SUDDENLY AND WITH good reason I have developed a healthy respect for the mountaineers and goatherders, especially the oldtimers. My newborn respect for these hardy characters results from some mountain scrambling we did recently, as our family joined a bunch of other newspaper, radio and television representatives in touring a newly-opened (to the public) cave in the vicinity of Carlsbad Caverns.

Just about everyone has visited Carlsbad Caverns at least once or twice. I've been through them about five times, and enjoyed every trip. But this new cave open to the public is just now being hallyhoosed so as to attract more visitors. You can go through the new cave as part of the normal $3.00 national park fee you pay to get into the Slaughter Canyon area anyway. To get there, you go past White's City on U.S. 180-62 for five miles or so, and from there, you're on your own. I expect they will have some more signs up right away.

The Carlsbad, N.M., chamber of commerce, the City of Carlsbad, the National Park Service, White's City, Inc., and everybody who has anything to do with anything in the Carlsbad area hosted all the news media people for a weekend recently, and put on a fantastic exhibition of hospitality. Never have we seen such friendly people willing to do things for visitors. After the way we all were treated, it would be positively boorish to say anything bad about the city and the area, even if we could think of something.

In fact, the whole trip was so great we think perhaps we should refer to it as Carlsgood.

We urge anyone who wants to have a good time to visit the caverns already so well known, the new cave, the botanical gardens and zoological exhibits and the fine park with steamboat and train rides situated on the river bank running through the city.

Many of you probably read about the new cave in a recent Avalanche-Journal. But let us tell you a little more. The new cave is named New Cave, which seems appropriate enough, until you learn it was first discovered in 1937. How come so long before being opened as a tourist attraction? Well, they mined bat guano for years. Bat guano is a substance left by bats and mined as the source of many materials valuable as fertilizer and I don't know what-all.

In the cave, the guides showed us how deep the bat guano was piled up, and even considering there were lots of bats, and that this took place over millions of years, I believe those bats must have had some problems with their elementary functions. The amount of the deposits they made could make First National Bank plenty envious.

Before I describe the trip up to and through New Cave, let me warn you it's no trip for sissies. The park service wants to keep this a primitive cave and make it as close to real

SWPS Rates To Increase

Southwestern Public Service Company announced today that it will seek the first general rate increase from its Texas customers since 1967.

The proposal requests an average increase of 10 percent, to be effective with billings in September of this year. The request is addressed to municipal governments in the communities served by the company, those bodies being the regulatory authority in Texas.

Southwestern has had only two previous rate increases, 23 and 7 years ago, respectively. The 1967 increase was 7.62%. There have been 14 rate reductions since 1942, when the company took its present form.

Increased costs of labor, materials, money and taxes were cited by the company as the major reasons for the rate increase request. Spokesmen said that a standard wooden pole had increased in cost by 175 percent since the last rate change, with a 365% increase

A special program "This is Your Life" was given for the four girls who have faithfully attended the meetings and who will be promoted out of G.A.'s into Acteens and were presented a G.A. jacket.

The first year girls were presented G.A. pins and each girl received a gift of scatter pins from the counselors.

A breakfast of pancakes and bacon were served before the girls were dismissed.

MOTORCYCLE POST TO BE ORGANIZED HERE

A Motorcycle Post for boys and girls ages 15-21 is being organized. This club will be involved in competition with other groups in cycle events with trophies being given. Camping trips are being planned with adults for sponsors for each trip. Anyone interested may call 227-4721.

Tractor Driving Course Set June 4-7

A Tractor Safety Driving course will be held at the Amherst Vocational Agriculture Department June 4-7 by Advisors Don Ham of Sudan and Donald Booth of Amherst.

Tractor Driver Education is as important for young farmers as Drivers Education for young motorists according to Donald Booth. "One in five tractor deaths is to a young person between 10 and 20 years of age," he added.

