unfairly jeopardize the interests of either party to a contract; "It should be practical in that it will not cause either party to incur prohibitive costs or unnecessary inconvenience, and "It should be compatible with procedures used elsewhere in the Cotton Belt, to the end that chasing fertilizer when it is available this fall, and by incorporating it in initial tillage operations to avoid weather problems in the early months of 1974. To do this, he added, farmers need to find out what their soils need by having a soil test made on each field. Information on sampling and mailing is available from the Extension office, he noted.

He said that soil test data from the High Plains clearly show that less than half of the soils will respond profitably to applications of phosphate.

"Applying available phosphate material only to deficient areas," Logsdon continued, "will stretch the supply without reducing the yield potential."

"An appreciable nitrogen carryover may be detected," he added. "If this is the case, nitrogen rate can be reduced, or in some instances can be omitted."

He also advised that farmers consider using feedlot waste.

"There is much evidence," he said, "to indicate that a 10-ton application of average manure is sufficient to produce near maximum grain sorghum yields without additional commercial fertilizer."

"Fertilizers have become a major contributor to profitable yields," he concluded. "By careful planning, maximum profits from limited supplies can be realized."

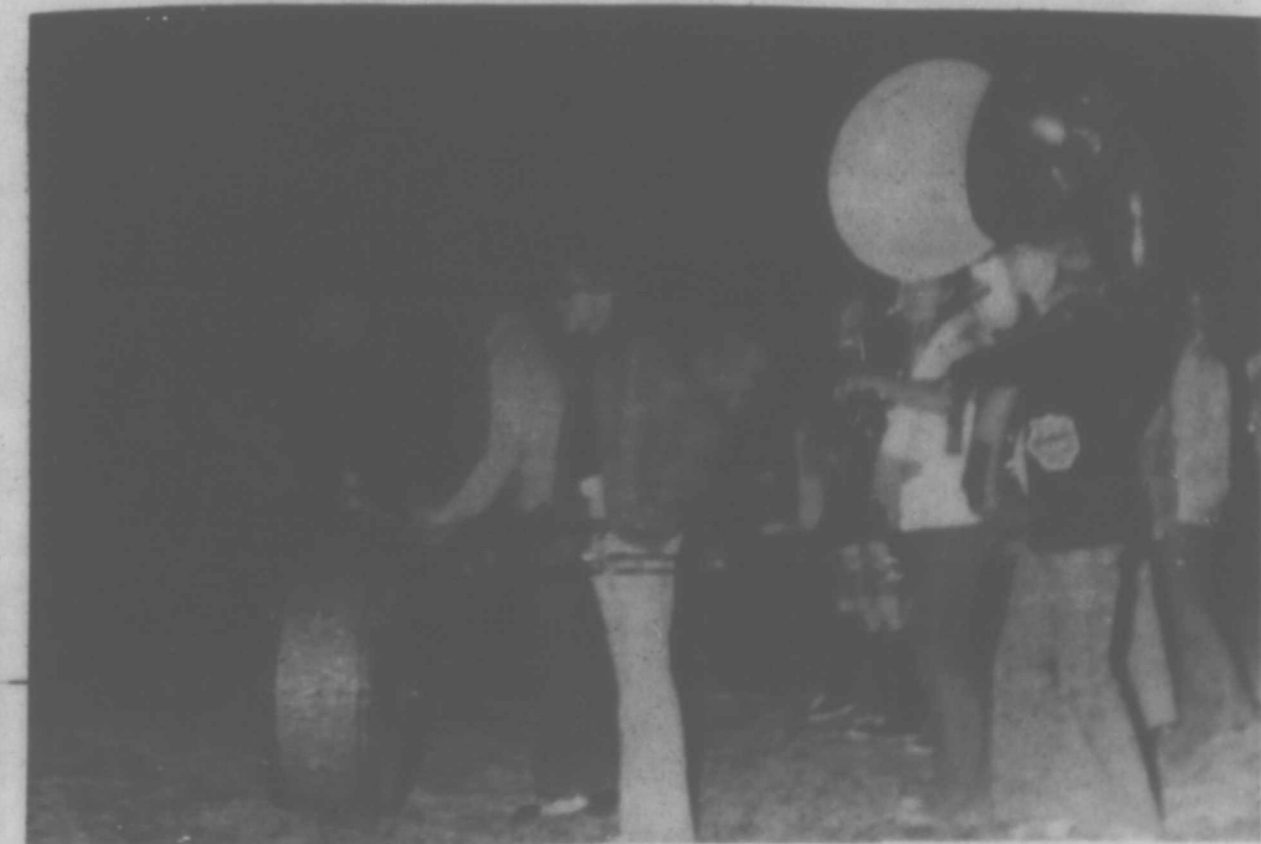

Russian rainmakers recommended that marriageable girls be yoked to plows and drag them through rivers, puddles and marshes to destroy a drought.

PLAN FERTILIZATION PROGRAM NOW

Taking advantage of fertilizer supplies when they're available ought to be foremost in the minds of producers planning their next season's crops, said Lamb Co. Extension Agent Buddy Logsdon.

"Reports clearly indicate that shortages of nitrogen and phosphate will be with us throughout 1974," he said, "as well as for an undetermined period thereafter."

