WE SAW and experienced the most strange and wonderful phenomenon last weekend. First the sun disappeared, but oddly, there was no dust in the air. Then we noticed little bits of matter apparently falling to earth from some place up in the air. When you stood out in it, little spots would appear magically all over your clothing, and although you couldn't always see it in the air before it touched you, tiny particles of something or other would touch your cheeks and hands, with a cool, and even moist sensation. This phenomenon continued for almost three days.

As you may have guessed by now, we left town last weekend, and all of this occurred downstate, mostly at Austin. Like Chicken Little, we feared the sky was falling when all of this began to happen, but a man who lived in Austin told us it was a fairly common occurrence which is called rain.

Actually, it didn't rain much, but it kept trying for three days, and to us from the sand-in-craw country, it seemed like a flood. We haven't had any measurable rainfall in these parts in several months. (If I had the energy, I'd look up the exact date, but just thinking of the task makes me thirsty.)

At Austin we attended the winter meeting of the Texas Press Assn., with the theme of the meeting being energy. On the program were the top officials of the state government and several VIPs in the U. S. Congress. These included Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Lt. Gov. William Hobby, Secretary of State Mark White, Atty. Gen. John Hill, House Speaker Price Daniel Jr., Joe Christie, chairman of the state Insurance board and U. S. Representatives Ray Roberts, Jim Wright Jr., Clark Fisher, and U. S. Sen. John Tower.

I didn't hear all of them, but I caught Briscoe, Roberts, Wright, Fisher and Tower. Of all the speakers I heard, I was most impressed by Wright, member of Congress from Fort Worth. He's one of the finest speakers I've ever heard, and besides, he has a sense of humor. Briscoe made a good speech, but he came across pretty grim.

We also heard Anne Armstrong, counselor to President Nixon, and visited in the state capitol with Rep. Pete Laney of Hale Center and with Judge Leon Douglas, justice of the court of criminal appeals. Both Judge Douglas and Rep. Laney took time out from a busy schedule to show us around just like we were somebody.

We tried to visit Rep. R. B. (Mac) McAlister of Lubbock, but he wasn't in his office. Hadn't been there for some time, apparently, since the calendar on the wall was for the year 1895.

KNOTHOLES: One thing all the speakers at Austin agreed on was that the energy crisis and gasoline shortage are here to stay, even if we get Arabian oil. Of more importance, according to Rep. Wright, is the threat of a water shortage which he says will come with great impact in about 12 to 15 years.

STUDENT TRANSFER DEADLINE SET MAY 1

Parents who wish to transfer children from their home school district to another area for the 1974-75 scholastic year should make necessary application to the receiving district by May 1, 1974, Leon R. Graham, Texas Education Agency assistant commissioner for administration, announced Thursday, Jan. 31.

The May 1 deadline for requests will enable school districts to file summary reports with the Texas Education Agency to make sure none of the transfer requests violate U. S. District Court Order 5281 issued by Judge William Wayne Justice in Tyler on April 2, 1971. Under this order, any transfer of students from one school district to another must not change the racial or ethnic balance in either the home or receiving district by more than one percent.

If the balance is altered by more than one percent, the transfers will be denied, Graham adds.

MIKE HEDGES NAMED "DISTINGUISHED STUDENT" AT A&M

Michael Hedges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Hedges and a sophomore at Texas A&M, College Station, has been bestowed "Distinguished Student" honor by W. David Maxwell, Dean of College of Liberal Arts.

Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey W. Williamson of Clovis, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Durwood White of Amarillo are parents of a son, Matt Aaron, born Thursday, Jan. 31, 1974 at 8:30 p. m. He weighed seven pounds and was 20 inches long.

"If you think the gasoline shortage is serious," he said, "wait until you can't find a drink of water when you want it." Our vote for the most colorful story of the week comes from Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bollinger of Slaton, and they swear it's the truth: They have a small black hen which lays a blue egg every other day. Sounds like the preliminary to an off-color yolk.

POSTMASTER URGES USE OF RURAL BOX NUMBERS

Postmaster Ken Minyard today urged all rural and star route postal customers served by the Sudan post office to use box numbers as part of their return addresses to assure faster, more efficient mail deliveries from correspondents.