The Amherst and Sudan Voc. Agriculture Departments are conducting the safety program in the Amherst Voc. Ag. building beginning at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday, June 4. This course is sponsored by the Farm & Industrial Equipment Institute, the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Labor in the Agriculture Hazardous-Occupation Order pertaining to the employment of youth under age 16.

Any students, boys or girls, 14 years of age or older by July 1, 1974 is qualified to take the four-day course from 8:30 to

TAKE A GIANT STEP WITH BOOKMOBILE

The High Plains Library Bookmobile and the Texas State Library are asking every boy and girl in and around their County and town to "Take A Giant Step" in reading this summer with the Texas Reading Club and learn more about our country, animals, flowers, people and just about anything you want to know.

We are going to have a Fisherman's poster for the children to add fish to it as they read. If the boys and girls read 12 or more books with the Bookmobile they will receive a Texas State Reading certificate and ribbons.

Do come to the Bookmobile and bring your parents. We have the latest fiction and Non-Fiction for the Adults also.

THANKS

The local scouts want to thank all the businesses for donating money to the South Plains Council of Scouts. All money donated will be used by, and for, the local Sudan Scout troops.

Our thanks go to the following merchants: G & C Auto, Farmers Coop Gin Assoc., Baker's Deep Rock Station, Bandy's Swap Shop, Dairy Bee, Dood's Framing Shop, Clarke's Dry Goods, Ellison Gin, Marvin Tollett, Bob Beck Gin, Baccus Chev., Fairview Gin, R. ### Tractor Driving Course Set June 4-7

3:30 p.m. daily. Anyone interested in taking the course may do so by contacting Donald Booth or Don Ham.

The tractor safety program stresses learning about causes of accidents, rules for safe operation, passing a written test, and a driving test. Upon completion, the student will be awarded a certificate of training by the Division of Labor. This certificate serves the same purpose as a driver's license. If a student has had this course and is under 16, he will be eligible to hire out for farm work.

There will be no fee for the course.

WOODWORK-----

sp-linking as they dare for the general public, and they warn you not to try unless you are in good physical condition. About three-fourths of the way up the side of the mountain, I decided they didn't make their warning strong enough.

If you have visited the old Carlsbad Caverns where you drive up to the entrance area, wander around in a curio shop, go down well-defined trails in electrically-lighted grandeur and ride out in an elevator, you can forget all that when you plan to tour New Cave.

To get to the general area, you follow the dust trail of a ranger's car for several miles down a narrow dirt road, hoping he won't get so far ahead you can't see the dust, and hoping you won't take a wrong turn. (Some of the media people made some wrong turns at forks in the road, and I'm not sure if they've been found yet.)

Then in a climb which stretches out about a mile and a half you ascend what they describe as 500 feet, but which seems vastly more. Take your own water and anything else you want, because there are no creature comforts out there. The path to the top has been valiantly laid out, but in spots, it is little better than a goat trail.

It's a pretty strenuous climb, and when you finally reach the top after what seems like a couple of weeks, the work isn't over. There are no lights in the cave, so flashlights are handed out to every third or fourth person. It's a good idea to take your own flashlamp, as I did, only get better batteries than I had. My light, like the guy holding it, kept getting weaker as the trek went on.

The paths in the cave are often slippery, often rocky and a couple of times some of us got off the trail without even realizing it. Despite several near disasters, I never did fall, although I explored some of the cave on all fours.

One little fat kid kept falling around all over the place, and once the ranger told him to "watch it, laddie." He indignantly retorted that he was no laddie. The ranger explained that there were laddies and lassies, but the boy wouldn't listen. He said he'd heard of mummies and daddies but never lassies, and I guess he figured lassie was a dog.

At one point in the tour the ranger commented that when the cave was first explored, they found remains of some extinct bats in one place. This kid then wanted to know "what are stink bats?" I'm not sure he ever finished the tour.

Portions of the movie "King Solomon's Mines" were filmed in New Cave. I could tell you lots more, but let's just say the mine is beautiful and worth seeing. And Carlsbad is a fine place, and the Park Motel people are most accomodating, and Ray Davis has a home there you wouldn't believe.

