ENERGY CONSERVATION in general and the gasoline situation in particular seem to be occupying everyone's thoughts these days. In just one day this week we received three or four releases from various sources, all related to energy shortages. And some of the stuff we received had some new angles.

For example, from Texas AGM comes the contention that it's good for all these women to shiver in lower indoor temperatures.

"At cooler temperatures, skin retains more moisture--so a person's complexion stays young looking longer," according to Beverly Rhoades, clothing specialist with the AGM Extension Service. She says that dry skin, in contrast, wrinkles quicker, and sometimes becomes uncomfortable.

She also made these interesting comments on dry skin:

"Recent studies indicate Americans are getting drier and drier skin--probably because of low humidity in homes and offices.

Frequent exposure to sun adds to the problem--also, not rinsing soap thoroughly from skin," she noted.

"To combat this, many consumers use creams, lotions and bath oils to lubricate and moisturize skin--especially in dry air climates. However, our present fuel shortage may affect availability and prices of these products" because many of them are oil-based.

So if you feel uncomfortable in your skin, it may be because it is dry. My skin feels uncomfortable, sometimes, especially around the equator, where it has to struggle to go all the way around me.

So ladies, remember you may be more beautiful if you'll just turn that old thermostat down to about 60 or so. Your skin will have more moisture in it and your complexion will be better.

The females in my family admit the possibility that they would have a more beautiful complexion at 60 degrees, especially if you like the color blue.

ALONG THE SAME line, the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn. sent a feature story on ways to save energy. It's fairly long, but quite well-written and interesting, so it should appear in this issue of the paper, or perhaps next week, if space problems prohibit its publication this time. Among the things mentioned are that auto passengers should lose weight, a faucet dripping a drop a second wastes 700 gallons of water a year, and that we should encourage the youngsters to stop running in and out of the house (like by chaining them to the bed, maybe).

A SIGN on our office door says "Expect a Miracle", and we believe this, because we've experienced some great ones. But some disgruntled would-be customer will just have to keep on exercising his faith. When we came in the other day, someone had written on our ward, was a unanimous selection to the team for the second straight year. Tamplin was the "workhorse" for the Hornets this year as he led the team in every offensive and defensive category. Richard hit on 45% of his field goals and 68% of his free throws for 547 points and a 21.9 average, and in addition had 406 rebounds, 71 assists, and 54 steals.

MARK HANNA (HONORABLE MENTION)

Mark Hanna, senior guard and captain of the Hornets was an honorable mention selection. Mark was the second leading scorer for the Hornets with 349 points and a 14.0 average while hitting 41% from the field and 60% from the charity line. He also had 46 steals and 44 assists.

Coach Gary Campbell commented: "Richard Tamplin is fast becoming one of the outstanding basketball players on the South Plains and his presence on next year's Team should make the Hornets serious contenders for the district crown."

"Mark Hanna is one of the two graduating seniors and he will leave some big shoes to fill. Mark has been a starter for three years and was the playmaker for the Hornets."

"Both of these boys were highly deserving of the honors they received as were many of the rest of the Hornets who worked hard to make the past season a successful one for Sudan."

Two members of the Hornettes captured All-District spots: Shelley Hargrove, a sophomore guard, and Joan Hedges, a sophomore forward.

Shelley Hargrove was a stabilizing factor on the guards end of the floor as she led the team in rebounds, averaging eight per game and usually drew the task of guarding the toughest opponent.

Joan Hedges was the leading scorer for the Hornettes, averaging 16 points per game with 402 points while performing from her post position.

Coach Al Scott stated "Shelley and Joan have helped provide us with a strong nucleus for next year's club. Their improvement this year has been very good and we're looking forward to a district championship in '75."

Banquet Held

Some 24 girls and their fathers attended the G.A. Father-Daughter Banquet at First Baptist Church Thursday night, Feb. 14.

Theme of the banquet was "Welcome Y'all" with hillbilly decorations. Place favors were corn-cob people wearing sun-bonnets for the girls and those for the fathers wore black felt hillbilly hats. The tables were covered with "funny papers" for cloths and centered with kerosene lamps.

Other decorations consisted of a living room scene in the center of the room with a braided rug, a table covered with a burlap cloth which held a kerosene lamp and an open Bible; a 100-year-old iron wood-burning stove, a black-iron wash kettle and rub board, and two "old" rocking chairs with Susan Cardwell portraying "Grannie" and Pam Nelson portraying "Gramps".

The menu included barbeque, beans, potato salad, and cobb-lers.