"Although box numbers are an integral part of most rural and star route addresses, it has recently become the practice of many postal customers to omit this element," Postmaster Minyard said.

"This practice sometimes causes mail to be returned to the sender because of an insufficient address. It has also been cited by publishers and other large mailers as one of the major causes of duplicate mail-

CAGE SEASON ENDS

The Hornets capped the 1973-basketball season Tuesday night with a devastating offensive attack that completely buried the Kangaroos of Kress 79-50.

Sudan jumped to an early 19-11 lead in the first quarter and were never threatened by the 'Roos as they finished the season with an overall 14-12 record, their best in many years.

Richard Tamplin was unstoppable for the Hornets as he continued to dominate the game both offensively and defensively. Tamplin pumped in 31 points and hauled down 24 rebounds, followed by Mark Hanna with 17 points, Danny Williams 14, Luther Robinson 7, Ronnie Harrison 4, Mike Robinson 4, Carroll Legg 1, and Bobby Phillips 1.

Tamplin was selected by his teammates as the "Hustlin' Hornet" for the game.

The local girls led the scoring in both of the quarters during the first half of the Kress game only to see the lead slip from their grasp in the cold last half

Christ minister, in his new three-wheeled pedal car!

White purchased his pedal car last week and it has become a great pleasure to him. You see, he cannot acquire a license to drive a car and has always depended on his wife, Sharon, or a friend, to drive him to different destinations unless it was in walking distance of his home. White has a handicap - being legally blind although he does have some vision. He can pedal his car with its flag waving, indicating a slow-moving vehicle, over town to make various stops.

So, townspeople, be on the look-out for this "strange object".

With White's pedal car and the motorcycle owned by Rev. Aubrey White, pastor of the local First United Methodist Church, what will you other ministers in town come up with!

when they could muster only five points in each of the final quarters of play. They went down in defeat 45-28. Halftime score was 18-15.

Debra Edwards was high for Sudan with 9 points. Phyllis Ray and Mary Ann Bellar hit for 8 each and Linda Edwards 2 and Kay Tamplin 1.

Starting the final game of the year were Debra Edwards and Jo Gaye Doty, seniors; Mary Ann Bellar, Phyllis Ray, Mary Griffith, Shellye Hargrove.

The Hornets finished the season with a 9-16 record, 4-8 in district play which was one more win than last year but also had two more losses.

The JV boys lost to Kress by a 42-40 score. Kyle Martin led all scoring with 19 points.

The Hornets staged a valiant comeback last Tuesday night at Bovina before falling to the Mustangs 66-61.

Trailing 62-48 with 3:00 left to play, Sudan "pressed" hard for the ball and reeled off 12 straight points to narrow the gap to 62-60 with 0:59 remaining. But from there, the Mustangs connected on four straight free throws to "ice" the game away.

Bovina jumped to an early lead in the first quarter and led 22-10 at the break. Sudan, however, had an equally good second quarter as they came roaring back to take the lead at halftime 33-32 with Richard Tamplin scorching the nets for 16 points in the second quarter alone.

The Hornets built up a six point lead in the third quarter and appeared to be ready to pull the game away from Bovina, but the momentum shifted and Bovina rallied to tie the score at 46-46 after three quarters.

During the next five minutes, Bovina outscored the Hornets 16-2 before the locals made their "last ditch" surge which fell just short.

Richard Tamplin was the outstanding performer of the game as he collected 33 points while hitting 14 of 25 attempts. In addition, he had 18 rebounds. M. Hanna added 10, D. Williams 8, M. Robinson 6 and C. Legg 4.

At Bovina Tuesday night, the hosts edged the Hornets 63-57 although Mary Ann Bellar led all scorers with 29 points. The Sudan guards were outstanding in the outsized match. However, the game was loaded with fouling with a total of 61; the locals accumulated 34 with four team members leaving the game. Bovina accumulated 27 fouls and two players had to retire to the bench with two others having four fouls each.