And I'm so sore from climbing that I feel like I've been kicked by an elephant.

GRANT TO CREATE JOBS

As a result of the acceptance of an Economic Development Plan designed for Dickens County by the South Plains Association of Governments, a $120,000 grant has been awarded to Spur, Texas. This grant will create immediate construction jobs for unemployed workers in Dickens County. The City of Spur was awarded these funds to install distribution lines for the city-owned natural gas system. The City of Spur will supply an additional $30,000 to help defray the total construction cost of $150,000.

It is estimated that 14 unemployed workers will be hired for the project. Construction is scheduled to begin within 90 days. It is estimated that the project will be completed within one year.

The grant was approved by the Economic Development Administration under an amendment to the Public Works and Economic Development Act. This act authorizes federal assistance for useful public facilities in areas of high unemployment.

SPAG SETS MEET

The Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, the South Plains Association of Governments, and the Brazos River Authority will sponsor a public meeting May 31 in Lubbock to discuss development of a water quality management plan for the Brazos River Basin and adjacent Gulf Coast areas.

The basin-wide planning will be discussed in general but the emphasis will be on these aspects relating to Castro, Farmer, Swisher, Bailey, Cochran, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Hockley, King, Lamb, Lubbock, Lyann, and Terry counties. Meetings of this type have been scheduled in other sections of the Brazos watershed where specifics of plans affecting those areas will be discussed.

The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. in the South Plains Electric Co-op Building at 110 Amarillo Highway, Lubbock.

Col. Walter Wells, General Manager of the Authority, said purpose of the meeting is to describe the procedures to be used in developing the basin-wide water quality management plan, present the stream standards and other factors on which the plan will be based, answer questions about the planning and offer opportunity for comment and suggestions from the public.

The Authority was designated by the Governor's office more than two years ago as the State agency to develop a basin-wide plan for improving and protecting the quality of surface water in the 45,000 square miles of the Brazos Basin and adjoining areas of the Gulf Coast.

SWPS RATES TO INCREASE-----

124% increase in copper wire; labor costs up nearly 54% and taxes going up by almost 57%. Interest paid on borrowed money has jumped up 68%.

The company pointed out such increases in other prices since 1967 as 108% for ground beef; 67% for coffee; 58% for milk; 28% for margarine; and 100% for lettuce as indications that its request for an average increase of 10% was reasonable.

For residential service in homes which are not electrically heated and do not have electric water heaters, the new schedule is as follows:

7.10 CENTS per kwh for the first 50 kwh used each month;
4.70 CENTS per kwh for the next 50 kwh used each month;
2.35 CENTS per kwh for the next 900 kwh used each month;
1.90 CENTS per kwh for all additional kwh used each month.

Southwestern's average residential customer uses 536 kilowatt-hours a month. Under the new rates, his monthly bill will be increased $1.38, or 8.9%.

The new general service rate that applies to most commercial customers, is as follows:

7.1 CENTS per kwh for the first 100 kwh used each month;
4.6 CENTS per kwh for the next 900 kwh used each month;
2.4 CENTS per kwh for the next 6,000 kwh used each month;

1.4 CENTS per kwh for the next 6,000 kwh used each month;
.9 CENTS per kwh for all additional kwh used each month. (When the commercial customers' demand - the number of kilowatts the company must have to serve his load - exceeds 10 kw, the 4.6 cents block of the rate is extended 38 kwh for each kw of demand above 10 kw. This demand feature affects only the larger customers.)

The company projects that the rate increase will produce annual revenues in Texas, where it serves the great majority of its customers, of $6,161,000. Of this amount, $3,024,000 will go for additional taxes.

In the face of high interest costs that now range from 9 to 11 percent, the company's rate of return on its investment is 5.87 percent. If the proposed new rate had been in effect during 1973, it would have yielded a rate of return of 6.61 percent. Texas law allows as much as 8 percent rate of return for utility companies.