Mrs. Betty Beavers, counselor, gave the invocation, and Mrs. Marge Nelson, assistant, gave the welcome. Bringing special music was the Singing Hazel Family from Lubbock which was followed by "What Is A Father" read by Mrs. Nelson. Mrs. Beverly Thurmon, president of Baptist Women, then read a letter entitled "My Daughter". Calvin Vernon led the benediction.

New Help for Mail!

Pitney Bowes of Stamford, Ct., announced that it will produce 180 mail facer-canceler machines, valued at an estimated $5 million, for delivery in 1974 and 1975 to the U.S. Postal Service.

Facer-cancelers automatically face letter mail at the rate of approximately 25,000 pieces an hour, postmarking and canceling the adhesive-stamped mail in the process.

Fred T. Allen, Pitney Bowes board chairman and president, said the company has received a letter of intent from the Postal Service on the basis of which the company can incur expenditures of up to $1.4 million in preparation for manufacture of the machines.

Bicycle Manufacturers Foresee Energy Crisis

The recent switch to daylight savings time, occasioned by the energy crisis, has changed the living patterns for millions of Americans. None are more affected than school children and the nation's commuters who are now riding their bicycles in darkness or early morning dusk.

Concerned with the continuing safety of the nation's bike riders, the Bicycle Manufacturers Association of America notes that previous surveys point to a small percentage of accidents taking place at night because so few Americans ride at night. But now increasing numbers of children will be riding their bikes to school by moonlight.

Nearly two years ago, the Bicycle Manufacturers Association of America developed a new voluntary safety standard for bicycles called BMA/6. All regular bicycles produced by members of the Association, which make more than 85 percent of the domestic total, conform to this standard, which is considered to be the finest standard in the world.

Although BMA/6 involves virtually every facet of bike making, one of its primary concerns is reflectivity. Since July 1, 1973, every BMA/6 bike has been sold to the nation's consumers with a 10-reflector system, including a front white reflector, a rear red reflector, four side reflectors—two red to the rear and two amber to the front, and four pedal reflectors. All of these reflectors meet the most rigid specifications for reflex reflectors of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Of course most state laws call for the use of lights on bikes when used in nighttime situations. BMA/6 also provides for specifications for front white lights and rear facing red lights, which are recommended for all bikes used in hours of darkness.

Parents whose children's bikes are not equipped with the new BMA/6 reflective system, are urged to make sure their youngsters are given this additional reflective protection. Most bicycle retailers are offering inexpensive reflector kits which will bring old bikes up to current reflective standards.

Lincoln on the Bible

By Charles H. Robinson, Asst. P R Director
Bryan College, Dayton, Tennessee

Abraham Lincoln's faith in the Bible was demonstrated in his emphatic words the summer before his assassination. Speaking of the Bible to his friend Joshua Speed, Lincoln said: "Take all of the Bible upon reason that you can, and take the balance on faith; and you will live and die a happier man."

On still another occasion, upon accepting the gift of a Bible from a committee of Baltimore negroes, Lincoln stated: "The Bible is the best gift God has given to man. All that the good Savior gave to the world was communicated through this Book."

That very same Bible points you to Christ, saying: "He that believeth on Him is not condemned; but he that believeth not is condemned already because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God." Is He your Savior?

U.S. Steel Cuts Down Its Energy Consumption

"We have the capability today to produce a ton of finished steel with almost 15 per cent less energy than was required a decade ago," E. B. Speer, chairman of United States Steel Corp., said.

Speaking to the Commissioners of Allegheny County (Penn.) he commended them for their decisive action providing industry with flexibility to use substitute fuels during the energy shortage.

"More than two-thirds of U. S. Steel's energy supply is obtained from metallurgical coal, coke, blast furnace gas, coke oven gas and from by-products derived from the coking process — oils and tars," he explained.

Most of the coal the company uses comes from its own mines. While most of the energy requirement is produced "in house," the various other forms of energy required are not interchangeable. U. S. Steel, therefore, cannot operate without adequate natural gas, oil and electricity which is purchased from outside sources.

"One long-range program is aimed at the development of a process that can convert previously unusable coals

ESA NEWS

Iota Eta chapter of ESA held their regular monthly meeting Thursday, Feb. 15th in the home of Kathy Gatewood. Debbie Baker was co-hostess. This meeting was the Model Business meeting for Spring Rush. It was the third door "Door to Education and Service" in "Open Doors In '74".

The program was introduced by Nancy Davis. David Brown gave a talk on V. D. giving statistics on the rising problem where people could seek help, and what is being done to bring the disease under control.

President TuTu King brought the business meeting to order. Plans are being made for the Spring Style Show in March. Clothing for all ages will be modeled at the show. Members decided that all proceeds from the Style Show will go to the ESA Disaster Fund.

Other business included our next project which will be making curtains to donate to the Community Center.