Scoring by quarters was Sudan 14, 6, 18, 19; Bovina 13, 17, 16, 17.

On Friday night the Farwell Steers defeated the locals in a 64-42 triumph.

Sudan stayed with the Steers for three quarters and trailed only 42-32 going into the last period. But Farwell capitalized on costly Hornet turnovers in the final eight minutes and pulled steadily away from the locals.

Tamplin scored 23 points to dominate all scorers, followed by D. Williams 7, and M. Hanna, R. Harrison and L. Robin-

EXPLORATORY DRILLING BY SANTA FE NATURAL RES. INC.

An expanded exploratory oil and gas drilling program was announced today by T. H. Rodgers, president of Santa Fe Natural Resources, Inc., a subsidiary of Santa Fe Industries, Inc. Budgeted is $24 million for the acquisition of leases and the drilling of exploration wells during 1974, an increase of approximately $19 million over the amount spent for such purposes in 1973. Rodgers attributed much of the company's ability to finance the proposed exploratory drilling program to recent increases in the price of domestic crude oil which have produced earnings sufficient to fund this effort. "This high level of expenditures is largely dependent on continuation of the crude oil pricing structure at current levels," Rodgers em-

Santa Fe's primary efforts will be directed to the discovery of new oil and gas resources in the continental and offshore areas of the United States as well as Alaska. "The company's expanded exploratory budget is directly responsive to the nation's need to discover new energy sources and results from the company's success in pursuing secondary recovery programs over the past decade and exploratory drilling ventures for the last four years," Rodgers said. During the past four years, the company's production increased from 37,000 barrels of crude oil per day to its current daily production of 46,000 barrels per day.

Visiting recently in the home of Mrs. Muriel Crouch were her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fenton Kerr of Roswell, N.M. who will soon move to Clarksville, Texas.

Scoring for the Hornettes were Joan Hedges with 13, Mary Ann Bellar and Phyllis Ray 8, Debra Edwards and Linda Edwards 4.

The JV boys and girls each lost to Bovina there last week with the boys score 45-43. The local JV girls game went into overtime and they were edged by a small margin but scores were not reported.

Postmaster Minyard said the box number is as important to rural and star route addresses as the house number is to city addresses.

"Unless a rural or star route address contains both, the box number and the route number, it is an incomplete address and is subject to return to the sender," Postmaster Minyard said.

In the near future, each rural and star route boxes will be assigned a number according to Minyard.

DESIGNS FOR THE YOUNG

Arranging a room for the young adult in the family? Lucky you, because today's young furniture is very much like today's young people—direct, comfortable, clean-lined and natural.

Cushy is what today's youth are calling the look—and feel—they like in upholstered pieces. This is the kind of chair or sofa that has a sink-in kind of comfort, where you can throw your legs over the arm while reading or sit upside down while talking on the phone. The furniture is worry-free because it will bounce back to its natural shape. Look for the comfortable, belted look that makes the furniture appear to be held together with straps and buckles. And look for the natural in upholstery fabrics—denims, real leather, unbleached cotton. Another important factor in the young look for today is exposed wood in upholstered pieces, with arms, legs and frames showing their use of the genuine hardwoods that are so strong.

The great trend toward natural materials shows up again in the broad use of genuine hardwoods in beds, chests, hutches, footlockers and trunks. Oak has a lot of fans among the young, with its wide grained, rustic look. Again, it is used with a belted look, where the belt may be a heavy leather with a brass buckle or padlock to keep things closed up. Or the look may be achieved by the use of a strip of brass worked into the wood itself. Brass studs may be used to complete the sturdy, masculine look.

The campaign look, with reinforced brass corners and inserted brass handles, is also popular with young people. Originally used by the British on their war campaigns, it smacks of the outdoors life so enjoyed by today's youth.

Beware the imitation wood grains that try so hard to resemble the genuine hardwoods like oak, maple, cherry, walnut, mahogany, pecan and ash. These are merely surface pictures that may be used over any material, and lack the depth and warmth of the real McCoy. Young people have an aversion to imitations, and want to steer clear of what they call examples of "a plastic society."