Contributing to shortages at the dealer level are insufficient supplies of natural gas, increased fertilizer exports, release of reserve acreage into production, higher crop prices, and transportation difficulties.

The Extension agent noted that the effectiveness of fall fertilizer application on the heavier soils of the High Plains is well established.

"On sandy soils," he said, "phosphate may be applied in the fall, but nitrogen application perhaps should be delayed until spring to prevent possible leaching loss."

Listing the advantages of fall application, Logsdon said that farmers can get ahead by pur-

Do you know what you'll hear? "This mush is the MOST!"

graders picking up their fourth victory.

The seventh grade played their finest game of the year but were unable to contain the superior size and strength of the Vega eleven. Due to an outstanding defensive effort, the halftime score was 8-0 in favor of the Vega team. Another excellent defensive effort in the second half held Vega to one more TD and a final score of 16-0. The 7th grade was unable to get its offense untracked until late in the ballgame when the running of Bob Graves and the pass combination of Steve Warren to Ricky Moore threatened for a late score. Although the 7th graders were beaten 16-0, both coaches were well pleased with the teams effort during the game.

The 8th grade got its fourth win with an outstanding second half effort. After a scoreless first quarter due to an excellent goal line stand by Sudan, the Hornets took the lead just before halftime on a 38 yard TD pass from Edgar Tamplin to Mark Warren. The two point conversion was added by Joel Williams and the Hornets had a 8-0 halftime lead.

Midway in the third quarter, the Hornets added another six points when Joel Williams broke on a 16 yard scamper. The extra point try was no good and Sudan had a 14-0 lead.

Vega came back in the fourth quarter with a 56 yard scoring drive to make the score 14-6. Taking the ensuing kickoff, the Hornets put together an 8-play 63 yard scoring drive with Williams getting his second TD of the day on a 22 yard scoring jaunt. This capped the scoring

SLEEPING BEAUTY

"Sleep," wrote Shakespeare in Macbeth, "knits up the ravel'd sleeve of care." It is, he continued, "the chief nourisher in life's feast."

Yet to millions of Americans who find it difficult to go to sleep as well as wake up, Shakespeare's words seem like a wispy commentary indeed.

Now, however, there's a new device for the bed which, if he were living today, would probably meet the approval of the bard. It's called Vibra-Bod and is making vibrations all over the country.

The device slips between box spring and mattress to deliver the vibrations that help you to fall asleep as well as gently get up. Featuring a three-position control, it is manufactured by Master Appliance Corporation of Racine, Wisconsin, and can be used with an automatic timer.

Also delivering a relaxing massage, Vibra-Bod adds an extra dimension in comfort to standard household furniture such as armchairs and sofas.

ANNUAL BASKETBALL CLINIC SLATED NOV. 3

The 16th annual Hutcherson Flying Queens basketball clinic Saturday, Nov. 3, will feature Hank Slider, the world's leading basketball shooting instructor.

Slider has converted shooting from an art to a science and he has won wide acclaim for his work with pro, college and high school players.

He sinks a variety of foul, jump and hook shots during his demonstration then while keeping up a constant line of patter, he demonstrates the dozens of little mistakes that cause shooting percentages to drop. After the formal presentation, he works individually with as many interested participants as possible.

Registration for the clinic begins at 8:15 a.m. with Slider giving demonstrations from 9:30 to 10:00 a.m. and from 2:45 to 3:15 p.m. Also in the morning, Jimmy Kirkland, coach from Claude, will speak on ball advancement; Canyon coach Bob Schneider will lecture on wing-set offense and the Queens will give a demonstration from 10:15 to 10:45.

At 1:15, Valley High coach George Scott will speak on game situations followed by a lecture on man-to-man defense by Spearman's Ralph Newton.

The Queens will present a talent show at 2:15. Games between Class B powers Follett and Forsan at 3:30, and the Queens against Temple Junior College at 5:15 wrap up the day's activities.

The Sudan High School girls in basketball plan to attend the clinic, according to Coach Alvin Scott.

Berlin's Leviathan Is No Monster

This fearsome-looking behemoth is in reality a combined sightseeing boat, restaurant, and floating convention hall. Christened Moby Dick, it is the newest of the cruise-boats that operate on stretches of West Berlin's 71 miles of navigable lakes and waterways. This latest re-incarnation of Herman Melville's hero has room for 486 passengers and a restaurant that serves 146 guests per sitting. For those who agree that all work and no play might make for a dull convention the Moby Dick is also equipped, and may be chartered, for private business meetings.

Berlin's two dozen lakes account for more than 12 square miles of the city's over-all 186 square miles. Their sizes vary from the truly tiny to the really big, many with excellent bathing beaches, and most of them blessed with handsome villas and picturesque restaurants to adorn their scenic shores. The largest, Lake Tegel, girds its beaches with aromatic pine forests; and runner-up Lake Wannsee's half-mile of beachfront makes it the largest inland bathing spot in Europe.

Pleasant trips by cruise-boat are great favorites of Berliners and visitors alike. And there is holiday company galore in the literally thousands of rowboats, multi-hued sailcraft, motorboats, outboard runabouts, and canoes that enhance the color and gaiety of Moby Dick's current home waters.