The meeting adjourned with the closing ritual.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Nancy Davis, JayEllen Wilson, Angela Eicke, Nancy Davis, JayEllen Wilson, TuTu King, the hostess and co-hostess.

TAX TIPS FOR VETERANS

The Veterans Administration is offering tips for recipients of veterans' benefits in preparing their federal income tax returns.

Officials noted that, in general, veterans' benefits are exempt from taxation, and need not be reported as income.

Interest on government life insurance dividends left on deposit or credit with VA is an exception. Since this interest is considered income, it must be reported, officials explained.

Dividends and proceeds from government life insurance policies are exempt from federal income tax, but proceeds are subject to federal estate tax.

Compensation, pension, GI Bill, and other educational assistance, including subsistence payments to vocational rehabilitation trainees, are among other major tax-exempt VA benefits.

Also exempt are grants to service-disabled veterans eligible for specially adapted homes and cars, and clothing allowances for those whose prosthetic devices tend to wear out or tear their clothing, VA officials advised.

Industrial firms needing qualified safety professionals may profit from publication of a National Directory of Safety Consultants by the American Society of Safety Engineers.

The directory lists some 150 consultants in 28 states and the District of Columbia who have met basic qualifications in knowledge and application of occupational safety techniques.

Farm Parity at 94 Per Cent... Eight at or Above Parity... Texas Cattle Numbers Increase Again... Value Up, Too.

Farm Parity is inching again toward 100 per cent. The latest parity ratio from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service is now set at 94. In December, it was 89 per cent. Parity has been at 100 per cent during one brief period last year, the first time in almost 20 years.

So even though parity is going up, agriculture producers have a long way to go before reaching financial equality with the rest of the economy.

In Texas, during December, eight commodities out of more than 200 which are produced in the state, were at or above parity. The all farm products index of prices received by Texas farmers as of January 15 was 10 per cent above the previous month and 50 per cent above a year earlier.

Only one category of livestock was above parity. That was sheep at $19.50 per hundredweight, or $6.20 above parity. Hogs at $38.90 were $1.40 under parity. Beef cattle at $45.60 were $1.90 under parity. Calves at $53 were $8.60 under parity. Lambs at $38.30 were $9.20 below parity.

Wheat at $5.19 per bushel was $1.50 above parity. Corn at $2.74 per bushel was 29 cents above parity. Oats $1.49 per bushel was 30 cents above parity. Grain Sorghum at $4.15 was two cents under parity.

Cotton at 58 cents per pound was eight cents under parity. Mohair at $2 per pound was 67 cents over parity. Wool at 90 cents per pound was 32 cents under parity.

Eggs at 66.2 cents per dozen were slightly above parity.

TEXAS cattle and calf numbers as of January 1 totaled 16,250,000 head. This is eight per cent above the previous level of 15,100,000.

Beef cow numbers at 6,470,000 is up four per cent from last year. Milk cow numbers at 350,000 is down three per cent.

The number of cattle on feed for January 1 was 2,205,000, down two per cent from last year's level.

Total inventory value of all cattle and calves on Texas farms and ranches as of January 1 totaled $4.6 billion; this is 31 per cent higher than a year ago.

The 1973 calf crop in Texas is estimated at 5,900,000 head, 10 per cent above the previous level.

Nationwide, the number of cattle and calves is up five per cent from a year earlier. It's the highest on record and is the seventh year of consecutive increase.

The 1973 calf crop nationwide is estimated at a record high of 49,000,000, up three per cent from a year ago.

Texas, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma rank in that order in the size of the 1973 calf crop among the 50 states. These four states accounted for more than a fourth of the total calves born in the nation.

RECEIPTS of all livestock at auction markets inspected by the Texas Animal Health Commission totaled 9,400,000 head in 1973, compared to 9,100,000 head a year earlier.

Cattle and calf receipts were seven per cent above 1972. Sheep and lamb receipts were down eight per cent. Hogs were down 17 per cent. Goats were down 16 per cent from 1972 levels.

The 1973 outshipments of Texas cattle and calves shipped to other states totaled 3,700,000 head, down 10 per cent from the 1972 annual number.

Sheep and lamb outshipments totaled 602,000 head. This is up 23 per cent from a year earlier.

World of Work Is World of Words

Young people entering the world of business should read as well as work and talk if they want to stay in the game, advises a former executive of several major corporations in his new book, "Big Business—Your Life Within It."

Herbert D. Bissell, the author, has had more than four decades of corporate experience at the top management level. In his recently-published book, he warns young executives their current vocabularies may be outdated and/or inadequate tomorrow.

"Being a literate communicator able to understand one's associates requires constant updating throughout a lifetime.

"Words become old-fashioned and disappear from a person's vocabulary even as new words are being added."

For example, Mr. Bissell points out the Webster's latest edition includes 157,000 entries. Almost 20,000 — or about one-eighth — of these are new terms and meanings, with 12,000 identified as "Americanisms."

DON'T FORGET BREAKFAST

If you feel there's something missing between last night's dinner and today's lunch, you're right.

Too many people tend to forget that all-important third meal. It's called breakfast. And we forget it entirely, or fail to make it the meal it should be.

Breakfast should supply around one-third of the day's nutritional needs. When it doesn't, children become less attentive in school; dad breaks his office routine for a much-needed coffee break; and mom really needs the mid-morning snack in which she usually indulges.

It's a simple fact that people need to eat — and when they don't, they get hungry. That's why doctors and nutritionists continue to stress the importance of a good breakfast.

A breakfast of toast and coffee for adults or cereal and milk for the children is better than nothing. But it could be improved.

It's easy to overlook a good breakfast during the usual morning scurry in most homes. But a nutritionally-sound breakfast can easily be prepared in just about the amount of time it takes to perk a pot of coffee.

Smoked sausage can be the basis for a quick, nutritious breakfast. Look for the kind that comes completely cooked, so all you need to do is warm it up while the eggs are cooking. Add hot toast, a glass of orange juice and coffee or milk, and you'll be ready to tackle your morning's work with real gusto!

Fresh pork sausage, too, makes breakfast a nutritious meal. Although it does require cooking, you can prepare the remainder of the meal while it is frying. And today's fresh pork sausage comes in so many appetizing forms, you can give breakfast plenty of variety. There are patties, links and bulk "chub" packages to choose from, and all make fine breakfast choices.

Don't make breakfast a forgotten meal. A good breakfast pays big dividends in better nutrition, better health and a renewed sense of well-being!

"To save energy and money this summer... cool your home with Gas Central Air Conditioning.

You save with a gas system because it's a more efficient energy user than its electric counterpart. It's more efficient because gas, unlike electricity, is a direct source of energy. You don't have the energy loss that occurs in electrical generation and transmission.

We help you save in another way, too.

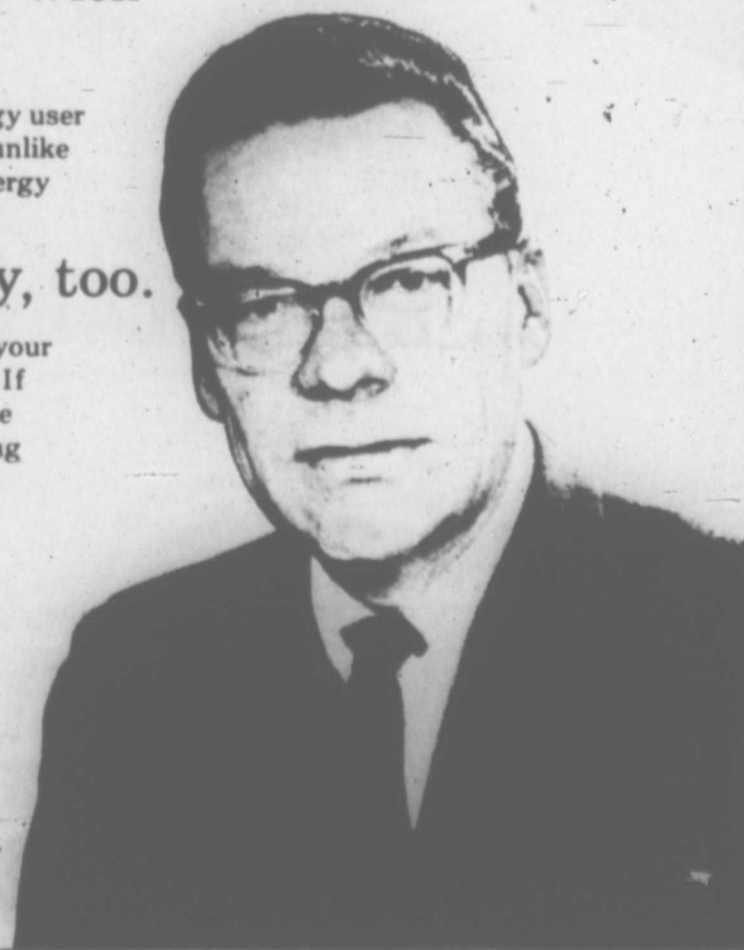

In addition to determining the exact cooling requirements of your home, our cooling specialists also check your attic insulation. If it's insufficient, insulation is added and included as part of the job. Proper insulation saves energy and money for both cooling and heating. So, beat the summer rush.
